"It is remarkable that the South American Indians never suffer from consumption, and that the cause of it is the use of Coca. They also never suffer with scrofulosis, skin diseases, or caries of the teeth. They reach a very old age, and frequently pass their full century. The use of Coca is habitual to about ten millions of human beings."

MARASMUS, DYSPEPSIA, SHATTERED NERVES.

PROFESSOR WILLIAM C. RICHARDSON, M. D., Dean of St. Louis, Mo., Clinic of Midwifery and Diseases of Women and Children, says:

"To children with marasmus I have given it with decided benefit. It is a remedy of great utility in Dyspepsia. It is also a most powerful and agreeable stimulant to the brain and nervous system, and it is especially useful to counteract fatigue of mind and body."

DR. H. F. STIMSON, in the Therapeutic Gazette, says:

"To say that I am surprised and astonished at the wonderful effects of the Coca as a nervous stimulant, would not adequately express my opinion of it."

The N. Y. Medical Eclectic says:

"The Liebig Co.'s Coca Beef Tonic preparations have fully tested and endorsed in such a way as to guarantee their purity and reliability. Many of [illegible]

DR. TUTHILL MASSEY, M.D., L.R.C.P., M.R.H.S., of Manchester, England, says:

"The effect is something wonderful. From being depressed and very low spirited, easily tired, I can now walk any length of time without feeling fatigue. [illegible]"

TO THE LIEBIG COMPANY: [illegible]

PROFESSOR C. H. WILKINSON, Editor Medical and Surgical Record, says:

The Coca Beef Tonic of the Liebig Company, combined as it is with Coca, quinine, and iron, forms a most valuable adjunct to the practice of medicine. [illegible]

From an article on the Coca by W. S. Searle, A.M., M.D., of Brooklyn, Fellow of Medico-Chirurgical Society of New York, etc.

Dr. Montegazza resided and practiced in South America [illegible]

[illegible] and I cause much stronger and better that I feel sure that I shall be cured. Many instances of nervous headache, neurasthenia, and neuralgia have been reported to me as cured by the Coca when all the usual narcotics, tonics, and anodynes have failed to afford relief. Perhaps one of the most valuable as well as wonderful properties of Coca is the facility with which it meets and extinguishes the craving for opium in the victims of that fearful habit. [illegible] The relations of Coca to acute diseases are extremely important. As a physician, I would not be without it under any consideration. Coca calms and renders placid.

132 HENRY STREET, BROOKLYN.

TO THE LIEBIG COMPANY:

Your preparation of Coca is the best I have ever seen. W. S. SEARLE, M.D.

EDWIN M. HALE, M. D., Professor of Materia Medica in the Chicago Medical College, author of Lectures on diseases of the Heart, etc., says:

"I have used it with good results in cases of functional heart disorder, and in organic heart disease, and to relieve difficulty of breathing. It is also indicated in that condition which we so often find in women and children which is best described by the word 'fidgetiness,' or nervous erethism."

WHAT IS COCA?

The first reply is that it is NOT COCOA.

COMMODORE GIBBON (United States exploring expedition of the Amazon) says: "The Coca has properties so marvelous that it enables the Indians, without any other nourishment the while, to perform forced marches of five or six days. It is so bracing, stimulant and tonic, that by the use of it alone they will perform journeys of 300 miles without appearing in the least fatigued."

DR. WM. S. SEARLE, of Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "The effect of the Coca upon the human system borders upon the marvelous, and, if not clearly authenticated by writers of undoubted veracity, would be altogether beyond belief."

PROFESSOR GRAZELLA, of the Royal University of Sevilla, says: "Coca seems to prolong life; longevity among its users is the rule, and not, as with us, the exception. They are also free from disease."

PROFESSOR J. J. VAN TSHUDI ("Travels in Peru") says: "Setting aside all extravagant and visionary notices, I am clearly of the opinion that the use of Coca is very conducive to health and longevity. In support of this conclusion, I may refer to the numerous examples of longevity among Indians, who, from boyhood, have been in the habit of masticating Coca three times a day. Cases are not unfrequent of Indians attaining the great age of 130 years, and these men, at the ordinary rate of consumption, must, in the course of their lives, have chewed not less than 2700 pounds of the leaf and retained the most perfect health and vigor."

I tried Liebig Co.'s Coca Beef Tonic in a number of cases of chronic Dyspepsia where the assimilation of food was very defective and there was steady loss of weight. The results obtained in two weeks were, indeed, flattering. One patient gained five pounds, another three pounds, and so on.

He closed the Seminary, and made an expedition to the Niger early in 1881, under direction of the Missionary Board.

EARS for MILLIONS!

FOO CHOO'S Balsam of

SHARK'S OIL.

Positively Restores the Hearing, and is the Only Absolute Cure for Deafness Known.

This Oil is abstracted from a peculiar species of White Shark, caught in the Yellow Sea, known as the Carcharodon Rondeletii. Every Chinese fisherman knows it. Its virtues as a restorative of hearing were discovered by a Buddhist Priest about the year 1410. Its cures were so numerous and many so seemingly miraculous, that the remedy was officially proclaimed over the entire Empire. Its use became so universal that for over 300 years no Deafness has existed among the Chinese People. Sent, charges prepaid, to any address at $1 per bottle.

HEAR WHAT THE DEAF SAY!

It has performed a miracle in my case.

I have no unearthly noises in my head and hear much better.

I have been greatly benefited.

My deafness helped a great deal—think another bottle will cure me.

"Its virtues are unquestionable and its curative character absolute, as the writer can personally testify, both from experience and observation. Write at once to Haylock & Jenney, No. 7 Dey street, New York, enclosing $1, and you will receive by return a remedy that will enable you to hear like anybody else, and whose curative effects will be permanent. THE COMMOTION CAUSED BY THE STATEMENT OF A PHYSICIAN.

An unusual article from the Rochester, N. Y., Democrat and Chronicle, was published in this paper recently and has been the subject of much conversation both in professional circles and on the street. Apparently it caused more commotion in Rochester, as the following from the same paper shows:

Dr. J. B. Henion, who is well known not only in Rochester, but in nearly every part of America, sent an extended article to this paper, a few days since which was published, detailing his remarkable experience and rescue from what seemed to be certain death. It would be impossible to enumerate the personal enquiries which have been made at our office as to the validity of the article, but they have been so numerous that further investigation of the subject was deemed an editorial necessity.

With this end in view a representative of this paper called on Dr. Henion, at his residence on St. Paul street, when the following interview occured: "That article of yours, Doctor, has created quite a whirlwind. Are the statements about the terrible condition you were in, and the way you were rescued such as you can sustain?"

"Every one of them and many additional ones. Few people ever get so near the grave as I did and then return, and I am not surprised that the public think it marvelous. It is marvelous."

"How in the world did you, a physician, come to be brought so low?"

"By neglecting the first and most simple symptoms. I did not think I was sick. It is true I had frequent headaches; felt tired most of the time; could eat nothing one day and was ravenous the next; felt dull indefinite pains and my stomach was out of order, but I did not think it meant anything serious."

"But have these common ailments anything to do with the fearful Bright's disease which took so firm a hold on you?"

"Anything? Why, they are the sure indications of the first stages of that dreadful malady. The fact is, few people know or realize what ails them, and I am sorry to say that few physicians do either."

"That is a strange statement, Doctor."

"But it is a true one. The medical profession have been treating symptoms instead of diseases for years, and it is high time it ceased. We doctors have been clipping off the twigs when we should strike at the root. The symptoms I have just mentioned or any unusual action or irritation of the water channels indicate the approach of Bright's disease even more than a cough announces the coming of consumption. We do not treat the cough, but try to help the lungs. We should not waste our time trying to relieve the headache, stomach, pains about the body or other symptoms, but go directly to the kidneys, the source of most of these ailments."

"This, then, is what you meant when you said that more than one-half the deaths which occur arise from Bright's disease, is it doctor?"

"Precisely. Thousands of so-called diseases are torturing people to-day, when in reality it is Bright's disease in some one of its many forms. It is a Hydra-headed monster, and the slightest symptoms should strike terror to every one who has them. I can look back and recall hundreds of deaths which physicians declared at the time were caused by paralysis, apoplexy, heart disease, pneumonia, malarial fever and many other common complaints which I see now were caused by Bright's disease."

"And did all these cases have simple symptoms at first?"

"Every one of them, and might have been cured as I was by the timely use of the same remedy—Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure. I am getting my eyes thoroughly opened in this matter and think I am helping others to see the facts and their possible danger also. Why, there are no end of truths bearing on this subject. If you want to know more about it go and see Mr. Warner himself. He was sick the same as I, and is the healthiest man in [illegible] to-day. He has made a [illegible] subject and can give you [illegible] facts than I can. Go, too, and see Dr. Lattimore, the [illegible] at the University. If you [illegible] there are any quantity [illegible] showing the alarming [illegible] Bright's disease, its deceptive symptoms, [illegible] there is but one way by [illegible] be escaped."

[illegible] of the truth and [illegible] the Doctor's words, the [illegible] him good day and [illegible] Mr. Warner at his establishment on Exchange street. At [illegible] Mr. Warner was inclined to be [illegible] but learning that the [illegible] desired was about the [illegible] increase of Bright's disease [illegible] changed instantly [illegible] very earnestly:

[illegible] true that Bright's disease [illegible] increased wonderfully, and we [illegible] reliable statistics, that in [illegible] years its growth has [illegible] Look at the [illegible] it has carried off: [illegible] Chase, Wilson, [illegible] Bishop Haven and [illegible] terrible, and shows [illegible] than that of any [illegible] It should [illegible] that something [illegible] to check this [illegible] knowing [illegible] people are [illegible] who do not [illegible]

rious fluids under microscopic analysis, and was showing the students what the indications of this terrible malady were. In order to show the contrast between healthy and unhealthy fluids, he had provided a vial the contents of which were drawn from his own person. 'And now, gentlemen,' he said, 'as we have seen the unhealthy indications, I will show you how it appears in a state of perfect health,' and he submitted his own fluid to the usual test. As he watched the results his countenance suddenly changed—his color and command both left him, and in a trembling voice he said: 'Gentlemen, I have made a painful discovery; I have Bright's disease of the kidneys,' and in less than a year he was dead."

"You believe then that it has no symptoms of its own and is frequently unknown even by the person who is afflicted with it?"

"It has no symptoms of its own and very often none at all. Usually no two people have the same symptoms, and frequently death is the first symptom. The slightest indications of any kidney difficulty should be enough to strike terror to any one. I know what I am talking about, for I have been through all the stages of kidney disease."

"You know of Dr. Henion's case?"

"Yes, I have both read and heard of it."

"It is very wonderful, is it not?"

"A very prominent case but no more so than a great many others that have come to my notice as having been cured by the same means."

"You believe then that Bright's disease can be cured?"

"I know it can. I know it from the experience of hundreds of prominent persons who were given up to die by both physicians and friends."

"You speak of your own experience, what was it?"

"A fearful one. I had felt languid and unfitted for business for years. But I did not know what ailed me. When, however, I found it was kidney difficulty I thought there was little hope and so did the doctors. I have since learned that one of the physicians of this city pointed me out to a gentleman on the street one day, saying: 'There goes a man who will be dead within a year.' I believe his words would have proven true if I had not fortunately secured and used the remedy now known as Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure."

"And this caused you to manufacture it?"

"No it caused me to investigate. I went to principal cities, saw physicians prescribing and using it and I therefore determined, as a duty I owed humanity and the suffering, to bring it within their reach and now it is known in every part of America, is sold in every drug store and has become a household necessity."

The reporter left Mr. Warner, much impressed with the earnestness and sincerity of his statements and next paid a visit to Dr. S. A. Lattimore at his residence on Prince street. Dr. Lattimore, although busily engaged upon some matters connected with the State Board of Health, of which he is one of the analysts, courteously answered the questions that were propounded him:

"Did you make chemical analysis of the case of Mr. H. H. Warner some three years ago, Doctor?"

"Yes sir."

"What did this analysis show you?"

"The presence of albumen and tube casts in great abundance."

"And what did the symptoms indicate?"

"A serious disease of the kidneys."

"Did you think Mr. Warner could recover?"

"No, sir. I did not think it possible. It was seldom, indeed, that so pronounced a case had, up to that time, ever been cured."

"Do you know anything about the remedy which cured him?"

"Yes, I have chemically analyzed it and upon critical examination, find it entirely free from any poisonous or deleterious substances."

We publish the foregoing statements in view of the commotion which the publicity of Dr. Henton's article has caused and to meet the protestations which have been made. The standing of Dr. Henion, Mr. Warner and Dr. Lattimore in the community is beyond question and the statements they make, cannot for a moment be doubted. They conclusively show that Bright's disease of the kidneys is one of the most deceptive and dangerous of all diseases, that it is exceedingly common, alarmingly increasing and that it can be cured.

Forty Year's Experience of an Old Nurse.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup is the prescription of one of the best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and has been used for forty years with never-failing success by millions of mothers for their children. OUR SOUTHERN WORK.

LOUISIANA.

S. Duncan: "Rev. S. S. Wright and the brethren at Fort Jessup are trying to carry out the plan of the discipline. I held their fourth quarter Oct. 21–22. The pastor reported three Sunday-schools, with attendance of 130; for missions $10; for Woman's Foreign Missionary Society $1; Freedmen's Aid $22 50; education 2, tracts $1, Sunday-school Union $2, conference claimants $3, bishops $2. Bro. Wright and the brethren are holding the fort. I hope the brethren of the Shrieveport District will look at this report and come up with their collections. I expect to assist the brethren in canvassing for the paper."

TENNESSEE.

Richard Moore, Mason: "The people on this circuit are rejoicing over Rev. L. M. Moores. He has just closed protracted meeting with 98 converts and 109 additions to the church. He has a large congregation all the time, and pursues his studies. He is the best Bible reader the people ever had." Bro. Moores writes: "There will be a grand union of all denominations at Mason, Nov. 10th, for the purpose of paying our church debt. Hope all will help me, and that all who can not give me large amounts will send small ones. We want to make the settlement of the debt by November 15th."

Alex. Burdett, Friendship: "Mayzie Grove Church gave a Sunday-school exhibition. Among the speakers were Revs. James Maclin and John West, and I addressed dressed them on the great work of our church in the school. The Ladies Mite Society conducted by Mrs. Ellen Hunter, raised $14 40 for the church. I gave a tea party to all of the teachers of my circuit. Elder Price and lady received the company at their residence. All of these teachers were from Central Tennessee College, Dr. Braden president. May God bless him! Among those present was Mr. Peter McGary, who gave us the land for St. Peter Church and a school lot beside. He is worth $5,000. Miss Ida B. Evans, who furnished music for us, received a goodly number of presents from her many friends."

Complications.

If the thousands that now have their rest and comfort destroyed by complication of liver and kidney complaints would give nature's remedy, Kidney-Wort a trial they would be speedily cured. It acts on both organs at the same time and therefore completely fills the bill for a perfect remedy. If you have a lame back and disordered kidneys use it at once. Don't neglect them.—Mirror and Farmer.

DR. JOHN BULL'S
FEVER and AGUE
Or CHILLS and FEVER.
AND ALL MALARIAL DISEASES.

The proprietor of this celebrated medicine justly claims for it a superiority over all remedies ever offered to the public for the SAFE, CERTAIN, SPEEDY and PERMANENT cure of Ague and Fever, or Chills and Fever, whether of short or long standing. He refers to the entire Western and Southern country to bear him testimony to the truth of the assertion that in no case whatever will it fail to cure if the directions are strictly followed and carried out. In a great many cases a single dose has been sufficient for a cure, and whole families have been cured by a single bottle, with a perfect restoration of the general health. It is, however, prudent, and in every case more certain to cure, if its use is continued in smaller doses for a week or two after the disease has been checked, more especially in difficult and long-standing cases. Usually this medicine will not require any aid to keep the bowels in good order. Should the patient, however, require a cathartic medicine, after having taken three or four doses of the Tonic, a single dose of BULL'S VEGETABLE FAMILY PILLS will be sufficient.

The genuine SMITH'S TONIC SYRUP must have DR. JOHN BULL'S private stamp on each bottle. DR. JOHN BULL only has the right to manufacture and sell the original JOHN J. SMITH'S TONIC SYRUP, of Louisville, Ky. Examine well the label on each bottle. If my private stamp is not on each bottle do not purchase, or you will be deceived.

POLLY BRIDGES.

DEAR EDITOR: I desire to inquire for my sister Martha, who was sold from us when about seven years old to a man who lived near Bolivar, Tenn., named Tom Boyle. At that time we all belonged to John Green, except father, who belonged to Nat Woods. Father was Granville, mother Dollie, brothers William, Granville, and Richmond the baby, sister Laura. We all went by the name of Norman. Father belonged to Tom Norman, who lived at Whiteville, Hardeman Co., Tenn. Grandfather was Squire Norman, grandmother, Jennie Norman. Mother and all the children except Sister Martha are here in Texas. I desire to find her. Pastors, please read this to your congregations. Address, at Austin, Texas, her brother,

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

Is a compound of the virtues of sarsaparilla, stillingia, mandrake, yellow dock, with the iodide of potash and iron, all powerful blood-making, blood-cleansing, and life-sustaining elements. It is the purest, safest, and in every way the most effectual alterative medicine known or available to the public. The sciences of medicine and chemistry have never produced so valuable a remedy, nor one so potent to cure all diseases resulting from impure blood. It cures Scrofula, and all scrofulous diseases, Erysipelas, Rose, or St. Anthony's Fire, Pimples and Face-grubs, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter, Humors, Salt Rheum, Scald-head, Ringworm, Ulcers, Sores, Rheumatism, Mercurial Disease, Neuralgia, Female Weaknesses and Irregularities, Jaundice, Affections of the Liver, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility.

By its searching and cleansing qualities it purges out the foul corruptions which contaminate the blood, and cause derangement and decay. It stimulates and enlivens the vital functions. It promotes energy and strength. It restores and preserves health. It infuses new life and vigor throughout the whole system. No sufferer from any disease which arises from impurity of the blood need despair, who will give AYER'S SARSAPARILLA a fair trial. Remember, the earlier the trial, the speedier the cure.

Its recipe has been furnished to physicians everywhere; and they, recognizing its superior qualities, administer it in their practice.

For nearly forty years AYER'S SARSAPARILLA has been widely used, and it now possesses the confidence of millions of people who have experienced benefits from its marvellous curative virtues.

WITH YOU ALWAYS.

He said as he parted from them
(Though they saw him not again,)
"Lo! I am with you alway,"
And after loss and pain
They knew that his words were true—
And do we not know it, too?

We sit and talk in the home place,
And then the heart is stirred
By the power of conscious presence
Or the thought of a whispered word;
And we feel that one is near
Than all the rest more dear.

Or alone in the summer weather
We wander away to the sea,
And listen awhile to the music
Of the wave song dreamily;
Until we know by a token
That we are not left alone.

He comes when the leafy whispers
Of the trees are all we hear;
In the throng of the crowd the Master
With his silent step draws near;
Nothing can keep him away
From the place where his children stay.

O, glad are the hearts that know him,
A calm and deep content
Settles like peace upon them

... have been converted in other places and have come to Leon to reside, and of some recent converts in the city, with those who are beginning to be interested. There are now six members and 5 probationers. Several take part regularly and zealously in the prayer meetings. Hostile demonstrations, which again appeared, have been quieted by an appeal to the judge who represents the general government. The city is, however, wonderfully dominated by clerical influence and there is a pervading fear of incurring the censure of the church by showing any sympathy with our cause. The people are waiting for a time of more liberty and safety to Protestants.

THE THIRD JUBILEE OF MOROVIAN MISSIONS, which were commenced in 1732, has lately been celebrated. Different dates were chosen according to convenience at different mission stations. The central celebration occurred at Hernhut on the 20th and 21st of August. Representatives from various German missionary societies were present, and messages were received from numerous others in England and Scotland. Addresses were delivered by Senior Cordes, of the Leipzig Society, Dr. Faber, of Bermen, Dr. Wangemann, of Berlin, Dr. Hesse of Basel, Dr. Zohs of Bremen, Dr. Frank of the Gossner Mission, Dr. Warneck, editor of the Allgemeine Missions Zeitung, Dr. Frick of the Holle institute with which Count Zinzendorf was so closely associated in his earlier years, Dr. Gaudet of Calo, and Prof. Combe from Florence, who who represented the Waldensian churches.

A brief historical sketch of the missions has been published at the "Moravian Church, Missionary Agency," 32 Fetter Lane, London. "The Centenary Jubilee," (fifty years ago) we are informed, "was celebrated with grateful praise, for the missions had grown to 4 stations. At least 200 brethren and sisters had the care of 46,000 souls. And now, as we come to the third Jubilee, we look around upon a mission work that has continually nally increased during the last 50 years, and has branches in North, Central and South America, South Africa, the continent of Australia, and the remote and lofty valleys of the Himalayas. There is, therefore, at present no continent in which we have no field of labor." Now there are in all 99 stations and 16 out-stations, 115 centres of evangelistic effort, 377 European and American missionaries, male and female, 55 native ministers and assistants, 1524 occasional helpers, 76,745 persons under direct care or "church fellowship" in the missions, of whom 25,024 are communicants. The book referred to has a partial map of the world, showing all the stations now occupied and those formerly occupied by Moravian missions, and very full historical and statistical tables. The Moravians are making special efforts for a financial advance, and hope for a large increase, in this jubilee year, to their permanent missionary fund by contributions both from within and from without their own communion. Our Methodism, as all know who are acquainted with our early history, owes much to the Moravians from the first, and continues to see in them an inspiring example of devoted, persevering mission work.

of his house broad acres; he believes in the accumulation of hundreds and thousands of acres, while the Yankee needs but standing and he will go down into the bowels of the earth and up among the clouds. He undoubtedly believes there is "room above," and he utilizes the heavens for all practical purposes. Every man (I came near saying woman also) is not considered patriotic who does not enter into politics and give an expression on the political issues of the season; and either party considers him not politic if he unites with the opposite party. "The Stars and Stripes" are flung to the breeze and the Hub is wheeling around in "red, white and blue." Strange to say a Bishop and a Butler are the leading spirits in the contest. The Bishop contends that he should have the general superintendence of the State and the appointing power in locating subordinates, while the Butler holds that there has been great prodigalities with the State's revennes, and if the keys are delivered to him he will mete out to every man his portion in due season as he thinks best, and thereby save the State from becoming a pauper.

As the President veered into the Boston Common, we had an opportunity to see the inside of the Hub. How true the saying—

"'Tis distance lends enchantment to the view."

For there were congregated in the Common the maimed, halt, blind, the good, bad, indifferent, the Christian and the infidel; add to this number that class of humanity who have so degraded themselves as to be unworthy of respect of the good and you have a picture of the motley crowd on the President's day. But it is but right to say that the good prevail in great numbers. We are far from being a "pessimist," on the contrary we are a most radical "optimist." All classes unite in the tournament.

The Boston Lecture Season opened with a strong course and with strong men at the helm. The Lowell lectures, in the Institute of Technology, the Young Mens' Christian Association lectures in their building; lectures on the Tonic Sol Fa in the Music Hall; lectures on Pedagogy, in the Wesleyan Hall, by Dr. Harris, of St. Louis, Mo.; the Boston Star course in Tremont Temple, and many others too numerous to mention. We had the pleasure of attending the concert given by the Spanish students in the Boston Star course. The exhibition of æsthetic culture and the manifestation of the old depravity and uncouthness was at once apparent. The music was in many respects superb and thrilling, but the introduction of a reading purporting to be the sermon of an old colored minister upon the subject "Enoch walked and talked with God," showed a want of taste and a catering to satisfy the grosser nature. Surely the man of God was not mistaken when he said "the whole head is sick and the whole heart is faint." Time changes and we change with it. Indeed, the mutability of all things from the grosser to the sublimated, from finite to infinite, from time to eternity, is a warrant that man also must change from worse to better, and from the narrow scenes of Time to the blissful and heavenly realities of Eternity. As an incident in this upward tend note the following: The Park Street Church is composed of a part of the best element in the Hub. Rev. Dr. Winthrow, a man of deep learning and Christian sympathy, officiates in its pulpit. It was in this pulpit, on October 2d, at 7 p. m., that the Rev. Dr. Blyden, a man of true African color, preached. Dr. Blyden is President of the Liberia College in Africa. He has spent years in that field in missionary efforts with much success. He is well versed in the classics, and possesses broad culture. The subject of his discourse was "The Method of African Evangelization," and in a full and logical way he illustrated to his raptured audience how the success of African evangelization may be gained. His style is not voluminous, nor does he carry us to his conclusions as with the rush of a waterfall, but clear, cool-headed, step by step, he leads us on irresistibly by the conclusiveness of his [illegible] and the reasonableness of his [illegible] to the grand conclusion [illegible] he aims. The audience in [illegible] numbers, and the choir in one [illegible] appearances, was a com[illegible] only to him but to his [illegible] recognition of merit [illegible] of patient toil and [illegible] the discharge of [illegible]

Walden Seminary.

I was permitted this morning to look in on Prof. Mason and his students, of Walden Seminary. Bro. Mason is a wide-awake teacher and is the right man in the right place.

He is perfectly adapted to the work of teaching, and also to the colored people. He seems to enjoy the work he is now engaged in, and to "thank God for a humble place to do a great and grand work." He is very conscious that he is doing a long felt and needed work.

This is about the middle of the second month of the sixth session of this school, There are 61 pupils enrolled and 48 in actual attendance. The students all seem to be learning very fast. There are some very promising young men in attendance at this school. There are about 16 in the theological class. The recitations were very interesting this morning. If the students that come under Prof. Mason's control will but keep the rules and regulations that are laid down there, they cannot help but learn and become intelligent.

Walden Seminary is in better condition now than it has ever been. If we had our building up that Dr. Rust contemplates putting up, it would not be long before Walden Seminray would move to the front and would become a great educational center. We are trying to raise the $3000 that were subscribed at the last session of the Little Rock conference. Dr. Rust assures us, if we will raise $2,500, that the building will go up at once. Dear Brethren of the Little Rock conference, what ever you do, push your subscriptions, collect the money as fast as you can and forward to me as fast as you collect.

Yours Respectfully
G. W. SAMS,
Sec. Board of Trustees.

1102 State street, Little Rock, Ark., Oct. 27, 1882.

Prairie Plain Ciricuit.

This is one of the small circuits, and with poor church buildings as yet. The fourth quarterly conference was held Oct. 28th and 29th. F. C. Moore, the P. E., was present. It was a time of refreshing. The people were in the spirit, and showed it more by work than by words.

The district steward announced to the people he needed $9.75, and the people put on the table the amount, and after the steward announced he had the amount, the people continued to give until they put down $11.80. After which a collection was taken for the Freedmen's Aid Society, (Houston College) without previous notice being given to the people, and they put down $23.30. They now have for it $60.60. Another collection to be taken for it in two weeks to make it $100. We are building three new churches. Everything looks hopeful.

Our pastor, F. D. Bookman, has the love and entire confidence of the people. All look upon him as a father. Generally, in church work, he has only to speak and it is done. He is perfectly honest, his judgment is always good, and he plans and works for great things for his people. He points them up and leads the way. He does not aim at noise or sound without sense in his preaching, but always gives his people light and knowledge. We shall regret the time when in the order of the church the Macedonian cry from fields beyond shall call him away from us.

W. P. PARKER,
District Steward.

Four Steps to Salvation.

DEAR SINNER:—There are four steps to salvation; four short, but very important steps! Do you wish to know them? First step—Think!—Think of your sins—of their number, gravity, baseness, deadliness; of your need of getting rid of them, of the atonement that has been made for them; of the fact that nothing but that atonement could satisfy the claims of divine justice concerning your sins; of the further fact that nothing but the covering of that atonement can shelter you from the wrath of God; that Jesus Christ has made that atonement and entreats you to accept it as a covert from the blast; that there is none other name under heaven given among men whereby we must be saved but the name of Jesus; that failing to accept Him as our present, precious, all-sufficient Saviour, we perish eternally, without hope of mercy. Think on these things; by all means think on them, seriously, anxiously, continuously, with strong desire to be led into the way of all truth!

Second step—Resolve! Resolve, just now, that you have had enough of sin; that while it has never secured to you any good, it has done you a vast amount of harm; that you will carry the burden no longer; that in place of being a bondslave you will be a conqueror; that as there is power in God to break the fetters, to Him you will apply; that your application shall be kept before Him, until answered by your relief from the thraldom of sin; that as delays are always dangerous, sometimes fatal, you will present your appeal at once! Make these resolves; make them intelligently; counting the cost; in the strength of God; satisfied that He will approve and aid in their performance!

Third step—Pray! Pray to God that he may forgive your sins; pray in the spirit of genuine penitence on account of your sins; put on the sackcloth and ashes of a godly sorrow that will not need to be repented of; come before Him penetrated through and through with a consciousness of the exceeding sinfulness of your sins; at the same time be filled with a grateful sense of His amazing mercy and love toward you, notwithstanding the fact that you have sinned. Not only cry out, "Against thee, thee only have I sinned and done this evil in thy sight," but also "Create in me a clean heart, O God, and renew a right spirit within me." While you pray remember that the sacrifices of God are a broken spirit,—a broken and contrite heart God will not despise. Begin your praying immediately; make it the special business of the day and night; persevere in it until God gives the answer!

Fourth step—Believe! Believe that God so loved you that He gave his only begotten Son, that you believing in Him should not perish but have everlasting life; believe that Jesus Christ, the Son of God, died upon the cross for you, just as though there had not been another sinner in the world to be saved from his sins; believe that the promises of God to penitent ones cover you just now; believe that the Father, the Son, the Spirit, the Blood, the Redeemed—all the heavenly host, are ready, and waiting, and watching for your salvation now; believe that just as you kneel there at the mercy-seat, conscious of your sinfulness, filled with sorrow because of it, looking to God for pardon and peace through Christ only, relying on His merits and not on your own, gripping the blood with trembling hand yet gripping it, opening your heart for the entrance of salvation; believe just there and now that God for Christ's sake does the work, and quicker than a flash of lightning your burden will be gone, your soul will be set free, your forgiveness and acceptance will be sealed upon your heart, and you be enabled to rapturously testify to all around,—being justified by faith, I have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom also I have access into this grace wherein I stand and rejoice in hope of the glory of God. Dear sinner, take these four steps to Salvation!

From Our Board of Education—Voices from Afar.

The Rev. Dr. Maclay, writing from Yokohama respecting the recent annual meeting of the Mission of the Japan Methodist Episcopal Church, says:

A carefully prepared report on Sunday-schools was adopted unanimously by the Annual Meeting, and you will be pleased to learn that, in accordance with a suggestion made in the report, it was resolved to introduce at once the observance of the Children's day in all the charges of our Mission. The Japanese are very fond of such observances, and I have no doubt that they will be delighted with this effort to interest the children of the country in the work of Christian education.

The Rev. D. O. Fox, presiding elder in the South India Conference, writes:

BOMBAY, Sept. 8, 1882.

So far as I know, Children's day has never heretofore been observed in India. Your letter calling attention to the matter reached me late in May. I arranged with the brethren on the district to observe the day, though it was too late to do so on the second Sunday in June. All except the Sunday-school at Vepery, Madras, held the "day" about a month later. Brother Oakes, one of your Drew students, had previously arranged for the meeting, and held it on the regular Sunday. His school contributed 70 rupees. This was the largest collection taken. But the collections from other charges show that much interest was awakened in the cause. I doubt not that hereafter we shall regularly observe the day.

Our educational work in India needs more good teachers, and also money to erect suitable buildings. We also need a Theological school in Western India. We have two Conference schools, one in Poona and one in Bangalore. We desire to make the Poona High School a University, having, 1. A full literary course; 2. A Normal School to train teachers for the schools in India; 3. A Theological School for those preparing for our Mission work.

These departments are to be open to both European and native students. This school is very much needed here. Poona is a central position for Western India, and would be well sustained. The school was opened over three years ago, and has done very well. But we are obliged to rent buildings, and these are not suitable for school work.

If we had $20,000 we could get the same amount from the Government. The Government here gives for school purposes as much as any society will raise. This would give us $50,000 and would enable us to place the school on a safe and strong foundation. I have often wished that some of our rich Christian men or women in America would give us the amount needed, and so place us on our feet. I know you will be glad to present the cause to any one who may be likely to help us.

The work is prospering on all our districts.

We solicit the thoughtful attention of persons desirous of doing good on a large scale to the opening represented in the above letter.

Should any be disposed to respond, in whole or in part, to the appeal made, the Board of Education will gladly serve as an organ of intercommunication or as an agent of disbursement for an object so kindred to its designs.

"Gie Him Another Chance."

John B. Gough, in his lecture, "The Only Remedy," tells this incident of a Cornwall miner:—

Two men were sinking a shaft. It was a dangerous business that they had to do. Their custom was to cut a fuse with a knife; the man then got into a bucket and made a signal to be drawn up. The other one got into the bucket when it descended, with one hand on the signal rope and one on the fuse. When he touched the fuse he made a signal, and was at once hauled up. One day they left their knife up above, and rather than ascend for it they cut a fuse with a sharp stone. It took fire. "The fuse is on fire!" they both exclaimed, as they leaped into the bucket but the windlass would hold but one at a time—only one could go on. One man instantly leaped out, and said: "Up with ye, I'll be in heaven in a minute." With lightning speed the bucket was drawn up, and the man was saved.

The explosion took place, and they descended, expecting to find the mangled body of the miner; but the fact was that the charge had loosened a mass of rock, and it lay diagonally across the shaft, and, with the exception of a few bruises and a little scratching, the man was unhurt. When asked why he urged the other man to escape, he gave a reason that skeptics would laugh at. If there is any being on the face of the earth I pity, it is a sceptic. What did he say? "Why did you insist on this other man's hastening up?" In his broad dialect he said: "Because I knowed my soul was safe, for I've gi'e it into the hands of Him of whom it is said that 'faithfulness is the girdle of His loins,' and I knowed that what I gi'ed Him He'd never gi'e up; but t'other chap was an awful wicked lad, and I wanted to gi'e him another chance." All the infidelity in the world cannot produce such a single act of heroism as that.—Ex.

It is pretty well settled that a healthy man who lives to be 70 years of age, in his life eats 7,800 pounds of meat, 72 barrels of flour, 1,500 pounds of butter, 867 dozen eggs, 800 pounds of cheese, 165 bushels of potatoes, and 1,700 pounds of lard.

Sowing Crackers, and Reaping Loaves.

"What a man soweth, that shall he also reap,"—not in quantity, but in kind. A few months since while chatting with a good brother of our church, in my study, he related the following singular dream, which I ever since have regarded as a most beautiful illustration of the familiar text:— "Cast thy bread upon the waters, for thou shalt find it after many days." (Eccl. 2: 1.)

In his dream he was standing on the shore of a great river, and having on his arm a basket filled with small crackers, which, as the tide began to go out, he cast upon the waters. Handful after handful he flung upon the receding waves, and then, the basket having been emptied, he stood watching them until the fast ebbing tide had borne them all out of sight. And still he stood looking off upon the waters as if in a reverie, when suddenly, as it seemed to him, the tide began to come in. Wave after wave continued to hasten joyously shoreward until the tide was nearly at its height. Just then, happening to raise his eyes, it appeared as if the entire surface of the water, in the far distance, was covered with strange-looking objects moving swiftly towards the shore. On they came, like an armed and disciplined host, every wave bringing them nearer. The advanced guard reached the shore and swept up the beach as if to surround him. The rear guard followed until the shore was lined with them as far as the eye could reach. They piled themselves up about him like a great wall. Retreat was impossible. He was a prisoner! Judge of his surprise, however, when these strange-looking objects which had thus effected his capture were discovered to be great loaves of bread! He had cast in a few little crackers —food for a few—and, behold, they had come back a host of huge loaves—food for an army!—The Watchman.

"The color line" crops out here every now and then, and receives more or less attention as the case may be. The public school question, to which we alluded last week, is still unsettled, and now the Columbian Law School has encountered this rock and settled it in a very decided manner. A meeting of the students of the Law School was held in Columbia Law building Monday evening to take action in regard to the presence of a colored student, Mr. S. L. Williams, a graduate of Ann Arbor University and a member of the junior class in the law school. For some time past some of the members who considered themselves affronted by Mr. Williams being allowed to remain in the school, have been agitating the subject, and this meeting was called to settle the question. There was a very full attendance of students, and an organization was effected by calling Wm. Landvoight to the chair. A resolution was introduced which closed with the resolve "that a committee of three be appointed to wait upon the faculty of the institution and request the expulsion of the negro from the Law school of the University." A substitute was offered reciting that "the negro by his gentlemanly conduct and excellent ability was entitled to a seat in Columbia or any other college." Amid a storm of applause and cheers the substitute was adopted without a dissenting vote. Then followed the adoption of a motion that such students as were afraid to compete intellectually with the colored student had better seek a school where they would be in the midst of their peers.—Baltimore Methodist.

At a wedding not long since, among the presents displayed was a $1000 bank note from the father of the bride. After the wedding was over the old gentleman folded up the note and put it in his vest pocket. The conduct of that doting father reminds one very much of the promises of reform made by candidate previous to the election as contrasted with their performances when the election is over.

Diogenes being presented at a feast with a goblet of wine, threw it the on ground. When blamed for wasting so much good liquor he answered, "Had I drank it there would have been a double waste—I, as well as the wine, would have been lost."

If we would have again the old-time Methodist power in song, we must first have not only more attention to music but more religious fervor. Holy song is the native language of holy joy.—Nashville Christian Advocate.

WITH YOU ALWAYS.

He said as he parted from them
(Though they saw him not again,)
"Lo! I am with you alway,"
And after loss and pain
They knew that his words were true—
And do we not know it, too?

We sit and talk in the home place,
And then the heart is stirred
By the power of conscious presence
Or the thought of a whispered word;
And we feel that one is near
Than all the rest more dear.

Or alone in the summer weather
We wander away to the sea,
And listen awhile to the music
Of the wave song dreamily;
Until we know by a tone
That we are not left alone.

He comes when the leafy whispers
Of the trees are all we hear;
In the throng of the crowd the Master
With his silent step draws near;
Nothing can keep him away
From the place where his children stay.

O, glad are the hearts that know him,
A calm and deep content
Settles like peace upon them
After the storm is spent.
There is nothing left to fear
When the living God is near.

Then why do we yield to sorrow?
Why should we be afraid?
Life may be bright and happy
When the burdens on Him are laid.
How can we want a friend?
Christ loveth still to the end.

From Our Mission Rooms.

JAPAN MISSION—The educational department of the work, now transferred to Tokio, has found rental quarters for the present in the Tsukiji section, and has commenced its first year in the capital of the Empire with an attendance of 60 students, 12 of whom are financially aided by the Mission. The remainder support themselves. Arrangements are being made for procuring a permanent and eligible site for the University.

CENTRAL CHINA—Rev. C. F. Kupper writes from what he denominates "a pleasant home" in Kiukiang. A little girl has been born to them. The summer has been agreeably cool on account of the great quantity of rain. The Yangtse had risen 44 feet above its winter level and inundated great tracts of land. Kiukiang became for the time a kind of Venice. The people had to walk on elevated planks or ride in sam-pans. Thousands of the natives had their crops destroyed and were driven out of their houses, many of them floating about in little boats. Others erected neat huts on some elevated spot. Everywhere misery and want were apparent. Yet the people seemed to cling to faith in the efficacy of their gods. Their tenacity of superstitious belief "ought not," says the Missionary, "to shake our faith in the final evangelization of China, but should rather increase our zeal."

MEXICO MISSION—An edition of the Mission Hymn Book has been issued from our press in Mexico City. The first edition, it will be remembered, was printed by Phillips & Hunt. Rev. Duston Kemble reports progress of the work at Leon. A serious persecution occurred there some time ago. Mr. Kemble, on his return from the United States, opened service in a private manner to avoid complications with the owner of the house he had hired. Soon another house was obtained in a different section of the town and the service was made quite public. The windows [illegible] on the street, hearty [illegible] enjoyed, and the [illegible] conducted in so [illegible] to be heard at a [illegible] has been a [illegible] The [illegible] and [illegible] in Thessalonica [illegible] have been converted in other places and have come to Leon to reside, and of some recent converts in the city, with those who are beginning to be interested. There are now six members and 5 probationers. Several take part regularly and zealously in the prayer meetings. Hostile demonstrations, which again appeared, have been quieted by an appeal to the judge who represents the general government. The city is, however, wonderfully dominated by clerical influence and there is a pervading fear of incurring the censure of the church by showing any sympathy with our cause. The people are waiting for a time of more liberty and safety to Protestants.

THE THIRD JUBILEE OF MORAVIAN MISSIONS, which were commenced in 1732, has lately been celebrated. Different dates were chosen according to convenience at different mission stations. The central celebration occurred at Hernhut on the 20th and 21st of August. Representatives from various German missionary societies were present, and messages were received from numerous others in England and Scotland. Addresses were delivered by Senior Cordes, of the Leipzig Society, Dr. Faber, of Bormen, Dr. Wangemann, of Berlin, Dr. Hesse of Basel, Dr. Zoha of Bremen, Dr. Frank of the Gossner Mission, Dr. Warneck, editor of the Allgemeine Missions Zeitung, Dr. Frick of the Holle institute with which Count Zinzendorf was so closely associated in his earlier years, Dr. Gaudet of Calo, and Prof. Comba from Florence, who who represented the Waldensian churches.

A brief historical sketch of the missions has been published at the "Moravian Church Missionary Agency," 32 Fetter Lane, London. "The Centenary Jubilee," (fifty years ago) we are informed, "was celebrated with grateful praise, for the missions had grown to 4 stations. At least 209 brethren and sisters had the care of 40,000 souls. And now, as we come to the third Jubilee, we look around upon a mission work that has continually increased during the last 50 years, and has branches in North, Central and South America, South Africa, the continent of Australia, and the remote and lofty valleys of the Himalayas. There is, therefore, at present no continent in which we have no field of labor." Now there are in all 99 stations and 16 out-stations, 115 centres of evangelistic effort, 277 European and American missionaries, male and female, 55 native ministers and assistants, 1524 occasional helpers, 76,746 persons under direct care or "church fellowship" in the missions, of whom 25,984 are communicants. The book referred to has a partial map of the world, showing all the stations now occupied and those formerly occupied by Moravian missions, and very full historical and statistical tables. The Moravians are making special efforts for a financial advance, and hope for a large increase, in this jubilee year, to their permanent missionary fund by contributions both from within and from without their own communion. Our Methodism, as all know who are acquainted with our early history, owes much to the Moravians from the first, and continues to see in them an inspiring example of devoted, persevering mission work.

Our Boston Letter.

MR. EDITOR:—"Behold how good and pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity." This, Scripture, we believe is fully borne out in the relation which the students in the Boston Theological School sustain to each other. There are represented in this school five different countries, viz: America, Canada, Armenia, Ireland and Scotland. The United States, as should be expected, has the largest number of representatives. Here stands a brother from Maine, there one from Oregon, and yonder stands "our brother in black" from Louisiana; and yet among all these different hues and nationalities there is a unity of purpose underlying the ambition of each brother, and which gives perfect harmony and good feeling in the pursuit of knowledge.

The hurry and bustle, rattle and prattle, making the place a perfect bedlam remind us that we are in Yankeedom. A feature is at once discoverable to an observer, portraying the difference between the Yankee and the Westerner or [illegible]. The Southerner or [illegible] seeks for the building of his house broad acres; he believes in the accumulation of hundreds and thousands of acres, while the Yankee needs but standing and he will go down into the bowels of the earth and up among the clouds. He undoubtedly believes there is "room above," and he utilizes the heavens for all practical purposes. Every man (I came near saying woman also) is not considered patriotic who does not enter into politics and give an expression on the political issues of the season; and either party considers him not politic if he unites with the opposite party. "The Stars and Stripes" are flung to the breeze and the Hub is wheeling around in "red, white and blue." Strange to say a Bishop and a Butler are the leading spirits in the contest. The Bishop contends that he should have the general superintendence of the State and the appointing power in locating subordinates, while the Butler holds that there has been great prodigalities with the State's revenues, and if the keys are delivered to him he will mete out to every man his portion in due season as he thinks best, and thereby save the State from becoming a pauper.

As the President veered into the Boston Common, we had an opportunity to see the inside of the Hub. How true the saying—

"'Tis distance lends enchantment to the view."

For there were congregated in the Common the maimed, halt, blind, the good, bad, indifferent, the Christian and the infidel; add to this number that class of humanity who have so degraded themselves as to be unworthy of respect of the good and you have a picture of the motley crowd on the President's day. But it is but right to say that the good prevail in great numbers. We are far from being a "pessimist," on the contrary we are a most radical "optimist." All classes unite in the tournament.

The Boston Lecture Season opened with a strong course and with strong men at the helm. The Lowell lectures, in the Institute of Technology, the Young Mens' Christian Association lectures in their building; lectures on the Tonic Sol Fa in the Music Hall; lectures on Pedagogy, in the Wesleyan Hall, by Dr. Harris, of St. Louis, Mo.; the Boston Star course in Tremont Temple, and many others too numerous to mention. We had the pleasure of attending the concert given by the Spanish students in the Boston Star course. The exhibition of æsthetic culture and the manifestation of the old depravity and uncouthness was at once apparent. The music was in many respects superb and thrilling, but the introduction of a reading purporting to be the sermon of an old colored minister upon the subject "Enoch walked and talked with God," showed a want of taste and a catering to satisfy the grosser nature. Surely the man of God was not mistaken when he said "the whole head is sick and the whole heart is faint." Time changes and we change with it. Indeed, the mutability of all things from the grosser to the sublimated, from finite to infinite, from time to eternity, is a warrant that man also must change from worse to better, and from the narrow scenes of Time to the blissful and heavenly realities of Eternity. As an incident in this upward tend note the following: The Park Street Church is composed of a part of the best element in the Hub. Rev. Dr. Winthrow, a man of deep learning and Christian sympathy, officiates in its pulpit. It was in this pulpit, on October 2d, at 7 p. m., that the Rev. Dr. Blyden, a man of true African color, preached. Dr. Blyden is President of the Liberia College in Africa. He has spent years in that field in missionary efforts with much success. He is well versed in the classics, and possesses broad culture. The subject of his discourse was "The Method of African Evangelization," and in a full and logical way he illustrated to his raptured audience how the success of African evangelization may be gained. His style is not voluminous, nor does he carry us to his conclusions as with the rush of a waterfall, but clear, cool-headed, step by step, he leads us on irresistibly by the conclusiveness of his logic and the reasonableness of his premises, to the grand conclusion at which he aims. The audience in good numbers, and the choir in one of its best appearances, was a compliment not only to him but to his race, and a recognition of merit won by years of patient toil and faithfulness in the discharge of duty to bless a race.

For the SOUTHWESTERN.

Walden Seminary.

I was permitted this morning to look in on Prof. Mason and his students, of Walden Seminary. Bro. Mason is a wide-awake teacher and is the right man in the right place.

He is perfectly adapted to the work of teaching, and also to the colored people. He seems to enjoy the work he is now engaged in, and to "thank God for a humble place to do a great and grand work." He is very conscious that he is doing a long felt and needed work.

This is about the middle of the second month of the sixth session of this school, There are 61 pupils enrolled and 48 in actual attendance. The students all seem to be learning very fast. There are some very promising young men in attendance at this school. There are about 16 in the theological class. The recitations were very interesting this morning. If the students that come under Prof. Mason's control will but keep the rules and regulations that are laid down there, they cannot help but learn and become intelligent.

Walden Seminary is in better condition now than it has ever been. If we had our building up that Dr. Rust contemplates putting up, it would not be long before Walden Seminray would move to the front and would become a great educational center. We are trying to raise the $3000 that were subscribed at the last session of the Little Rock conference. Dr. Rust assures us, if we will raise $2,500, that the building will go up at once. Dear Brethren of the Little Rock conference, what ever you do, push your subscriptions, collect the money as fast as you can and forward to me as fast as you collect.

Yours Respectfully
G. W. SAMS,
Sec. Board of Trustees.

Prairie Plain Ciricuit.

This is one of the small circuits, and with poor church buildings as yet. The fourth quarterly conference was held Oct. 28th and 29th. F. C. Moore, the P. E., was present. It was a time of refreshing. The people were in the spirit, and showed it more by work than by words.

The district steward announced to the people he needed $9.75, and the people put on the table the amount, and after the steward announced he had the amount, the people continued to give until they put down $11.80. After which a collection was taken for the Freedmen's Aid Society, (Houston College) without previous notice being given to the people, and they put down $23.30. They now have for it $60.60. Another collection to be taken for it in two weeks to make it $100. We are building three new churches. Everything looks hopeful.

Our pastor, F. D. Bookman, has the love and entire confidence of the people. All look upon him as a father. Generally, in church work, he has only to speak and it is done. He is perfectly honest, his judgment is always good, and he plans and works for great things for his people. He points them up and leads the way. He does not aim at noise or sound without sense in his preaching, but always gives his people light and knowledge. We shall regret the time when in the order of the church the Macedonian cry from fields beyond shall call him away from us.

W. P. PARKER,
District Steward.

Four Steps to Salvation.

DEAR SINNER:—There are four steps to salvation; four short, but very important steps! Do you wish to know them? First step—Think!—Think of your sins—of their number, gravity, baseness, deadliness; of your need of getting rid of them, of the atonement that has been made for them; of the fact that nothing but that atonement could satisfy the claims of divine justice concerning your sins; of the further fact that nothing but the covering of that atonement can shelter you from the wrath of God; that Jesus Christ has made that atonement and entreats you to accept it as a covert from the blast; that there is none other name under heaven given among men whereby we must be saved but the name of Jesus; that failing to accept Him as our present, precious, all-sufficient Saviour, we perish eternally, without hope of mercy. Think on these things; by all means think on them, seriously, anxiously, continuously, with strong desire to be led into the way of all truth!

Second step—Resolve! Resolve, just now, that you have had enough of sin; that while it has never secured to you any good, it has done you a vast amount of harm; that you will carry the burden no longer; that in place of being a bondslave you will be a conqueror; that as there is power in God to break the fetters, to Him you will apply; that your application shall be kept before Him, until answered by your relief from the thraldom of sin; that as delays are always dangerous, sometimes fatal, you will present your appeal at once! Make these resolves; make them intelligently; counting the cost; in the strength of God; satisfied that He will approve and aid in their performance!

Third step—Pray! Pray to God that he may forgive your sins; pray in the spirit of genuine penitence on account of your sins; put on the sackcloth and ashes of a godly sorrow that will not need to be repented of; come before Him penetrated through and through with a consciousness of the exceeding sinfulness of your sins; at the same time be filled with a grateful sense of His amazing mercy and love toward you, notwithstanding the fact that you have sinned. Not only cry out, "Against thee, thee only have I sinned and done this evil in thy sight," but also "Create in me a clean heart, O God, and renew a right spirit within me." While you pray remember that the sacrifices of God are a broken spirit,—a broken and contrite heart God will not despise. Begin your praying immediately; make it the special business of the day and night; persevere in it until God gives the answer!

Fourth step—Believe! Believe that God so loved you that He gave his only begotten Son, that you believing in Him should not perish but have everlasting life; believe that Jesus Christ, the Son of God, died upon the cross for you, just as though there had not been another sinner in the world to be saved from his sins; believe that the promises of God to penitent ones cover you just now; believe that the Father, the Son, the Spirit, the Blood, the Redeemed—all the heavenly host, are ready, and waiting, and watching for your salvation now; believe that just as you kneel there at the mercy-seat, conscious of your sinfulness, filled with sorrow because of it, looking to God for pardon and peace through Christ only, relying on His merits and not on your own, gripping the blood with trembling hand yet gripping it, opening your heart for the entrance of salvation; believe just there and now that God for Christ's sake does the work, and quicker than a flash of lightning your burden will be gone, your soul will be set free, your forgiveness and acceptance will be sealed upon your heart, and you be enabled to rapturously testify to all around,—being justified by faith, I have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom also I have access into this grace wherein I stand and rejoice in hope of the glory of God. Dear sinner, take these four steps to Salvation!

GEO. W. F. GRAFF.

From Our Board of Education—Voices from Afar.

The Rev. Dr. Maclay, writing from Yokohama respecting the recent annual meeting of the Mission of the Japan Methodist Episcopal Church, says:

A carefully prepared report on Sunday-schools was adopted unanimously by the Annual Meeting, and you will be pleased to learn that, in accordance with a suggestion made in the report, it was resolved to introduce at once the observance of the Children's day in all the charges of our Mission. The Japanese are very fond of such observances, and I have no doubt that they will be delighted with this effort to interest the children of the country in the work of Christian education.

The Rev. D. O. Fox, presiding elder in the South India Conference, writes:

BOMBAY, Sept. 8, 1882.

So far as I know, Children's day has never heretofore been observed in India. Your letter calling attention to the matter reached me late in May. I arranged with the brethren on the district to observe the day, though it was too late to do so on the second Sunday in June. All except the Sunday-school at Vepery, Madras, held the "day" about a month later. Brother Oakes, one of your Drew students, had previously arranged for the meeting, and held it on the regular Sunday. His school contributed 70 rupees. This was the largest collection taken. But the collections from other charges show that much interest was awakened in the cause. I doubt not that hereafter we shall regularly observe the day.

Our educational work in India needs more good teachers, and also money to erect suitable buildings. We also need a Theological school in Western India. We have two Conference schools, one in Poona and one in Bangalore. We desire to make the Poona High School a University, having, 1. A full literary course; 2. A Normal School to train teachers for the schools in India; 3. A Theological School for those preparing for our Mission work.

These departments are to be open to both European and native students. This school is very much needed here. Poona is a central position for Western India, and would be well sustained. The school was opened over three years ago, and has done very well. But we are obliged to rent buildings, and these are not suitable for school work.

If we had $20,000 we could get the same amount from the Government. The Government here gives for school purposes as much as any society will raise. This would give us $50,000 and would enable us to place the school on a safe and strong foundation. I have often wished that some of our rich Christian men or women in America would give us the amount needed, and so place us on our feet. I know you will be glad to present the cause to any one who may be likely to help us.

The work is prospering on all our districts.

We solicit the thoughtful attention of persons desirous of doing good on a large scale to the opening represented in the above letter.

Should any be disposed to respond, in whole or in part, to the appeal made, the Board of Education will gladly serve as an organ of intercommunication or as an agent of disbursement for an object so kindred to its designs.

"Gie Him Another Chance."

John B. Gough, in his lecture, "The Only Remedy," tells this incident of a Cornwall miner:—

Two men were sinking a shaft. It was a dangerous business that they had to do. Their custom was to cut a fuse with a knife; the man then got into a bucket and made a signal to be drawn up. The other one got into the bucket when it descended, with one hand on the signal rope and one on the fuse. When he touched the fuse he made a signal, and was at once hauled up. One day they left their knife up above, and rather than ascend for it they cut a fuse with a sharp stone. It took fire. "The fuse is on fire!" they both exclaimed, as they leaped into the bucket but the windlass would hold but one at a time—only one could go on. One man instantly leaped out, and said: "Up with ye, I'll be in heaven in a minute." With lightning speed the bucket was drawn up, and the man was saved.

The explosion took place, and they descended, expecting to find the mangled body of the miner; but the fact was that the charge had loosened a mass of rock, and it lay diagonally across the shaft, and, with the exception of a few bruises and a little scratching, the man was unhurt. When asked why he urged the other man to escape, he gave a reason that skeptics would laugh at. If there is any being on the face of the earth I pity, it is a sceptic. What did he say? "Why did you insist on this other man's hastening up?" In his broad dialect he said: "Because I knowed my soul was safe, for I've gi'e it into the hands of Him of whom it is said that 'faithfulness is the girdle of His loins,' and I knowed that what I gi'ed Him He'd never gi'e up; but t'other chap was an awful wicked lad, and I wanted to gi'e him another chance." All the infidelity in the world cannot produce such a single act af horoism as that.—Ex.

It is pretty well settled that a healthy man who lives to be 70 years of age, in his life eats 7,800 pounds of meat, 72 barrels of flour, 1,500 pounds of butter, 987 dozen eggs, 800 pounds of cheese, 163 bushels of potatoes, and 1,700 pounds of lard.

Sowing Crackers, and Reaping Loaves.

"What a man soweth, that shall he also reap,"—not in quantity, but in kind. A few months since while chatting with a good brother of our church, in my study, he related the following singular dream, which I ever since have regarded as a most beautiful illustration of the familiar text:— "Cast thy bread upon the waters, for thou shalt find it after many days." (Eccl. 2:1.)

In his dream he was standing on the shore of a great river, and having on his arm a basket filled with small crackers, which, as the tide began to go out, he cast upon the waters. Handful after handful he flung upon the receding waves, and then, the basket having been emptied, he stood watching them until the fast ebbing tide had borne them all out of sight. And still he stood looking off upon the waters as if in a reverie, when suddenly, as it seemed to him, the tide began to come in. Wave after wave continued to hasten joyously shoreward until the tide was nearly at its height. Just then, happening to raise his eyes, it appeared as if the entire surface of the water, in the far distance, was covered with strange-looking objects moving swiftly towards the shore. On they came, like an armed and disciplined host, every wave bringing them nearer. The advanced guard reached the shore and swept up the beach as if to surround him. The rear guard followed until the shore was lined with them as far as the eye could reach. They piled themselves up about him like a great wall. Retreat was impossible. He was a prisoner! Judge of his surprise, however, when these strange-looking objects which had thus effected his capture were discovered to be great loaves of bread! He had cast in a few little crackers—food for a few—and, behold, they had come back a host of huge loaves—food for an army!—The Watchman.

"The color line" crops out here every now and then, and receives more or less attention as the case may be. The public school question, to which we alluded last week, is still unsettled, and now the Columbian Law School has encountered this rock and settled it in a very decided manner. A meeting of the students of the Law School was held in Columbia Law building Monday evening to take action in regard to the presence of a colored student, Mr. S. L. Williams, a graduate of Ann Arbor University and a member of the junior class in the law school. For some time past some of the members who considered themselves affronted by Mr. Williams being allowed to remain in the school, have been agitating the subject, and this meeting was called to settle the question. There was a very full attendance of students, and an organization was effected by calling Wm. Landvoight to the chair. A resolution was introduced which closed with the resolve "that a committee of three be appointed to wait upon the faculty of the institution and request the expulsion of the negro from the Law school of the University." A substitute was offered reciting that "the negro by his gentlemanly conduct and excellent ability was entitled to a seat in Columbia or any other college." Amid a storm of applause and cheers the substitute was adopted without a dissenting vote. Then followed the adoption of a motion that such students as were afraid to compete intellectually with the colored student had better seek a school where they would be in the midst of their peers.—Baltimore Methodist.

At a wedding not long since, among the presents displayed was a $1000 bank note from the father of the bride. After the wedding was over the old gentleman folded up the note and put it in his vest pocket. The conduct of that doting father reminds one very much of the promises of reform made by candidate previous to the election as contrasted with their performances when the election is over.

Diogenes being presented at a feast with a goblet of wine, threw it the on ground. When blamed for wasting so much good liquor he answered, "Had I drank it there would have been a double waste—I, as well as the wine, would have been lost."

If we would have again the old-time Methodist power in song, we must first have not only more attention to music but more religious fervor. Holy song is the native language of holy joy.—Nashville Christian Advocate.

THURSDAY, NOV. 16, 1882.

1883. CANVASS. 1883.

We earnestly request all Pastors within the patronizing territory of the SOUTHWESTERN CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE to announce to their congregations the fact that new subscribers for 1883, who pay the cash in advance, will receive the paper without cost from the time the subscription is received to the close of 1882. By such an announcement the liberal offer of the Publishers will be brought to the notice of those interested, most of whom can not be communicated with in any other way. It will be a favor to all who subscribe and to the paper as well.

The present is the most favorable time for increasing the list of subscribers to the paper. Press on the canvass in good earnest without delay. Every additional paper circulated within a pastoral charge will help revival work.

Sample copies of the paper will be sent where requested. Pastors will please send on postal card or by letter the names of persons to whom they think sample copies ought to be sent. Let us work now to put the ADVOCATE for 1883 into every Methodist home. Pastors will please send us cash lists with the money now; and after receiving appointment at annual conference only such lists as they can become personally responsible for. Get all the yearly subscribers you can; but urge the people to take for three, six or nine months if they cannot afford to pay for a longer time.

Facts and Principles.

Rev. John F. Spence, D. D., in a communication to Zion's Hearld, makes some statements that seem to demand a passing notice. "Facts," he informs us, "are stern things, and when they come into conflict with theories, it is easy to tell which must give way." This the Dr. takes as a sort of axiom, a proposition, the truth of which is so evident that no process of reasoning can make it plainer. Read this: "We can no more mix the races, socially, and be successful than we can mix oil and water." This, of course, is theory. What are the facts? For over two hundred years the mixing of the white and black race has been going on, whether socially or not, we do not pretend to say. We simply speak of the mixing. This is a well established fact. And in many instances the blending has been carried on to such perfection that it is difficult to tell to which race the person belongs. What of the Doctor's theory alongside these "stern facts?" Which must give away? Read again: "There is neither Jew nor Greek; there is neither bond nor free; there is neither male nor female; for ye are one in Christ Jesus." This comes under the head of theory. Take now a fact: "The Methodist Episcopal Church, in Birmingham, Alabama, is exclusively for white people." Will Dr. Spence inform us which is to give way, the fact or the theory? It seems to us that when facts oppose principles it is bad for the facts, and they must get out of the way. The world has need of men who are governed by principles, who dare to do right.

Nothing pleases us more than the compliment bestowed upon New England people. "We are glad to return our hearty thanks to the liberal and broad minded people of New England, who have not thought it a crime to be white." "Liberal and broad minded people." Nothing could be more appropriate. A soul that has been fertilized for generations by the common school and all Christian agencies of the New Testament working in unison, could produce none other than a "liberal and broad minded people," who, while they are sure that it is not a "crime to be white," are just as confident that it is no sin to be black. New England is a land of churches and schools. But there is not a church, schoolhouse, academy, seminary, college, or university of learning, from which colored people are excluded. In that land, among that people, no ministers of Him, who come to seek and save the lost, would dare say that, "the church of which I am pastor is exclusively for white people." And should it so happen that some young brother without experience, under some hallucination should give expression to a sentiment so unchristian, much less would there be a man to defend him. Some might apologize for a young and inexperinced brother. That would be characteristic of "liberal and broad minded people," but not one would rise to defend him.

We give to-day details of the elections of Nov. 7, as complete as possible up to the time of going to press. A few changes are possible in the Congressional districts where the returns are close or the vote not published. There has been an overthrow of boss rule in some of the States, and gratification of revenge for disappointed ambition in others. It will be noticed that Massachusetts, Michigan, Kansas and Colorado have chosen Democratic Governors, while the balance of the Republican State tickets were chosen. The most ungracious verdict to our mind, next to the elevation of Gen. Butler to the gubernational chair of Massachusetts, was the failine to re-elect Gov. St. John of Kansas, which was mainly due to the strategy of the anti-prohibitionists, and the over confidence of thousands of prohibitionists who neglected to vote believing his election sure. The lower house of Congress passes under Democratic control for the next two years, while the Senate will remain Republican and a check to partisan legislation if attempted. The stay-at-home element and local issues are mainly responsible for this result; while political assessments and disregard of public sentiment, on civil service and tariff issues, contributed also to Republican defeats. It is hoped that the rebuke will be taken to heart, the deserved chastisements lead to better conduct in the future.

During the past ten months the Church Extension Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church has aided by donations and loans in the erection of 388 churches, being one church for every day in the [illegible] and 84 over. This per[illegible] about one half of [illegible] built during these ten [illegible] church, as it is only [illegible] and to the poor [illegible] Extension Society

Ten Months of Church Extension Work.

We make the following extracts from the report of the Board of Church Extension, November 1, 1882, signed by Bishop Simpson, President, and Dr. A. J. Kynett, Secretary, and addressed to the friends and members of the M. E. Church.

The command of God, the fulfillment of prophecy, the success of the Gospel, and the safety of the Republic, all require Church Extension. "Build the house"—"my house * * * a house of prayer for all nations"—"and I will take pleasure in it, and I will be glorified, saith the Lord."

As we have gone forward with this work, God has been pleased and glorified, and has prospered it, and the good results have been more and more apparent. Old friends have enlarged their liberality and new ones are constantly coming to our aid.

Our receipts during the ten months ending October 31, have been:

ON GENERAL ACCOUNT.

Conference collections,	$76,417,76
Personal donations,	9,528,05
All other sources,	23,949,50
		$109,895,31

ON LOAN FUND ACCOUNT.

Donations to fund, etc.	$50,398,61
Loans returned,	31,983,25
		$82,381,85
		$192,277,16

Our disbursements for the same period have been

ON GENERAL ACCOUNT.

Donations to churches, etc.,		$106,085,07

ON LOAN FUND ACCOUNT.

Loans to churches, etc.,	$61,434,00
Property as received,	6,875,00
		$68,309,00
		$174,394,07

With these we have aided churches as follows:

By donations only,	248
By loans only,	31
By both donations and loans,	109
	388

Being one church for every day in the ten months and over. A comparison with the corresponding period of last year shows an increase

On General account of	$19,336,99
On loan fund of	21.720,85
		$41,057,84

And of churches ailed an increase of 75 per cent. Being an increase of receipts of 27 per cent. And of churches aided of 24 per cent.

January 1, 1882, we had a cash balance in our treasury of $89,327,43, but had then granted, on conditions to be complied with, to 152 Churches.

Donations of	$30,570,26
And loans of	33,850,00

thereby anticipating the receipts of this year to the amount of $25,092,83.

At the end of the ten months of the current year we have November 1, 1882, a cash balance, in excess of outstanding drafts, of $57,210,52. But we have grants, on conditions, as at the beginning of the year, to 197 Churches, amounting to

Donations of	$35,370
And loans of	36,700
		$72,070,00

So that we have, at this date, anticipated the receipts of the future to the amount $14,859,48.

This additional amount will doubtless be contributed before the Churches to be aided by it will be able to comply with the conditions on which they may receive it.

We enter upon the month of November with applications on file, not yet considered, asking, for 43 Churches,

Donations of	$8,475
And loans of	10,330
		$18,805,00
Adding this to the amount required to pay grants already made,		14,859,48
Shows that, to do the work already in hand requires additional receipts of		33,664,48

This, in connection with the fact that every mail brings additional applications, shows that we need still greater increase of receipts to keep up with our work.

FRONTIER CHURCHES.

The receipts and disbursements above reported include 59 frontier churches procured by special gifts of $250 each, under the plan proposed by the assistant corresponding secretary some two years ago. Adding these to the 72 included in the results on the basis of facts shown when each grant was made are as follows:

Donations, $32,750; Loans, $19,100; Churches, 131; Cost, $236,955; Members, 4,904; S. S. Scholars, 7,884; Sittings, 34,000; Population, 144,130. It will be remembered that the original proposition contemplated the procurement of 400 new churches on the frontier in this way. The progress made has been slower than was anticipated but the results thus far accomplished, as shown above, cannot fail to gratify all, and to hasten the completion of the full work as at first proposed.

GENERAL AND LOAN FUND.

It is therefore of vital importance, in view of the present condition of our treasury, and the most urgent necessities of the work immediately before us, that the Church Extension collection should be specially urged at this time, and that personal gifts to our General funds should be earnestly solicited.

We entreat all our pastors to give immediate and earnest attention to this important work. Bring the facts, warmed by your own sympathies, before all your congregations. Consider that the country where our work is most needed, and where most of it is done, is new and rapidly developing. An empire—nay a Great Republic is rising upon foundations now being laid, shall it be Christian? This is the springtime of our national history. Busy hands are scattering the seed—Wheat and tares—what shall the harvest be?

Brethren, all, in the kingdom and work of Jesus Christ! We can take this country for Him! It is His by right! He wills to have it, and that we should take it in His name. He has ever gone forth with our armies, and will until the final victory is proclaimed. Let us, each in his place, do all we can.

Summary of the Elections.

The following is a summary of the elections held Nov. 7:

Alabama—Elected 8 Democrats to Congress, a gain of 1 from the Eighth District formerly represented by Lowe, Ind.

Arkansas—C. R. Breckenridge, D., Congressman-at-large by 18,000 majority, over Cunningham, Greenbacker; 4 Democrats from the districts.

California—Gen. Stoneman, D. Governor; 6 Democrats to Congress. The Senate will probably stand 28 Democrats, 12 Repulicans; the Assembly 57 Democrats, 24 Republicans.

Colorodo—Grant, Democrat, Governor; the Lieutenant Governor and balance of State ticket Republican; a Republican Legislature and Congressman.

Connecticut—Waller, Governor, and State ticket, Democrat; Legislature Republican: 3 Democrats, 1 Republican to Congress.

Delaware—Democratic Governor and State ticket, 1 Congressman and entire Legislature except 1 Senator holding over who is the only Republican member; Republicans elected a sheriff of Newcastle county by 9 majority.

Florida—Two Demicrats Congress.

Georgia—Ten Democrats to Congress.

Illinois—Republican State ticket; Legislature Republican, securing a U. S. Senator to succeed David Davis; 11 Republicans, 9 Democrats to Congress.

Indiana—Democratic State ticket by 10,000 majority; 9 Democrats, 4 Republicans to Congress; a Democratic Legislature.

Iowa—To Congress 8 Republicans, 3 Democrats.

Kansas—Gleck, Dem. Governor, balance of State ticket Republican; 7 Republicans to Congress.

Kentucky—Ten Democrats, 1 Republican to Congress.

Louisiana—Five Democrats, 1 Republican (W. P. Kellogg) to Congress.

Maryland—4 Democrats, 2 Republicans to Congress.

Massachusetts—Butler, Dem. Governor, balance of State ticket Republican; 8 Republicans, 4 Democrats to Congress; a Republican Legislature.

Michigan—Begole, Dem. Governor, balance of State ticket, Republican; 9 Republicans and 2 Democrats.

Minnesota—4 Republicans 1 Democrat; Legislature Republican.

Miesissippi—5 Democrats, 1 Republican and Gen. Chalmers.

Missouri—1g Democrats; 1 Republican to Congress.

Nebraska—Republican State ticket and 3 Congressmen. The woman suffrage amendment defeated by 20,000 majority.

Nevada—Democratic Governor, Congressman, and Supreme Judge.

New Hampshire—Republican Governor, 2 Congressmen, Legislature and Council.

New Jersey—Legislature stands: Republicans 38, Democrats 40, doubtful 3. It elects a U. S. Senator to succeed McPherson, Democrat; 4 Republicans, 3 Democrats to Congress.

New York—Cleveland, Dem. for Governor, a majority of over 194,000; Hill, Lieutenant Governor of 119,000; Slocum, Dem. Congressman-at-large, 107,000 majority. The Erie canal and judiciary amendments were adopted; Democratic Legislature; 19 Democrats, 15 Republicans to Congress.

North Carolina—Democratic Legislature, though the Republicans, make gains; 7 Democrats, 2 Republicans to Congress.

Pennsylvania — Patterson, Dem. Governor by 38,550 plurality; Democrats have a majority of 15 on joint ballot in the Legislature; 15 Republicans, 13 Democrats to Congress.

Rhode Island—2 Republicans to Congress. An amendment to authorize the Legislature to call constitutional conventions was defeated.

South Carolina—Six Democrats, 1 Republican to Congress (Mackey, seventh diistrict). The constitutional amendment to give the Legislature power to change the time of general elections, and to disfranchise for crimes was adopted. The Independent Greenback State ticket was withdrawn from the field several days prior to the election, because Democratic mobs prevented a canvass and broke up the appointed meetings. Several bloody election affrays occurred on election day in different sections of the State.

Tennessee—Bate, Dem., elected Governor over Hawkins, Rep., by 26,000 majority, over all 16,000; Legislature largely Democratic in both houses, securing a Democratic U. S. Senator to succeed Harris.

Texas—10 Democrats, 1 Republican to Congress; Democratic State ticket received two-thirds of the vote cast.

Virginia—6 Readjusters, 4 Democrats to Congress.

Wisconsin—Democrats have a small majority on joint ballot of the Legislature: 4 Democrats, 5 Republicans to Congress.

Of the Territories Arizona, Idaho, Montana and Wyoming elected Democratic delegates to Congress; Dokata, New Mexico and Washington, Republicans; Utah, a Mormon.

PERSONAL.

—Rev. J. C. McPherson, late of the A. M. E. Church, has united with the M. E. Church at California, Mo.

—Bishop Wiley has transferred Rev. P. H. Bodkin, of Iowa, to the Austin Conference, and appointed him to Fort Worth, Texas.

—Rev. Dr. A. G. Haygood has accepted the agency of the Slater Fund. A new volume from his pen may be looked for at an early day.

—We had a pleasant call last week from Thomas H. Harris, Esq., from Indianapolis, Ind. Bro. Harris is an admirer of Rev. W. C. Webb, former pastor of Ames, and at Indianapolis.

—Prof. J. C. Ridpath has been released for the present college year by the trustees of Indiana Asbury University, from his duties as professor in that institution, that he may engage in literary labors.

—Rev. W. Wesley has just erected a new house near the College. He purposes to remain here until he finishes his course of study. Three years is yet required for him to complete his course.—Mashall (Tex.) Visitor.

—John B. Stickley, U. S. District Attorney of Florida, died in Washington, D. C., on the 5th inst. He was a native of Maine, and serving his third term in office. He died of congestion of the brain, caused by overwork in the political canvass.

—Rev. Pierre Landry, presiding elder of Baton Rouge District, gave us a call last week. Bro. Landry is one of the strong men of the Conference, and is doing a grand work on his district. He is always welcome at this office.

—Rev. W. Smith, the popular and successful pastor of the M. E. Church, Donaldsonville, gave us a pleasant call last week. Bro. Smith reports prosperity in all departments of church work. The new parsonage the best in the conference is finished, with only one hundred dollars debt. And that will be paid before conference.

—A Chicago correspondent writes: "Rev. L. W. Elkins, a student of Garrett Biblical Institute, who was recently appointed pastor of Brighton Park Church, Chicago, has already won the hearts of his people. The congregation and Sunday school are increasing. He is an earnest and eloquent preacher and we are expecting grand results this year."

—The death of George T. Ruby, at New Orleans last Tuesday morning, brings to mind his early experiences in Louisiana. In the days of reconstruction he had a school for the education of colored pupils, away back of Baton Rouge somewhere, but that kind of education did not accord with the ideas of the chivalry thereabouts, and so they got after him one night and he sought safety in flight fording a steam to elude his pursuers.—Mobile Gazette.

—Dr. Hartzell writes: "It is now more than four months since Mrs. H., was taken so severely sick. Four times she has relapsed, but now she is climbing slowly again. I have kept at my work as I could, visiting and addressing conferences in Iowa, Illinois, Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York. I expect to be at Conference."

Letter from Murfreesboro.

I am closing up the year on the district with a healthy increase. There have been revivals with great success on all the appointments. I have been on my district all the time except three weeks, I changed these appointments with Elder Price. I have been in revivals on the district more or less all the year. We have had up to date between 400 and 500 conversions during the year. There are six new church houses in headway of building and completion and five others commenced, and also one pastorage has been builded; our people are beginning to build better churches.

At Murfreesboro, Rev. H. Primm, pastor has had glorious revivals, 60 or 75 conversions, we have a fine society and good membership. We are moving slowly with our new church here. Amount all raised. Paid presiding elder $50. Murfreesboro circuit, Rev. B. James, pastor. He has been blessed with revivals, 50 additional converts. Bro. James is getting old and not able to work, he thinks he will be able to raise all assessments by conference.

Lawrence and Spencer circuit, Rev. A. Philips, pastor, paid presiding elder $4. He has had a glorious revival, 50 additional converts, prospect good to raise all assesments.

Woodbury circuit, Rev. Wesley Lillard, pastor. He has had a good revival, 60 converts, paid presiding elder $27 50. He has built two new churches and bought a lot and lumber for a third one. He is pushing ahead trying to raise all collections.

Stone River circuit, Rev. Joe Smith pastor, paid presiding elder $28 30. He has had revivals with good result. He thinks he will be able to raise all assessments. He has added one new appointment to his circuit during the year.

Shelbyville and Gill's chapel, Rev. P. Brooks, pastor. Through the beneficence of Rev. John Seay of the Tennessee conference, who gave $50 to use in paying indebtedness on the church, we have remodeled the church and also built a new parsonage on the church lot. But for the $50 Brother J Seay gave us we would not have been able to repair one church nor build the parsonage building. The parsonage at Shelbyville will save our church hundreds of dollars, so you see the fifty dollars Brother Seay gave us there was invaluable on this work. Brother Brooks has had a glorious revival, 30 or 40 converts; completed church at Gill's chapel; district steward paid presiding elder $32 50.

Peterburg circuit, Rev. Wm. Miller—I got Brother James to hold quarterly meeting, I am not in possession of the report. Brother Miller reported some advancement on collections to district conference.

Readyville, Rev. Jacob Wade, pastor—Brother Wade has not done much as yet.

McMinnville, Rev. S. P. Bell, pastor—Brother Bell has been blessed with a glorious revival. He has completed one church and bought a lot, paid for it and is projecting building for another. He has also advanced the benevolent collection. McMinnville is a great center for Methodism. District steward paid up in full $40.

McMinnville circuit, Rev. E. Provine, pastor. Brother Provine has had great success this year; raised nearly all assessments up to the holding the quarterly conference. He has a heroine for a wife that assisted him greatly in his collections and Sunday-school work. District steward paid presiding elder's claim in full, $40.

Tullahoma circuit. This circuit consists of a part of Coffee and Franklin counties; Rev. C. H. Bullington, pastor. He has had a glorious revival, 40 converts; and will raise all assessments. Paid presiding elder $21; will pay up in full at last quarterly conference.

Manchester circuit, Rev. John Kenscer, pastor. He has had a revival with good success; he also made a report at district conference showing an increase in collections. Paid presiding elder up to date $8.

Sparta and Van Buren circuit, Rev. B. F. Whitley, pastor. Sparta and Van Buren circuit is bordering on the Cumberland mountains. During my visit to my last quarterly conference, I, in company with Brother Whitley, went up on the mountains, and looked over the country. We met a boy (white) 13 years old; he told us that he never was in church or Sunday-school in his life. We saw an old woman (colored) that did not know when she had been to church. She said her husband was at church year before last. So you see we have a great missionary work to do up in the mountains. Sparta is a nice and quiet little town. Ours is the only church any where near Sparta. It is the county seat of White county, and will be soon the terminus of a branch of N. E. R R, which will make it a great business to centre. It bids fair become one of the best shipping points along the line of the road We have bought a lot up in town. Father J. Seay, of the Tennessee conference, has given me $50, which has enabled us to commence building. We have commenced a very neat church. The contract is let out for the building and some of the lumber is on the ground. Bro. Whitley has had a revival with good results. He has built a new church, and took in a new point at Yankee town. I stayed up there five days, assisted him in his protracted meeting and visited around among white and colored. The last night I was there I held a missionary meeting, took up $6 for the missionary cause. The committees assured me that they would do their best to raise all assessments. I found here, as at almost all the charges, the Sunday-school missionary society is neglected, so far as the collections are concerned. This is entirely wrong.

Cooksville circuit. I had to supply this circuit with Rev. Thomas Belcher, on account of Rev. G. W. House leaving. After Bro. House left I had to go up there a distance of 90 or 100 miles, and stay up there two weeks and preach for the people. We have good congregations on this circuit; a great many friends, white and colored. I can't say at this writing what there will be raised, as Bro. Belcher has not been up there very long. He promised me he would raise all assessed circuit; it was during week days. But we had large crowds out, I found Brother Butler in the midst of revival. I remained with him and attended to baptizing for him. I found him pushing ahead the best he could in the interest of the church. He is arranging to build a church at a new point.

Carthage circuit, O. Green, pastor. Brother is doing very well on his work. He is trying to arrange to build a church on our lot in Carthage. There we had one burned by some unknown person or persons. I spent three days on this circuit, one of them in Carthage. I found our members there full of hope and anxious to build again. He has had a good revival on his work and reported an increase in collections, paid presiding elder $ 2 during the year.

Alexandria circuit, Rev. C. H. Seward, pastor. Brother Seward has been blessed with a glorious revival. Increase in benevolent collections. Paid presiding elder $28. Corner stone for our new church there was laid on the fourth of last July by the writer assisted by Rev. B. Anderson, of Lebanon, Dr. J. Braden, of Nashville, Rev. Lee, of Church South, Bro. Seward, and Hon. Wm. Stoolas. Rev. John Seay gave $50, which have enabled us to get the lumber on. If nothing happens to prevent we will soon have a new neat frame church up at Alexandria, which is very desirable. Alexandria is a noted little country town; not a saloon in it. The white and colored go very often to each other's church, to visit each as Christians. Ours is the only colored church in town Brother Seward has taken several new points, which will compel us to divide the circuit at the annual conference The brethren at Cherry Valley anticipate tearing down their old church and building a larger one.

North Lebanon circuit, Rev. G W. Marsh, pastor. He has been blessed with revival. Brother Marsh thought at the beginning of the year he would be compelled to abandon the work on account of support. I in company with brother Marsh recently visited the churches on the circuit and find that there has been a great change for the better. He was not able to make an accurate report of his collections He thinks there will be an increase. Paid presiding elder $17. There has been one new point taken in during the year

Lebanon and Seay's chapels, Rev. B. Anderson, pastor, small pox has greatly moved our church work here. For five or six weeks the church was closed. Brother Anderson stood firm amidst the fire and through the beneficence of Rev. J. Seay and the members at Seay chapel, he was able to remain at his post. At the quarterly conference reports showed a healthful increase in collections. He has had revival with good results.

Father J. Seay gave $40 to liquidate the indebtedness on the church here, which enabled the trustees to keep out of a law suit that would have been very burdensome to them. Rev. J. Seay has given during the conference year $280 to help build and pay indebtedness on churches within the boundaries of my district. I was down to see Brother Seay on the 29th of October: I found him much better than I expected; he is still wide awake to church interests and the temperance cause. He loaded me with different articles, including 2 bushels of wheat, apples and meat. (bacon and beef.) Through the kindness of friends of Lebanon, I received $50 on salary. Brother Seay has paid out this year for benevolent purposes $1,100 or 1,200. What will we do without him? We organized our dist. Conference Temperance Society; whisky, wine and tobacco are all included. Some of the brethren have organized an Auxiliary societies in their churches. Now brethren push the cause ahead as you promised you would do, organize your church and Sunday school in temperance societies. What will we do to take care of our superannuated preachers? We have a few of that class, and there are more and more annually. In order to take care of our worn out preachers, the fifth collection ought to be made a general collection, as the missionary and other general collections of the church. The national government has a pension law to take care of her soldiers who become disabled while in service. So the church ought to arrange an adequate fund to take care of all of her worn out and disabled ministers. No difference where they fall, in New York or Florida. There are men in the active work that would retire if there was any provision made to take care of them and family. Shame on a church or conference that would let a preacher wear himself out and if no longer of use to conference or his family retire him from the work and turn him out to suffer and die without any to care for him. There are men in all of our conferences that would retire and ought to retire. But they are compelled to stay in the work because there are no arrangement to take care of them.

Brethren of the Tennessee conference, let us take some steps at our next conference to put on foot some [illegible] that we may take [illegible] of men, and show [illegible] appreciation of their val[illegible] services. Say buy a small [illegible] and build houses as needed for that class of preachers.

Sick Headache. For the relief and cure of the distressing affliction take Simmons Liver Regulator.

Malaria. Persons may avoid all attacks by occasionally taking a dose of Simmons Liver Regulator to keep the liver in healthy action.

Constipation should not be regarded as a trifling ailment. Nature demands the utmost regularity of the bowels. Therefore assist Nature by taking Simmons Liver Regulator, it is so mild and effectual.

Biliousness. One or two tablespoonfuls will relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state, such as Nausea, Dizziness, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, a bitter, bad taste in the mouth.

Dyspepsia. The Regulator will positively cure this terrible disease. We assert emphatically what we know to be true.

Colic. Children suffering with colic soon experience relief when Simmons Liver Regulator is administered.

OUR SOUTHERN WORK.

LOUISIANA.

Everything at Sixth Street is moving along sweetly and harmoniously. Saturday, the 4th inst, the Sunday school gave a concert for the benefit of the Gilbert Haven School of Theology, and realized $22 95. On Sunday, Nov. 5, there was a union of the Sixth Street, Simpson chapel, and Mount Zion Sunday schools. Addresses were made by Dr. Dean, President of the New Orleans University, and Brothers Chapman, Cushman, Marshall and Bardwell. The children gave $20 more for same object. Our people are in earnest about this school and are doing the best they can to raise the money.

Rev. A. Ross, reports that the Sabbath school of Pleasant Plains church, Joseph Dutch jr., superintendent, gave an exhibition Nov. 6. It was a great success, the chapel was crowded and $15 cleared. Thanks are due Mrs. Amelia Davis and Mrs. Marie Brown for services, and to Mr. Ogleshy, organist.

SUNDAY SCHOOL.

JESUS MOCKED AND CRUCIFIED. (Mark xv, 16-26.)

Did you ever see a thorn tree? The thorns are sharp and hurt you if you press them to your skin. Would you like to have a wreath of them set on your forehead? O no. Now when you see thorns be sure to remember this lesson, because it tells us that Jesus, our Savior, wore a crown or wreath of thorns. After they gave him a false trial they whipped or scourged him, you know. This is how they mocked him. He said he was king; so they pretended to dress him like a king. They put purple robes on him, because kings wore it. Kings wear golden crowns; so to mock Jesus they put a crown of thorns on him. Then they spit on him and pretended to bow before him. When they had mocked him they took off the purple and led him to die on the cross. On the road to Calvary, where Jesus died, they met Simon, and they made him carry the cross Jesus was to die on. About nine o'clock in the morning, on Friday, they put Jesus on the cross, with great nails in his hands and feet. So Jesus hung between the heaven and earth, trying to save us.

Do we ever put thorns on Jesus? When we sin ain't he sorry? That is like putting thorns on him. Every good act and word we speak is crowning him with love. O ask him to help you to crown him with a love crown every day you live. Jesus wore thorns for us, now we can crown him with the best we have, our love and worship.

Consumption Cured,

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East Indian missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all throat and Lung Affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge to all who desire it, this recipe, in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. NEW PUBLICATIONS.

Frank Leslie's Sunday Magazine for December is full of delightful, entertaining and edifying reading. The editor, the Rev. Dr. Talmage, has some peculiarly interesting "Essays on Timely Topics," and a sermon in the Home Pulpit, "Forward." There are some studies in the Acts of the Apostles, grouped under the heading "International Lessons for 1883," which every one may profitably study. There are stories, sketches, essays, poems, etc., by Marion Harland, Harriet Irving. George McDonald, LL. D.; Michael Munkacsy, Professor Derry, Myrta Lockett, M. V. Moore, and other writers of celebrity. Among other prominent features are "International Sunday-School Lessons for 1883," "Wit, Wisdom and Pathos of Childhood," "Rhymes and Rhythms for the Little Folks," "Drift of Religious Comment," "Editorial Comments," etc., etc., together with beautiful illustrations, mottoes, etc. The price of a number is 25 cents, or $3 a year. Mrs. Frank Leslie, Publisher, 53, 55 & 57 Park Place, New York City.

Our Little Ones (Russell Publishing Co., Boston,) for November has a delightful story about Morton's horse, a wooden imitation of his father's big one.

The Peacemaker for November is filled with loving words to induce men not to go to war any more. Philadelphia, 813 Arch street. $1 per year.

The British Quarterly Reaiew for October, (New York; Leonard Scott Pub., Co.,) among other papers has: Rome during the Sieges of the Sixth Century, Is the Church of England a National church, Incidents of Land and Pleas for Reform, Is the Belief in Miracles Reasonable, Friedrich Ritschl, the House of Obrenovitch, the War in Egypt, the Songs of the Italian People. Price 75 cents, at the newstands.

Suffering Women.

There is but a very small proportion of the women of this nation that do not suffer from the diseases for which Kidney-Wort is specific. The Pensacola Board of Health decided that they would make an official anouncement, when in their opinion it would be safe for the refugees to return to the their homes, and it would be advisable for absentees to await this anoucement before returning.

What gives a healthy appetite, an increased digestion, strength to the muscles, and tone to the nerves? Brown's Iron Bitters.

The Birmingham, Alabama, Intelligene Office has an order for 500 colored coal miners for Alton, Illinois.

STRENGTH

to vigorously push a business, strength to study a profession, strength to regulate a household, strength to do a day's labor without physical pain. All this represents what is wanted, in the often heard expression, "Oh! I wish I had the strength!" If you are broken down, have not energy, or feel as if life was hardly worth living, you can be relieved and restored to robust health and strength by taking BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, which is a true tonic—a medicine universally recommended for all wasting diseases.

501 N. Fremont St., Baltimore

During the war I was injured in the stomach by a piece of a shell, and have suffered from it ever since. About four years ago it brought on paralysis, which kept me in bed six months, and the best doctors in the city said I could not live. I suffered fearfully from indigestion, and for over two years could not eat solid food and for a large portion of the time was unable to retain even liquid nourishment. I tried Brown's Iron Bitters and now after taking two bottles I am able to get up and go around and am rapidly improving.

G. DECKER.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS is a complete and sure remedy for Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Malaria, Weakness and all diseases requiring a true, reliable, non-alcoholic tonic. It enriches the blood, gives new life to the muscles and tone to the nerves.

EARS FOR THE MILLION! FOO CHOO'S Balsam of SHARK'S OIL, Positively Restores the Hearing, and is the Only Absolute Cure for Deafness Known.

This Oil is obstracted from a peculiar species of White Shark, caught in the Yellow Sea, known as the Carcharodon Rondeletii. Every Chinese fisherman knows it. Its virtues as a restorative of hearing were discovered by a Buddhist Priest about the year 1410. Its cures were so numerous and many so seemingly miraculous, that the remedy was officially proclaimed over the entire Empire. Its use became so universal that for over 300 years no Deafness has existed among the Chinese People. Sent, charges prepaid, to any address at $1 per bottle.

HEAR WHAT THE DEAF SAY!

It has performed a miracle in my case.

I have no unearthly noises in my head and hear much better.

USE THE TRADE MARK

A WONDERFUL And SCIENTIFIC DISCOVERY.

These Glasses are chemically treated in the process of manufacture, and possess the property of keeping your eyes in good condition, as when first you use them. They have been carefully examined and analysed by American and European oculists, who claim that the MEDICATED GLASSES have no equal, and can in some cases restore the sight if used in time, but in no case can the eye become impaired by their use for the following reasons:

1. The chemicals soften the light to the eye, completely doing away with that tiresome sensation that is usually experienced in using glasses after one or two hours' use.

2. The chemicals make the glasses hard; they retain their polish. Hence you will always see through them as bright and clear as at first.

3. The chemicals keep the glasses cold, and the result is that the optic nerves are always cool, doing away with any feverish sensation to the eye.

4. With these glasses you can read, write or sew all night, the light having no effect on the eye, with no distressing or tiresome sensation, which necessarily improves the eye.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS.

27 Stops Beatty's Organs and Pianofortes for 1883.

Ten full Sets of Golden Tongue Reeds. Height, 75 in. Depth, 24 in. Length, 46 in. New Style No. 9000. Handsome SOLID WALNUT CASE

BEATTY

A NEW CASE FOR THE HOLIDAYS NOW READY. Perfection of detail, unsurpassed elegance, fine finish, and royal tone qualities. I announce with pleasure that the popular demand for my instruments is so great that I am enabled, by enlarging my already enormous facilities, and the purchase of material that enter into their construction in immense quantities, to offer a new and more elaborate case for my

FAMOUS BEETHOVEN ORGANS

This style alone has reached a sale of over 20,000, which have gone to every country of the globe. This fact alone attests without POSSIBILITY OF REFUTATION that the Beethoven 27-stop organs are the only UNIVERSALLY POPULAR ORGANS EVER OFFERED TO THE PUBLIC.

☞ This Organ will be boxed and delivered on board cars, with Organ Bench, Book, and Music, at a moment's notice, now FOR ONLY $125

The price at which it is sold now places it within the reach of the HUMBLEST HOME, while its surpassing beauties of tone and design render it suitable for a MILLIONAIRE'S parlor. This new case is exquisitely proportioned solid walnut, is hand carved and decorated with artistic and ornate arabesque designs in fret and gold. Highly polished lamp stands and knee swells of new design and power. It contains 27 Stops, 5 Octaves, 10 full sets of Golden Tongue Reeds, as follows: Manual Sub-Bass 16 ft. tone, Diapason 8 ft. tone, Dulciana 8 ft. tone, Cello 8 ft. tone, French Horn 8 ft. tone, Saxaphone 8 ft. tone, Vox Celeste 8 ft. tone, Viola Dolce 4 ft. tone, Violina 4 ft. tone, Piccolo 2 ft. tone. Also, Coupler Harmonique, Harp Æoline, Grand Expressione, Vox Humana, Vox Jubilante, Duplex Dampers, and other grand accessory effects as below.

SPECIFICATION OF STOP WORK. 27 IN ALL.

(1) Cello, (2) Melodia, (3) Clarabella, (4) Manual Sub-Bass, (5) Bourdon, (6) Saxaphone, (7) Viol di Gamba, (8) Diapason, (9) Viola Dolce, (10) Grand Expressione, (11) French Horn, (12) Harp Æoline, (13) Vox Humana, (14) Echo, (15) Dulciana, (16) Clarionet, (17) Voix Celeste, (18) Violina, (19) Vox Jubilante, (20) Piccolo, (21) Coupler Harmonique, (22) Orchestral Forte, (23) Grand Organ Knee Stop, (24) Right Knee Stop, (25) Automatic Valve Stop, (26) Right Duplex Damper, (27) Left Duplex Damper.

If the above Instrument is not as represented after One Year's use, return it at my expense and I will refund you the money with interest.

BEATTY'S PATENT IMPROVED ADJUSTABLE STOP-ACTION IS USED! In this action is attained the highest state of perfection. By its use the merest novice can command the great variety of the Organ as completely as the most finished organist.

This beautiful Organ is manufactured from the choicest of thoroughly seasoned and well selected Black Walnut. It will stand the test of any climate. It is elegantly proportioned. The case has a rubbed varnish finish and will not take the dirt or dust. It is called "BEETHOVEN," as its musical effects are the most wonderful yet produced at any price; hence it is named after the World's greatest composer. The variety, expression, tone beauties and combination effects cannot be equalled by any other manufacturer at less than $450. Why? Because the Patented Improvements are my own and no one else can build an Organ on this plan.

SUITABLE FOR HOLIDAY, BIRTHDAY, WEDDING, OR ANNIVERSARY PRESENTS.

BUY ONLY THE LATEST AND BEST. THE BEETHOVEN IS ORIGINAL, UNIQUE, POWERFUL AND ALWAYS SATISFACTORY. COME TO WASHINGTON, N. J. AND SELECT INSTRUMENT IN PERSON. If not convenient to come, you will be as well treated if you order by mail.

REMIT BY BANK DRAFT, POST OFFICE MONEY ORDER, REGISTERED LETTER, OR BY EXPRESS, PREPAID. Young Folks' Corner.

A LITTLE SCAMP.

He's off on a tramp,
Like the little scamp
That he is, for we did not bind him;
And with hurrying feet
Up and down the street
We've followed, but could not find him.

There are gypsies about,
Who will steal him no doubt,
And keep him in horrible places;
And changing his name,
Our darling will claim,
Who misses our fond embraces.

The dear little scamp,
What made him decamp
In this way, without any warning?
He cannot speak plain,
And we've sought him in vain,
Why, ever since yesterday morning.

He was saucy and pert,
And will surely get hurt
In some way of his comical capers;
And hoping to get
Our runaway pet,
We've advertised him in the papers.

We've mentioned his size,
The color of his eyes,
And his hair—'twas a beautiful yellow;
And offered reward,
All we could afford,
To whoever restores the dear fellow.

His meals he will take
Very nicely, and cake
He is almost as fond as of candy,
If he crosses your track,
Won't you please bring him back?
He's a dog, and he answers to—Dandie.

For the SOUTHWESTERN.

MR. EDITOR: In reading the general news items of your valuable paper dated the 26th ult., I noticed an item stating that there was a pretty girl of 18, neat in dress and polite in manner, who fills the position of boot-black in the city of Galveston." It also states that she has a chair at a street corner, and makes from $3 to $6 a day. Now, Mr. Editor, I have been acquainted with Galveston for about thirteen years, and have always managed to wear polished boots, but during all those thirteen years I have never seen nor heard of such a thing as a female earning one cent a day as boot-black in Galveston. It seems to me that we who live in Galveston, and are in the habit of having our boots blacked upon her street corners ought to know something about this mysterious person of whom you make mention, but, to be frank with you, I don't believe she can be found in our city, for boot-blacks are not so scarce among the males, as to compel our pretty females of 18 to accept the position of corner boot-black.

The Fly That Bit Nan.

[illegible] mamma was very much afraid Nan would grow up to be a cruel girl, for she seemed to delight in tormenting the poor little flies. She would catch them on the window-pane, and pull off their legs and wings, and call it fine sport. Mamma talked to two-year-old Nan, and told her how cruel it was. "How would you like to have some one pull off your legs and wings?" she would ask. Nan would shudder. "I won't do it again," she would say; but the very next day she would do it again.

[illegible] there was a wasp on the window, and Nan, thinking he was a fly, [illegible] was going [illegible] sudden- [illegible] scream- [illegible] "the mol" [illegible] finger, [illegible] cruel to the flies, she must expect they would bite her.

"I nev' will do it again!" sobbed Nan. And she didn't. The wasp sting cured her.—Youth's Companion.

OUR SOUTHERN WORK.

LOUISIANA.

Frank Walker, Monroe: "Our presiding elder was with us on the 7th and 8th of the month. We had a grand time, proud to say. Raised for pastor this quarter $40 65; for presiding elder $25 40. Classes reported as follows: Sandy Brousel, No. 1, $3 70; David Johnson, No. 2, $3 65; Robert Lewis, No. 3, $3; Israel Turner. No. 4, $8 95; Jack Clay, No. 6, $1 55; Fred. Lashington, No. 5, $2 75. On the third Sunday of this month we gave a basket meeting, realizing therefrom $66 35. Our young people are learning music. We hope to have success in that direction."

The Vesta Circle gave a grand concert at First Street M. E. Church, everybody was pleased with the result. From the proceeds they gave the trustees $61 10 for the purpose of putting a banquet around the church. Sister E. R. Cochran got up the Circle last spring, and it is doing good work. The following is the committee of arrangements for the concert: Mrs. E. R. Cochran, Chair Lady; Mrs. M. J. Campbell, Mrs. B. C. Riley, Miss E. Tisdale, Mrs. Isabella Washington, Mr. Wm. Waters, Chas. Jones, A. W. Jackson, Jas. Jominoe. The Sunday-school gave the pastor, T. G. Montgomery, $13 40 on his subscription for the Gilbert Haven Theological School.

MISSISSIPPI.

J. C. Houston, Pickens: "The circuit has had a steady increase during the year. In a revival just ended the Spirit came with great power and thirty souls were made happy in the Lord. All joined the good old Mother with one or two exceptions. Bro. E. Scarborough rendered great and much appreciated assistance. He is a thorough Christian and a good Methodist. Sunday-schools are doing very well. but there is much room for improvement. I am in the midst of a loving and very kind-hearted people. They will not allow their pastor to get hungry. The presence of our good elder Barney always adds to the spiritual and financial condition of the Church. We hope that we can put our hand in his again soon."

G. Jackson, Green Hill: "Since the high water my work has reached a prosperous condition. Elder Barney held my third quarter. Collections $16 40. Rev. H. V. Price, of the A. M. E. Church, preached at night. My people promised to pay me $124, and I believe they will do all they can."

L. J. Terrell, Ripley: "Our protracted meeting closed with 22 converts, 4 from the Baptists and 5 reclaimed. Additions to the Church this year 30. We have our bitter and our sweet times, but we expect to meet our promises."

TENNESSEE.

L. M. Moore, Mason: "I have received the following amounts to pay off the church debt: Memphis charge, J. W Pickett pastor, $5; Fayette circuit, G. N. Johnson pastor, $3; Waynesboro circuit, E. M. Manson pastor, $2."

H. P. Belcher, Lebanon: "We closed the best meeting we have ever had, with 13 converts and 11 joined the church. Our paster, G. W. Marsh, is well liked. The times have been so hard we have not paid him much, but we will do better as soon as we can sell our tobacco crop. We wish there were more men like Bro. Marsh."

Think up how you can circulate the paper and send it out on its mission. Putting the paper into [illegible] may be like the giving of [illegible] cold water only, but if done in the name of the Master it shall not lose its reward.

J. L. Massey, Linden: "Elder Price held a very satisfactory quarterly meeting. The brethren all had written reports. They will do their best to pay their pastor by conference."

Never try to raise a family without a good newspaper, provided it contains the advertisement of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup; for this valuable medicine is necessary to keep your children in good health.

A good resolution: "I am resolved by the grace of God, to speak of other men's sins only before their faces, and of their virtues behind their backs."—Bishop Beveridge.

In using the Simmons Liver Regulator with my chickens, I take a package, mix it with the dough, and feed it to them once a day. By this treatment I have never lost from chicken cholera or gaps a single chicken in the last five years.

T. G. BACON, Edgefield, S. C.

Dr. Haygood, in a letter to the Texas Advocate, says: "For the life of me I can't see why it is more a normal development in religious life that a young preacher should consecrate his life to mission work than that a rich layman should consecrate his thousands to the same work."

Sergeant Reynolds at breakfast on Sunday morning was wresting with a piece of remarkably tough veal. His wife said to him, "You always say there's something to be thankful for in every thing. I guess you'd be puzzled to find any thing to be thankful for in that veal." "Not at all," he cheerfully responded, stopping to breathe: "I was just thinking how grateful we should be that we met it when it was young."

My Good Woman.

Why are you so out of sorts, never able to tell folks that you are well? Ten to one it's all caused in the first place by habitual constipation, which no doubt finally caused deranged kidneys and liver. The sure cure for constipation is the celebrated Kidney-Wort. It is also a specific remedy for all kidney and liver diseases. Thousands are cured by it every month. Try it at once.—Toledo Blade.

Rev. Jas. E. Gilbert, a Methodist clergyman in Milwaukee, has sent challenge a to the secretary of the National Liquor Dealers' Convention, for a joint discussion of the following question: "Ought the state to prohibit, by constitutional amendment and by statute, the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors as beverages?" Two speakers are to be in the affirmative, and two in the negative; twelve citizens, six for each side, to sit as witnesses; the discussion to take place after November 1, in Milwaukee; the debate to be repeated in other cities, if the parties desire; the offer open until July 1, 1883.

"How do you manage," said a lady to her friend, "to appear so happy all the time?" "I always have Parker's Ginger Tonic handy," was the reply, "and thus keep myself and family in good health and spirits." See Adv.

The iron bridge across the Savannah, on the Charleston and Savannah Railroad, has been completed at a cost of $100,000.

Signs of Progress in Texas.

The largest State in the civilized world is Texas, which boasts an area of 274,356 square miles.

This year's wool clip will be between 11,000,000 and 12,000,000 pounds.

The total valuation of property is now put at $400,000,000 in round numbers.

Texas has fully 7,000,000 sheep, and the wool crop of the present season will be worth $6,500,000.

It is estimated that the corn crop will reach 170,000,000 bushels. The value of the State's agricultural products is placed at $100,000,000.

DR. JOHN BULL'S
FEVER and AGUE
Or CHILLS and FEVER.
AND ALL MALARIAL DISEASES.
The proprietor of this celebrated medicine justly claims for it a superiority over all remedies ever offered to the public for the SAFE, CERTAIN, SPEEDY and PERMANENT cure of Ague and Fever, or Chills and Fever, whether of short or long standing. He refers to the entire Western and Southern country to bear him testimony to the truth of the assertion that in no case whatever will it fail to cure if the directions are strictly followed and carried out. In a great many cases a single dose has been sufficient for a cure, and whole families have been cured by a single bottle, with a perfect restoration of the general health. It is, however, prudent, and in every case more certain to cure, if its use is continued in smaller doses for a week or two after the disease has been checked, more especially in difficult and long-standing cases. Usually this medicine will not require any aid to keep the bowels in good order. Should the patient, however, require a cathartic medicine, after having taken three or four doses of the Tonic, a single dose of BULL'S VEGETABLE FAMILY PILLS will be sufficient.
The genuine SMITH'S TONIC SYRUP must have DR. JOHN BULL'S private stamp on each bottle. DR. JOHN BULL only has the right to manufacture and sell the original JOHN J. SMITH'S TONIC SYRUP, of Louisville, Ky. Examine well the label on each bottle. If my private stamp is not on each bottle do not purchase, or you will be deceived.

Ayer's
Hair Vigor,
FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.
IT is a most agreeable dressing, which is at once harmless and effectual, for preserving the hair. It restores, with the gloss and freshness of youth, faded or gray, light, and red hair, to a rich brown, or deep black, as may be desired. By its use thin hair is thickened, and baldness often though not always cured. It checks falling of the hair immediately, and causes a new growth in all cases where the glands are not decayed; while to brashy, weak, or otherwise diseased hair, it imparts vitality and strength, and renders it pliable.
The VIGOR cleanses the scalp, cures and prevents the formation of dandruff; and, by its cooling, stimulating, and soothing properties, it heals most if not all of the humors and diseases peculiar to the scalp, keeping it cool, clean, and soft, under which conditions diseases of the scalp and hair are impossible.
As a Dressing for Ladies' Hair,
The VIGOR is incomparable. It is colorless, contains neither oil nor dye, and will not soil white cambric. It imparts an agreeable and lasting perfume, and as an article for the toilet it is economical and unsurpassed in its excellence.

Lost Friends.

[We make no charge for publishing these letters from subscribers. All others will be charged fifty cents. Pastors will please read the requests published below from their pulpits, and report any case where friends are brought together by means of letters in the SOUTHWESTERN.]

DEAR EDITOR: For the benefit of an aged sister of our church, please publish an inquiry for her son. His name is Stephen Majors. He has been gone 12 years and only heard from once, then he was on the Ohio river working at a saw mill. He is of dark color, aged 26 years. His mother, Eliza Majors, is 78 years old. She has been in very bad health all this year and feels that her days upon earth are but few. She wants to see her son once more in this life.

REV. J. L. MASSEY.

East Perryville, Tenn.

DEAR EDITOR: I desire to inquire for my sister Martha, who was sold from us when about seven years old to a man who lived near Bolivar, Tenn., named Tom Boyle. At that time we all belonged to John Green, except father, who belonged to Nat Woods. Father was Granville, mother Dollie, brothers William, Granville, and Richmond the baby, sister Laura. We all went by the name of Norman. Father belonged to Tom Norman, who lived at Whiteville, Hardeman Co., Tenn. Grandfather was Squire Norman, grandmother, Jennie Norman. Mother and all the children except Sister Martha are here in Texas. I desire to find her. Pastors, please read this to your congregations. Address, at Austin, Texas, her brother,

38-3m REV. GRANVILLE NORMAN.

Do not be deceived. Insist on having the genuine Brown's Iron Bitters, made only by the Brown Chemical Co., and take nothing else.

A LETTER FROM GERMANY.
SIEGEN, January 6, 1882.
Very esteemed sirs:
The praise your Liver Pills have called forth here is wonderful. After taking one and a half boxes of your genuine DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, I have entirely recovered from my four years' suffering. All who know me wonder how I, who, for so many years, had no appetite and could not sleep for backache, stitch in my side, and general stomach complaints, could have recovered.
An old lady in our city, who has suffered for many years from kidney disease, and the doctors had given her up, took two of your Pills, and got more relief than she has from all the doctors. Yours truly,
J. VON DER BER[illegible]

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.
The genuine are never sugar-coated.
Every box has a red wax seal on the lid with the impression: McLane's Liver Pill. The genuine McLANE'S LIVER PILLS bear the signature of C. McLane and Fleming Bros. on the wrappers.
Insist upon having the genuine DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, prepared by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa., the market being full of imitations of the name McLane, spelled differently, but of same pronunciation.
If your storekeeper does not have the genuine DR. C. McLANE'S CELEBRATED LIVER PILLS, send us 25 cents, and we will send you a box by mail, and a set of our advertising cards.

DR. HARTER'S

A combination of Protoxide of Iron, Peruvian Bark and Phosphorus in a palatable form. The only preparation of iron that will not blacken the teeth, so characteristic of other iron preparations.

GENTLEMEN: I have used DR. HARTER'S IRON TONIC in my practice, and in an experience of twenty-five years in medicine, have never found anything to give the results that DR. HARTER'S IRON TONIC does. In many cases of Nervous Prostration, Female Diseases, Dyspepsia, and an impoverished condition of the blood, this peerless remedy, has in my hands, made some wonderful cures. Cases that have baffled some of our most eminent physicians, have yielded to this great and incomparable remedy. I prescribe it in preference to any iron preparation made. In fact, such a compound as DR. HARTER'S IRON TONIC is a necessity in my practice. DR. ROBERT SAMUELS.
ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. [illegible] 316 Wash Avenue.

It gives color to the blood, natural healthful tone to the digestive organs and nervous system, making it applicable to General Debility, Loss of Appetite, Prostration of Vital Powers and Impotence.

LIFE'S LESSON.

O weary hearts that throb with bitter grief,
And seem to keep time with the aching brain,
O tired eyes that nightly vigils keep,
And pale lips shutting back the pain—

Remember other hearts are heavy, too;
Little we know the crosses others bear;
We hear a laugh and see a happy smile,
And never dream they hide a burning tear.

The sad, sad story that our own lives tell.
Repeats itself in many a human breast;
And in the impress tired face wear,
We read their sorrows through their smiles confessed.

The sympathy we crave can come alone
From those whose feet have pressed the same rough way;
And so we learn the lesson—hard indeed—
That darkest night may bring the brightest day.—

Youth's Companion.

Conference in proportion to the response of the Conference by its collections to the call made upon it.

The amounts authorized will be still further modified by the following:

2. That the amounts authorized to Conferences are to be furnished, as far as practicable, by pro rata division of the collections. The Board may supplement, as far as practicable, the balance of the appropriations authorized, by loans from the Loan Fund.

3. That moneys received in response to the appeal of C. C. McCabe for a special fund of $100,000, be appropriated within the frontier Conferences and Missions, and administered by the Board, without reference to the amounts authorized for the Conferences severally, and in accordance with the expressed wishes of the donors.

4. That no application for aid from any church costing over $10,000 shall be entertained for a donation, unless such church shall have consulted the Board of Church Extension before commencing to build.

5. That no church costing over $20,000 shall, in any case, receive aid, either by donation or loan, from the funds of the Board of Church Extension.

The loan Fund of the Board of Church Extension will be $500,000 paid up capital by the close of the year 1882. W. C. DePauw, of New Albany, Indiana, gives $25,000 to complete the half million. This promise was made four years ago and renewed on Sabbath, Oct. 15th. On the following Sabbath at Norwalk, Ohio, where our cause has an earnest advocate in the person of Rev. Joseph Jones, superannuate of the North Ohio Conference, who has given $10,000 to the Loan Fund himself, where the pastor, Rev. J. W. Mendenhall, is all on fire with enthusiasm for church extension, Calvin Whitney, Esq., gave $10,000, and Mrs. Rosetta E. Royce, widow of a late member of the North Ohio Conference, gave $12,500 more, making $32,000 from Norwalk alone. Hence it came that our Loan Fund so suddenly leaped up to the limit prescribed by Brother DePauw. He said to me, "Make haste and get your $475,000, for I want to pay my subscription."

We have now a Loan Fund of half a million, with subscriptions and pledges to make it over $600.000 in the near future. It has grown at the rate of $100 per day since Dr. Kynett first proposed the scheme to the Board. When he proposition was made it struck Bishop Kingsley most forcibly. He thought it all out, and then in words each out weighing in monetary value many golden ducats, he stated the plan with Euclidic accuracy and Isaiah-like intensity. He said:

"I am exceedingly well pleased with the Loan Fund feature of the Board of Church Extension. I can think of nothing that impresses me more favorably, or as favorably, as putting money into this Loan Fund, to go on repeating itself, and reproducing its blessings from age to age. It don't stop simply with the first blessing; it helps build one church and comes back again with the glad tidings of what it has done, and goes again and builds or helps to build another church, and coming back again, says: "Here am I, send me, and goes again and again."

If this fund is always managed by as wise and able a board as now administers it, with a faithful, promise keeping executive officer such as there is now at its head, I see in the Loan Fund at least four new churches added into existence for every Sabbath till the bells of earth and heaven in holy rapture ring out the night of sin and ring in the millennial morning. Hallelujah! Is there anything out of place in a good shout just now? Do you say I am visionary? So I am. So was John of Patmos. So was John of Bedford jail. So was Bishop Kingsley. How thankful we ought to be for the wise, able, business-like administration that has made the building up of this fund a possibility. A little weakness would have destroyed it all. A little "extravagant trifling" would have cost the Church a ton of solid gold.

"O, cancel the obligation and let it go." How often have these words been read from letters written from every part of the country [illegible] by well meaning and hardworking men. But there was Bishop Simpson to say: "Better lose a church now and then, than by breaking faith lose the power to build one hundred." There was Dr. Kynett, to remind us of our sacred promise to the living and the dead concerning this money: "It shall never be donated nor used for current expenses, but shall be a perpetual fund." And indeed the Board was united in this. Men charged with responsibility are more careful than those who do not specially feel its weight.

A church that cannot keep its promises ought to die and give place to one that can. Men, churches, and nations weigh as much as their plighted word, and no more; not a grain more.

The point of danger is passed now. There is more danger often in launching a ship than there is in the ocean voyage.

Let us be thankful for the spirit that has prompted these gifts for this sacred purpose. About the first sight the incarnate Son of God beheld after he looked up and smiled after he saw Mary's face, was the offering of gifts of gold and frankincense and myrrh which the wise men laid at his blessed feet. His children do that yet, and well they may; for he was rich, yet for our sakes he became poor. And now, what next?

1st. Let the Loan Fund be increased to a million dollars. It will be done; it ought to be done.

2d. Let the income on the General Fund from which gifts are made be advanced to $250,000 per annum. When we do that the Board of Church Extension will be just about able to furnish church accommodations for the increase in our population arising from immigration alone. It will take two churches per day to do this, or fourteen new churches every Sabbath morning. And it will be done. What ought to be done can be done. Given the obligation, the ability and the love of Christ, and all problems that concern the rescue of a fallen world are solved.

Year by year prejudice against the occupation of public place by women is steadily decreasing. This is especially noticeable in connection with educational matters. Women are now eligible as school officers in Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Virginia, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, New York, Pennsylvania, Vermont, Wyoming, and to any office in Wisconsin except that of State Superintendent. In Mississippi the law requires that at least one woman shall be a member of the State Board of Education. Other States are moving in the same direction, and before ten years those that fail to follow the same wise example of those mentioned will be the exception.—Inter Ocean.

Dr. Blyden's Influence.

We have enjoyed the personal acquaintance of the distinguished gentleman named above for many years. We sometimes flatter ourselves with the thought that we have his friendship. Therefore it is that we have every reason to speak in the most kindly terms of him and of his mission to our country; and unless our memory prove false, have done so upon more than one occasion. And yet we have not been, and are not now, unconscious of the fact that his influence in the United States is greatly to our hurt; that is, to the hurt of the six millions with whom we are identified. Nor could it be otherwise. Not to be so, is to utterly fail both in the theory he advances as well as in its practice, in so far forth as he finds such practice possible; and we all know the Doctor to be the last man to fail. Whenever he does, and the instances have been most rare, success has simply been impossible. Such, however, is not yet proved to be the case with his race theory and what ought to be the race practice; and because it has not, he is plying away at it with an industry none can fail to admire. And all the while to the hurt, present and prospective, of the six million colored Americans. The rapidity with which the heat and the flames of the old embers of prejudice against us are dying out, it is questionable whether any really appreciate. To have in some way a conception of it, we on our part have only to remember our condition with its political, industrial and social environments of twenty years and less ago. As compared to it, we may really say that the midnight has become the noonday. We are not, of course, to be understood as saying that noonday has really come in relation to the several environments mentioned. What we do say is, it has come comparatively. But we contend for the real noonday of equal rights and equal privileges. And in the contention we make, the stalwart influence of Dr. Blyden is against us. It may not be so consciously or willingly. But that it is so, is not to be questioned. Unfortunately for the Doctor, his theory of the races is the theory of our bitterest enemies, as well as the theory of our milk-and-water friends. This fact alone shows that it is against us, that is against the line of the future which we, with the sanction of providence, have marked out for ourselves. What that line is, ask any thoughtful colored man. But one such may not be within reach. Therefore we say, it is nothing more nor less than our complete Americanization. We are not going to Africa. We are not going anywhere outside of the United States. Here have we been born. Here have we been reared. We know nothing of any other country, or government, or religion, or people, or even civilization itself. And here it is our purpose to abide. And not as beggars either. Long since have we paid our footing. We helped both to make the government and preserve it in war; we helped to develop it in peace. We account ourselves as sufficiently the Lord's people as to take to us the word: "They shall not build and another inherit; they shall not plant and another eat; for as the days of a tree are the days of my people, and mine elect shall long enjoy the work of their hands," But the whole tendency of Dr. Blyden's influence is to rob us of this. Read his speeches when you will, and his talk of the "races," how they must shun one another, and especially his talk of Africa as the natural and inalienable home of every individual negro the world over, who should repair thither if possible, and if worth anything, and help build up its barren waste—read these speeches, we say, and it will not take long to discover that the one and only effect possible for them to have on our white fellow countrymen, especially if they should be the least prejudiced against us, is to make them regret what has been done in the past and strengthen their hands in the work of nullifying them as far as possible in the future. It is impossible that it should be otherwise. If Dr. Blyden be right, then the recent amendments to the Constitution are wrong, and all wrong. It is a philosophical fact that no one body can occupy two places at one and the same time. It is equally a fact that six million people cannot be Africans and Americans at one and the same time. One or other they may be; but both, never. If Africans, then, as the Doctor says, we should be preparing for an African destiny. And so, if we are Americans, we should be preparing for an American destiny. That we are Americans, all the facts in the case, together with our own consciousness, attest. And because this is so, and because we are not Africans, the influence which Dr. Blyden awakens, tending as it does not only to estrange us from our white fellow citizens but to change the channel of our future, is most hurtful. No substantial damage will, of course, result from it; it will only keep up the fight a few hours longer. But we, with the whole nation, are weary of the fight. Unanimously both are heard to say: "Let us have peace." But peace can only come upon the basis which nature and providence appoint. Dr. Blyden would upset this basis and give us one of his own construction. We prefer to stand upon the everlasting hill of God.—Christian Recorder.

Quite a portion of the press has permitted itself to indulge in the pastime of poking fun at the Tariff Commission. We plead guilty in some measure to having done likewise. We beg pardon of the commission and our readers for our conduct in this matter. We honestly believed the commission would do no good, but serve rather to postpone needed action on the question of revenue. We see our mistake. A very important matter would probably have escaped attention had it not been for the happy thought of a Commission to look into things. It is the peanut matter. We can't get along without peanuts. You have only to go among the crowd on circus day or among a bevy of school girls on board a train of cars to see what disaster would overtake the laboring man if peanuts are placed in jeopardy. This cannot be thought of. And yet jeopardy is fast coming to this wonderful fruit. Africa, the land of the negro, is presuming to send peanuts to our markets. Will the negro never cease ruining us? It will not do for these pauper peanuts to come into competition with those raised beneath the stars and stripes. Our own peanuts must be protected. The Commission has found this out just in time, and what a benediction its appointment was!—Pittsburg Advocate.

President J. H. Seelye in an address before the Massachusetts Prohibitory Convention said: "When any people comes to feel that the right depends upon statutes, and can be made or unmade by acts of legislatures or votes of a commonwealth, and that what is wrong can be turned into right by a license or anything else, then the vigor and purity of that people's moral life have begun to decay. I hold, therefore, that prohibiton in this matter is wise statesmanship as well as sound ethics, and while I do not anticipate an immediate victory from the use of this weapon, nor an ultimate victory if we do not employ other weapons also; while I do not believe that prohibition alone will stop the sale of strong drink any more than it will stop the prevalence of gambling, or of theft, or any other crime, I would make it clear by statute that it is a crime, because, in the language of the great English statesman now leading the government of the British empire, "It is the duty of the government to make it as hard as possible for a man to go wrong, and as easy as possible for him to go right."

A fact interesting to a close observer is that many of the political papers that have denounced, in former times, the discussion of politics in the pulpit, are now commending the political preachers, and reporting the utterances of the most obscure men. At the same time other papers that have, on former occasions, strenuously contended for the right of ministers to preach on political subjects, are now fighting shy of it, and in one or two instances condemning it. It remains true now, as it ever has been, that all moral questions are suitable for pulpit discussions, and that if this be detrimental to any party, so much the worse for the party. But for a minister to show a partisan spirit in the pulpit, or to enter upon the defense or condemnation of parties as such, and by name, is unwise, injurious, and useless.—Christian Advocate.

Alligator Eggs Hatched Artificially.

L. I. Stephens has made a discovery. During the Centennial he carried about seventy-five alligator eggs to Philadelphia securely packed in moss, intended as Florida curiosities. When he went to open his box, lo! seventy-five alligators beamed upon him. Since then Mr. Stephens has been buying alligators' eggs and placing them in a large box over his store, sandwiched between layers of damp straw. He says that this makes a hot bed, the temperature of the attic being considerably over one hundred degrees during a warm day. Whenever the straw becomes dry he sprinkles a little water over it. The period of incubation, he says, is about two months. He has had a nest of 300 eggs undergoing this treatment for the past seven or eight weeks and the young alligators are beginning to come forth. On Wednesday about twenty of them came to time and eight more on Thursday. Whenever they are almost ripe the eggs turn dark, and he can hear the youngsters wobbling about trying to effect an exit.—Jacksonville Times.

Rev. Thomas Guard, whose premature death so lately occurred, left a family of seven children—we think that is the number—who are motherless as well as fatherless. The church he was serving, the Mount Vernon Place, with a noble liberality, have adopted them all—will be a father and mother to them, see to their interests, and attend to their education. This we call religion after the pattern of the Gospel, showing faith by appropriate works. A beautiful illustration this of Christianity, whose influence cannot be lost upon the Church or the world.—Pittsburg Advocate.

"We won't have any machine." All right; start up the party. Set it going in the churches, in the homes, in the schools, with the motto, Every man and woman and child his and her own boss. If the people don't like it they can gather up the fragments after awhile and patch things up. Since the days of Moses organized society has demanded leaders, and has followed them; but this generation, you know, may be smarter than any which has preceded it—Inter Ocean.

The Southern Christian Advocate has a plea for the Church paper which we boil down into the following: "Every person who joins the Church assumes a pledge to support its institutions. The Church paper is an institution of the Church. Therefore, every member is bound by the vows of membership to take the paper. That is clear logic, sound sense, and good religion."—Richmond Advocate.

A white minister who was called upon to officiate at a colored wedding, ambitious to say something funny, remarked: "That on such occasions it was customary for the minister to kiss the bride, but on this ocasion we will omit it." To this unclerical remark the indignant bridegroom very pertinently replied: "On occasions like this it is customary to give the minister ten dollars, but on this occasion we will omit it."

Judge Lawson had a narrow escape from assassination in Dublin on the 11th. Patrick Delaney, who followed him in the street, was knocked down and his pistol seized.

We cannot, as yet state definitely what the result of the election in this district will be. It is considerably mixed in some regards. Fraud and the illegal use of money are being alleged, and we hear some rumors of a contest by Mr. Acklen.—Morgan City Review.

New Orleans elected the Democratic municipal ticket by 9000 majority over the Independents. Not a single Independent or opposition candidate to Democracy was returned as elected. There are reports current of alleged frauds, and of a contest by the Independent candidates.

It will be remembered that the recent Southern Presbyterian Assembly voted to submit to the Presbyteries the resolution adopted by that body in favor of fraternizing with the Northern Assembly. Thus far nine Presbyteries vote to sustain the action of the Assembly, three have taken no action; not one has disapproved of the action.

Three of the Congressmen elected in New York are not residents of the districts which returned them. It is a popular error that a Congressman must reside in the district which he represents. "Sunset" Cox, of New York, has never lived in the district which has elected him for so many years. Mr. Finnerty, Congressman elect from the Second Congressional District of Illinois, is a citizen of another district.—N. O. Democrat.

The most learned woman in the world is Miss Ramnubal, a young lady of twenty, who is now in Paris. She is a native of India, and can read and write and talk in twelve languages, having a wonderful gift in that way, besides being up in mathematics, astronomy and history. She is studying medicine, and will go to India to practice, where she says that thousands of her countrywomen die every year because they will not consult male physicians.

The report of the New Orleans Custom House commission made public by Secretary Folger shows the force employed, expenses of rent, fuel, etc., together with separate recommendations of the collector and of the commission. The detailed estimate shows the expenses of the district for the past fiscal year to have been $241,728; the collector's estimate for next year is $250,045; the commission estimate $234,545. Representatives of the department recommend that the salary of naval officer and surveyor be equalized, each to receive $3500 per annum, and that their deputies receive a salary of $2000 each. They express the opinion that the present force in those offices is as large as the exigencies of the service require. The collector recommends that the salaries of naval officer and surveyor be equalized at $5000 per annum; that the deputies receive $2500 per annum, as now, and that the naval officer be allowed an additional clerk at $1200 per annum. In the estimate for funds to pay temporary labor there is a difference of some $8000 between the estimate of the collector and that of the commission.

THE SOUTHWESTERN.

THURSDAY, NOV. 23, 1882.

1883. CANVASS. 1883.

We earnestly request all Pastors within the patronizing territory of the SOUTHWESTERN CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE to announce to their congregations the fact that new subscribers for 1883, who pay the cash in advance, will receive the paper without cost from the time the subscription is received to the close of 1882. By such an announcement the liberal offer of the Publishers will be brought to the notice of those interested, most of whom can not be communicated with in any other way. It will be a favor to all who subscribe and to the paper as well.

The present is the most favorable time for increasing the list of subscribers to the paper. Press on the canvass in good earnest without delay. Every additional paper circulated within a pastoral charge will help revival work.

Sample copies of the paper will be sent where requested. Pastors will please send on postal card or by letter the names of persons to whom they think sample copies ought to be sent. Let us work now to put the ADVOCATE for 1883 into every Methodist home. Pastors will please send us cash lists with the money now; and after receiving appointment at annual conference only such lists as they can become personally responsible for. Get all the yearly subscribers you can; but urge the people to take for three, six or nine months if they cannot afford to pay for a longer time.

In every county in Indiana, where Republicans were steadfast to the prohibition cause, they made gains at the late election; and where they yielded to the blandishments of the rum power they lost. This is a useful lesson.

Skeletons.

Most every large family has, or is supposed to have, a skeleton, but generally the decent members of the family prefer to keep it in a closet. Happily for humanity, very few bring their skeletons to the light, much less take what seems to respectable people the disreputable office of their showman. There are those, however, who are intensely selfish, and have an extravagant idea of the space they fill in the world, who will throw wide open the closet doors and drag the skeleton forth, and ask the world to come and see it. And being familiar with all its parts, they call special attention to its most ugly features; its festering foot, carbuncles, and running abscesses are specially pointed out. And, strange to say, while there are persons who seem to delight in skeleton notoriety, there is a still greater number who delight to be their showmen. The idle, vain, malicious person is only anxious to get the eye and ear of the world, and to do this he is willing to become either skeleton or exhibitor. But the world does not always care to be gazing upon a skeleton, and will not long listen to the whining and whimpering of any one soul. It is not the man who suffers and whines, but the man who suffers and is silent that grows strong and becomes the hero. Most all churches have their skeletons, persons who are loosely affiliated with good, and somewhat decayed in morals, always groaning over the sins of society, but never own their own. Why they should be put on exhibition we have never been able to see. Could we have our way, they would always be kept in the closet under lock and key. But the church not only has skeletons, she has a fair supply of skeleton exhibitors. Few things can be more immoral than the discussion of crime in detail which follows the exhibition of one of these family or church skeletons. It effects more or less every home in the community. The little children learn what sort of people do certain crimes; where and how they do them, and how the consequences may be avoided or concealed. Few things are more demoralizing than this constant exhibition of skeletons. It fosters habits of suspicion and evil speaking, criticism so fatal to truth and honesty. But as offences will come, and a large number of skeletons and skeleton exhibitors do exist, what can be done with them? Could we bury them and all their ugly portions in a solitude so deep that they could never be seen nor described, we would be prepared to sing the Doxology. As it is, let us have no more skeletons.

The Political Tidal Wave.

When one glances at the tidal wave which has submerged the Republican party, he naturally asks as to the causes of this result. No doubt the answer to this question will be more or less shaded according to the party affiliations of the writer. We think that the cause of this reaction is not hard to find. Here, in Louisiana, we may not realize it, but all through the North and East the passage of the enormous river and harbor bill was regarded as a fatal mistake, an inexcusable blunder, an outrageous swindle. This made Benjamin F. Butler Governor of Massachusetts.

The Cameron rule in Pennsylvania had become intolerable in that State. When expostulated with, and told that the people would not stand his rule, Mr. Cameron replied with the snap of his finger, "Let the people whistle;" and they have whistled, and elected Robert E. Pattison governor. The people of this country are jealous of Federal interference and dictation. For the Administration to go to New York and crowd out Governor Cornell, who had made an excellent executive, and by forged votes forcing Mr. Folger, a member of the Cabinet, upon the track, was an egregious blunder. And the people by electing Mr. Cleveland governor, by nearly two hundred thousand majority, have entered their protest against the impertinence and trickery of President Arthur.

The assessments of the Hubbell committee, for the sole purpose of controlling nominations and elections, has been a continual stench with the people, who have looked upon it as an outrage upon the men who are in the employ of the Government, not of the Republican party. We regard Mr. Hubbell and his associates as representatives of corrupt practices in national politics. And we devoutly thank God that he is to retire to the shades of private life.

But few of the politicians and editors of the "great dailies" have come to realize the practicability and necessity of the great prohibition movement that is sweeping over this country. They speak of it as a "wild political craze," the [illegible] manger," the "latest of many humbugs." We remember how in the ante-bellum days the people all through the North protested against the encroachments of the slave power, and how insolent the leaders of the Democratic and Whig parties were. But there came a time when the people spoke as never before in the history of the nation. They "snapped their fingers at the party leaders, and recorded their sovereign will." Then the Democratic party passed into retirement, and the Whig party out of existence.

The clean progressive element in the country takes up prohibition, while most of the so-called party leaders sneer at it. This is especially true of the leaders in the Democratic party. November 7th the whiskey and beer guzzling element of the nation went nearly solid for Democracy, while the Republican party seemed to be divided, and has passed into retirement. As a prohibitionist, we have nothing to hope from the Democratic party. Reform has never come from Bourbons. If the Republican party takes up prohibition it will have a new lease of life, and live to free the nation from the curse of rum as it has from the foul blot of slavery; but if it is cowardly, and "hardens its heart and stiffens its neck," prohibition, like anti-slavery, will sweep the land, and the Republican like the old Whig party will pass out of being. The prohibitionists are right. May God help them to stand firm.

Dr. Fuller, in reply to an editorial in the SOUTHWESTERN on the sinfulness of caste and caste churches, opens his vials of wrath and pours their contents upon the head of one John M. Goodloe, who, he alleges, is a presiding elder in the A. M. E. Church. This John M. Goodloe, we had not heard of before. Why he should be scolded and abused because the SOUTHWESTERN made a few mild strictures upon the sinfulness of caste, we are not able to divine. Nor are we able to see, so far as the discussion of this question of "caste" is concerned, what advantage can be derived from a personal acquaintance with Bro. King, who wrote the obnoxious letter, and published to the world that the Methodist Episcopal Church, in the city of Birmingham, was for white persons exclusively, and that colored persons were not invited or expected to attend. Not a word did Bro. King say about that awful man, John M. Goodloe, or the "irresponsible evangelist." The card is to the "colored people." The pastor of this church can never sing:

"Oh that the world might taste and see
The riches of His grace;
The arms of love that compass me
Would all mankind embrace."

Dr. Fuller tartly intimates that "the SOUTHWESTERN can make better use of its columns than in efforts to whitewash John M. Goodloe, or in scolding the Methodist Advocate for minding its own business." We assure our Atlanta brother that our columns shall never be used to whitewash or to defend an apologist for the sin of caste. As to the scolding, we have the thought of a certain man whom we knew in our boyhood, who was a fearful swearer. Happening one day, as he thought, to hear one of his boys swear, he called him into the barn, and with the ox goad gave the boy a severe chastising, at the same time swearing that he could do swearing enough for the entire family. That man told the truth. We think that one good scold is enough for the entire church, and this is so well done elsewhere that the SOUTHWESTERN can never think of becoming a scold.

"There is no more pathetic figure in our midst than the old time gray-haired negro man or woman. Kept in slavery until they were too old to adapt themselves to the new order of things—turned penniless on the world when their old limbs were too stiff and weak for efficient work—without sons willing or able to support them—simple-minded, affectionate, sincere, there is much in their pitiable condition to excite sympathy. They are seldom beggars, and still less seldom dishonest. With their hearts in the old plantation days, few wants and simple habits, they prefer to sit in the sunshine and suffer in the body while feeding their souls with day dreams."—Atlanta Constitution.

This simple account of the sufferings of our poor superannuated and helpless colored people, who were, in their declining years and dotage, thus thrown upon the cold and barren charities of an "unfriendly world," certainly should move the hearts and charities of both Northern and Southern philanthropists. A gentleman in Atlanta is arranging a plan to raise a fund for the establishment of a home for such aged and infirm persons in Georgia. It is certain that such a cause deserves success. This movement, as well as the spirit manifested by the Atlanta Constitution in its support, are both creditable to the city of Atlanta. Justice and mercy join in the plea for the establishment of such homes for this unfortunate and deserving class at other points also. What charitable citizen or newspaper in our great metropolis will be provoked to good works in this direction?

What kind of a parent ought you to be? Such a parent that, when you have passed away from earth your children can say of you in all sincerity, as Thomas Carlyle has said of his good father: "He was a man into the corners of whose house there had shined through the years of his pilgrimage, by day and by night, the light of the glory of God; and at the last he was not, for God took him." Will your character and your home answer that description? There is great need of the light of the Gospel in our hearts and homes.

General Missionary Committee.

The committe opened its annual session at the missions rooms, New York, Nov. 6, Bishop Simpson in the chair. All members were present, except Bishops Peck and Foss whose absence was caused by ill health, and Bishop Foster who was on his way to India. After devotional exercises the treasurer, J. M. Phillips, reported an increase of receipts and a decrease of indebtedness, (see first page.) It was then voted, on motion of Dr. Fowler that the appropriations be made on the basis of $715,000, (exclusive of the Goucher funds.) The foreign missions were taken up.

For Africa, the appropriation was reduced, with the purpose of putting societies upon their own resources. The great lack in Liberia was the want of missionary zeal. Attempts at interior work had failed. A sum was put at the disposal of the board to send out a missionary if it deemed best.

Appropriations to the four China commissions were advanced about $7000.

A communication was received from Rev. J. F. Goucher proposing to furnish fifty primary vernacular schools in the neighborhood of Moradabad, India, to endow them for five years, and also to endow the Central School of Moradabad as a high grade school, providing also for the erection of dormitories for the school, and for one hundred scholarships which can be available there for the advanced education of those pupils in the primary schools who shall prove themselves sufficiently worthy of the same. This proposition was made on condition that when it becomes necessary an additional missionary shall be sent out by the board to engage in the educational work at Moradabad. A committee was appointed to prepare a response to this generous proposition, reporting to the general committee on the subject of appointment of the additional missionary.

In relation to South America Bishop Harris, on his recent tour, made observations and gathered testimony of the missionaries that Rev. Wm. Taylor's self-supporting plan was a failure in that field. While the achievements of Mr. Taylor in South India were eulogized, there was no other conclusion than that, owing to unfavorable conditions, efforts in new fields on his methods were not successful. A committee of seven was apointed to consider the matter and instructed to write Mr. Taylor to meet with them. On Wednesday, Nov. 8th, the committee reported that Dr. Taylor had met them, and said that, under the circumstances he would prefer that all relation between his work in South America and the Missionary Society should cease, and that it be not included in the list of missions. The following resolutions were therefore submitted and unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the names of Central America, Northeast South America, and West South America be dropped from our list of missions.

Resolved, That the name of the old mission in South America be changed to its original form; namely, South American Mission.

On the fourth day, on motion of General Fisk, a committee was appointed to express congratulations and thanks to the Church for its advance in missionary contributions. He gave a statement of the contributions per cent. in the Episcopal districts respectively. The committee reported the minute to be entered regarding Bishop Scott's death.

A vigorous and prolonged debate was had on the propriety of reducing the total appropriations as ordered, so as to bring the amount within the $715,000. There was great diversity of view as to whether this could be done by scaling down by a uniform per cent. An attempt was made to secure a deduction on specific appropriations in the foreign field, but no change seemed to be practical, and the whole appropriations remained. J. B. Corniell proposed that in addition to the appropriations there be added $32,000 for the debt, and it prevailed. The committee on vacancies reported that Dr. Newman, having ceased to be a "traveling" preacher by the constitution of this society his place is vacated in the board.

A committee was appointed of the bishops present, Dr. Fowler, J. M. Phillips, and J. B. Cornell, to revise the apportionments to the annual conferences. The following are the tabular results:

Summary of the Elections.

The following is a summary of the elections held Nov. 7, in addition to that published last week, and as corrected by later returns:

The result of the Congressional election in the Fifth District of Iowa, hinges on the vote of Taylor township, which was thrown out by the board because the returns were signed by only two judges, the third judge having been added by a clerk, as the judge could not be found. The township gave Wilson, Republican, 45 majority, and would give him a majority of 23 in the district, whereas, with this vote thrown out, Frederick, Democrat, has a majority of 17.

On joint ballot in the New Jersey Legislature the Democrats have a majority of three, and two Independent Democrats may also vote with them.

Only eight counties in New York gave majorities for Folger, Republican, for governor.

Six Democrats and five Republican Congressmen are elected in Michigan.

The majority of Van Eaton Democrat, over Lynch, Republican, for Congress in the Sixth Mississippi District is 947.

In the Second Missouri District two members, a majority of the returning officers signed a record of votes declaring McLean, Republican, elected over Brodhead, Democrat, by a majority of 205 for the short term and 21 for the long term in Congress. Brodhead obtained an alternative writ of mandamus from the Supreme Court of Missouri, commanding the canvassers to cast up all the returns which arrived after the record was signed. They now go to the Governor, and the certificate of election must come from the Secretary of State.

Two hundred Democrats of Wilmington, Del., went to Dover to urge Gov. Hall to commission Purnal J. Lynch, sheriff, instead of James Martin, Republican, who was returned elected by nine votes. Two certificates were made out by the Board of Canvassers. Martin's was signed by the Republicans, and one was signed by the Democrats declaring Lynch legally elected sheriff. Gov. Hall said he would not issue a commission until he had given the subject careful consideration.

Major Barksdale, Democrat, has 5466 majority over Hill, Republican, in the Seventh Mississippi District, for Congress.

The Legislature of Montana Territory will be Democratic.

It will require an official count to decide who is elected to Congress in the Second Florida District—Finley, Dem., or Bisbee, Rep.

The Democrats in North Carolina elected their entire ticket for judges of the Supreme and Superior Courts. The vote is so close between Bennett and Dockery, for Congressman-at-large, that it will probably take the official count to decide it.

Republicans will have a small majority in both houses of the Legislature of Nebraska, and have a good working majority in the Illinois Legislature; they will have 30 majority in the Michigan Legislature.

In Topeka, Kansas, on the 12th, a big meeting was held by the Democrats to glorify over the election of George W. Glick for Governor. Mr. Glick said that his election was not a partisan triumph; that he was elected by Republicans as well as Democrats, and that this fact would be remembered. He was elected by 7,000 plurality.

In Nevada, the Legislature is a tie on joint ballot.

In Illinois, Raub, Democrat, was elected Superintendent of Education by a plurality of 4168. Orendorf, Republican, State Treasurer, by 4210. W. R. Morrison, for Congress, 18th district, has 2345 majority.

Kellogg, for Congress, Third Congressional District had 11,683 votes, Acklen 6941, Beattie 4068.

The final summing up of elections to Congress shows that the Democrats will have 195 members in the next House, Republicans 123, Readjusters 2, and Independents 2. The Democrats will have a majority of 65 over all others and will probably be increased to 67, because the Independent from Iowa is in sympathy with the Democrats.

Nebraska elects the Republican State ticket, with the exception of State Treasurer and Regent of the University, and late advices state it is probable the Legislature will be anti-Republican by a small majority.

In Connecticut the Democratic ticket was elected with the exception of Sloat (Rep.), Controller.

The Missionary and Church Extension statistics make this number of the SOUTHWESTERN a valuable one to preserve.

At the last session of the Northwest Texas Conference M. E. Church South, Rev. J. D. Shaw, one of its most honorable and respected members, made a written statement of the mental difficulties he had encountered in his studies, and how he had been forced to modify his views concerning certain theological points that have been long held in great reverence by the church, as to the inspiration of the Scriptures, the divinity of Jesus Christ, the vicarious atonement, and the punishment of the wicked. On these points it seems that Mr. Shaw is in doubt, having no firm basis of faith he cannot tell what to believe. The committee, to whom his case was referred, recommended that he be allowed to surrender his credentials and retire from the ministry. We have admiration for Mr. Shaw's moral tone and Christian integrity, but we fear he has made a mistake. The church will pass on in her great mission, but he will soon be forgotten. Let us contend for the faith once delivered to the saints.

The New Orleans University, as we are informed, was last week visited by Henry E. Brown, Esq., Secretary of the International Committee of Young Men's Christian Associations. He is traveling through the South, visiting the colored schools, and enlisting the students in Christian work. The students in the higher department were called together, and he made them an interesting and inspiring address. Mr. Brown seemed well pleased with what he saw and learned of the college; and the students and faculty were much pleased with his visit. We wish more of our Northern friends, when they visit this Southland, would interest themselves in learning what we are doing, both educationally and in other ways, for the elevation of the colored race. Much more interest would then be felt in our work. As to our college, we have occasion to know that the faculty and students are always glad to see any who feel an interest in their welfare, whatever their complexion may be. We hope our preachers will make a note of this, and all our friends from the North who visit the city. They will cheer the workers there, while they will themselves be cheered.

PERSONAL.

—Thurlow Weed is failing rapidly.

—Rev. William Taylor will sail Nov. 20th for South America.

—Rev. J. H. Gill, of the North India Mission, returning to his field of labor, sailed from New York, Nov. 4th.

—Rev. James Jackson and wife sailed from New York, Nov. 11, as a re-inforcement for our Central China Mission.

—Rev. W. H. Daniels returned by steamer Oct. 31, after sixteen months' absence in Europe and the East, in greatly improved health.

—J. B. Lippincott subscribed $10,000 for the establishment of a veterinary college, in connection with the University of Pennsylvania.

—Figueras, President of the Spanish Republic for the four months following the abdication of King Amadeus, died at Madrid on the 11th.

—Rev. David Stiver, died in Madison, Ind., Nov. 10, aged 80 years. He was an itinerant for 50 years, and a pioneer in Southeast Indiana.

—Nathaniel Burbank, of the Picayune editorial staff, a gentleman well-known and highly esteemed, entered into the holy state of matrimony on the 9th inst., the bride being Miss Ella E. Burbank, also of this city. Rev. Dr. Walker of Carondelet M. E. Church, South, officiated.

—We were surprised and delighted Saturday with a call from Linden E. Bentley, editor of the Donaldsonville Chief. There is nothing fossilized in the make of Mr. Bentley. He is one of the liberal, broad-minded, progressive men of the State. Louisiana has need of about ten thousand just such men.

—The widow of "Stonewall" Jackson, and her daughter, a young lady of nineteen years, are now living in Cleveland, Ohio. Mrs. Jackson left the South because she was there compelled to mingle with society, and could not find the retirement and rest her health demanded.

—Rev. J. W. Waugh, D.D., of the North India Mission, sailed from New York, Nov. 14, on his way to his field of labor. His address will be Lucknow, India. Dr. Waugh entered the mission in 1859, he has rendered eminent service in many ways, in the early conduct of the press works, in the educational department and as presiding elder. He now leaves his family behind him for the education of his children. Mrs. Waugh's address is Evanston, Ill. We commend Dr. Waugh, his work and his family to the interest and prayers of the Church.

OUR SOUTHERN WORK.

MISSISSIPPI.

N. Toole, Waynesboro: "I have closed a protracted meeting, which resulted in 14 conversions, 4 reclaimed, 1 from the Baptist church, and a great awakening of sinners."

E. Collins, Carthage: "In a protracted meeting of one week there were 27 conversions, 29 additions and 28 baptisms."

C. Foster, Frost's Bridge: "We held a basket meeting at St. Luke and about 400 people were on the ground. Revs. W. McDonald, N. Toole, Miles and L. Eckles assisted. Collections were $23 55."

P. H. Hill, Mount Pleasant Circuit: "I have just closed protracted meetings; eighty-nine souls were happily converted. At the close of one of my meetings, a little girl about ten or twelve years of age, the daughter of one Sam Stewart, (a so-called Baptist preacher who left our church some years ago) called my attention, and being granted permission to speak, said she had seen the Lord, and he had sent her to the Methodist Church to tell us that we were all wrong, and on our way to hell. After asking some questions I told her to tell the Lord I couldn't be convinced until he sent an angel. My success here has been great. Pray that it may continue."

Maggie Henderson, Sunday School Librarian, Mashulaville: "We had a glorious time in our protracted meetings this year. Many souls from the Sunday schools were added to the church, 95 in all; baptized 44, I rejoice to say our pastor is doing good work. Brethren pray that he may continue. J. Ware is Sunday school superintendent of Mashulaville Circuit. We have four Sunday schools. They are doing well according to our chances. We had a nice time on children's day, a large congregation and a beautiful sermon by our pastor, Rev. James Jordan."

Wm. Payne, Batesville: "We had 111 members when I came on the work, and there have been 63 converts and 103 accessions. Sabbath school is in good condition. Children's day was observed, and a collection raised. We expect to send in a list of subscribers to the SOUTHWESTERN before long."

TEXAS.

J. T. Gibbons, Floresville: "Elder Henson held our fourth quarterly conference. We were sorry that he had contracted a very severe cold which disabled him from preaching more than one sermon, but it will not soon be forgotten. Collection $12 30. I am proud to say that Riddleville Circuit is on the march to the van, and is aroused from a long stupidity. Each of the three stations proposes to hold a festival to assist the pastor to reach conference. I have determined to raise every cent assessed me. Everything indicates prosperity in Southwestern Texas. Conversions six."

TENNESSEE.

L. Moores, Mason: "We were made glad by Bros. E. M. Manson and James Robinson, of the Waynesboro Circuit, who sent us $1 each to help pay the $200 debt. They have our thanks. Let others send all they can at once."

LOUISIANA.

An entertainment will be given for the benefit of Ames' Sabbath School at the church, corner Calliope and St. Charles street, on this (Thursday) evening, Nov. 23. There will be over 400 dissolving views presented. Tickets 25 cents. Entertainment begins at 7 P. M.

Cornelia Hayman writes from Clinton, Nov. 3, that the young ladies of the Sabbath School gave an entertainment Oct. 21. The committee of arrangements were: Cornelia Hayman, Alice Butler, Rhoda Thomas, Nancy Hayman; Presidents, Victory Higginbotham, Louis Williams; Vice Presidents, Hulda Griffin and Frank Mortimer; Secretary, Rhoda Thomas; Cashier, Moneta Butler; Marshals of the night, Wm. Butler, Walter Griffin, Jordan Haynes, Robert Worsham. The committee decorated the church and had everything in order. Everything passed off nicely, and they raised $16.75, which was presented to the pastor, Rev. W. P. Forrest. Bro. Forrest called at our office, and spent some days in the city preaching in several churches. He reports his church in good condition. The new church building will be ready to dedicate soon. He had 49 conversions and 65 additions.

W. A. Primus, Stony Point: "We had a glorious meeting, and the power of the spirit was manifested. Collections $9 60."

Missionary Concert Program.

DECEMBER, 1882.

Subject: The Germany and Switzerland Mission.

1.—Scripture Reading. 1 Cor., ii, iii.

2.—Hymn 909.

3.—Recall History of the Mission. First of all displaying in enlarged form a map of Germany and Switzerland with our stations marked. The history and map found in Dr. Reid's "History," Vol., II; Manual, April, 1882. Trace the work from its origin in our Domestic German Mission, in the labors of Dr. Nast, the conversion of Dr. Jacoby and his beginnings at Bremen in 1849. Witness our growth and influence in Germany and discern God's providence in it.

4.—Thanksgiving to God for past devoted labors of the missionaries and pastors, and prayer for continued divine aid in a wise and fruitful conduct of the mission.

5.—Hymn 265.

6.—Consider the General Religious condition of Germany. As to the population registered as Protestants in Germany, the number represents, for the most part, persons indifferent to all religion. The great dearth of Church attendance is a fact sadly familiar. In many places throughout the country, pastors have suspended their services because no one came. In 1854 in the Grand Duchy of Mecklenburg it was found on inquiry that no service had been held in the head churches 228 times, because there had been no congregation. In 1870, only two per cent of the population of Berlin attended Church. Out of 23,969 interments only 3,777 had religious services. Religion retains its hold, it is true, better in country places than in large cities, and yet it is said that in 1876 only fourteen per cent of the whole population of the empire were church goers. What proportion of this number were Catholics we can not state. A correspondent says: "The people in North Germany seem to retain no more idea of religion than the vague idea of God." In Switzerland the Church attendance as reported at the Evangelical Alliance in Basle was ten per cent. of the population. Attendance at the communion has decreased in a marked degree in Switzerland. In 1859 the communion was taken 3,520 times; in 1863, 3,229 times, by not quite 10,000 souls; in 1867 there were only 2,956 communicants, and in 1877, 2,132, many receiving it four times a year.

The latest report from Berlin shows a church attendance of nearly three per cent or 300 out of the 1,140,000 population. Pastors and church councils show more zeal in procuring baptisms, confirmations, church marriages. Beyond this, home missionary societies are organizing and operating with a degree of vigor. At a late congress of such societies in Bremen, five hundred delegates were present. They co-operate with Young Men's Christian Associations and with Sunday schools. The latter, in the State church, have over 150,000 scholars and 17,000 teachers. In Berlin, 14,000 children attend them and there are fifty or sixty teachers' meetings held. The evangelical party is growing in strength in the church, for the lines are now sharply drawn. Many evangelical sermons are preached. Herr Storker, the Dom preacher in Berlin, an earnest evangelical, recently had 2,000 copies of his sermons distributed to the cabmen. Similar efforts, by societies and otherwise are increasing in Switzerland. Of Germany it was said at the Alliance meeting, 1879, "The net of home missions is now spread over the whole Fatherland." Our great hope for Germany lies in the manifestly increasing consciousness of a communion of faith and interest among believers, an increasing united reoccupation, on the part of the active church, of the ground held by the fathers and adhesion to the faith at first "delivered to the saints."

7.—Prayer for the descent of the Holy Ghost upon the State Churches in Germany, and for a widespread revival of religion in them and throughout the land.

8.—Hymn 263.

9.—Consider the present condition of our Mission. For this we [illegible] refer to the annual report for 1881, pages of the [illegible] above [illegible] reports from the conference [illegible] 1882, and other above [illegible] articles. The latest [illegible] show 8,700 members, [illegible] 81 conference [illegible] local preachers, 384 [illegible] 14,840 [illegible] Church [illegible] this [illegible] improve [illegible] in [illegible] the [illegible] engaged. Earnest prayer that the land of Luther and the Reformation light may be speedily redeemed from the "power of darkness."

11.—Hymn 928.

FOURTH QUARTER. LESSON IX. Nov. 26, 1882.

HIS DEATH ON THE CROSS. [Mark xv, 27-37.]

Our lesson opens at nine o'clock on Friday morning, at Calvary, outside the walls of Jerusalem. Great crowds are there to see a very wicked scene. Three crosses are there, and on them hang two thieves, with Jesus in the middle. The hands that healed the lame, raised the dead, and held little children up and blessed them, have cruel nails driven through them. Sin made men bad enough for that, and now these cruel men are around the cross, mocking Jesus. He bears it all. He can leave the cross; he can call out to God to send angels to carry him home: but he sees the sin of the world, and knows no one can bear it but himself. Jesus bears it to save the world. At twelve o'clock darkness came over the land. Wonderful things happened in the temple. The darkness lasted until three o'clock in the afternoon, when Our Savior died.

The wicked Jews had done all they could, had killed the Son of God, and now he hung dead on the tree. The poor disciples and his poor mother had crept near the cross before he died, and he had told John to take care of Mary, his mother.

Children, Jesus hung there for you. You can all go to him and tell him how you love him. You can crown and honor him now by serving him every day. He bore the agony of the cross for you, won't you follow him to heaven?—Western.

The Law of Cure Under the Compound Oxygen Treatment.

The objection which is frequently urged against Compound Oxygen by persons who have not made themselves acquainted with the natural and scientific laws governing its action, is that the same agent administered is for all diseases—for Neuralgia or Catarrh; for Consumption or Rheumatism; for Heart Disease or Bronchitis. That it is offered as a universal specific. In his Treatise on Compound Oxygen, Dr. G. R. Starkey has fully explained the nature, and action of this Treatment, and shown that it is not specific to any disease or class of diseases, but that it acts directly upon the nervous system and vital organs, and thence universally in the whole body. It gives new force and more vigorous action to all the life-centres, thus restoring to nature the dominant power and healthy action which had been lost. This being the case, no matter what the disease, or where located, it must be gradually ameliorated, and, if the central healthy action can be maintained, finally cured. Every intelligent and unprejudiced person will at once see that if the law of action which is claimed for Compound Oxygen be the true one, its operation must be universal, and not local or specific; and that all forms of disease may be reached by this agent. This Treatise will be sent free to all who desire to receive. STARKEY & PALLEN, 1109 & 1111 Girard Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

A Church Burned.

The Methodist Episcopal Church on the Springfield circuit, Tennessee conference, was burned on the night of the 14th October. From what is known a white man is suspected of the crime, who had some difficulty with some persons attending the church about a dog. This is the second church that has been entirely destroyed at this place by incendiaries. The brethren are not discouraged but are making efforts to rebuild. It will be a hard struggle, as they are very poor and their number diminished by emigration to Kansas. Since the election some foolish and wicked persons are telling the negroes that when the Democratic President is elected, they will be enslaved again.

Corinth Miss.

A druggist in New Richmond, O., Mr. E. J. Donham, writes us the following: "I consider Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup one of the very best things made. I use it altogether in my own family and can therefore recommend it."

NEW BOOKS.

Anthem Treasures; A collection of choice anthems for public worship, and a complete department of funeral pieces. By J. M. Stillman. Published by S. W. Straub, Chicago, Ill. Price single copy, $1.25; per dozen, $12.

We have examined this book, and find the music well adapted to the use of the average choir; it is not too difficult, and does not go beyond the compass of the ordinary voice. It contains a good number of anthems, solos, duets, etc., that can be sung effectively by the average American choir. The music for funerals is of great merit and value. This feature of the book will certainly please all choir teachers, who know how difficult it is to obtain good pieces for such occasions. It abounds with pieces that may be repeated Sabbath after Sabbath, and will be richer and sweeter each time. The price is low. A descriptive pamphlet of twenty-four pages is sent free on application to S. W. Straub, Chicago, Ill.

The third edition of Copp's Settler's Guide, a popular exposition of public land system, is before us. It is edited by Henry N. Copp, of Washington, D. C. Its price is 25 cents in paper and 75 cents in cloth: 8 vo, 114 pp. The chapter on surveys is illustrated, and shows how to tell township and section corners' etc. The chapters on Homesteads, Pre-emptions, and Timber Culture contain the latest rulings and instructions.

We ask our readers who know the value of the SOUTHWESTERN to speak of it, and show it to their neighbors. This will help the pastors in their canvass.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

The numbers of the Living Age for November 4th and 11th contain: The expansion of England in the Eighteenth Century, Macmillan; Comets, by Richard A. Proctor, Contemporary Review; Personal Reminiscences of Gen. Scobeloff, Fortnightly; A Glimpse of Mexico, Nineteenth Century; The Puritan Element in Longfellow, British Quarterly; American Novels, London Times; Miss Edgeworth, Cornhill; English, its Ancestors, its Progeny, Fraser; Mr. Morley's Valedictory, Fortnightly; Shakespeare on Death, Spectator; Patriotic Poetry, Macmillan; Ovid, an Apologia, Temple Bar; with instalments of "The Ladies Lindores," the conclusion of "Robin," by Mrs. Parr, poetry and miscellany. Littell & Co., Boston, publishers.

Harper's Magazine for December is rich in illustrations and literary attractions. The beautiful scenery of the Columbia River is finely described and illustrated by Cleveland Rockwell. Joseph Hatton contributes "William Black at Home"—full of delightful gossip about this popular novelist. Under the title of "The Great Seaport of Western France," Thomas W. Knox gives a description of Havre, which is illustrated. Mr. Bishop concludes his article on Southern California with a description of Los Angeles, the San Gabriel Mission, Riverside, San Diego, and Santa Barbara—beautifully illustrated. Two poems by Herrick are given, each with a full page illustration. Colonial history receives attention in two contributions—one, by the Rev. P. D. Hay, entitled "Cameos of Colonial Carolina," the other, by Prof. John Fiske, entitled "New England in the Colonial Period." In fiction, Miss Woolson's new novel takes naturally the first place in the reader's interest. Black's "Shandon Bells" has reached a very interesting stage. There are three short stories. A scientific paper, "Storing Electricity," by Professor Henry Morton, treats very clearly a subject which is just now of especial interest in connection with recent novel applications of electricity as a motive power. The editorial departments are well sustained.

The December Century will have the first of a series of papers on the national capital, entitled "The Supreme Court of the United States," by E. V. Smalley, illustrated with a frontispiece portrait of John Marshall, and portraits of all the Chief Justices, the present Justices and other pictures. Mr. Smalley's paper will be followed by others on "The White House," "The Capitol," "The New National Museum," and "Washington as a Winter Residence."

Not an experiment or cheap patent medicine is Brown's Iron Bitters. It is prepared by one of the oldest and most reliable chemical firms, and will do all that is claimed for it.

The coffee crop of Hayti is less than a two-thirds yield, and the quality is poor.

."Every truth has two sides; look at both before committing yourself to either," Kidney-Worth challenges the closest scrutiny of its ingredients and its grand results. It has nothing to fear from truth. Doctors may disagree as to the best methods and remedies, for the cure of constipation and disordered liver and kidneys. But those that have used Kidney-Wort, agree that it is by far the best medicine known. Its action is prompt, thorough and lasting.

NOTED MEN!

DR. JOHN F. HANCOCK, late President of the National Pharmaceutical Association of the United States, says:

"Brown's Iron Bitters has a heavy sale, is conceded to be a fine tonic; the character of the manufacturers is a voucher for its purity and medicinal excellence."

DR. JOSEPH ROBERTS, President Baltimore Pharmaceutical College, says:

"I indorse it as a fine medicine, reliable as a strengthening tonic, free from alcoholic poisons."

DR. J. FARIS MOORE, PH. D., Professor of Pharmacy, Baltimore Pharmaceutical College, says:

"Brown's Iron Bitters is a safe and reliable medicine, positively free from alcoholic poisons, and can be recommended as a tonic for use among those who oppose alcohol."

DR. EDWARD EARICKSON, Secretary Baltimore College of Pharmacy, says:

"I indorse it as an excellent medicine, a good digestive agent, and a non-intoxicant in the fullest sense."

DR. RICHARD SAPINGTON, one of Baltimore's oldest and most reliable physicians, says:

"All who have used it praise its standard virtues, and the well-known character of the house which makes it is a sufficient guarantee of its being all that is claimed, for they are men who could not be induced to offer anything else but a reliable medicine for public use."

A Druggist Cured.

Boonsboro, Md., Oct. 12, 1880.
Gentlemen: Brown's Iron Bitters cured me of a bad attack of Indigestion and fullness in the stomach. Having tested it, I take pleasure in recommending it to my customers, and am glad to say it gives entire satisfaction to all."
GEO. W. HOFFMAN, Druggist.

Brethren will please make all due preparation for their quarterly meetings. Remember the claims of our SOUTHWESTERN and push the canvass for each subscribers for next year. Let every charge see to it that its full apportionment, as well as its subscription toward our Gilbert Haven School of Theology, as published on page 19 of the District Minutes, are raised in full within the next week or two. Go to work now, with full determination to raise every cent, and something over, if possible. We cannot afford to come lacking, the demands are too urgent, and the Lord has blessed us with too bountiful a crop this year. A. E. P. ALBERT, P. E.

EARS FOR THE MILLION!
FOO CHOO'S Balsam of
SHARK'S OIL,
Positively Restores the Hearing, and is the Only Absolute Cure for Deafness Known.
This Oil is abstracted from a peculiar species of White Shark, caught in the Yellow Sea, known as the Carcharodon Rondeletii. Every Chinese fisherman knows it. Its virtues as a restorative of hearing were discovered by a Buddhist Priest about the year 1410. Its cures were so numerous and many so seemingly miraculous, that the remedy was officially proclaimed over the entire Empire. Its use became so universal that for over 300 years no Deafness has existed among the Chinese People. Sent, charges prepaid, to any address at $1 per bottle.
HEAR WHAT THE DEAF SAY!
It has performed a miracle in my case.
I have no unearthly noises in my head and hear much better.
I have been greatly benefited.
My deafness helped a great deal—think another bottle will cure me.
"Its virtues are unquestionable and its curative character absolute, as the writer can personally testify, both from experience and observation. Write at once to Haylock & Jenney, No. 7 Dey street, New York, enclosing $1, and you will receive by return a remedy that will enable you to hear like anybody else, and whose curative effects will be permanent. You will never regret doing so."—Editor of Mercantile Review.

THE CALIPH'S EXPERIMENT.

In ancient days, a Caliph formed a plan—
Knowing he was, himself, a perfect man—
His many virtues to perpetuate
When he should pass beyond the Golden Gate.
This was his scheme: He found a lad untaught,
Too young, in fact, to e'er have given thought
To anything more serious than play.
This lad he took, from all mankind away,
And in a palace placed him. 'Round about
The palace was a wall, and in or out
Passed no one, save the Caliph and the mutes,
Who acted as the servants, silent brutes
Unable to express a thought. Each day
The Caliph with the youth for hours would stay,
And strive by every means he could devise
To make himself in the young captive's eyes
Appear, in all things, wise and good and great—
The only being fit to imitate.
In short, a character he tried to build
Just like his own. At last, the task fulfilled,
He brought the youngster forth, that he might see
What the world's verdict on his work would be.
The world declared and honestly believed
The Caliph had his self-set task achieved,
Pronounced him and his protege to be,
In character, as like as pea and pea.
Not so the Caliph. To his mind it seemed
A failure, most complete and unredeemed.
To the old King the boy appeared, alas!
Unlike his teacher, an infernal ass.

—Boston Post.

A Brave Boy.

Deep down in a mine in Wardley Colliery, Newcastle, England, there is a brave boy who deserves to be called a hero. In a situation of sudden peril he used precautions which prevented a dreadful explosion, simply by behaving with courage and presence of mind.

He noticed that his lamp flared up, a sure sign of the presence of dangerous gas. Had he hastily rushed away, his light might have burst through the wire gauze which surrounds a miner's lamp, and setting fire to the gas, caused a heart-rending accident.

The lad did nothing so silly. When questioned by the Superintendent as to how he had found out that there was gas in the neighborhood where he was at work, he replied,—'Because my lamp flared.'

"And what did you do then?" asked the gentleman.

"I took my pricker, and pulled down the wick, but the lamp still flared."

"Well, my boy, and how did you manage then?"

"Why, I put the lamp inside my jacket, and covered it up tight, and the light went out."

Of course the lamp could not burn without air.

To think of the right thing to do, and then promptly to do it, boys, that is what makes the difference between a common man and a hero.

This little fellow, whose name is not mentioned,—Mick, or Ted, or Jack,—has in him the making of a grand man, cool, resolute and clever. Fortunately there was an overseer near him, who, when he heard from the lad about his lamp, went bravely through the gas, in total darkness, and set open a door, the closing of which had forced the gas into the main-ways of the mine.—Harper's Young People.

Two Ways.

Fred and Joe are boys of the same age. Both have their way to make in the world. This is the way Joe does. When work is before him he waits as long as he can, he hates so to touch it! Then he does not half do it. He is almost sure to stop before it is done. He does not care if fault is found. He says:—

"I can't help it," or, "I don't care."

Fred's way is not the same. He goes straight to his work, and does it as soon as he can and as well as he can. He never slights work for play, though he loves play as well as Joe does. If he does not know how to do a piece of work well, he asks some one who does know, and then he takes care to remember. He says,—"I never want to be ashamed of my work."

Which boy, do you think, will make a man to be trusted?

OUR SOUTHERN WORK.

LOUISIANA.

D. Shelby, Allen: "I would not wish to live among a better people than those of Allen; they are kind, candid, and willing to help the cause of Christ Jesus. Hasou Chapel and her body guard have done well for the missionary cause. The brethren say I shall not go to Conference with less than $25 from this charge. Bro. Abb McGough, supervisor and treasurer, chose the following collectors, and they brought in the amounts stated: Sister Louisa Emmett $4, Cornelius Smith $3, Eliza Davis $1, Rebecca Gant $1, Amanda Banks $1, Abb McGough $5. Total 21 10. Some of the sisters have not reported yet. Pray for us."

TEXAS.

E. Henderson, Georgetown: "Elder Madison held our fourth quarterly conference, and preached a glorious sermon to a large congregation. Collection $17 35. I have had 14 converts this year and 22 additions; $115 spent on improvements; $8 50 paid on old debt. People have paid me to date $102 50. Mrs. C. F. Works, of Georgetown, has done much this year for the Church. She is not a member; all she needs is religion."

MISSISSIPPI.

W. H. Gallion, Corinth: "Please allow me to correct a mistake that appeared in my published letter; whereas, it read $375, it should have been $735 35. I also wish to mention $15 donated by the Sunday school to assist in paying for repairs to the church. Since my last writing we have had our church painted at a cost of $52 50."

TENNESSEE.

A. Burdett, Waynesboro: "Elder Price preached a very good sermon. He held my fourth quarterly conference. We raised for him $15 90, pastor $38 20, bishops, $2, missionary $6, Freedmen's Aid $3 25, church extension $2 50. The Ladies Mite Society made $14 for Smith Chapel. We gave a Sunday exhibition. We have 45 members, ten within two miles of Dyersburg. The Ladies Mite Society, conducted by Miss Betrie Smith made $12 75. St. Peters Church is one of the finest on the district. We have quit work on it. It cost, up to date, $500; they paid $100 on the old debts. We have raised for St. Peter church $326 30, and paid $100 on old debts. We were promised $100 from the Church Extension Society, but have not received it."

WILBOR'S COMPOUND OF PURE COD LIVER OIL AND LIME.

To Consumptives.—Wilbor's Cod-Liver Oil and Lime has now been before the public twenty years, and has steadily grown in favor and appreciation. This could not be the case until the preparation was of high intrinsic value. The combination of the Phosphate of Lime with pure Cod-Liver Oil, as prepared by Dr. Wilbor, has produced a new phase in the treatment of Consumption and all diseases of the Lungs. It can be taken by the most delicate invalid without creating the disgusting nausea which is such an objection to the Cod-Liver Oil when taken without Lime. It is prescribed by the regular faculty. Sold by the proprietor, A. B. Wilbor, Chemist, Boston, and by all druggists.

DR. JOHN BULL'S
FEVER and AGUE
Or CHILLS and FEVER.
AND ALL MALARIAL DISEASES.
The proprietor of this celebrated medicine justly claims for it a superiority over all remedies ever offered to the public for the SAFE, CERTAIN, SPEEDY and PERMANENT cure of Ague and Fever, or Chills and Fever, whether of short or long standing. He refers to the entire Western and Southern country to bear him testimony to the truth of the assertion that in no case whatever will it fail to cure if the directions are strictly followed and carried out. In a great many cases a single dose has been sufficient for a cure, and whole families have been cured by a single bottle, with a perfect restoration of the general health. It is, however, prudent, and in every case more certain to cure, if its use is continued in smaller doses for a week or two after the disease has been checked, more especially in difficult and long-standing cases. Usually this medicine will not require any aid to keep the bowels in good order. Should the patient, however, require a cathartic medicine, after having taken three or four doses of the Tonic, a single dose of BULL'S VEGETABLE FAMILY PILLS will be sufficient.
The genuine SMITH'S TONIC SYRUP must have DR. JOHN BULL'S private stamp on each bottle. DR. JOHN BULL only has the right to manufacture and sell the original JOHN J. SMITH'S TONIC SYRUP, of Louisville, Ky. Examine well the label on each bottle. If my private stamp is not on each bottle do not purchase, or you will be deceived.

Ague Cure
is a purely vegetable bitter and powerful tonic, and is warranted a speedy and certain cure for Fever and Ague, Chills and Fever, Intermittent or Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, and all malarial disorders. In miasmatic districts, the rapid pulse, coated tongue, thirst, lassitude, loss of appetite, pain in the back and loins, and coldness of the spine and extremities, are only premonitions of severer symptoms which terminate in the ague paroxysm, succeeded by high fever and profuse perspiration.
It is a startling fact, that quinine, arsenic, and other poisonous minerals form the basis of most of the "Fever and Ague Preparations," "Specifics," "Syrups," and "Tonics," in the market. The preparations made from these mineral poisons, although they are palatable, and may break the chill, do not cure, but leave the malarial and their own drug poison in the system, producing quinism, dizziness, ringing in the ears, headache, vertigo, and other disorders more formidable than the disease they were intended to cure. AYER'S AGUE CURE thoroughly eradicates these noxious poisons from the system, and always cures the severest cases. It contains no quinine, mineral, or any thing that could injure the most delicate patient; and its crowning excellence, above its certainty to cure, is that it leaves the system as free from disease as before the attack.
For Liver Complaints, AYER'S AGUE CURE, by direct action on the liver and biliary apparatus, drives out the poisons which produce these complaints, and stimulates the system to a vigorous, healthy condition.
We warrant it when taken according to directions.

Lost Friends.

[We make no charge for publishing these letters from subscribers. All others will be charged fifty cents. Pastors will please read the requests published below from their pulpits, and report any case where friends are brought together by means of letters in the SOUTHWESTERN.]

DEAR EDITOR: I desire to inquire for my sister Martha, who was sold from us when about seven years old to a man who lived near Bolivar, Tenn., named Tom Boyle. At that time we all belonged to John Green, except father, who belonged to Nat Woods. Father was Granville, mother Dollie, brothers William, Granville, and Richmond the baby, sister Laura. We all went by the name of Norman. Father belonged to Tom Norman, who lived at Whiteville, Hardeman Co., Tenn. Grandfather was Squire Norman, grandmother, Jennie Norman. Mother and all the children except Sister Martha are here in Texas. I desire to find her. Pastors, please read this to your congregations. Address, at Austin, Texas, her brother,

38-3m REV. GRANVILLE NORMAN.

MR. EDITOR: I was sold from Adamstown, Frederick county, Maryland, twenty-eight years ago, and I have never heard from any of my people since. Mother was Betsey Hutchens; oldest brother Philip Hutchens, and all of the fingers of the right hand save the thumb were burnt off. I had a brother Nelson Hutchens. Their owner was David Hutchens. If any one knows of the whereabouts of any of the above named persons, they will greatly oblige by addressing me at Kelso Station, Lincoln county, Tennessee.

REBECCA HARDEN.

DEAR EDITOR: I would like to find my nephew, Robert Brown, who left New Orleans, Oct. 20, 1877, for Louisville, Ky. He stopped at Plaquemines, La., and wrote me two letters, but as I was out of the city teaching school at the time, they were not answered until my return home. I wrote but did not receive a reply. I have not heard from him since, although I have traveled and made inquiries at river cities. Address me at Allen, La. D. J. PRICE.

MOTHERS READ.

GENTS:—About nine years ago I had a child two years old and almost dead. The doctor I had attending her could not tell what ailed her. I asked him if he did not think it was worms. He said no. However, this did not satisfy me, as I felt convinced in my own mind that she had. I obtained a bottle of DR. C. McLANE'S CELEBRATED VERMIFUGE (genuine). I gave her a teaspoonful in the morning and another at night, after which she passed seventy-two worms and was a well child. Since then I have never been without it in my family. The health of my children remained so good that I had neglected watching their actions until about three weeks ago, when two of them presented the same sickly appearance that Fanny did nine years ago. So I thought it must be worms, and went to work at once with a bottle of DR. C. McLANE'S VERMIFUGE between four of my children, their ages being as follows: Alice, 8 years; Charley, 4 years; Emma, 6 years; John, 9 years. Now comes the result: Alice and Emma came out all right, but Charley passed forty-five and Johnny about sixty worms. The result was so gratifying that I spent two days in showing the wonderful effect of your Vermifuge around Utica, and now have the worms on exhibition in my store.
Yours truly, JOHN PIPER.

DR. HARTER'S IRON TONIC.
A combination of Protoxide of Iron, Peruvian Bark and Phosphorus in a palatable form. The only preparation of iron that will not blacken the teeth, so characteristic of other iron preparations.
GENTLEMEN: I have used DR. HARTER'S Iron Tonic in my practice, and in an experience of twenty-five years in medicine, have never found anything to give the results that DR. HARTER'S IRON TONIC does. In many cases of Nervous Prostration, Female Diseases, Dyspepsia, and an impoverished condition of the blood, this peerless remedy, has in my hands, made some wonderful cures. Cases that have baffled some of our most eminent physicians, have yielded to this great and incomparable remedy. I prescribe it in preference to any iron preparation made. In fact, such a compound as DR. HARTER'S IRON TONIC is a necessity in my practice. DR. ROBERT SAMUELS. 2161 Wash Avenue.
It gives color to the blood, natural healthful tone to the digestive organs and nervous system, making it applicable to General Debility, Loss of Appetite, Prostration of Vital Powers and Impotence.

A WONDERFUL and SCIENTIFIC DISCOVERY.
These Glasses are chemically treated in the process of manufacture, and possess the property of keeping your eyes in good condition, as when first you used them. They have been carefully examined and analysed by American and European oculists, who claim that the MEDICATED GLASSES have no equal, and can in some cases restore the sight if used in time, but in no case can the eye become impaired by their use for the following reasons:
1. The chemicals soften the light to the eye, completely doing away with that tiresome sensation that is usually experienced in using glasses after one or two hours' use.
2. The chemicals make the glasses hard; they retain their polish. Hence you will always see through them as bright and clear as at first.
3. The chemicals keep the glasses cold, and the result is that the optic nerves are always cool, doing away with any feverish sensation to the eye.
4. With these glasses you can read, write or sew all night, the light having no effect on the eye, with no distressing or tiresome sensation, which necessarily improves the eye.
BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS.
The MEDICATED GLASSES are all stamped on the frame H. HOUSAH, Medicated. NONE GENUINE UNLESS STAMPED.

THE PILOT.

My bark is wafted on the strand
By breath divine;
And on the helm there rests a hand
Other than mine.

One who was known in storms to sail,
I have on board;
Above the roaring of the gale,
I have my Lord.

He holds me when the billows smite;
I shall not fall,
If sharp, 'tis short; if long, 'tis light—
He tempers all.

Safe to the land; safe to the land!
The end is this;
And then with him go hand in hand
Far into bliss.

From Our Mission Rooms.

WHAT OUR PASTORS CAN DO.—A pastor in the Kansas conference, Rev. W. Stevenson, has responded to a circular letter from the missionary office, and doubled his collections for missions. The Sabbath school is organized with a missionary society, in fine working order, and will probably contribute twice as much to missions this year as was given by the congregation and Sunday-school together last year. In addition a subscription of $1 per member is obtained in the church, while it is hoped to increase to $2 per member in the year now opening. So much then is secured as a basis. The aim to reach no less than $500 in the charge, about equal to the amount given by the whole district the past year. "If you can get the pastors," writes Brother Stevenson, "to organize the Sunday-schools and missionary societies, and then work them, you can double the collections—at least such has been my experience during the last twenty years." This pastor sends for the monthly missionary letter.

THE MONTHLY MISSIONARY LETTER.—The last one received is from Rev. T. B. Wood, superintendent of the South American Mission. It shows something of what our Sunday-schools are in South America, and how our schools at home can help. Send for this letter. We hope the superintendents of all Sunday-schools organized into missionary societies will apply to the missionary secretaries for these monthly letters from different lands to read to the school. They will prove a great help to the monthly missionary meeting. Please give your address, Brother superintendent.

JAPAN.—Dr. Maclay informs us that the cholera, which has scourged the country for the past summer and autumn has almost totally disappeared. In all Japan, 20,000 persons have perished of the disease; but, happily, no one of the missionary community in the country has fallen. This fact is recorded with divine providence and renewed consideration to the work.

THE WORK IN KIUSHU.—In this southern island there is evidence of progress. Rev. C. S. Long recently made a tour through the provinces of Satsuma and Higo and everywhere found the people ready to hear the Gospel. The people of [illegible] were exceedingly friendly and obliging. He travelled 400 [illegible] out of twelve yen, or about [illegible] of our money. [illegible] people who would not accept [illegible] for food and [illegible] studies in the Theological Seminary."

In Nagasaki, at the Deshima Church, five persons were baptized on Sunday, Oct. 8. One was a student in Cobleigh Seminary, another, a teacher in the W. H. M. S. School, and the other three, a father and his two children. Twenty native Christians partook of the sacrament. Rev. W. C. Kitchen was present, having now entered upon his work as principal of Cobleigh Seminary. The school has a larger attendance than ever before, and the proceeds from tuition fees are sufficient besides paying for all the native help employed, to pay the way of four of the theological students. Last year year there were forty-five pupils in attendance. Mrs. Kitchen had been quite ill but was at the last accounts improving.

SELF-SUPPORT IN JAPAN.—Effort is directed toward securing this in all stations. At Yokohoma, the members of the church paid about one-half the pastor's salary. This was before the removal of the Seminary to Tokio. They are not able at present to raise quite so much. All the charges in the Yokohoma district are doing something for self-support. At Sapporo in the north, the church has been supporting from the beginning, and is displaying a noble spirit in regard to financial independence. Some of the native laborers are quite self-sacrificing. At Hakodlati, two exhorters have each done almost as much preaching as the regular helper, and yet have received no pay for the work and have plainly declared that they have not desired wages for the service.

TRIBUTE TO REV. DAVID TERRY.—In the late session of the General Missionary Committee, the following action was taken:

Whereas, The committee is informed that the Rev. David Terry, who has rendered over 30 years service as Recording Secretary of our Missionary Society, is now in a feeble state of health, which in all probability marks the termination of his active career, therefore,

Resolved, That in common with the church at large, we cherish a lively remembrance of the ardent Christian zeal and industrious fidelity which have characterized the life of our Brother Terry, both in the position he has occupied, and in his general devotion to the Missionary cause. This personal devotion preceded his entrance upon the office and in the discharge of his duties, his sympathy for the missionaries in their fields of labor, and for all the work of the society has been untiring. Ever ready to conjecture and welcome new openings for work, the Missionary office and friends of our cause have found his presence and labors for a long series of years a source of encouragement and stimulus.

We invoke the Divine blessing upon Brother Terry in these days of declining strength, that he may find the comforting presence of the Master whom he has served a rich reward even now, to be consummated in the full glories of the Divine Kingdom to which his faith looks forward.

Resolved, That we appoint two of our number to personally convey to Brother Terry an expression of our remembrance and sympathy.."

Bishop Merrill and Dr. Baldwin visited Brother Terry according to appointment.

An Open Letter.

Mr. Frederick G. Bromberg, Mobile, Ala.

DEAR SIR:—Absence from the city has prevented an earlier reply to your letter of Oct. 11, 1882, asking information relating to "the establishment of measures of reform of criminals, especially of the juvenile class" in Alabama.

In any scheme for the repression and prevention of crime much attention ought to be given by the State to child-saving institutions, such as asylums and trade-schools.

No infant over three years of age should be allowed to remain in a town or county poorhouse. The overseers of the poor or county officers ought to place each indigent child above that age in an institution or family, where it will be under proper training and home influences, and come to know the value of productive labor. Much older children of the same class should be sent to trade-schools, taught trades and rendered self-supporting members of society. It [illegible] that children [illegible] up [illegible] and in no case should a child be allowed to grow up in company with an adult pauper.

The class known as youthful offenders requires even greater care on the part of the State to prevent its members from entering the list of adult criminals. The youthful offender under conviction of crime should not be sent to a penitentiary, but to a trades-school, and placed under the care of an expert in dealing with a certain class of juveniles at an important stage of their existence. It is perhaps hardly necessary to say that reformatories for juveniles should not be under the control of political appointees. It costs money to prevent crime, and it is difficult to make politicians understand this. Pennsylvania has spent over four hundred thousand dollars in preventing crime, and is very well pleased with the result of the investment. Did space permit, facts could be inserted here to show that the number of criminals is always permanently and greatly lessened in any community where child-saving institutions are systematically conducted.

Next in importance to reclaiming juvenile delinquents is the subject of adult criminals and prison management.

The reform movement was begun here a year and a half ago.

On the 14th of November, 1881, this movement procured the appointment of a Board of Commissioners of Prisons and Asylums by the City Council, to serve without pay, The newly created body, though far too large, has performed excellent service in looking after the interests of persons confined in our locked institutions.

In March, 1882, the Prisons and Asylums Aid Association was formed, as a part of the scheme. It is composed of about three hundred ladies and gentlemen, who act through an executive committee composed of ten members. It has from the first been in hearty accord with the Board of Commissioners, in all beneficial acts, but at the same time it has been a wholly independent and unofficial body, pursuing its chosen course in its own way; and has extended its operations to all parts of the State of Louisiana. It has applied to all known sources of information in the old world and the new for current facts, laws and reports relating to penitentiary science, and has now a large and valuable collection of works and reports relating to recent penalogy.

The following statements may be set down as brief hints to those persons who are considering what reforms ought to be brought about in a State like (for instance) Louisiana:

1. Persons only suspected of crime should not be conveyed in the same prison van, at the same time, with convicted persons or habitual criminals. Males and females should not be conveyed at the same time in the same van. Each person transported should be allowed the space of eighteen inches on one of the seats, as sitting room

2. Persons detained as witnesses, and persons arrested, suspected of crime, should not be confined in the same cell or room, or kept in sight of persons sentenced to imprisonment, or convicts undergoing punishment.

3. Persons sentenced to county or city jails should not be incarcerated for more than three months at one time, and each prisoner should be kept in cellular separation night and day.

4. In cases of longer sentence, persons, after conviction, should be sent to a convict prison, and be compelled to work ten hours a day. In no case should the same prison be used as a house of detention for untried persons and a house of penal service for sentenced criminals. Nor should any prison, used for either of these purposes, be used also as a house of detention or correction for youthful offenders. In no case should a person be sentenced for a term of years without labor. Labor is the chief means of curing criminals, but it cannot be at all times and in all places profitably applied to prisoners serving short terms of a few days or weeks. In no case should prisoners be allowed to associate together for hours or minutes, and prisons should be so constructed that prisoners may not see or communicate with each other. The labor should always be perfomed within prison walls, be productive and not penal. The plan of employing convicts, at a long distance from the prison to which they belong, on what is called the lease system, is everywhere strongly denounced by the highest and best minds now engaged in the study of penal science, as affording opportunity for cruel and criminal abuses. Convicts kept in idleness are really supported by the community. It has been found beneficial to encourage convicts to do extra work. It is proposed in some quarters to divide the money resulting from extra work between the prisoner and the person injured by him. In Pennsylvania the law gives one-half to the convict and one-half to the county from which he came,

5. Extra and unjudicial punishment of any convict who disobeys the rules of a prison, should be by law restricted to limiting his diet and placing him in a dark cell; and the administration of this kind of correction should always be under the inspection and advice of a physician. Unjust and inhuman punishments inflicted upon convicts, without color of law, by prison keepers, ought to be classed by legislative enactment as crimes, and ought to be duly punished, as are other offenses against good morals. All murders and violent deaths in prisons should be investigated carefully by a coroner's jury.

6. In the matter of sanitation, the State should do everything in its power to restore the convict to liberty at the end of his sentence, with a degree of good health, if possible, equal to that possessed by him at the time of his arrest. Every convict should have at least 800 cubic feet of air space; his cell ventilated, and a sufficient quantity of water for drinking and bathing purposes, and of wholesome food, clean clothes and bedding free from vermin, so that he may undergo his whole sentence as prescribed by the court, but without additional hardships not contemplated in the sentence.

7. Education, scholastic as well as moral, now no longer neglected by those States that are making satisfactory efforts in their prisons to reform convicts and diminish crime.

8. The abuse growing out of a too free use of the pardoning power, is one that, as a rule, demoralizes the whole body of convicts, increases crime, and throws all law, and even common decency into contempt. Prison reformers must watch and check this abuse by creating and defending a hearty and just public sentiment through the medium of the public press. The present Governor of New York reports that he has been applied to for pardons by convicts, in over fifteen hundred cases, and he has not seen his way clear to grant a single pardon. Cases justifying a pardon cannot often arise, and in every instance of clemency, the pardon should be provisional, in order that it may be revoked for cause.

9. Aiding discharged convicts to commence an honest life, and keeping a register of criminals, if systematically kept up, will greatly assist any State in reducing its number of criminals.

I trust that what is here written will serve to bring to your notice matters that ought to be of the greatest importance to every community.

Any further suggestions you may need, in order to set on foot your proposed good work, will be furnished. The methods of conducting our reform work here will be made clear in the first annual report of the Prisons and Asylums Aid Association, soon I trust, to be published.

With respect, I subscribe myself,
Yours truly,
G. W. CABLE,
Secretary of Prisons and Asylums Aid Association.
New Orleans, La., Nov. 4, 1882.

An Endless Book.

The Rev. James Caughey relates that a couple of infidels were once standing together on the deck of a vessel as she glided past a desolate island of the sea. One said to the other. "Suppose you were condemned to live on this island alone, and had the choice of but one book for your companion, what book of books would you choose?"

The other replied: "I would select Shakespeare, because of the variety of his themes."

"Well," rejoined the other infidel, "although I do not believe the Bible, yet I would choose it for my companion, for the Bible is an endless book." Endless! Yes, and the joy it reveals is endless, the delightful employments to which it directs are endless, the path of progress it opens is endless. O God, "Thy testimonies are wonderful!"

Letter from Jefferson District.

MR. EDITOR—We are still alive and at it; thought you have not heard from us for some months. Our second district conference met at Paris, August 31st., and closed September 4th. It was thought by all present to be the best district conference ever held in this district. Brother H. Webb, of Wiley University was with us and added greatly to the interest of the conference. The conference asked Brothers Webb and F. Parker to write up the doings of the conference and have them published in the SOUTHWESTERN, but they have failed for some cause to do so. It is true, Brother Parker has a few lines in the last number, but for all he wrote, he had as well saved his trouble. He is going to school and like the man that had a wife, therefore he could not. The reports of the preachers showed progress in every part of the district. Between three and four hundred had been received into the Church and more than two hundred had been converted. We are building a number of churches and repairing many others. At Clarksville, a church is going up that will be an honor to our people there, and to our church in this county. It will cost about $1800 when completed.

We have a beautiful church and a good parsonage in Paris, and one of the best bells in the city.

Paris is one of the most desirable stations now in the State.

We have harmony and peace throughout the district; the presiding elder and preachers have been working together like brothers; not one unkind thought or feeling exists so far as I know.

The people have been harder put to it to live this year than for many years, but notwithstanding the hard times and want of money our benevolent collections will be better than last conference.

Wiley University has started off better than any year of its history. Brothers Davis, Webb and Knox and sister, cannot be surpassed as a working force. They are doing all that can be done for Christ and the young. My prayer is, God bless them. I am coming up to conference better satisfied with my work, and the brethren than any year since I have been over the district. Pray for us.

Your brother, W. L. MOLLOY.
Texarkana, Texas, Nov. 5, 1882.

Intelligence vs. Ignorance.

Huduism and feoticism are the main trains that run the underground railroad, and unless there is a check to stay their progress, the next generation will be little better than the present or past. Parents set such poor example for their children. They talk so much that the children ought not to hear, and do so much before them that they should know nothing about. Could one hear the children at their play, rehearsing what pa and ma said was the matter with uncle Ben and aunt Sallie, and what old uncle Dan said he was going to work on them and cure them, there would be reason to fear the coming race will be but the outgrowth of the past. Let any one who doubts the truth of this, look around his own town and neighborhood for examples of such Hudu doctors creeping around from house to house deceiving people, demoralizing families. Near one-third of the people who get sick are tricked, or as they say conjured, and the root doctor comes to say the patient is hurt, and unless he is allowed to attend the case recovery will be impossible. Thus he scares people, and often gets a retention fee of fifteen dollars. Of course these wily fellows are not long in finding dupes among weak-minded persons. It is rarely the case that these agents of Satan have any learning except what they glean from the black art they practice. There was one case in the country, where I taught school, which I will give for example.

There was an old man who was said to possess this art, and in the same neighborhood a woman sick; the neighbors came and pronounced hers a case of genuine hurt or trickery, so the old doctor was called and the case submitted to to him. He burned her with hot stones, and used her in other indecent ways unfit for publication. You must know the case is left entirely to him in a private room, and no one is allowed, under any circumstance, to enter the room. If the victim is a female I would not give a fig for her virtue afterward. I could mention others quite as bad, but this will suffice. Now are we to tolerate or countenance such practices, with the Bible in our hands, God above, and text books, schools and colleges at our command? How can we ever expect to compete with other races, with such impediments as ignorance, superstition and Huduism?

I do not think the Lord teaches any one the art, for we are told that his satanic majesty is the first and greatest conjurer that ever was. Our people must be aroused from their lethargic condition, and preachers, school teachers and parents urged to drive this loathsome enemy from our ranks.

An Appeal for Aid.

To Pastors of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and other benevolent friends:

DEAR BRETHREN—We ask you to seriously meditate ad prayerfully read the following appeal: Through the instrumentality of the Church Extension Society, we have purchased a very nice and commodious brick building, located near the central part of this city, as a place of Divine worship; and as we are compelled to meet our monthly obligations and prepare our house for divine service, and as we are very few in numbers, and the congregation quite small, and being unable to meet the demands of the hour, we call upon the brethren and friends throughout our widespread connection to help us in this our day of trial and time of our need.

Trusting you may consider our critical condition, we ask you to present this to your congregations and may the Lord bless the benevolent brother or sister (or congregation) who may send us the least donation, however small or great, in the name and fear God, for the purpose above named. Any contribution sent to my address or the address of Rev. Wm. H. Morris, President of the Board of Trustees, will be thankfully received, properly applied, and sacredly used. Yours for Christ's sake,

SETH NEAL,
Helena, Ark., Nov. 20, 1882.

Fighting a Good Fight.

A stingy Christian was listening to a charity sermon. He was nearly deaf, and was accustomed to sit facing the congregation, right under the pulpit, with his ear-trumpet directed upward towards the preacher. The sermon moved him considerably. At one time he said to himself: "I'll give $10;" again he said; "I'll give $15." At the close of the appeal he was very much moved and thought he would give $50. Now the boxes were passed. As they moved along his charity began to ooze out. He came down from fifty to twenty, to ten, to five, to zero. He concluded that he would not give anything. "Yet," said he, "this wont do—I am in a bad fix. This covetousness will be my ruin." The boxes were getting nearer and nearer. The crisis was upon him. What should he do? The box was now under his chin—all the congregation were looking. He had been holding his pocket-book in his hand during this soliloquy, which was half audible, though in his deafness he did not know that he was heard. In the agony of the final moment he took his pocket-book and laid it in the box, saying to himself as he did it: "Now squirm old natur'!"

Here is a key to the problem of covetousness. Old natur' must go under. It will take great giving to put stinginess down. A few experiments of putting in the whole pocket book may, by and by, get the heart into the charity box, and then the cure is reached. All honor to the deaf old gentleman. He did a magnificent thing for himself, and gave an example worth imitating, besides pointing a paragraph for the students of human nature.—Good Words.

In Iowa a judge has rendered a decision against the validity of the prohibitory constitutional amendment, basing his decision largely on the fact, as he alleges, that the proper clerical work was not done in recording the action of the legislature and that the legislation itself was lacking in measuring up to the requirements of the constitution. In Indiana it is said that the action of the last legislature, in providing for the submission of the prohibitory amendment was not recorded fully on the journals. All this is in keeping with the well-known fact that temperance legislation has frequently suffered from the neglect or willful and criminal omissions of clerical officers; from the inefficiency or enmity of legislators; from the unfriendly decisions of judges and the enmity of jurors; and from the weakness and degradation of executive officers, from constables to governors. For all this there is but one remedy, and that is to appoint temperance men to make up the records; to elect temperance men to enact the laws; to elevate to the bench temperance men to construe them; to purify the jury box from saloon idlers; and to fill our executive offices with temperance men who will enforce the laws. The temperance work must be removed from unfriendly hands.—Western Christian Advocate.

Bismarck, Gambetta and Gladstone are the greatest statesmen now concentrating the attention of the civilized world. The first is pre-eminent for iron will, diplomacy, adaptive facility, and arrogance. The second is unsurpassed in oratory, tact, and self-control. The third has been rarely equaled in the history of the world in the union of scholarship, refined taste, power to comprehend details, industry, transparency, breadth of purpose, and the gift of disquisition. Bismarck is a believer in Christianity and is an unaccountable mixture of statecraft, imperiousness, and his sort of religion. Gambetta is an absolute unbeliever in religion. Gladstone is a devout and scrupulous Christian. At present the United States has no figure sufficiently conspicuous to be compared with these three men. It has had, and may again have; but the field is now clear for the advent of a really great statesman in the United States.—New York Advocate.

A decision of great importance to a large class of applicants for pensions has just been made by the Interior department. It holds that seven years' absence may be taken as proof of a soldier's death, and warrant the issue of a pension to his family if other requirements have been complied with. This is the reverse of the practice hitherto prevailing. Positive proof of a soldier's death was required, which in many cases it was impossible to procure.

The General Committee of Church Extension took a new departure in recommending the appointment of an agent to attend to the matter of securing sites for churches and parsonages along the lines of railroad in the new States and Territories. Chaplain McCabe, with substantial laymen to back him, guaranteed that the services of the Agent should not be an expense to the Board, and predicted that he would bring $10,000 to the Board within the year. Sites can now be secured that in a short time will be unattainable except at very heavy expense. The action is a wise and judicious one, and will meet the sanction of the Church.—N. Y. Advocate.

The anniversary of the "Sunday School Union" and of the "Tract Society" of the Methodist Episcopal Church will be held in the city of New Haven, Conn., on Saturday, Sabbath, and Monday, Dec. 9-11. Bishop W. L. Harris, D.D., LL.D., Revs. O. H. Tiffany, D.D., W. F. Mallalieu, D.D., J. H. Hargis, Chaplain C. C. McCabe and J. Freeman, D.D., will be present to assist in the services.

A new privilege has been conferred on the students boarding in the school—that of governing themselves. It is sometimes claimed that government by the people is a failure. This is too often true of students. It is hoped that the students of Wiley University will succeed in this. They have a court established, officers elected, and are bringing to trial [illegible] It is working well, [illegible] most perfect order [illegible] —Marshall Visitor.

THURSDAY, NOV. 30, 1882.

1883. CANVASS. 1883.

We earnestly request all Pastors within the patronizing territory of the SOUTHWESTERN CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE to announce to their congregations the fact that new subscribers for 1883, who pay the cash in advance, will receive the paper without cost from the time the subscription is received to the close of 1882. By such an announcement the liberal offer of the Publishers will be brought to the notice of those interested, most of whom can not be communicated with in any other way. It will be a favor to all who subscribe and to the paper as well.

The present is the most favorable time for increasing the list of subscribers to the paper. Press on the canvass in good earnest without delay. Every additional paper circulated within a pastoral charge will help revival work.

Sample copies of the paper will be sent where requested. Pastors will please send on postal card or in letter the names of persons to whom they think sample copies ought to be sent. Let us work now to put the ADVOCATE for 1883 into every Methodist home. Pastors will please send us cash lists with the money now; and after receiving [illegible] at annual conference [illegible] lists as they can become [illegible] responsible for. Cleansed.

The Bible is said to be the Christians guide-board. They should have no other, at least so far as words go. God has given us His word to direct the lost and wandering soul into the way of Christian experience, to direct the saved soul to the perfect light of the gospel with all of its privileges and duties. Guide-boards are sometimes erected by private individuals, these are not always reliable. Those erected by the authority of the state, county or town, no one ever thinks of questioning. Sometimes the officials are said to be corrupt, and make a bad use of the people's money, but no one ever charges them with putting up false signs along the road to mislead the travelers. God never states that which is not true. This word is a lamp for our feet and a light upon our path; a guide-board on our pathway to heaven. This word abounds with words descriptive of the Christian's state. One of them is "cleansed." That word was placed there by the Divine hand, and can be seen all along the way from earth to heaven. The Psalmist utters his cry: "Create in me a clean heart, O God." And Ezekiel gives this promise: "Then will I sprinkle clean water upon you and ye shall be clean; from all of your filthiness and from all your idols, will I cleanse you." Christ takes up the same precious word and gives it great prominence in the New Testament. "If we walk in the light, as He is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ cleanseth us from all sin." So in all the ages and among all races men have found while they confessed their sins, He has been "faithful and just to forgive their sins and to cleanse them from all unrighteousness." Those who have crossed over the river sing, "Unto him that loved us, and washed us from our sins in his own blood." This book speaks of the white robed throng, and tells us that they "washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the Lamb."

Cleansed, clean, pure, white, washed, are words found in the Scripture. What do they mean? We pass along the streets of the city, and see on the lamp at the street corner the names Camp, Canal, St. Charles streets; we have no doubt, we feel perfectly assured that these names truly represent those streets. This word cleansed, what does it indicate. No doubt it has reference to one unpleasant fact. It tells us of man's uncleanness, his unlikeness to God. We may not like it, still the fact exists. Our likes or dislikes have nothing to do with altering the fact. Of all the unclean things we come in contact with unregenerate human nature is the most unclean. But the center and circumference, the all, and end of all, in the economy of grace is the cleansing of the unclean. This is the Father's desire, the end of Christ's mission, the Holy Spirits work. "God is of too pure eyes to behold iniquity" with any forbearance. He wants his children to be clean; to be like Him. If the soiled linen comes from the laundry half cleansed, the laundress may offer a thousand excuses, the wearer of the linen is not satisfied, God wants a clean people. There is nothing he more desires than the purity of his saints. Depend upon it, if we attempt to return to God a soiled soul, He will reject it with indignation. O, precious truth. There is cleansing through the blood of the Lamb! Cleansing for all. This we believe is Methodism, and this is as essential to the success of Methodism, as it is essential to experimental Christianity. It is the birth-right of every child of God.

Another "Mile-Stone."

Most men have what they call pleasant and unpleasant memories. Certain anniversary days are sure to take us back and memory calls up the events of life and we pronounce judgment upon them. November 22d, 18—(I guess I will not tell the year) the record informs me that I commenced my earthly career in Middlesex, Washington county, State of Vermont. I have no special recollection of that event. The historian of those times made the record, and I have been allowed to read it. Early in life, she who gave me mortal birth, and for four years watched so tenderly over me, finished her work on earth, and went to Emanuel's land and has never returned. My memory on [illegible] anniversary day takes me back [illegible] event, which occurred full [illegible] century ago. But all of my [illegible] are not thus painful. [illegible] they were all as free [illegible] of personal com[illegible] I have outlived [illegible] I stranded [illegible] My [illegible] glasses to help my eyes, but I have health and strength, and more ability to do, and endure, than I had twenty years ago. I may cross the river to-morrow; if so, sudden death will be sudden glory. But somehow the thought of a few more years is a little more entertaining. Joining the traveling connection and going to conference are quite different affairs now from what they were in our early history. But few of our early ministers came from rich families. Most of them came up bare-footed and bare-headed, snatching here and there an opportunity from their pinching poverty, they read and studied as best they could; and preached as though they believed every word they said, and kept their hearers in a perpetual cringo at all the sin points of their nature. There were few railroads or buggies in those days. A few of the preachers traveled in the old-fashioned gig, but most rode on horseback with saddle-bags. The preachers did not receive much money at that period. On my first appointment I received $83, including rent, one pair of home-made pants, socks and gloves. It was, however, our boast that we all fared alike. The hardships of those times bound the preachers together and made them loving and affectionate among themselves. They all could sing:

> "No foot of land do I posess,
> No cottage in the wilderness;
> A poor wayfaring man.
> I lodge awhile in tents below,
> And gladly wander to and fro,
> Till I my canaan gain."

They did good service in the itineracy and were esteemed by the church on account of sound talents and holy lives. But I am stretching this "Mile-Stone," paper far too long. I cannot however, refrain from the utterance of praise to the Lord Jesus, the King of glory, my God and Father and to the Holy Ghost my comforter and sactifier—that, as I pass this "Mile-Stone" and look on toward the sunset, my feet are upon the rock, the new song is in my mouth. And while I would esteem it a great privilege to stay and preach the unsearchable riches of Christ a few more years, I am permitted to look forward to the time when I shall pass the pearly gates, and with all the redeemed stand before the throne without having a single fear excited.

Brorenswill, Tenn., Nov. 22, 1882.

A Democratic Congressman on the Lottery and Party Principles.

We are indebted to Hon. E. W. Robertson, member of Congress from the sixth district of Louisiana, for a copy of the Baton Rouge Capitolian-Advocate, in which we find his card to the public embracing copies of letters to General A. S. Herron, the Democratic candidate, and to Hon. John Fitzpatrick, President of the Democratic State Central Committee. From this card we learn that, notwithstanding the questionable methods used to defeat Mr. Robinson for a renomination, and the direct charges made by accredited delegates of the convention that its proceedings were, in a great measure, influenced by the Louisiana State Lottery Company, he was willing to give its nominee his active support, provided he would, if elected to Congress, use his best efforts to exclude the Lottery Company from the use of the United States mails, "and aid in wiping out this barsinister from the escutcheon of Louisiana." In order to obtain the views of Gen. Herron, a letter was addressed to him, to which no reply was given, as follows:

BATON ROUGE, Oct. 4, 1882.

Gen. A. S. Herron, Baton Rouge, La.

MY DEAR SIR—The late Democratic-Congressional Convention which nominated you as its standard bearer, failed to enunciate the principles upon which the canvass would be conducted. It also failed to give expression to any policy proposed to be adopted in regard to a question of vital importance to the people of the District and State, and to which attention was called during its deliberations. I refer to the question of the so-called Louisiana Lottery Company, a pretended corporation, which has no legal existence, yet claims all the rights and privileges of a chartered monopoly. Its baleful influence is felt in every department of the State government, and has extended to the Legislative, Judicial and Executive departments of the Federal government. It now controls and monopolizes the use of the United States mails to the exclusion of all other lotteries, although the Statutes as interpreted by the U. S. Supreme Court, declare that all lotteries shall be excluded from the mails, and Congress has enacted a special statute the object of which is to close the mails against them. R. S. Sec. 3894. 19 Stat. 90 Sec. 2, Stone vs. Mississippi, 92 U. S. 819; thereby putting legal, illegal and fraudulent lotteries all on the same footing as to mail facilities.

The policy of the Federal government as expressed in these statutes, is to declare that all lottery schemes are immoral, contra bonos mores and all letters, circulars, etc., concerning them are "forbidden to enter the mail," and "all lottery matter unmailable." (See brief of Solicitor [illegible] pp. 22 and 23, and authorities there cited in the case of M. A. Dauphin vs. D. M. Key, P. M. General.) Under Sections 3929 and 4041 U. S. R. S., the P. M. General upon evidence satisfactory to him, can prohibit registered letters and money orders, concerning such schemes, from passing through the the mail. This was done in Nov. 1879, by P. M. General Key in an order issued to the Postmaster at New Orleans, forbidding the payment of any postal money order to M. A. Dauphin, Secretary, etc., of the Louisiana State Lottery Company, and further instructing him to return all registered letters directed to said M. A. Dauphin.

This order was enjoined by the Lottery Company in the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, but on demurer filed by the P. M. General, was dismissed at complainants costs.

From this decision an appeal was taken to the U. S. Supreme Court by the Lottery Company, and pending the appeal the order was suspended "until the case shall have been heard and determined by the Supreme Court."

This appeal was afterwards dismissed at the costs of the Lottery Company, and the judgment of the lower court, dismissing the case, stands as a vindication of the authority of the P. M. General to issue such order.

The present P. M. General, Judge Timothy O. Howe, having failed so enforce the order of his predecessor, the U. S. House of Representatives, on the 29th of March last, adopted a resolution directing him to inform it on the subject of the enforcement of this order. He has replied to this resolution informing the House that he had not enforced it.

The whole subject has been referred to the Committee on Post Offices and Post Roads, and is now pending before it. Deeming the reply of the P. M. General evasive and unsatisfactory, I addressed him several letters. He replied to two of them, but has failed to answer my last.

There are several bills now pending in Congress looking to the suppression of lottery advertisements, sale of tickets, etc., in the District of Columbia, and to amend statutes on the subject of lotteries and other like schemes; one of which has passed the Senate and is now on the Speaker's table in the House. I have thus called your attention to this matter in order that you may see, and the people may know, that the "Lottery Question" is an issue, and has an important bearing on legislation in Congress and in the P. O. Department at Washington, and will continue to demand the attention of Congress. Through the connivance of the P. M. General, in a plain, palpable violation of existing postal laws, which his predecessor enforced, and was sustained by the courts, the Louisiana Lottery Company now enjoys the exclusive privilege of the U. S. mails, while all other lotteries are forbidden to enter. Does it not then behoove Louisiana Congressmen to see that these laws are executed?

Deprive this Lottery of the right to carry on its false and fraudulent schemes and devices to deceive and defraud the public, as it is now doing every day, through its monopoly of the United States mails, and it will be effectually crushed out of existence. The people of Louisiana will then no longer be cursed with the infamy of its debasing influence so notoriously exhibited in our Legislative Halls, and elsewhere during the past three years. Forbid it to enter the United States mail and its "occupation's gone." It will die the death of all such gambling institutions, or, restricted to such narrow limits in its nefarious operations, it will cease to exercise its corrupting influence in Louisiana politics. I have delayed writing to you because I desired to give you ample time and opportunity to present your own views in the canvass; but as I have not yet seen or heard any public expression of opinion from you regarding this lottery, I have concluded thus to address you, trusting you may give it such consideration as the importance of the subject demands, and hoping your past record in the Legislature and Constitutional Convention of 1879, will be fully sustained, should you be elected to Congress as my successor.

I am truly yours,
E. W. ROBERTSON.

Mr. Robertson received a letter from Mr. Fitzpatrick, president of the Democratic State committee, in which it was declared to be very desirable for him to speak at one or more meetings during the canvass of the Third and Sixth districts. Mr. Robertson, who also enclosed a copy of his letter to General Herron, replied that while ready to contribute his humble efforts to the success of his party, these were questions which he might desire to discuss that might not meet with the approval of the committee. Two candidates for Congress were not in accord with the National platform on the tariff question, which would be one of the great issues of 1884. Said Mr. Robertson:

Class-legislation, exclusive privileges to individuals and corporations, and the fostering of monopolies by the government, have always been regarded anti-Democratic in principle. Therefore if I engage actively in the canvass, I propose to bring these questions prominently before the people, and will give my views on the evils of monopolies, including the Louisiana Lottery, upon which Congress will be called on to act. But as the particular friends of Herron, with himself, seem streneously to object, I have concluded to refer the matter to your committee, for I do not desire to force him to take a position which your committee would advise might complicate issues or embarrass him in his canvass. The issue was made and brought to the attention of the people of this District long before the meeting of the Convention which nominated him. * * * Advise me as to the proper course to pursue in order to harmonize these differences, for my life long devotion to Democratic principles has taught me always to submit to party authority when lawfully expressed, and it would ill become me, who has so often been honored with its confidence, to seek to do anything which would impair the integrity or efficiency of its organization or falter in duty to its reasonable behests.

The State committee did not see proper to reply, or to honor Mr. Robertson with its notice, and therefore he concluded "to allow it to conduct the campaign in its own way. This commendable independence of convictions is in striking contrast with the position of Gen. Herron, who is said by the Capitolian-Advocate to have "felt that in the absence of any instructions from the convention, he was not at liberty to raise an issue in the canvass which it had not seen fit to bring forward." Mr. Robertson, in his card defines his position:

"Principles, not men," is the motto of true Democracy, and with all due deference to its new converts, I submit that the Democratic party of Louisiana is not in accord with its National organization, on some of the vital issues which will carry us to victory in the approaching Presidential canvass. I assert that the action of the Louisiana Democracy through its Congressional Delegation, with some exceptions, was to hamper their brethren in the fight against oppression and wrong, as waged by an unscrupulous foe with the whole power of the government at their back, and even at the last moment in refusing to aid in the unequal conflict, they took the opportunity to "stab under the fifth rib" that magnificent body of Northern allies who stood by us so devotedly in the dark days of reconstruction, by aiding lottery and railroad monopolies, voting to sustain a dickering tariff commission, and placing the Mississippi river appropriation on the River and Harbor bill, against the unanimous voice of the people of the Valley as expressed at the St. Louis convention, thereby losing the support of every Northern Democrat except six, and forcing even a Republican President to interpose his veto.

How will our Northern brethren regard these allies of Jay Gould, Charley Howard, Fred. Wolfe, Charles T. Huntington and the other myrmidons who were straining every effort to bind their limbs with the steel fetters of grasping monopoly. With what consistency can the Democracy of Louisiana as now constituted claim any credit in the recent victory, when one of the terms of the bargain with Jay Gould for aid of the Republicans in New York, was the issue of a patent of the land grant obtained for him with the assistance of Louisiana Democrats, and which was so correctly described in Mr. Wheelock's brief, as a "bogus institution." The claims already filed by Jay Gould, Wolfe and Huntington are more than sufficient to swallow up every acre of the National domain in Louisiana, and in the name of true Democracy I denounce these attempts to steal the public lands in the State. It is time to put a stop to this high carnival of crime."

All who subscribe and pay now for 1883 will get the paper till the first of January next, free.

A great many negroes ignorantly voted their registration certificates during the recent election in this State. A man who knows no more than that, is not deprived of much—while the country is deprived of even less—in being practically deprived of the right of suffrage. Universal suffrage is a necessary evil until there is universal intelligence to back it—Southern Christian Advocate.

The public speakers and the secular press of South Carolina were so busily engaged the last campaign, in labored efforts to justify the breaking up of meetings, and assaults upon speakers opposed to the mobocracy now in power, that such a minor matter as the practical instruction of the ignorant in the art of voting, was almost wholly lost sight of. Thomas Jefferson, the father of the Democratic party, said sometime ago, that "Error of opinion might be tolerated when reason was left free to combat it," but then he was not posted in the use of false counts and tissue ballots, which render all other paraphernalia of elections, wholly unnecessary. It has been so long since the semblance of a fair election has been known in South Carolina, that voters are ignorant in many cases by virtue of a lapse of the privilege of depositing a ballot, or by abstention, because of the fruitlessness of such a proceeding. The Charleston Advocate has nobly protested against the intolerance leading to these results, and we hope it will aim its pungent powers of criticism at the intelligent shot gun rioters and ballot box stuffers for awhile, and give the negroes a fair chance.

Chairman Harrington, of the Delaware Republican State Committee, writes to the New York Herald: "Of course we feel chagrined at our defeat, but as I write I feel a deep sense of admiration for those republicans who, burdened with poverty and in many instances cursed with dark skins, stood up in the face of pecuniary appeals and asserted their manhood at the polls. We are beaten now, but it cannot be possible that such integrity, fortitude and vigor as was exhibited in the face of such temptations can always be kept under by the tricks of professional politicians and the purchase of voters. Manhood and right will in the end assert their power." This is cheerful testimony in behalf of the wisdom of universal suffrage.

This city has a numerous throng of "female" humbugs, clairvoyants, test mediums, fortune-tellers, etc., all of whom are swindlers of unlimited impudence and varied ability to get money from greenhorns. Fools, who have money to waste, can find opportunity by going to almost any of these wretched frauds. The "all-healing" male "doctors," who lay their vile hands on heads soft enough to allow it, and so "heal," are also devilish beyond ordinary villains. They are all a frightfully bad lot.—California Christian Advocate.

This is no truer of San Francisco than of New Orleans. Indeed we have been led to think that no city in this country, excepting perhaps New York, is more sorely afflicted with these frauds than this city. The wonder is, that soft heads multiply at such a rapid rate as to continually furnish a thriving business to these corrupt and contaminating disciples of this villainous den of thieves.

Morristown Seminary, located at Morristown, Tenn., we learn from the Methodist Advocate, has been a success from the start in 1881, under the management of Rev. J. S. Hill. There were 193 students and 60 conversions the first year, the school has outgrown its present quarters, and the Freedmen's Aid Society has undertaken to erect a boarding hall 58x51 feet. Students have been turned away for want of accommodations, but the difficulty is to be obviated by Jan. 1st. Bro. Hill has been sent out by Dr. Rust, and endorsed by Bishop Simpson and Warren, to raise means for the new building, which will cost from $2000 to $3000. Collections for this object will be credited to churches on their Freedmen's Aid apportionments. Next term there is a fair prospect for 225 students.

Every subscriber for 1882 should renew immediately for 1883.

The secular press of Kansas outlines the situation in that State. The Nationalist says those who suppose the Republican party will abandon the advocacy of prohibition are mistaken. The Abilene Gazette says St. John still lives and will be heard from, the churches and Sunday schools are not closed, and principle are eternal. The Atchinson Champion says other causes such as personal dislike and and opposition to a third term contributed to St. John's defeat, and the vote does not show an increase of anti-prohibition sentiment. The Osage Chronicle apprehends the next Legislature will amend the law and give it a fair trial. The Holston Recorder calls for necessary amendments and a fair chance, and in case of failure, another vote by the people.

Notes from Mormondom

The Rocky Mountain Advocate says:

For the first time in the history of Utah have we had a regular political campaign and an honest election. There were two parties,—the Liberal party or those opposed to the union of State and church, and the People's party or the adherents to Mormonism. Of course the Mormons elected their candidate, polling their usual vote, notwithstanding the fact that some 12,000 or 16,000 polygamists were disfranchised.

The Advocate supplies this refreshing intelligence also:

Hon. Cassidy, Democratic Member of Congress from Nevada, gave his influence in the last Congress against the Mormons. He was a candidate for re-election. The Mormons gave their votes and money for the Republican candidate, who courted their favor. Mr. Cassidy is still Congressman.

In Idaho, Ainslie, Democrat, and member of Congress, was a Mormon tool. He, too, was a candidate for re-election, and all the Mormon influence was thrown in his favor, but Hon. T. F. Singlser, Republican, was elected. The Mormon bishops may carry Utah, but outside of this priest-ridden Territory suffer defeat.

PERSONAL.

—Mr. Moody is seriously ill from overwork.

—The wife of President Gonzales of Mexico, is studying medicine and surgery in Chicago.

—Rev. J. Henry Smythe, of Philadelphia, occupied the pulpit at Ames, Sunday morning, 19th.

—Rev. Charles Spurgeon, of London, preached his farewell sermon in this country, October 26.

—Miss Alice E. Freeman, a graduate of Syracuse University, has been elected president of Wellesly College.

—Gen. James D. Fessenden, son of the late Senator Fessenden, dropped dead on a street of Portland, Me.

—Paul Tulane, of Princeton, N. J., has given $5,000 for the educational work of the Kolapoor Mission, India.

—Philip Philips and his son, James, have concluded one hundred "evenings of song" in Great Britain.

—On his eightieth birthday Louis Kossuth was presented with a costly album containing over 30,000 Hungarian signatures.

—Christian Jansen, the well-known Danish poet, was accidentally killed by a railroad train in New Jersey on the 16th.

—Ex-Surgeon General Barnes and Dr. Woodworth, ill since their attendance upon Presidend Garfield, are beyond recovery.

—Dr. George Manners, of New Richmond, Indiana, has made a further donation of $15,000 to Asbury University, making $25,000 in all.

—A. C. Hutchinson succeeds the late Charles Whitney as president and general manager of the Morgan Railroad and Steamship Company.

—The address of Rev. Jesse P. Price, of Tennessee conference, will be lock box No. 22, Brownsville, Tenn. His correspondents will please take notice.

—Bishop Foss has returned to his home in Minneapolis, somewhat improved in health, but enjoined by his physicians to rest for months to come.

—Governor elect Pattison, of Pennsylvania, has chosen as private secretary, Rev. Dr. Thomas T. Everitt, pastor of St. Stephen's M. E. Church, Philadelphia.

—The Commercial's Steubenville (Ohio) special says Congressman Updegraff is again reported to be in a dying condition. All hope of his recovery has been given up.

—Ex-Mayor Joseph Shakespeare has suffered the loss of his only son, twelve years old, from lockjaw following injuries to a hand received in his father's foundry. Young Joseph was a bright lad, and the agonized father was at his bedside when his successor, Mayor Behan was inaugurated at the City Hall.

—The Rev. Dr. Blyden, the colored president of the Colored College in Liberia, is in this country seeking instructors for the college over which he presides. Since his arrival he has visited several of the northern and eastern cities. His tour through the south will take in Baltimore, Nashville, Atlanta, Mobile, New Orleans and other points. The African Trade Society of this city expect him to get here about the 15th of December.

—The Mississippi Methodist announces the death of Mrs. L. P. Brown, on Tuesday 21st, in Meridian. Her remains were carried to Jackson for interment. She was the daughter of Rev. John W. Harmon, now pastor of the M. E. Church South in that city, and formerly a resident and well known in New Orleans. Dr. Harmon has our sympathy in his deep affliction.

—Mayor Joseph Shakespeare, of this city, went out of office on the 20th inst., ending an honorable administration of two years. The only successful citizen's candidate elected in opposition to the combination which secured the balance of the city officials, he was somewhat circumscribed in power, and on several occasions compelled to veto measures advanced by his associates. During this period the financial condition of the city was an additional obstacle to more vigorous measures for the general welfare; but it has been improved to a certain extent by prudent arrangements with the city bondholders. Mayor Shakespeare leaves behind him an official record unmarred by slander or adverse criticism, and full of kindly and generous deeds which will be long remembered to his credit.

OUR SOUTHERN WORK.

TENNESSEE.

Dr. Manker, of Holston Conference, at Chattanooga, is erecting a handsome stone church, which, when completed, will give our church a standing in Southern Tennessee such as it has never had before.

J. Summerhill, Lawrenceburg:—"Our benevolent collections last year were $110, and for this year $205,32, a gain of $95,32. Elder Price toned us up this year, and he pressed the benevolent claims. On Sunday, Oct. 29, St. John's church was dedicated by Elder Price, assisted by Revs. J. W. Simms, T. Ford, T. Thornton and H. C. Welch. Collection was $12. A meeting has been conducted for six nights, with 8 converts, 3 reclaimed and 2 additions from the A. M. E. Church."

H. Primm, Murfreesboro:—"I have closed the second protracted meeting for the year at St. James' chapel. This has been a year of success; the church is in good spiritual condition; 25 were converted, 28 joined the church. Our people have been going away all the year, but we hold our own. A supper given for St. James realized $22,30 for the new church. Expect to bring up all benevolent collections."

TEXAS.

Rev. I. G. Foot, writes:—"I like your paper much in its clear and certain tone, in its manly and noble utterance of truths of progress, and of the right."

M. Smith, Industry:—"We organized our Sunday school in 1879, with one Bible; since we have used the Good Tidings, and the Journal. We gave a concert to get money to buy books with, but owing to bad weather only realized $4. The performance was appreciated by all present. From the school there have been 8 conversions, of whom two girls (Emma Roberts and Martha Ray) are teachers. We have 12 grown people in the school, 9 from 15 to 20 years of age, and 18 younger ones. We collected $1,60 for missions and $1 for tracts."

LOUISIANA.

J. Hason, Columbus:—"The elder sent Bro. S. S. Wright to hold our fourth quarterly conference. The collections are: for pastor, $65; elder, $11 30; missionary, $2. We will do all we can for missions and the Gilbert Haven school."

For the SOUTHWESTERN.

A Word to the Young Ministers.

"Go ye into all the world and preach the Gospel to every creature." This command of our Lord was given to his disciples collectively. Of course no one could preach the gospel to every creature; each individual must do what he could that the whole collectively might accomplish the desired result. And in this way it applies to His ministers to day. If one is a Methodist minister he must do the work assigned him, he must preach the gospel, not to every creature in the world, but to every creature who comes within his pastorate.

Let us think what this means, and let every minister who reads this look about his parish and see if there are not some to whom he has never addressed one word of gospel. A pastor should, if possible, know all of his people and know them so well that he can approach them familiarly. This he cannot do unless he feels interested in them individually, and anxious for the salvation of each. When a man feels that his minister is his friend it is an easy matter to get near him. And this is a thing that requires tact, thought and judgment. The first impression one conveys is of great importance in matters of this kind. Christ said, "Be ye therefore wise as serpents, and harmless as doves." Where ministers are this we do not hear it said by business men, and especially men of property, "what do you suppose the parson cares about my soul? If enough only comes out of my pocket he is satisfied." It is a delicate matter to deal with a rich man. Who has not seen the rich man who thought that his proud relatives cared only for his money, and who spoiled all the pleasant relations of life by that jealousy? There seems to be an inborn jealousy in human nature that makes us feel that our friends care for us only so far as we are of use to them. In these days of missions and such numerous church enterprises it requires a great deal of money, and we hear much complaint that the pockets are not converted, and much is said about preaching to the pockets. Now, it seems to me, if our preachers would feel less anxiety about the pockets, less anxious about raising a big missionary fund, and more about the personal salvation of each of his parishioners, he would succeed better in converting the heart, and when the heart is thoroughly converted that part of the soul which resides in the pockets is sure to be converted. My experience has taught me that it is not much use to preach salvation to others until we feel the full power of salvation in our own hearts. It is not much use to say "Be ye holy," till we comply with that command ourselves. Bear in mind that it is not the smartest ministers who are the most successful, but those who have the most of the spirit of Christ, and who are the most thoroughly imbued with the importance of their mission. I once knew a minister who was said to be the best scholar in his Conference, and who was capable of producing sermons which were masterpieces. Still he was not popular, and men of much less capacity continually took the best places. He complained of this to his presiding elder and was answered in the language of scripture, 'that a live dog was better than a dead lion.'

DISCOLORATIONS & SPOTS ON ORIGINAL

I do not write this to find fault or to criticise ministers, but to call their attention to some of those things which none lament more heartily than they do. As a class they are noble, self-sacrificing men, enduring disappointments, privations and hardships cheerfully. It is a lamentable fact that men as a class do not attend church more. Ask them the reason and a good many of them will tell you that they are neither entertained nor instructed by the sermons.

Now, is there no remedy for this? Is it not possible that the gospel can be presented in a way that will attract them? There are preachers to whom it is a delight to listen Sunday after Sunday, and can it be said that they preach the gospel any the less because it is presented in an attractive and interesting manner? It occurs to me that a great many ministers don't spend enough time and thought upon their sermons, they don't realize how important a part of their work the sermon is. A minister of to-day, to be successful must not be ignorant. To be in sympathy with the world he must know what the world is thinking about, he must be familiar with the topics that are discussed in the papers and magazines.

A little vanity is common to men; they all like to be considered thinkers, and most of them have some notions of modern science, and have formulated some sort of theological theory which they consider greatly in advance of the "old orthodoxy." They speak flippantly of the "old theology" when, perhaps they know very little about what the "old theology" is.

They have some knowledge of the Calviuistric creeds and confound all others with them. They say they don't like to talk with a minister because he won't answer them fairly, and takes no interest in what interests them, and will evade and dodge their questions.

There is truth in this, and I think it is much the best way when questions are asked us which we cannot answer to say frankly: "I don't know," than to give a foolish or evasive answer. Theology is moving forward in company with science. Ideas which shocked the most liberal twenty-five years ago, are, to-day generally admitted sensible and true by the most orthodox theologians.

I can remember when it was considered heresy to believe that the world was longer in being created than six days of twenty-four hours each. Nobody believes that now, and twenty-five years hence, a great deal of science and theology, which we so jealously defend to-day, will have "rolled itself as a scroll" and passed away, considered no more by the scholars of that time, than the idea of old, that the earth was flat and rested on the back of a turtle.

There is no cause for alarm, Christ's kingdom will not suffer. Religion will be more and more glorious as it is purged of men's theology.

A pastor's place is a trying one, he must be wise and foolish, sober and mirthful, "all things to all men if by all means he may save some."

Above all he must be in earnest. The command is to work in the vineyards, and work he must if he will succeed. Don't forget that it is not the smartest who do the most good, and doing good is your mission.

One of the most useful ministers I ever knew was a young man just from school, full of zeal, wholly in earnest to do his master's work. He was not what we call smart; his sermons were not especially entertaining; his prayers were commonplace, save the earnestness; but he apparently accomplished more good in a few months than his predecessors had in years. He went about among all the people of his parish, and I think there was not one who was not a professor of religion, that he did not [illegible] in regard to personal salvation, even old men who, I presume, had not been approached for years upon that subject.

FOURTH QUARTER. LESSON X. December 3d.

AFTER HIS DEATH. [Mark xv, 38-47.]

Our last lesson told us how Jesus died, so you are ready for our lesson to-day, called "After his Death." One of the officers who had charge of the soldiers around Jesus when he died, said: "Truly this man was the Son of God." Now Jesus is dead. At a little distance from the cross, looking on, are some friends who followed Jesus from Galilee. Mary Magalene and Mary the mother of James and Joses was there. Others are with them, and when the evening comes a new friend is found. This friend comes to bury Jesus, not in a poor man's grave, but in a grave fit for a king. This was Joseph of Arimathea, a rich man, and one of the council. May be you wonder why he did not speak out for Jesus when they had Jesus before the council. He was not there. They were in so great a hurry to kill Jesus they did not have all the council together.

Joseph went boldly to Pilate and asked for the body of Jesus. Pilate said yes, and so Joseph took the body of Jesus from the cross. He brought fine linen to wrap it in, and it was laid in the grave. A great stone was rolled to the opening of the grave, and Jesus was left alone.

Joseph loved Jesus in secret, but now he stood out, and all the people knew this rich councilor as a friend of the crucified Jesus. Are you like Joseph was before this lesson? Do you love him but do not tell it? Be sure to be like Joseph in this lesson. Jesus wants you to show that you belong to him. He will never fail to be our friend. He was silent here on earth when abused, but now he stands before the Father and pleads for us all.—Western.

NEW BOOKS.

Geological Sketches. By Archibald Geikie. Price 15c. J. Fitzgerald & Co., Publishers, 30 Lafayette Place, New York.

This is No. 38 of the Humboldt Library of Popular Science Literature, and is one of the most instructive volumes in that valuable series. Its author is Director-General of the Government Survey of Great Britain, and the charming essays here published contain the results of his vacation rambles in both hemispheres, from the Rocky Mountains to the Rhine, wherever any field of special interest presents itself to the geologist. For sale by newsdealers.

We have received from Dr. J. H. Vincent, of the Sunday School and Tract department, 805 Broadway, New York, three little books. These "Gems" of literature, selected by Mrs. E. H. Thompson, are from "Scripture and song," "Religious Literature" and "Literature" in general, and are enclosed in a neat little box and published by Phillips & Hunt.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

The Boston Musical Herald for November has a portrait of Miss Lillian Norton, the great American opera singer, with the usual quantity of music with notes, and a general outline of current events in the musical world. Price 15c.

The issue of the December (Christmas) number of St. Nicholas will be delayed until the first of December, owing to the largely increased edition and the extra work on the frontispiece, which is to be printed in seven colors. The Christmas St. Nicholas is always the greatest issue of the year, and the editors are said to have outdone themselves this season in Christmas stories, pictures, poems, carols, etc. It is to have a story, "Grandmamma's Pearls," by Miss Alcott, part of a serial story by J. T. Trowbridge, one of Mr. Stockton's best fairy stories, a beautifully illustrated article, "The Field of the Cloth of Gold," an original "Alphabet of Children," "Coasting on Lake Winnipeg," for boys, and many other good things.

The Christmas Wide Awake will [illegible] for a group of original [illegible] from English [illegible] Rossetti, Philip [illegible] A. Mary F. Robinson, and the author of "John Halifax, Gentleman."

The North American Review for December commands attention by the eminence of its contributors and the value and timeliness of its contents. First, there is "The Health of American Women," regarded from three distinct points of view: Dr. Dio Lewis considers the question as it is affected by the prevailing style of feminine attire. Mrs. Elizabeth Cady Stanton points out many injurious influences of social environment; and Dr. James Read Chadwick sets forth the effects of education, climate and food; and finally discusses the question whether the modification produced in the European human type by transfer to America lessens the fertility of women. Gov. Buren R. Sherman, of Iowa, writes of the "Constitutional Prohibition," of the liquor traffic in that State, and maintains that the measure is in entire accord with the traditions of the original settlers, and approved by men of all political parties and all nationalities. Gen. Grant, states the facts of Gen. Fitz. John Porter's case, and argues that the sentence of the court martial that cashiered him was based on a misconception of the essential circumstances. Richard A. Proctor writes of "The Influence of Food on Civilization," discussing some of the most interesting sociological problems of the day and of the near future. Prof. Fisher, of Yale College, in defining "The Decline of Clerical Authority," holds that this decline is by no means to be regretted, and that the spiritual influence of the church and its ministry is to-day greater than of old. Finally, there is a symposium upon the conditions of "Success on the Stage," the contributors being six of our most prominent actors—John McCullough, Joseph Jefferson, Madame Modjeska, Lawrence Barrett, Maggie Mitchell and Wm. Warren.

An excellent paper for boys and girls is Golden Days. It is published weekly or in monthly parts. Any one wishing to get an excellent paper for their children can get a specimen copy by writing to James Elverson, Philadelphia.

The great pictorial Christmas number of Wide Awake ready this month, will contain brilliant contributions of American and English writers. This young folks magazine is worthy of all commendation, and may profitably be introduced into the family circle. Subscriptions ($2 50 per year) and applications for agencies should be made to D. Lothrop & Co., Boston, Mass.

The first article in the December Popular Science Monthly, on the subject of scientific ethics, is the ablest in the number. It is a masterly reply by William D. Le Sueur, of Ottawa, Canada, to the article of Goldwin Smith entitled "Have we yet found a New Basis for Morality?" The paper is a valuable contribution to the elucidation of Spencerian ethics. Professor Ferdinand Cohn's article on the "Cell-State" is a summing up of the latest views on the subject of cell-structure and cell-action. The problem is at the root of the phenomena of life. The article on "Speculative Zoology," by Prof. W. K. Brooks, of John Hopkins University, is a study of the past life of the globe, with reference to the best modes of representing it with a view of showing the laws of descent, differentiation and distribution of the earth's organic life. Other articles of instructiveness and interest are "Brain-Weight and Brain-Power," by Dr. J. P. H. Boileau; "American and Foreign Asphalts," by Dr. E. J. Hallock; "Criminality in Animals," by A. Lacassagne; "Is Fingal's Cave Artificial?" by F. Cope Whitehouse (illustrated); "Time Keeping in London," by Prof. E. A. Engler; "Musical Sensations," by M. Hericourt; "The Annual Growth of Trees," by A. L. Child, M. D.; "The Spectroscope and the Weather," by Prof. Piazzi Smyth; "The Relations of the Natural Sciences," by Prof. T. Sterry Hunt; and "Science in Relation to the Arts," a conclusion of Prof. C. W. Siemens's presidential address at the last meeting of the British Association for the Advancement of Science. The editorial departments are up to their usual average of strength and excellence. New York: D. Appleton & Co. Fifty cents per number, $5 per year.

The American Agriculturalist in the South.

We direct attention to the advertisement elsewhere of the American Agriculturist, which proposes to devote much attention during 1883 to the development of Southern agriculture and Southern industries. Prior to the war this recognized leading Agricultural Journal had a very large circulation through the Southern States. We learn from the publishers that they now propose to make Southern agriculture a feature in the paper in the future. Send a stamp for the December number, which will give our readers some idea of the character of this journal, if they are not already familiar with it. Nearly one hundred columns of original matter and from fifty to eighty illustrations and engravings are presented in every issue. Notwithstanding this great amount of original matter, the American Agriculturist is supplied at the low rate of $1.50 a year.

Oh, My Back!

That's a common expression and has a world of meaning. How much suffering is summed up in it.

The singular thing about it is, that pain in the back is occasioned by so many things. May be caused by kidney disease, liver complaint, consumption, cold, rheumatism, dyspepsia, overwork, nervous debility, &c.

Whatever the cause, don't neglect it. Something is wrong and needs prompt attention. No medicine has yet been discovered that will so quickly and surely cure such diseases as BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, and it does this by commencing at the foundation, and making the blood pure and rich.

Logansport, Ind. Dec. 1, 1880.
For a long time I have been a sufferer from stomach and kidney disease. My appetite was very poor and the very small amount I did eat disagreed with me. I was annoyed very much from non-retention of urine. I tried many remedies with no success, until I used Brown's Iron Bitters. Since I used that my stomach does not bother me any. My appetite is simply immense. My kidney trouble is no more, and my general health is such, that I feel like a new man. After the use of Brown's Iron Bitters for one month, I have gained twenty pounds in weight. O. B. SARGENT.

Leading physicians and clergymen use and recommend BROWN'S IRON BITTERS. It has cured others suffering as you are, and it will cure you.

NOTHING TO DO.

"Nothing to do!" in this world of ours,
Where weeds grow up with the fairest flowers,
Where smiles have only a fitful play,
Where hearts are breaking every day!

"Nothing to do!" thou Christian soul,
Wrapping thee round in thy selfish stole?
Off with the garments of sloth and sin,
Christ, thy Lord, hath a kingdom to win.

"Nothing to do!" There are prayers to lay
On the altar of incense, day by day;
There are foes to meet within and without,
There is error to conquer, strong and stout.

"Nothing to do!" There are minds to teach
The simplest forms of Christian speech;
There are hearts to lure with loving wile,
From the grimest haunts of sin's defile.

"Nothing to do!" here are lambs to feed,
The precious hopes of the Church's need;
Strength to be borne to the weak and faint,
Vigils to keep with the doubting saint.

"Nothing to do!" and thy Savior said,
'Follow thou me in the path I tread.'
"Lord, lend thy help the journey through,
Lest, faint, we cry, 'So much to do!'"

Scripture Answers.

The Young Reaper prints the following short catechism which is valuable enough to be committed to memory by the children and even the adults:

What have all men done?

"All have sinned and come short of the glory of God."

What is sin?

"Sin is the trangression of the law."

Then are you, too, a sinner?

"If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us."

What is the punishment for sin?

"The soul that sinneth, it shall die."

Is that a light thing?

"It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God."

Who fixed the punishment?

"The great God who formed all things."

Is there any possibility of your being overlooked?

"We shall all stand before the judgment seat of Christ."

Who alone can make a way to escape?

"I, even I, am the Lord; and beside me there is no Saviour."

Is there no other way?

"Neither is there salvation in any other; for there is none other name under heaven, given among men, whereby we must be saved."

What have we to do, in order to be saved?

"Repent ye, therefore, and be converted, that your sins may be blotted out."

How is this otherwise expressed?

"Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved."

What then becomes of our sins?

"The blood of Jesus Christ, his Son, cleanseth us from all sin."

What does this salvation consist [illegible]

"Whosoever believeth in Him [illegible] not perish, but have eternal [illegible]

[illegible] Jesus save all who come to [illegible]

in his carriage, mother? It's such a nice morning," she said.

"I should be so glad if you would!" said her mother.

The hat and sacque were brought, and the baby was soon ready for his ride.

"I'll keep him as long as he's good," said Maggie, "and you must lie on the sofa and take a nap while I am gone. You are looking dreadfully tired."

The kind words and the kiss that accompanied them were almost too much for the mother, and her voice trembled as she answered:

"Thank you, dear, it will do me a world of good, too. My head aches badly this morning."

What a happy heart was in Maggie's bossom as she trundled the little carriage up and down on the walk. She resolved to remember and act on her aunt's good word: "The very time to be helpful and pleasant is when everybody is tired and cross."—Well-Spring.

OUR SOUTHERN WORK.

TEXAS.

J. Mays, Cuero: "I am sorry to say religion with us this year, has been hindered with a scarcity of prayer. Times were very hard, and my people have not been able to do much towards building up; though I've been struggling with them, to do all I could. We had at the begining in Cuero, a few undrilled soldiers, and with them a church to build which appeared impossible. I felt that I was young and unexperienced in the work, but still while viewing its condition, I thought by faith and work it might be done. I called them together and asked this question: "If you had some one to lead, would you follow?" They answered. "We would;" though several said to me. You will never build a church in Cuero; for we have tried it too often. I thank God that I was too selfish to hear or be discouraged by such logic, but got my impulse stronger. And now, that doubt has been washed away, and a Methodist temple occupies its space. On the 22d of October, Rev. Jas. Henderson, and Father Rev. C. Mays, of Gonzales, preached for us, which resulted a day of joy in our new church. And we were blessed with raising the sum of $71 85; which amount was paid on the new building. Dear brethren, I pray God, that in the next conferance year, we can have the right man on the Cuero and Newhope work. I believe it can be made one of our best points; and hope it will not be neglected."

Mrs. Henrietta McCall corresponding secretary, from Bryan: We have formed an organization called the Woman's Christian's Home Missionary Society, for the training of young girls, and the care of widows and orphans especially; giving the boys any trade they desire. Bro. Thomas Cole is at the head, appointed special agent for the Texas district, and we think no better man could not have been selected. Our little Zion continues to move on, and grow spiritually and financially. Our pastor, Rev. W. Hamilton has worked very hard. We had a concert for the benefit of our society, Oct. 30. Addresses were delivered by Thomas Cole, and our pastor, Mrs. U. R. McCall, Miss Moseley, Mrs. L. Hamilton, Miss M. Minor, and Miss O. Diar, took [illegible] parts in the exercises. [illegible] have raised $26."

[illegible] Cole, Palestine: "Our [illegible] a very large one in [illegible] I have been trying to make it so. Have had 20 conversions and about 80 accessions. Sunday school increased from 20 to 82. We purchased a bell weighing 550 lbs, and we are building a parsonage. We got an organ for the young people. We are doing all we can for education. One of the children aged five years, cried because she did not have five cents to put in. The elder has been sick most of the time, and unable to do his work; he is sick now; I hope the church will pray for him. He is just living on medicine. Let Palestine district remember him and help him up, he is one not to be found every day."

S. J. White, Lodi: "The elder held our fourth quarterly conference. The church was crowded, Collection for elder $15 25. A storm at night blew out our lamps, but worship was continued by singing until the storm was over."

When Ladies are Attractive.
All ladies know their faces are more attractive when free from pimples. Parker's Ginger Tonic is popular among them, because it banishes impurities from blood and skin and makes the face glow and the eye sparkle with health.

Pat an old joker, and a Yankee more sly,
Once riding together, a gallows passed by;
Said the Yankee to Pat, "If I don't make too free, Give the gallows its due, and pray where would you be?"
"Why, honey," says Pat, "faith, that's easily known—
I'd be riding to town by myself all alone."

No medicine is half so good for a great variety of family complaints, as Ayer's Pills. They are easy to take, effective to cure, and are cheap and handy.

Dr. Day, of Boston, who has treated over 7,000 cases of inebriety, says that eight-tenths of them are the result of what began in wine and beer drinking. "Temperance drinks, you know!"

Happy Management.
"How do you manage," said a lady to her friend, "to appear so happy all the time?" "I always have Parker's Ginger Tonic handy," was the reply, "and this keep myself and family in good health and spirits." See Adv.

Ruskin remarks that youth is a period of building up in habits, hopes and faiths: "Not an hour but is trembling with destinies: not a moment once passed, of which the appointed work can ever be done again, or the neglected blow struck on the cold iron."

"Slow and steady wins the race." Steady, but not slowly. Kidney Wort is distancing all competition for universal popularity and usefulness. This celebrated remedy can now be obtained in the usual dry vegetable form, or in liquid form. It is put up in the latter way for the especial convenience of those who cannot readily prepare it. It will be found very concentrated and will act with equal efficiency in either form. Read advertisement.

Mr. Broadhead finds Congress a hard road to travel. It took an act of the Missouri Legislature to get him the nomination, and he is now seeking a writ of the Supreme Court to get him the certificate. Next, we presume, it will take the army and navy to get the seat for him.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

More universally recommended than any proprietary medicine made. A sure and reliable tonic, Brown's Iron Bitters.

A clergyman, observing a poor man in the road breaking stone with a pickaxe, and kneeling to get at his work better, made the remark, "Ah, John, I wish I could break the stony hearts of my hearers as readily as you are breaking those stones." The man replied, "Perhaps, master, you do not work on your knees."

No-man knows what an administering angel his wife is until he comes home one day, suffering with a dreadful Cold and she happens to have a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup in the house.

It is important to the church of Christ in each community that special revival efforts be made for the upbuilding of the unsaved. No effort which is begun and continued with reference to the glory of God can fail to produce good results. It is true, failures sometimes occur to the visible eye, and in the estimation of men, but in reality there has been much accomplished for God and humanity.

"My patients derive marked and decided benefit from it," says Professor J. M. CARNOCHAN, M. D., Professor Surgery, New York Medical College. For bad taste in the mouth, bad breath, heartburn, pain in stomach and bowels, flatulency, constipation, symptoms of dyspepsia and broken down digestion, it is invaluable. Also valuable in biliousness, malaria, debility, monthly suffering, liver complaints and sick headache. Beware of counterfeits.

FEVER and AGUE
Or CHILLS and FEVER.
AND ALL MALARIAL DISEASES.
The proprietor of this celebrated medicine justly claims for it a superiority over all remedies ever offered to the public for the SAFE, CERTAIN, SPEEDY and PERMANENT cure of Ague and Fever, or Chills and Fever, whether of short or long standing. He refers to the entire Western and Southern country to bear him testimony to the truth of the assertion that in no case whatever will it fail to cure if the directions are strictly followed and carried out. In a great many cases a single dose has been sufficient for a cure, and whole families have been cured by a single bottle, with a perfect restoration of the general health. It is, however, prudent, and in every case more certain to cure, if its use is continued in smaller doses for a week or two after the disease has been checked, more especially in difficult and long-standing cases. Usually this medicine will not require any aid to keep the bowels in good order. Should the patient, however, require a cathartic medicine, after having taken three or four doses of the Tonic, a single dose of BULL'S VEGETABLE FAMILY PILLS will be sufficient.
The genuine SMITH'S TONIC SYRUP must have DR. JOHN BULL'S private stamp on each bottle. DR. JOHN BULL only has the right to manufacture and sell the original JOHN J. SMITH'S TONIC SYRUP, of Louisville, Ky. Examine well the label on each bottle. If my private stamp is not on each bottle do not purchase, or you will be deceived.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER

Has been in constant use by the public for over twenty years, and is the best preparation ever invented for RESTORING GRAY HAIR TO ITS YOUTHFUL COLOR AND LIFE.
It supplies the natural food and color to the hair glands without staining the skin. It will increase and thicken the growth of the hair, prevent its blanching and falling off, and thus AVERT BALDNESS.
It cures Itching, Eruptions and Dandruff. As a HAIR DRESSING it is very desirable, giving the hair a silken softness which all admire. It keeps the head clean, sweet and healthy.
The State Assayer and Chemist of Mass. and leading Physicians endorse and recommend it as a great triumph in medicine.
BUCKINGHAM'S DYE FOR THE WHISKERS will change the beard to a BROWN or BLACK at discretion. Being in one preparation it is easily applied, and produces a permanent color that will not wash off.

Lost Friends.

DEAR EDITOR: I desire to inquire for my sister Martha, who was sold from us when about seven years old to a man who lived near Bolivar, Tenn., named Tom Boyle. At that time we all belonged to John Green, except father, who belonged to Nat Woods. Father was Granville, mother Dollie, brothers William, Granville, and Richmond the baby, sister Laura. We all went by the name of Norman. Father belonged to Tom Norman, who lived at Whiteville, Hardeman Co., Tenn. Grandfather was Squire Norman, grandmother, Jennie Norman. Mother and all the children except Sister Martha are here in Texas. I desire to find her. Pastors, please read this to your congregations. Address, at Austin, Texas, her brother,

DEAR EDITOR: I desire to find out the whereabouts of my daughter, Missouri Jackson. I left her in Franklin parish, Louisiana, in 1867 or 1868. She was a member of the Baptist church, but I am a Methodist. She was living with Thomas McCoy. My son, Neadam Jackson, went to Louisiana, and brought me to Texas with him in 1867 or 1868. I have two children here with me, Martha and Neadam. We all belong to John McIntosh. Husband was Silas Bryant. Address me, in care of James Loud, my son-in-law, at Anderson, Texas.

SYMPTOMS OF A DISEASED LIVER.
Pain in the right side, under edge of ribs increasing on pressure; sometimes the pain is on the left side; the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side; sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder and is sometimes taken for Rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; the bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternating with laxity; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled; his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low, and, although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it.
If you have any of the above symptoms you can certainly be cured by the use of the genuine DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS.
When you buy McLane's Pills, insist on having DR. C. McLANE'S CELEBRATED LIVER PILLS, made by Fleming Bros. Pittsburgh, Pa.
If you can not get the genuine DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, send us 25 cents by mail, and we will send them to you.

TRADE MARK
A WONDERFUL [illegible]d SCIENTIFIC DISCOVERY.
These Glasses are chemically treated in the process of manufacture, and possess the property of keeping your eyes in good condition, as when first you use them. They have been carefully examined and analysed by American and European oculists, who claim that the MEDICATED GLASSES have no equal, and can in some cases restore the sight if used in time, but in no case can the eye become impaired by their use for the following reasons:
1. The chemicals soften the light to the eye completely doing away with that tiresome sensation that is usually experienced in using glasses after one or two hours' use.
2. The chemicals make the glasses hard; they retain their polish. Hence you will always see through them as bright and clear as at first.
3. The chemicals keep the glasses cold, and the result is that the optic nerves are always cool, doing away with any feverish sensation to the eye.
4. With these glasses you can read, write or sew all night, the light having no effect on the eye, with no distressing or tiresome sensation, which necessarily improves the eye.

Kindly Greetings.

Rev. Dr. Hartzell and family, of New Orleans, have made Clifton Springs their home for several months, awaiting the recovery of Mrs. Hartzell from a protracted illness, from the effects of which she is still suffering extreme nervous prostration. The thirteenth anniversary of their marriage occurred the 14th inst, and although Mrs. Hartzell could not see any of her friends, many kind words and expressions of congratulation were sent to them. Among the happy incidents of the day was the reception of a beautiful boquet from Dr. and Mrs. Bugbee, accompanied with the following lines by Mrs. Bugbee:

To Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hartzell, on the Thirteenth Anniversary of their Wedding, Clifton Springs, N. Y.

A pleasant path, Oh, friends your feet have trod,
Since the fair bridal morn:
The path of duty is the path to God,
And therefrom, joys are born:

Joys that are fadeless, and remain secure
When all things pass away,
Treasures of memory, that grow bright and pure,
As roll the years away.

And in that path of duty ye have found
Life's blessings, rich and rare,
Love's tree of life with gracious fruitage crowned,
And buds of promise fair.

And so God speed to health and strength once more,
The wife and mother dear:
When the long day of patient waiting's o'er,
The sky beams blue and clear.

And grant to you full many a glad return,
Of this joy freighted day,
While still love's lighted vestals purely burn,
To light your onward way.

In Friendship Yours,
EMILY J. BUGBEE.

The General Missionary Committee to the Church.

The General Missionary Committee have concluded their session of November, 1882, called to provide for the wants of our mission fields in the following year. The Church entrusts to them a great responsibility. It is their duty to make a careful examination of the different fields, through representation of the superintendents and missionaries who are on the ground and constantly engaged in the work, or of the Bishops who have given the work personal inspection, or of the corresponding secretaries who have been throughout the year in frequent communication with the several fields and have a well digested knowledge of their wants.

With joy and gladness the Committee have learned of the good work accomplished during the past year. We record our grateful acknowledgments to Almighty God. We thank the Church. The year has been one of glorious achievement. The work has prospered in our mission fields, in many lands and languages, by the blessing of God upon the labors of our missionaries. The new song has been sung by our converts. With hardly one exception our fields of work have broadened their financial basis, and deepened their spiritual life. But the [illegible] feature of the year is the increased [illegible] of our people, from which we [illegible] received [illegible],000 in [illegible] of the [illegible] a [illegible] more [illegible] than the re[illegible] While the [illegible] the have lost our place in the heart of the Church. The Society is doing vastly more in the saving work for which she was created than ever before.

When, however, we consider the wants of the work both at home and abroad, we find that they are almost unlimited. They are as great as is man's need of salvation. It is the Church that must provide for these spiritual wants of the world. The Church exists for this purpose. This is her constant duty and constant privilege. She provides the men and the resources. Our Church lays the treasure which she consecrates to strengthening the weak places of Zion and enlightening the dark places of the earth annually before the General Committee. How inadequate at best must be the amount offered to meet the appeals that come up to us. The great burden of the Committee is the restraint imposed upon advance by the limit of the resources. But when the contributions themselves advance in a way to give good promise for the future, their joy and inspiration lighten the task.

We plead for continued, steady advance, with no step backward, until at least one million dollars are annually placed in the treasury. We must earnestly appeal to the whole Church, pastors, missionary committees and people, that special efforts be made to disseminate intelligence on the subject of missions through the plan provided in our discipline, by the monthly missionary prayer meetings, by district missionary meetings, by co-operative platform meetings, and the hearty presentation of the work by pastors and Sunday-school superintendents. Such missionary activity is healthy spiritual life in the Church. That will make the Church strong. That will build up God's kingdom.

An examination of the annual receipts and disbursements of the Missionary Society, reveals the fact that in 1879 our receipts were $557,000. For the year to come, with unwavering confidence in the ability and willingness of the church, we have appropriated $758,949. Surely every Methodist must rejoice that Methodism, born in poverty, and so successful in the work of Home Missions from its beginning, is rapidly taking an honorable place among the great Missionary Societies of the world. We are persuaded that our people, generous in spirit, enterprising in character and heroic in action, need only to see a duty in order to respond to the obligation. We rejoice that the efforts which have borne such good fruit in the treasury have nothing spasmodic in their character. The facts in the case, the wants of the fields, have been presented, and reliance placed upon the conscience of the people. We hope for still larger results from such efforts.

We turn from the faithful supporters of this, the greatest of all causes, to consider the fact that of our membership of more than 1,700,000, nearly 1,000,000 can hardly be said to be represented in this work. We call upon these to listen to the last and supreme command of our ascending Lord, "Go ye into all the world and preach the Gospel," and to heed the conclusion of common loyalty, "We must go or send." Of our 26,528 Sunday Schools. 7626 have not contributed a penny for this work. If our Sunday School superintendents and teachers, who are entrusted largely with the moral and religious training of the 750,000 non-contributing scholars, will do their duty to these children only moderately well in presenting this cause and educating the schools to become supporters of missions for the present and the future, how great results might, we hope, soon be reached. Even $10 from each of these Sunday Schools would bring in more money than the entire church is now giving for the salvation of the great Empire of China with its 400,000,000 people.

We appeal to our presiding elders and pastors to secure a contribution from each member for this work, and from each Sunday School a monthly collection. We call upon the great host of our generous contributors to continue with increasing liberality their well directed efforts to bring this world to the Redeemer. In this [illegible] thousands of you will have [illegible] opportunity to help the [illegible] work. God says, [illegible] children of Israel [illegible]."

West Texas Conference Seminary.

Mr. Editor:—As I have succeeded so grandly in raising what I promised to raise for our Conference Seminary, I will show to the readers of our noble and newsy SOUTHWESTERN how I achieved victory on this line, and who it is that assisted in this grand achievement, by here inserting the name and amount of each cash subscriber. As I have three different lists this one must be styled the San Antonio list, and is as follows: S. Evans, local preacher, $5; Martha Perkins, $5; Delia Selby, $5; A. McGraw, $5; Mary Jackson, $5; J. T. Haywood, $5; Edward Garretson, $5; Louisa Brooks, $5; R. W. Wallace, late of San Antonio, now of Sturgis City, sends $10; Mr. Anderson Harris, my old army comrade, now of the police force, $5; George Brooks, $1; Mary Garretson, $2; Matilda Breckenridge, 50 cents; Phœbe Childs, 50 cents, Lizzie Vandrose, $1; Clarenda Vandrose, 50 cents; Mattie Vandrose, $1.50; Andrew Spencer, 50 cents; Sarah J. Spencer, 50 cents; Pauline J. Lewis, $2.50; Katie Jackson, 50 cts; Benjamin Bailey, $1; Samuel Henderson, $2.50; Joseph Howard, $2; Mary Reed, $1; Amanda Lawrence, $2; Sarah Johnson, 50 cents; Emeline Demand, $1; Rutha J. Jackson, $1; Margaret Ellis, $1; William Mason, $1; Pollie Richardson, 50 cents; Emeline Slaughter, $1; Cyntha Weeks, $1; Callie L. Lewis, 50 cents; Harriet Crow, $2; Susan Wells, $1; Geo. Wools, $1; James Westmoreland, $2; Samuel Harper, $1; Gracy Vandrose, $1; Leander Johnson, 50 cents; W. W. Grimes, 25 cents; E. S. Austin, 25 cents; W. R. Patterson, 25 centz; James Young, 50 cents; Georgiana Lowe, $1; Virginia Rogers, $1; J. C. Thompson, $2.50; Indiana Demand, $1; Thos. Barney, 25 cents; Annie Mosely, $1; Mrs. Sarah Caldwell, late of San Antonio, now of Fort Davis, $2. Just as soon as the school teachers in bounds of the District pay their subscriptions we will publish their list. Victoria list will be paid this and the next week.

The quarterly conference at Gonzales was largely attended, and there has been a marked improvement in the circuit since last quarter. The stewards and class leaders made full and encouraging reports. The Sunday-school Superintendents could not report favorably of the Sunday-schools. A committee was appointed and instructed to look after the Sunday-school interest. We left this point for Lone Oak, after being assured that every cent of Conference school and benevolent money would be collected.

At Lone Oak we met pastor and members of the quarterly conference, and business was dispatched in a way satisfactory to all. Here we have the best Sunday-school to be found anywhere between San Antonio, Victoria and Goliad. Together with the unceasing effort of the pastor and Superintendent Archie Duke, the influence of that inestimable lady, Miss Fannie N. Harper, who is the exponent of every means to elevate her race, is felt. Her hand and heart were recently won by Mr. J. H. Crawford, an excellent young man, who may feel proud of his noble prize.

At all points "Committees on Church Music" are appointed, and fully instructed to do away with, and get rid of, as speedily as possible, those ill-rhymed ditties usually sung at every camp and revival meeting, or these meetings must come to a shameful end. We recommend our Hymnal, and hymn-books must be used or divine worship will continue to suffer painful loss. Those ditties are not of the Flowers of Divine Truth that become still more bright beneath our gaze, daily emitting fresh odors and yielding new sweets. They are not sung for the Lord Jesus, but for Satan's sake. Yours truly,

M. HENSON.

Letter From Baton Rouge.

Dear Editor:—We have had a great revival in Baton Rouge, which commenced September 17th, and resulted in great good for the Redeemer and his kingdom. It added 116 persons to the church, viz: 40 converts, 25 backsliders and 51 joined on probation; and they are now earnestly asking the prayers of the church in working out their soul's salvation.

Sunday, November 5th, was set apart as a day of baptizing, and the church prayed earnestly for the blessings of the Lord to visit them on that occasion. On Sunday morning we had prayer-meeting commence at 4 o'clock, and at 11 o'clock a general speaking-meeting was well attended. The love of the Lord was manifested greatly with the members; after which Elder Hudson and the young converts marched in ranks to the great waters of the Mississippi. The banks of the river were crowded to witness the baptizing of 9 persons by immersion and 10 by sprinkling. The people repaired to their several homes to partake of their meals and to prepare for the evening church at 3 o'clock. Then a fine, logical and impressive sermon was preached by our pastor, Rev. J. W. Hudson. After preaching the classes formed, and with their leaders, had a happy time, followed by a good class collection, which amounted to $10 70.

Sunday night was set apart as a communion time for the church and the young converts. That feast was the finest scene of my life. All of the converts were dressed in white, with white wreaths upon their heads, and 40 in number surrounded the altar. The choir formed behind them and began singing one of the sweet songs of Zion. The whole church was animated and rejoicing. The collection for the day to pay church expenses amounted to $30.

Our church in Baton Rouge stands second to none in the State spiritually or financially. The average attendance of our Sunday-school is 102. It is doing a grand work for the cause of missions, and will not fall behind any school in the Conference at its next sitting. We have a fine corps of teachers. Our pastor has charge of the Bible class, assisted by Miss Mary Anderson and Miss Fanny Robertson. The "Reapers" class is headed by Mrs. Kennedy; the "Gleaners" are headed by mother Hester Williams.

We have a home-mission school, which was commenced on the first Monday in September, taught by Miss Fanny Robertson. It has an average attendance of 29 scholars. Our pastor is not leaving a stone unturned in advocating the cause of the SOUTHWESTERN.

I remain your bro. in the Lord,
WM. DUPLESIS,
Recording Steward,

Baton Rouge, Nov. 7, 1882.

[We are glad to learn that Bro. Hudson is advocating the cause of this paper. Our correspondent says he is doing so, but our books show only two subscribers and almost no money received from the Baton Rouge charge this year. We expected something better from the capital city church.—Ed. S. W. C. A.]

Letter From Victoria.

Mr. Editor:—The year has thus far passed off very nicely. In the midst of a great deal of hard work we have had some pleasant times. I began my work at this place soon after Conference. The first work done was to repair the parsonage, which cost $74.80. In March we had a protracted meeting, which resulted in 23 conversions. We cannot say much in regard to the number of conversions, but financially we have done very well. Our fourth quarterly conference was held on the 18th and 19th inst.; a glorious time. Rev. M. Henson gave us some able talks. The reports were all good. On Sunday night 125 came forward and partook of the Lord's Supper. On Monday night we had a grand old-fashioned love-feast, in which many witnessed for the Lord.

The following are the amounts that have been raised this year on the work: For preacher, $360 65; for building and improving, $74 80; for benevolent purposes, $78 95; for fuel, lamps, etc., $13 70; sexton this year, $46 50, for presiding elder, $91 80; for sick, $26 35; for the Sunday-school, $10; total for the year, up to date, $702 75. I have been able to preach 104 sermons this year, made 64 pastoral visits, and baptized 8 adults and 18 infants. Received 20 in full connection; excluded 4 from the church. The church and Sunday-school are doing fairly well at present. I can say for the people of Victoria, they will take care of the preachers and teachers stationed among them, and pay every dollar they are assessed. They say they will pay their assessments and build them a new house for worship next year. Brethren, pray for us.

A Letter From Oxford.

Mr. Editor:—Bishop Foss having appointed me to this charge January, 1881, I found things looking somewhat unfavorable for my success. I preached my introductory sermon to a large congregation, taking for a text, "He that loveth not knoweth not God, for God is love." Two weeks having passed Elder Bradford held my first quarterly meeting. Collection after preaching was $8.

The Baptist church having burned the day before my arrival, two congregations occupied our church, thereby making things a little inconvenient. I then went to Grenada to assist Bro. S. H. Cowan in his meeting, which lasted two weeks, with a result of thirteen converts. I then returned to Oxford, and began a protracted meeting, with the assistance of Rev. S. H. Cowan and Rev. H. W. Bowen. The effort continued three weeks, with seven converts. I was then informed that there was an opportunity to organize a church in Water Valley. Upon examining the property for a church situation, I found that the lot was excellent. After consulting with my presiding elder I made preparation to buy the lot for the sum of $400. By disagreement between the elder and myself we failed to purchase the property.

There was a grand Sunday-school celebration July 4, 1881, conducted by the Rev. J. G. Johnson, on the College Hill circuit, with about 3,000 present. The occasion was quite grand. A second quarterly conference was held July 30, Elder L. Bradford presiding. After the elder preached a fine sermon, a collection of $25 was taken up. My protracted meeting began the first of August, and continued five weeks, with a result of five converts. Feeling that I had made a failure I, by his request, assisted Rev. J. G. Johnson, of the College Hill circuit, and preached to a large congregation remaining with him 12 days. We had 31 converts. Having returned to Oxford, I went to Summit, and found Bro. Cook with a sick member. Leaving there, I arrived at Columbia, and found Rev. James Ford and Rev. P. Harris engaged in preaching the funeral of Bro. J. H. Williams. Remaining there (my old home) one week, I then went to China Grove; found Bro. Edwards and his congregation working for Christ. After remaining there two weeks, I returned to Oxford, and found one of my members dead, the funeral being attended by Rev. S. A. Cowan. After the expiration of two months the time arrived for the District Conference at Holly Springs. Leaving there I went to the Annual Conference at Aberdeen. After the adjournment I returned to Oxford in January, 1882, and made out the following religious programme for the year: Sunday-school begins 9:30 a.m., and closes at 11 a.m.; services 11:30 a.m., and 3:30 p.m. The following brethren conducting the prayer-meetings in the various parts of the city: "No. 1, north of town, Hiram Borum; No. 2, east, Allen Rivers; No. 3, south, Mac Williams; No. 4, west, Henry Gonsby; No. 5, M. E. Church, Mark Morant. I shall join the brethren in conducting their meetings at least once a month, and we ask the prayers of Christians that we may do much good in our attempt to do the will of the Master."

April 4, I began a protracted meeting again, and closed with 62 converts and 59 accessions to the church. I then went to Holly Springs circuit, and spent one week with Rev. I. B. Griffin. Sept. 28, I again began a meeting, which continued four weeks, having 50 converts and 37 accessions to the church. The following old men being among the number: Gilbert Burney, aged 60; Henry Thompson, 62; Andrew Boone, 50; Vince Hunter, 60 years. Immediately after, the following collections were taken up: October 1, 1882, $15; From members, October 8, $29.05; Converts, October, 1882, $10.05; sinners, $3; October 15, $20.50; October 22, $12.30.

My fourth quarterly conference was held October 28, and on Sunday Elder Bradford addressed the Sabbath-school; after which we held love-feast. We had a manifestation of the Spirit. The elder preached at 3 o'clock, after which a collection of $21 was taken up. At night Elder Bradford preached to a large congregation and administered the Lord's Supper to 170 persons, and took a collection of $14. Total collection for the month of October, $111.85.

The Acquisition of Property our Privilege and our Duty.

BY OSCAR LANDRY.

Until 1865 our race, dating their enfranchisement from that year, were not property holders. Our labor went to enrich others, but now the fruits of our toil are our own. No people have ever attained eminence who were not landholders. The Anglo-Saxons, Teutons and Norsemen trace the beginning of their rare distinction to this fact; and if our race has a future, honorable and successful, in fair and generous rivalry with other races, it must imitate these historic examples. Therefore, by the highest sanctions, we claim it to be our privilege to own property, especially real estate, regardless of a man's occupation in life.

There is no reason why a common laborer cannot own his homestead. It matters very little what kind of labor he is engaged in, he has this cheering hope before him and if he labors diligently, he will in the space of a few toiling but hopeful years, command a farm of his own and say of his home, this is mine, the purchase of my own toil and self-denial. There is an immense tract of acres requiring cultivation throughout this great commonwealth, under the control of the government and within the means of the smallest capitalist. It is our privilege to purchase and fertilize it, and why should we not avail ourselves of this ennobling privilege. The question may be propounded, how are we to accomplish such a useful and essential end? Let us remember that no race ascends the ladder of notoriety which cannot compete with other races in the markets of the world. It is our privilege to cling to all we acquire honorably—so far as extravagance and luxury are concerned—as the miser clings to his gold. Then let us labor with this aim in life and foster it with lofty aspirations. There is only needful persistent, earnest, unwearied, self-denying economy. With this is brought in requisition the vital subject of education, the fountain head of all true eminence.

The acquisition of property is not only a privilege, but it is a duty we owe to ourselves. It is the duty of every man to secure for himself real estate, a plantation if possible, an acre if he can acquire no more, at least a humble cottage with its gardens baptized with the blessed name of home. Most men confess the importance of this truth, but few lay it seriously to heart. Except in the departments of material progress, it seems to be accepted practically as a great truth.

We are in the vigor of youth, notwithstanding our growth has been checked by the oppressions and race distinctions of the past, and our constitution enfeebled by the vices and maltreatment applied to our progenitors. But, thank heaven, the bondsman has ceased to exist and the freeman has become a living and mighty force in society and the State. Within our territory, stretching through many degrees of latitude and longitude, we have the choice of pursuits requiring both common and skilled labor, many means and avenues of independence. The government is mild; the press is free; religion is free; knowledge reaches or may reach every home. What fairer prospect of success could be presented? What menus means more adequate could assist us in accomplishing such a sublime and vital end? Poor men can ascend to greatness and fortune and become men of respectability and honor if they are intelligent and industrious. We are American citizens; we may take highest rank as the peers of the noblest and best; we belong to a great and powerful nation. No matter where we are—let it be across the beautiful blue waters in China or Japan, or on the continent of Europe—we have at our backs the American navy, the American flag, our National ægis to protect us.

This privilege has been accorded us by the highest constitutional sanctions. Therefore, I adjure you, procure for yourselves property, real estate, a homestead; become landholders. Then, and not until then, shall we be able to emulate those historic examples which illustrate the triumph of dominant races. On looking back over the career of men distinguished in art, science and literature, we see at once that it is not by any special event or turning point of life, but the spirit and aim and work of life that the value of such men's lives are estimated.

Let the scientific man pass his life according to the Baconian ideal, in industrious observations and profitable inventions and discourses and in the practical results of science, and he will have won his place in the world's esteem and gratitude. The lessons taught by our survey are the simple lessons of thoughtfulness and activity and perseverance, nobility of aim and motive of life. Any moment of real success, however brilliant, passes off and imparts life to the ordinary current of thought and activity. The keenest delights, such men would tell us, are in the exercise of one's faculties and powers, the feeling that their lives are devoted to the highest purposes. The delight of the artist in his work is something more than its praises or its prizes. Even so it is in the power of every one of us to have the keenest pleasure of high endeavor. Those who cannot command success may at least deserve it. The freedmen of Georgia, according to the testimony of Alexander H. Stephens, pay revenue on five millions of dollars value of real estate; those of Kentucky pay revenue on three millions; South Carolina shows even a better record than this, and in our own State of Louisiana our people, including the Creoles and those always freemen, pay revenue on twenty-five millions. When this twenty-five millions shall, by honest labor and natural accretion, amount to a hundred millions, in like proportion will be augmented the influence, the moral and intellectual force accorded to our race.

The Violation of the Sabbath.

Ministers of Christ must lift up their voices against the violators of the Sabbath, the day of rest for fallen humanity. It is written upon the pagess of Holy Writ, "Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy." A Lutheran pastor of this city violated the Sabbath—giving a pic-nic for his congregation on that day. If this is right for a minister to do, then I ask why is it wrong for others? What shall we do to stop such rebellion against heaven and the book divine? We sing "A charge to keep I have, a God to glorify." This charge was given by Jesus, and our garments must be unspotted from the sinful world and its sinful seductions. God grant that the day may come when everything like sin will be brought into subjection by pure doctrines emanating from the Methodist pulpit. We look to the SOUTHWESTERN to continue its evangelizing, renovating Christian influence, and ministers of the Gospel must give it earnest support in its missionsionary mission.

R. C. BARROW.

New Orleans, La.

General Chalmers, of Mississippi, has had to take a very bitter dose of his own medicine, and loses his seat in Congress by a disreputable trick on the part of his opponents, which is very simlar to one he himself played two years ago, and by which he obtained a seat at that time. It appears that some unauthorized person wrote across the tally-sheet for one of the counties a few lines to the effect that in that county J. R. Chambless had received 1,472 votes. On the front side of the sheet were the regular returns, signed by the Board of Election, giving Chalmers that number of votes. The Secretary of State had the audacity to recognize the forgery as official and repudiate the regular returns, counting 1,472 votes for Chambless instead of Chalmers, thus giving Manning, the regular Democratic nominee, a majority in the district and the certificate of election. This is simply retribution. Two years ago Mr. Chalmers secured a certificate of election by persuading this same Secretary of State to throw out several thousand votes for Jno. R. Lynch, the colored Republican who opposed him, on the ground that Lynch's ballots bore the imprint of a printer's dash, as the law forbid the use of any cut or design by which the tickets of one party could be distinguished from those of the other. The offending dash was such a one as is used under the titles of articles, but was enough to make Chalmers a Congressman, and the lessons he then taught are now being used to his discomfiture.

Tennessee Conference.

We left New Orleans, Nov. 20th, for Brownsville, Tennessee, via the the Louisville and Nashville Railroad. The traveler will find its bed smooth, the cars elegant and airy, the conducters and porters gentlemanly and attentive. Most of the country through which it passes is rich and productive, and the scenery delightful. Brownsville is in northern Tennessee, about five hundred miles from New Orleans, and two hundred and fifty from Nashville. It has about three thousand inhabitants.

Most of the churches are plain and substantial, with but little display of architecture and adornments, that of the M. E. Church South, being the largest in the city. We saw no special evidence of great wealth, but most everybody seemed healthy, smiling and happy. The Tennessee Conference held its sixteenth annual session in this city. Bishop Warren presided and conducted the business much like a recently patented hammer that is said to pick up the nail and drive it every time in the right place, never bruising a finger or bending or breaking the nail. He presides as he does everything else, well. The preachers were all amazed at the amount of work done each day, and done too with so little noise. He made but few speeches, and never once referred to personal history or exploits. His address to the class to be received into full connection, was to the class and not to the audience.

Thursday night, an educational meeting was held and speeches were made by Dr. Braden, president of the Central Tennessee College, Dr. Stowe, one of the agents of the Western Book Concern, the Bishop and the writer. The speech of the Bishop for greatness, grasp, comprehension, and expression of thought, we have seldom seen excelled.

This Conference is composed of a noble class of men. Dr. Braden is a keen, able man; mild yet always decided, with a face gentle as summer evenings. His hair is sprinkled a little with gray, of which grayness, however, there is not a jot in his composition. No man in the conference is more popular, or more deservedly so. Presiding elders Pickett, Key and Price are royal good men, giving their entire time and attention to their work. Each man had held his four quarterly conferences at all the points on his district. Neither one of these men use tobacco, in fact, there is not a member of this conference that makes the least use of the weed. The reports of the presiding elders showed that over fifteen hundred had been converted to God during the year. A clean gospel, preached by men with pure hearts and clean mouths, has in all the ages had the blessing of the Lord upon it. "Be ye clean that bear the vessels of the Lord," is the divine command. The love feast Sabbath morning was a holy hour, a pentecost of blessings seldom equalled. The house was full of the good spirit, and all knew it. Preachers shouted as they had a right to, and men who had attended to what this world calls rough and hard places, and had received from twenty to six hundred dollars for cultivating Emanuel's land, forgot all their toil in the glory of that hour. The love feast was followed by a sermon from the Bishop, full of lofty and fervid sentiment. Again the people shouted, being overcome by the sacred influence in the house. The sermon was followed by the ordination of the Deacons. In the afternoon, the writer delivered an exhortation, and the Bishop, assisted by Dr. Braden and Bro. Key ordained the elders.

Monday morning the conference met at half-past eight. A large number of reports were read, discussed, modified and adopted. Highly complimentary resolutions endorsing and making the SOUTHWESTERN their conference paper, were unanimously adopted.

The book of fate was opened, the appointments read, and each man seemed delighted with his own field of labor. Their personal kindness to the writer has enabled him to write a new chapter of love in his heart, and created a debt of gratitude which will take long years to pay. May the benediction of the Lord rest upon this band of noble workers.

Of the ninety or one hundred Chinese in the city, twenty-two are members of the Chinese Sunday school, under the direction of the American Board of Missions, which holds regular sessions every Sunday afternoon at No. 40 Liberty street. Tampering with Election Returns.

The country is familiar with the South Carolina and Mississippi methods of conducting elections after the polls have closed. These methods are not unfamiliar to Louisianians. It has been believed by some that special Bourbon emergencies, were being served by the criminal caprices of returning officers, and after the complete suppression of all National effort for the protection of citizenship, except the vague and mythical presence of ribboned United States deputy marshals at Congressional counts, the beauties of local self-government would become apparent, and sectional frictions and agitations would subside. Such hopes have fallen far short of realization.

A few days ago the good people of the city of New Orleans read their morning papers, only to discover that within a territory of about thirteen miles long and two miles deep, the residence of 215,000 people, not a single candidate outside the regular Democratic nominees was elected to any one of the numerous offices of the municipality. It was very much like the elections held from the Potomac to the Rio Grande, until Mahone formed the coalition in Virginia. It was decidedly too unanimous in one direction to give promise of wholesome results in the way of salutary legislation and popular content. The Independent combination were not satisfied with the face of the returns, and began a minute inspection of the records, just as Congress has done in many cases brought to its attention. A clerk of a city court denied the committee the privilege of examining the election records; a judge favored them with an order to allow inspection, and it was straightway discovered that important parts of the records had been stolen. They have not been discovered, but continued, inquiry has demonstrated that several members of the City Council were counted in by returning officers and never elected by the people. The city press denounces the outrage. An evening or two since we read a spirited discourse on the subject of the great danger to the morals of the commonwealth arising from the frequency and boldness of tampering with election returns. Prominent citizens, cognizant of frauds, have so little faith in local law or local ruler, that they will not sign statements for fear valuable time will be lost in giving testimony in the courts; while one paper admits that ballot box stuffing is not a penal offense in Louisiana, although some thirteen election commissioners may be indicted for perjury.

While a united city press was demanding the prompt punishment of these guilty officials, the intelligence of strange doings at the State capital was flashed across the wires. The State canvassers compiled the returns of the Third Congressional district. They threw out the vote of two Republican parishes, St. Mary and Assumption, which had given the Republican candidate 1130 and 1891 majority respectively, and yet found that he had received about 2000 majority in the district. The Democratic returning officer of St. Mary telegraphed that the election was fair, the compilation of the vote was correct, but the State officials disregarded it. Of what avail is it for Bourbons to possess an arbitrary power, and not exercise it? Then Gov. McEnery, not restrained by any executive power with which he is clothed by even reckless Bourbon law; or an order or legal process of any character; and in disregard of Art. 1, Sec. 5, of the National Constitution, which says: "Each house shall be the judge of the election returns, and qualifications of its own members," capped the climax, by obstinately refusing to issue the usual certificate of election to Hon. W. P. Kellogg, the choice of the majority of the voters of the Third District. The Governor assumed, in order to play his part in a pre-arranged conspiracy to defraud Mr. Kellogg, that the duty devolved upon him to inquire into judicial questions concerning alleged non-residence of Mr. Kellogg in the district or State, when he knew well that Congress was the only tribunal authorized by law to decide those points. His object in refusing to issue the certificate was plainly to give vent to partisan spleen, and to compel a congressman elect to await the pleasure of an incoming Democratic Congress for admission. When the chief executive of the State, and his associates in office, do not hesitate to so attempt to overthrow the voice of the people expressed at the ballot box, what can be expected of their minor satellites, who have made and will continue to make popular elections in Louisiana, the simple decrees of the political party in power? Whatever may be the errors or shortcomings of Mr. Kellogg, he is entitled to a trial before his peers on any and all charges brought against him; and were he guilty of crimes as black as midnight, the fact could not be plead in extenuation of the lawlessness of the Louisiana Governor, by which he has sought to gain a partisan advantage. Such deeds will react upon their authors, and Gov. McEnery will not hear the last of this Kellogg case for some days.

The Labor Organizations of New Orleans.

The Central Trade and Labor Assembly of New Orleans, a representative organization, composed of accredited delegates from every one of the many trade and labor associations in this city, celebrated its first anniversary on Saturday, November 25th, in one of the grandest parades that ever appeared in the streets of New Orleans. Every association under the Central Trade and Labor Assembly participated in the grand display. Fully 5000 strong, manly, intelligent, and happy looking men were in the line of march, following beautiful flags and banners, and keeping time with the happy strains of delightful melodies and national airs. The unanimous opinion of all, whose good fortune it was to see the parade, seems to be, that for number and splendid appearance, the display has seldom, if ever, been equalled in this city. It was grand in many ways; but in no particular did it appear to better advantage, and reflect so much grandeur as in the recognition of colored as well as white societies as equals, and in the manifest rigid exclusion of anything bordering upon caste, or color prejudice. The celebration was model in this respect. To gaze upon these representatives of every trade, and of every shade of colors, following each other, each division sandwiched between the other, in its proper place, and marshalled by white and colored officers, with positions according to official rank, without discrimination on account of race or previous condition, was very gratifying and afforded a sight not soon to be forgotten. For the parade the Times-Democrat has many enthusiastic words of praise. Of the colored divisions it says: "They were a representative body of men of their race, intelligent looking, strong and hardy * * * in their neat dress suits they made a fine appearances. With due admiration for the banners, or general appearance of all the other associations it speaks thus flatteringly of the banner of the Longshoremen's Protective Union, a colored organization: "The banner of this association attracted much attention because of the beauty of its design and its elegant finish."

Our poor people who have been despondent, may well take courage. They are not to be, and will not be forever ignored, despised and abused on account of their color or previous condition. This display of men brought close together by identity of purpose and interests, satisfies us of this fact, more than any political or ecclesiastical circumstance which has transpired for years. The advanced, liberal and sensible policy adopted by our laboring associations in this matter was in striking contrast with the antiquated, contracted and foolish prejudice which allowed the Philadelphians to ignore or deny to colored artisans and laborers, the right to participate in their recent processions and celebration commemorating the bi-centennial anniversary of the landing of William Penn in Pennsylvania. Is it not somewhat parodoxical that in such a matter as this New Orleans should outstrip Philadelphia, and that the laboring fraternity should be ahead of many Christian (!) churches in ignoring race prejudice, and recognizing a man for his worth, and upon the grounds of identity of interest? God bless the Central Trade or Labor Assembly of New Orleans. May it live a long and happy life of usefulness.

Facts and figures sometimes tell strange stories. Read the following and draw your own conclusions. The Central Tennessee Conference (white) contributed for all benevolent causes of the church eight cents per member, and paid towards the salaries of their preachers thirty-nine cents per member. The Tennessee Conference (colored) contributed for all benevolent objects fourteen cents per member, and paid towards the support of their preachers, one dollar and eight cents per member. The Central Tennessee Conference for all church purposes contributed the enormous sum of forty-seven cents per member, while the Tennessee, contributed one dollar and twenty-two cents per member.

Gen. O'Neal, governor of Alabama, was inaugurated on the 1st.

Tennessee Annual Conference

The seventeenth session of this Conference was held in Brownsville, Tennessee, beginning on Thursday, Nov. 23d, and closing on Monday the 27th. Bishop H. W. Warren presided, and by his genial manner, kind words, wise counsels, careful looking after the interests of the work, stirring and eloquent addresses, won all hearts; and although the usual resolutions of thanks were passed, they had no more expressed in them than was felt by the members of the Conference.

J. Braden was elected Secretary. S. P. Bell, J. W. Pickett, M. Williams and C. E. Sewell, assistants.

There have been no deaths in the conference during the past year. None located, withdrawn or expelled. One case was referred to the Presiding Elder for investigation. James F. K. Moreland, Junius S. Sinclair, John W. Hall, George Sanford, Albert P. Blakemore and George C. Harden were admitted on trial. Stephen B. Bell, Green N. Johnson, Burford L. Whitley and Henry Dunlap, were admitted into full connection. Thos. Belcher, Chas. L. Field, James F. K. Moreland, Junius S. Sinclair, James A. Samuels, George C. Harden and Albert P. Blakemore, were ordained as local preachers.

No local preachers were ordained who were not expected to take regular work in the Conference. There was quite a general expression that ordained local preachers are often impediments in the way of the pastors, and there was quite an opposition to ordaining local preachers unless in cases of very marked need.

No local Elders were ordained. The class of the fourth year, Pompey Brooks, Geo. W. House, Wm. C. Miller, Charles E. Sewell and Frank R. S. Summerhill were graduated in the course of study and elected to Elder's orders.

B. B. Manson and Jos. Smith were made supernumerary preachers. John Seay, LaFayette Chapman, Henry Burns and Martin Morrison, were continued on the superanuated list. The Conference has been aided during the year by Brother John Seay to the amount of several thousand dollars, by which churches have been built, debts on others paid, and a donation of twenty-five dollars given to the Central Tennessee College to aid in building the house for the model school. In acknowledging these gifts the Conference adopted the following:

Resolved, That we tender to Rev. John Seay, an honored superannuated member of this Conference, our grateful acknowledgments for the donations he has bestowed on the churches in the bounds of this conference through the Presiding Elders of the Nashville and Murfreesboro Districts, by which several churches have been greatly relieved, and the work of God advanced.

Resolved, That we highly approve his plan of being his own executor in making liberal donations to the educational and benevolent work of the church while he is living and can direct those gifts himself.

Resolved, That we rejoice in his zeal for the temperance cause, for very largely we are indebted to him for the fact that there is not in this Conference a member who habitually uses either intoxicating liquor or tobacco.

Resolved, That while we sympathize deeply with Bro. Seay in his affliction, by which he has been confined to his house very closely for over two years, we rejoice that he has been so free from suffering; and in the slow but steady improvement which has marked the progress of his recovery, we have hope under the Divine blessing he may be spared yet for years of usefulness by his means, his counsels and his prayers.

Eli Provine was transferred to the East Tennessee Conference, and appointed presiding elder of the Chattanooga District. Green N. Johnson was transferred to the Little Rock Conference and stationed at Forest City. Geo. Baber also to the same Conference. Julius J. Holland to the Lexington Conference, and J. W. E. Bowen to the New England Conference.

Dover, Stewart county, was selected as the place of holding the next Conference. This is on the extreme northern limit of the Conference, and is on the Cumberland river, but thirteen miles from any railroad, with mud roads nearly impassible in winter. The Conference felt a little happy at the time of voting and thought of the generous offer of the people of Dover, who proposed to carry all who come free. The free ride was so attractive, that although a more inconvenient and unsuitable place could hardly be found, the Conference voted for it with a rush. If the river should be high enough for boats to ran the place can be reached by water, only it is a slow and somewhat uncertain means of travel. Should the weather prove unfavorable the experiment of going so far off the lines of travel will not be tried again soon by the Tennessee Conference.

The collections are, for Missions, $559.35; Freedmen's Aid, $177.10; Church Extension, $100; Sunday-school Union, $30.75; Tracts, $9.80; American Bible Society, $10.10; Conference Claimants, $12.45; Education, $38.21; Women's Foreign Missions, $6.20; Women's Home Missions, $2.10. The statistics show an increase of over five hundred members and probationers. The members of the Conference paid $32 on the endowment fund of the Central Tennessee College, and subscribed nearly $200 additional. They also became responsible for over $300 of indebtedness on the church building where the Conference was held. The Conference was elegantly entertained by the citizens of Brownsville. The pulpits of the churches were filled by the members of the Conference. The pastor of the M. E. Church, South, tendered his pulpit, which was filled by Rev. Dr. Stowe, Assistant Book Agent at Chicago, in the morning, and at night by Bishop Warren. The Bishop's sermon will not soon be forgotten as a masterly presentation of the great Christian principle embraced in the words, "Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ." Nor will the prayer of the pastor, who, it is supposed, took exceptions to some things said in the sermon, as it showed the bitterness of spirit in him, in utterance that greatly surprised many if not all of his congregation. After the prayer the doxology was sung and he pronounced the benediction and, without hardly speaking to the bishop, left him to make his own way out of the church with the friends who were not in so great a hurry. The session was a very pleasant one, and the outlook most hopeful for the future. The number of churches which are to be built the coming year is an excellent indication of solid prosperity.

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 30th, 1882.

PERSONAL.

—Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes has resigned the Parkman professorship of anatomy in the medical school, at Harvard University.

—While attending the Tennessee Conference, we had the pleasure of meeting with Dr. Stowe, one of the agents of the Western Book Concern. Dr. Stowe is a native of New Hampshire, his parents moved there when he was a boy about ten or twelve years old. He is a graduate of one of our Western colleges, and is now about fifty-one or two. He has a clean record, is a gentleman by instinct without ostentation, free from personal palaver. He is a man of business, knows his business, and attends to his business. He reports our publishing interests in a prosperous condition.

—We were greeted last week with a call from C. H. Fowler, D. D., Corresponding Secretary of the Missionary Society. Dr. Fowler was on his way to Texas to visit the Southern German and West Texas Conferences, and having a spare day concluded to spend that in the Crescent City. In company with Bro. Vaughan, pastor of Ames, he visited the New Orleans University. Dr. Dean, President of the school, called the students to the chapel, when Dr. Fowler gave them what he called "a talk" replete with wisdom. The faculty was charmed with the Doctor, and he was pleased beyond measure with the school. There is nothing fossilized in the make of Dr. Fowler. As a preacher and worker he has few equals in the Church.

November 22, we spent in Nashville, Tennessee. Of course we visited the Central Tennessee College, where we found Dr. Braden and his corps of teachers at their post of duty. The College was in fine condition and the professors and students hard at work. The faculty is one of godly men and women. The students are older and larger, on an average, than those in most of our schools in the South. Dr. Braden is indefatigable in his work, and is singularly successful. He is greatly beloved "for his works sake," and for his personal worth. One of the members of the conference spoke of him as "the tree of knowledge whose branches covered the State and his leaves (words) were for the healing (education) of the people." The school of medicine, organized in 1878 is under the immediate care of Dr. Hubbard. This class consists of seventeen young men of more than ordinary ability and promise. In company with Dr. Hubbard, we rode over to the "Vanderbilt University." The great school of the M. E. Church, South. It is hardly possible to give at this writing anything like a description of the grounds and buildings connected with this University. Few cities in this country are better supplied with a high order of literary institutions than Nashville. As an educational point no city in the South is so favorably known. But all of these schools were built mostly by northern capital. The one great need of Nashville and most all of our southern cities is a little more pluck, hard work and push.

OUR SOUTHERN WORK.

LOUISIANA.

Union Chapel: No item of news relative to our work in this State will be more gratifying to our brethren in Louisiana than to learn of the recent completion of Union Chapel our church on Bienville street, in this city. After ten years of the hardest and most faithful labors, amid the most trying depressions, emergencies and discouragements, Union Chapel is now, at last finished. The completion was celebrated on the second Sunday in last month, in a grand jubilee service, when, amid the shouts of hallelujahs from young and old, the main audience room was dedicated and thrown open to the future use of the congregation. The day was a grand day, not only for Union Chapel, but for our people in this whole State. It marked the completion of the finest and most commodious house of worship among our people in this city and State. No less than 1,500 people crowded to witness the interesting and impressive services. At the administration of the Lord's Supper in the evening about 350 partook of the elements. The collection during the day amounted to $250, which will nearly cover every cent due by the church, excepting the outstanding obligations to the Church Extension Society. Among visiting ministers present and participating, were Revs. S. Priestly, the preacher in charge; M. Dale, P. E. of the North New Orleans; L. P. Cushman, P. E. of the South New Orleans, and A. E. P. Albert P. E. of the La Teche districts; R. Anderson, of Holmesville; A. M. Green of the A. M. E. Church; Dr. J. A. Dean, President of New Orleans University; W. P. Forrest, of Clinton; and P. King, R. L. Beale, T. G. Montgomery, C. Hunt, I. Hayward, E. P. Royal and Samuel Osborne, of this city. Reviewing upon memory's tablet the vast assemblage that gathered here ten years ago to lay the corner-stone, and looking over the membership as it now stands, what a solemn commentary upon human frailty and mortality is presented! Many have come and gone from the church since then, not a few of whom have crossed over the river and now rest under the altar. The history of the building and debts of the church has been a stormy one. Rev. George Darlis laid the foundation; Rev. M. Dale for three years successfully wrestled with her embarrassing debts; the lamented J. M. Vance, supported in his efforts by Revs. Dr. Hartzell and Emperor Williams, at that time presiding elders, succeeded in gaining valuable advantages upon the debts; Rev. A. E. P. Albert, succeeded Rev. J. M. Vance, and like him remained here two years. During his first year he managed to wipe out the last debt due to any, except the Church Extension loan. His second, and last year, free from all debts, he placed new sills under the whole church, lathed it, had all the doors and sashes made and paid for, and otherwise worked to the value of about $900 towards completion. Rev. S. Priestly followed. To him, under divine guidance, was given the honor of completing the building and raising its keystone; and exceedingly well has he accomplished his part. He has quite or nearly paid all of the $900 for the completion of the church, besides having paid for beautiful gas fixtures, carpets, matting, and other extra finishing touches. Too much praise can hardly be given to the pastors, from Darlis to Priestley, as well as to the faithful officers and members, part of whom have gone to their reward, for their faithfulness and devotion manifested in the erection, saving, and final completion of the church. Under this sunshine of a brighter day, temporally, we can but wish for Union Chapel and her successful pastor more and more of spiritual light and power.

The work at Ames M. E. Church, is progressing nicely. The Sabbath school entertainment of the 23d ult., was a success, both financially and socially. The following is from the Times-Democrat:

"Those connected with several of the Sunday schools of this city are under many obligations to their benevolent friend, Mr. M. C. Randall, who has aided so many of them by giving exhibitions of beautiful, chaste, and artistic stereoscopic views. Last evening the large audience assembled at the Ames Methodist Church were greatly pleased with his effort in behalf of the Sunday school of their church. The pictures were clearer and the figures better focused than at any of his previous displays. The lanterns used are probably superior to any in this city, being of the latest improved English make. The views were of great variety, instructive and humorous, the latter being loudly applauded. The ladies of the church had provided refreshments which were well disposed of at satisfactory prices. The entire entertainment was in every respect a success."

The Sabbath school has not been in so prosperous a condition for five years as at present. The Young People's Literary Society (recently organized,) is increasing in numbers and interest.

Sunday League.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Sunday League held on Friday, November 10th, it was resolved that the ministers of New Orleans be requested to preach to their respective congregations on the subject of the Observance of the Sabbath, on Sunday, December 10th. Those who have not already done so, are requested to send in without delay, the lists of those in their congregations who have joined the League. Platforms for signature can be had by application to the Secretary.

H. H. WATERS, Secretary. W. R. LYMAN, President.

NEW BOOKS.

Music and Some Highly Musical People. By James M. Trotter, Boston: Lee & Shepard, New Orleans, 424 Franklin street. Miss Mollie N. Chapman, Agent.

This is a very interesting book, available contribution to the increasing number of books by Negro authors, and a worthy tribute to the musical talents of the colored race. Its matter as well as its print, binding and finish would do credit to any first class library. The work contains 353 pages of most valuable and entertaining reading matter, 152 pages of music selected from the composition of remarkable colored composers and twelve excellent portraits and illustrations. Among portraits we notice those of Miss Elizabeth Taylor Greenlief, popularly known as the "Black Swan;" Thomas Greene Bethune, better known as "Blind Tom," and that of our townsman, Prof. Justin Holland. Among other musicians of this city the following are specially mentioned: Profs. A. P. Williams Samuel Snaer, Henry Staes and Dr. E. Dubuelet.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

The Chautauquan for December is, as usual freighted with good things. History of Russia, by Mrs. Mary S. Robinson, and The Vivid Pictures from English History by C. E. Bishop are continued in this issue. An excellent paper upon the studies in ancient Greek life, by J. P. Mahaffy, A. M., gives a very clear and comprehensive insight into Grecian peculiarities and customs in all their home life, Richard A. Proctor contributed an interesting article upon Comets, their composition and the phenomena presented by various comets. The sermon delivered by Rev. B. M. Adams at Chautaqua last August, which appears in this number, subject: "God's ideal of a man," deserves careful reading. Among other articles of interest are: The Stranger, by Ada Iddings Gale; A Glint of Moonlight, by I. L. Cosham, Sunday Readings; Atheistic Scientists, by John Stuart Blackie; Poison in common things, by Prof. P. A. Simpson; Manner, by Lord Chesterfield; A tour around the World, by Mrs. Mary Low Dickinson, (continued.) Questions and answers upon studies in the C. L. S. C., are also to be found in this number. C. L. S. C., announcements for 1882—'83 and editors outlook.

Mr. J. W. Coleman, at present acting general passenger agent of the Great Jackson Route, under the reorganization of the Illinois Central and the "Big J." roads, has been appointed assistant general passenger agent, with headquarters in the city.

Congressman J. T. Updegraff, of Ohio, died Dec. 1st. He had served two terms, and was a member elect of the next Congress.

FOURTH QUARTER. LESSONS XI. December 10th.

HIS RESURRECTION (Mark xvi, 1-8.)

Last lesson's picture was a grave with a great stone like a door shutting it up. In the grave the body of Jesus lay. This was on Friday night. Early Sabbath morning some friends came to the grave on a visit of love and brought sweet spices to put on Jesus, just as we put flowers around our dead. They were women, and they wondered who would help them roll away the great stone. When they came near the grave the stone was gone; so they went to the grave, but O what a strange sight they saw. An angel was there, but Jesus was gone. The women were afraid, but the angel said: "Be not frightened, ye seek Jesus: he is not here: he is risen." Then he told them to go and tell his disciples to go into Galilee, and Jesus would come and meet them. One message the angel sent, and that was to Peter. Peter had denied Jesus, we know how very sorry he was, and now the angel sends word to Peter that he shall see Jesus again. It shows us how Jesus loves us and forgives us when he sees we are sorry.

The women went away as fast as they could to find the disciples. It was women who first heard and told this good news, that Jesus was alive and had promised to meet his disciples in Galilee. Now would you not like to meet Jesus? Well, he does not say for you to go into Galilee, but he does tell you to get a clean heart, follow him, and then when you have done all he has for you to do down here he will come and meet you, and heaven will be the name of your beautiful new home.—Western Christian Advocate.

"Am Wonderfully Improved."

A gentleman in Coal City, Pa., who was in the first stages of consumption, having night sweats, cough and expectoration streaked with blood, with loss of flesh, ordered a Compound Oxygen treatment in June last. In a letter dated August 22d, he makes the very favorable report: "I am wonderfully improved, and when I look back on those hours of suffering at the commencement of your treatment, I can hardly believe my eyes. I am increasing in flesh and strength, and my lungs are wonderfully developed if not quite well. . . . Last Saturday I walked up a high hill on my way home without coughing once, a thing I have not done since last March." Our Treatise on Compound Oxygen, its nature, action, and results, with reports of cases and full information, sent free. DRS. STARKEY & PALEN, 1109 & 1111 Girard St., Philadelphia, Pa.

The New Voyage of Life.

Few people but will realize the startling truth shown in the engraving accompanying the advertisement of Rev. T. P. Childs in this number of the SOUTHWESTERN CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE. Truly our present civilization battles with disease from the cradle to the grave. Unseen dangers surround us on every side, a slight cold or cough neglected may bring us untold miseries; catarrh, bronchitis, consumption, with death in the near future.

To many it will be a matter of suprise that catarrh is very frequently mistaken for consumption, the symptoms in each being much alike, especially in the earlier stages. No one who recognizes in his own system, or who has friends or relatives with any of the symptoms so accurately described, should fail to send a statement of the case to Mr. Childs. There may be hope even in very desperate cases.

Catarrh is generally many years in gaining a foothold in the system, and attacks so many parts of the body that it can not be cured by any one remedy or by a single application. It requires remedies that will meet the disease wherever it is located, and fight it inch by inch until a complete victory is obtained. Rev. T. P. Childs has treated and cured thousands at their own homes, never having seen them. In a thoroughly honorable and characteristic manner he publishes the names and addresses of some he has cured, that any who desire may inquire of the patients themselves what Child's Catarrh Specific has done for them. He gives his own experience after fifteen years of relief from the dread disease. No doubt many of our subscribers will find their own cases stated with startling clearness.

None need feel any hesitancy in placing their case in Mr. Child's hands for treatment. We would call special attention to the advertisement, and request a careful perusal of the facts as set forth.

Many who do not receive our paper would doubtless be very thankful, should our readers call the attention of such to the advertisement of Mr. Childs. Catarrh and consumption are the twin enemies of the race, and any means of relief is a heaven sent blessing. Childs' Catarrh Specific may be relied on as an effective and certain cure, and you may recommend it to your friends with every confidence.

no longer from Dyspepsia, Indigestion, want of Appetite, loss of Strength lack of Energy, Malaria, Intermittent Fevers, &c. BROWN'S IRON BITTERS never fails to cure all these diseases.

Boston, November 26, 1881.
BROWN CHEMICAL CO.
Gentlemen:—For years I have been a great sufferer from Dyspepsia, and could get no relief (having tried everything which was recommended) until, acting on the advice of a friend, who had been benefitted by BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, I tried a bottle, with most surprising results. Previous to taking BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, everything I ate distressed me, and I suffered greatly from a burning sensation in the stomach, which was unbearable. Since taking BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, all my troubles are at an end. Can eat any time without any disagreeable results. I am practically another person. Mrs. W. J. FLYNN, 30 Maverick St., E. Boston.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS acts like a charm on the digestive organs, removing all dyspeptic symptoms, such as tasting the food, Belching, Heat in the Stomach, Heartburn, etc. The only Iron Preparation that will not blacken the teeth or give headache.

JUST PUBLISHED,

Plantation Melodies —AND— REVIVAL HYMNS.

By MARSHALL W. TAYLOR, D.D.

WITH AN INTRODUCTION

By Rev. F. S. HOYT, D.D., Editor of the Western Christian Advocate,

A remarkable and unique collection of religious songs with their accompanying weird, pathetic, ever varied and ever charming melodies, as sung for generations by the colored people of America. The few songs and melodies first introduced and sung by the "Jubilee Singers" and "Tennesseeans" were everywhere received with enthusiastic applause, and soon attained immense popularity. They are now familiar to almost every one, and have created an earnest and very general desire that every song and melody which has been popular among the negroes of the South during their days of slavery should be gathered together and published in a form and style which would give them the widest circulation and insure their preservation. This wide-felt want is now supplied in this complete and valuable collection, which comprises the best of the many variations of these songs and melodies, giving all that have seemed worthy of preservation. The author, Marshall W. Taylor, D.D., who is presiding elder of the Ohio District of the Lexington Conference, is peculiarly well qualified for the preparation of a work of this kind, requiring as it does, a thorough knowledge of the subject, good judgment and much careful, painstaking labor; and the thorough and systematic manner in which the work has been completed, leaves nothing to be desired. A few of the songs will be familiar, but the great majority have never before been printed, and are now given for the first time with the original words and music. They include, therefore, very many songs entirely new which are as meritorious as those so well known, and which will probably become equally popular. The music has been carefully written, and is well adapted for quartet, chorus, and congregational singing, and is especially excellent for social evenings at home. WHO MADE THEM ALL?

I saw the glorious sun arise,
O'er yonder mountain gray,
And as he traveled through the skies
The darkness went away;
And all around me was so bright,
I wished it would be always light.

But when his shining course was done,
The gentle moon drew nigh,
And stars came twinkling one by one
Upon the shady sky.
Who made the sun to shine so far,
The moon and every twinkling star?"

'Twas God, my child, who made them all,
By his almighty skill;
He keeps them that they do not fall,
And guides them as he will—
That glorious God who lives afar
In heaven, beyond the highest star.

Dull Boys.

Do not be discouraged. Slow growth is sure growth. Some boys are like Norwegian pines: they are slow in growth, but they are striking their roots deep. Some of the greatest men have been dull boys. ONLY CATARRH!

Many thousands fully believe they or their friends are being hurried toward the grave by that terrible disease Consumption, and are being treated for that disease when they have only CATARRH in some of its many forms. We do not claim to cure Consumption, but fully believe from the results of our daily practice that we can save many who feel their case hopeless.

More Than 100,000 Die Every Year.

More than 100,000 die annually from Consumption in these United States, and a careful classification has revealed the startling fact that fully 50,000 of these cases were caused by Catarrh in the head, and had no known connection with hereditary causes. A large share of these cases might have been cured.

☛ Danger Signals ☚

Have you a cold in the head that does not get better? Have you an excessive secretion of mucus or matter in the nasal passages, which must either be blown from the nose, or drop back behind the palate, or hawked or snuffed backward to the throat? Are you troubled by hawking, spitting, weak and inflamed eyes, frequent soreness of the throat, ringing or roaring or other noises in the ears, more or less impairment of the hearing, loss of smell, memory impaired, dullness or dizziness of the head, dryness and heat of the nose? Have you lost all sense of smell? Have you pain in the chest, lungs or bowels? Have you a hacking cough? Have you dyspepsia? Have you liver complaint? Is your breath foul? IF SO, YOU HAVE CATARRH. Some have all these symptoms, others only a part. The leading symptom of ordinary cases of Catarrh is increased secretion of mucus of yellow or greenish colored matter.

Foul breath is caused by the decomposing secretions exuded from festering ulcers far back in the head; sometimes the membrane covering the bones is eaten away, and the bones themselves gradually decay. Such cases are indeed objects of pity, as the stench from the corroding sores revels the corruption within.

As every breath drawn into the lungs must pass over and become polluted by the secretions in the nasal passages it must necessarily follow that poisoning of the whole system gradually takes place, while the morbid matter that is swallowed during sleep passes into the stomach, enfeebles digestion, and often produces dyspepsia.

Catarrh is A Dangerous Disease,

and should not be trifled with; care should be taken to look for the first indications, and cure them promptly. If your case is a bad one, affecting the throat and Bronchial tubes, producing tickling, coughing, and an almost constant effort to clear the passages, with tough, vile phlegm in the glottis on getting up in the morning, which is hard to eject, and other plain symptoms that the disease is stealing into the lungs, it should be attended to promptly and thoroughly.

Do Not Procrastinate.

Thousands of sufferers have applied to me for relief. Many thousands more are writing, fearful it would be an experiment that would only end in failure. Do not trifle away your opportunity. You may be sure that Catarrh takes no backward step. Your case may be daily growing beyond the reach of human aid. The statements of others who have found Child's Catarrh Specific the only certain sure cure should have weight, and convince you of the hopefulness of your own case.

Fifteen Years Ago

Catarrh was considered an incurable disease. I had then suffered for fifteen years in a manner only known to those who have had this disease in some of its worst forms. My professional duties made exposure a necessity, and I was first attacked by a slight cold; terrible headaches, which could not be cured followed, with deafness and ringing in the ears, soreness of the throat, disgusting nasal discharges, weak, inflamed eyes, hawking, raising of vile matter, black and sometimes bloody mucus, coughing, with great soreness of the lungs. The liver and stomach were polluted with the mass of diseased matter running from the head, until dyspepsia, indigestion, and liver complaint made me a wreck and incapacitated me from my professional duties and confined me to my bed. Compelled to resign my pastorate, and feeling that my end was near, in desperation I gave up the physicians and compounded my CATARRH SPECIFIC, and wrought upon myself a wonderful cure. Now, at the age of sixty-nine, I am wholly restored, can speak for hours with no difficulty, and never have had, in the whole fifteen years, the slightest return of the disease.

EVERY PHYSICIAN who has examined my specific says it is certain, and thorough, and perfect.

T. P. CHILDS.

100,000 Catarrhal cases have applied to me for relief. Many thousands have received my Specific, and are cured. We deem it only fair that every one who wishes should have the opportunity to ascertain whether we are able to accomplish all that we claim; and for this purpose we add a few of the many hundreds of unsolicited certificates which have been sent to us by grateful patients—as well as the addresses of some who have been successfully treated, almost any of whom will doubtless respond to any inquiry by letter, if accompanied by a stamp to pay postage. Having been cured themselves, they doubtless will be willing to let the afflicted know where they can find certain relief. We have thousands of these certificates from all classes—physicians, clergymen, lawyers, judges, merchants, bankers and business men.

I write to tell you that I am perfectly cured of Catarrh. O. P. WISE, Magnolia, Ark.

The catarrhal cough has entirely left me. I am well again. J. A. HULL, Cleveland, O.

I would not take a farm for your Specific if it could be replaced. J. P. ROBERTS, Chicago, Ill.

I would not take a thousand dollars for your inhalers. I am completely cured.
G. J. McKNIGHT, Cleveland, O.

Your treatment has cured my daughter of Catarrh induced by a severe attack of measles.
JOHN W. RILEY, U. S. Express Agent, Troy, O.

My health is fully restored. The horrid and loathsome disease is all gone. My lungs feel all right.
MRS. W. D. LINCOLN, York, Neb.

Your treatment did me great good. I have not lost a day by sickness this year.
ABNER GRAHAM, Biddle Uni'sty, Charlotte, N.C.

I am glad to say that I found your medicine all that can be claimed for it. I am fully restored.
J. H. SIGFRIED, Pottsville, Va.

I do not regret the money it cost in using your medicine. I can heartily recommend your treatment.
E. J. LIPPINCOTT, Clarksboro, Gloucester Co., N. J.

I have used your Catarrh treatment and am cured. A thousand thanks to you for so sure a remedy.
FANNIE DEMENT, Dyer Station, Tenn.

I am much pleased to say that I have used the treatment faithfully, with the happiest and best results. JOHN A. PRATT, Goffs Falls, N. H.

Your treatment cured me, your inhalers are excellent. This is the only radical cure I have ever used. R. S. MARTIN, Pastor M. E. Church, Port Carbon, Pa.

No amount of money could induce me to be placed in the misery I was in when I commenced using your medicine. J. C. McINTIRE, Fulton, Mo.

I am so far recovered that I am able to attend church, can walk half a mile. Have a good appetite, am gaining all the time.
MRS. A. N. MUNGER, Detroit, Mich.

Now I am cured; head free; air passages all open, and breathing natural. A thousand thanks to you for so sure a remedy.
JUDGE J. COLLETT, Lima, Ohio.

Your Cold Air Inhaling Balm has proved a great benefit to Mrs. Marble as well as myself. I can heartily recommend it to others.
E. MARBLE, Concord, Mich.

It affords me great pleasure to notify you that I have, as I sincerely believe, entirely recovered from that loathsome disease, Catarrh, through your very beneficial treatment. B. BENEDICT, Baltimore, M.

Passages of the head began to open, throat and bronchial tubes grew better, cough ceased, and now I can see to write. I owe my life to your treatment.
THOS. J. DAILY, Troy, O.

I received your Catarrh Specific some time ago, and used as directed. It acted like a charm. It cured my cough and stopped that wheezing I had in my throat. JAMES W. SANDERS,
Five Mile, Mason Co., W. Va.

My throat is now so well restored that I can lecture daily without any difficulty, and find no difficulty whatever in preaching.
E. B. FAIRCHILD, D. D., LL. D.
Chancellor University of Nebraska, Lincoln, Neb.

I am cured, another formidable case at last yielded to your treatment. W. B. NORSE, Bryan, Tex.

I am now entirely cured. When I had used it three months I felt like a different woman. Too much cannot be said in favor of your Catarrh treatment. It has saved my life.
MRS. E. G. MITCHELL, Fairbury, Ill.

Mrs. Mitchell lives near me and has used your treatment with perfect success, and is now well and hearty. This I am witness to.
JOHN G. STEERS, Fairbury, Ill.

Mr. J. C. WILMOTH of Oxford, Ind., writes: You can say to whoever you like, that your Catarrh medicine has done me wonders; it has driven the disease out of my system.

For fifteen years I have been under the care of physicians for Consumption. In a letter dated four months later, she says: I am almost cured.
MARY J. HOLLEY, Mountain Park, Ellis Co., Tex.

My wife continues in the best of health, and has no cough. It is with great pleasure we are able to recommend so wonderful a medicine as yours has proved to us.
J. H. BULLARD, Springfield, Mass.

Between nine and ten years of age, being afflicted with Catarrh, I obtained your course of treatment, and after persisting in its use some months, was completely cured, and have had no return of the disease. A. S. STILL, Pattenburg, N. J.

I was terribly afflicted with nasal and bronchial Catarrh, and concluded to give your treatment a test. In a short time it cured me. I induced my brother to try it, and he too was cured.
R. C. JONES, Rock River Falls, Wis.

More than a year ago I used your Catarrh remedies, with almost untold benefit to myself. I prize your remedies more than I can tell you.
MRS. E. P. HOOKER, Defiance, O.

One of the most terrible cases of Catarrh we have had in our practice, was that of W. S. Sandel of Willis, Montgomery Co., Tex. He says: "In the spring of 1877 the disease assumed a new form, my mouth and throat were attacked, ulcers were formed, and soon the ulva was all eaten away, and large sores through the posterior nares. My condition was not only deplorable, but apparently hopeless." After three months use of our treatment, he says: "I am entirely cured, all the horrible disease entirely removed."

This is to certify that I was a sufferer from nasal catarrh; I tried remedies of several physicians, but instead of getting better I gradually grew worse. I saw your advertisement. I applied to you at once and received your remedies and commenced their use. At first I thought it was a humbug, but I followed your directions and now I can rejoice in saying I am well. ROBT. Y. DANIEL, Troy, Ala.

Your wonderful remedy has by close application cured a most stubborn case. You are at liberty to use my name as a reference. Yours truly,
F. R. MILLER, Smyrna, Tenn.

Your treatment has proved a complete success in my case; the disease had troubled me for about fifteen years. Yours truly,
THOS. D. JONES, Middle Granville, N. Y.

Mr. Z. Z. LEE, of Grangeville, St. Helena Par., La., writes: I cannot speak too highly in praise of your valuable remedies which act like a charm in relieving the loathsome disease for which they are recommended. And I also authorize the use of my name in public.

I have been permanently cured of Catarrh in the head by the use of your Catarrh Specific. I will answer all letters addressed to me, in regard to this subject. Yours with thanks,
E. POWELL, Heath, Burke Co., N. C.

You may use my name as a reference, as I have been cured by your treatment. I shall be pleased to answer any inquiries in regard to your remedies. Yours truly,
HARRY TRUESDELL, Rock Dale Mills, Mass.

DEAR SIR: Aug. 18, 1882.
You are at liberty to use my name as a reference in favor of the healing qualities of your remedy. It has not only cured my wife of Catarrh in the head and throat, but has cured her of dyspepsia.
Yours truly,
B. S. DUNKIN, Carroll, Ind.

Colorado Springs, Col., Aug. 8, 1882.
DEAR SIR:—You may use my name, also that of my wife; we have both been cured by your treatment. We recommend your remedies to all we hear saying they have Catarrh. We can do it with pleasure and conscientiously, for we know of what we speak. L. W. SPAYH.

I was thought to have had consumption, and had suffered many years with what was really Catarrh, before I procured your treatment. I have had no return of the disease.
MISS LOUISE JAMES, Crab Orchard, Ky.

AGENTS WANTED

DR. JOHN BULL'S
FEVER and AGUE
Or CHILLS and FEVER.
AND ALL MALARIAL DISEASES.

The proprietor of this celebrated medicine justly claims for it a superiority over all remedies ever offered to the public for the SAFE, CERTAIN, SPEEDY and PERMANENT cure of Ague and Fever, or Chills and Fever, whether of short or long standing. He refers to the entire Western and Southern country to bear him testimony to the truth of the assertion that in no case whatever will it fail to cure if the directions are strictly followed and carried out. In a great many cases a single dose has been sufficient for a cure, and whole families have been cured by a single bottle, with a perfect restoration of the general health. It is, however, prudent, and in every case more certain to cure, if its use is continued in smaller doses for a week or two after the disease has been checked, more especially in difficult and long-standing cases. Usually this medicine will not require any aid to keep the bowels in good order. Should the patient, however, require a cathartic medicine, after having taken three or four doses of the Tonic, a single dose of BULL'S VEGETABLE FAMILY PILLS will be sufficient.

The genuine SMITH'S TONIC SYRUP must have DR. JOHN BULL'S private stamp on each bottle. DR. JOHN BULL only has the right to manufacture and sell the original JOHN J. SMITH'S TONIC SYRUP, of Louisville, Ky. Examine well the label on each bottle. If my private stamp is not on each bottle do not purchase, or you will be deceived.

"Necessity is the mother of invention." Diseases of the liver, kidneys and bowels brought forth that sovereign remedy Kidney-Wort, which is nature's normal curative for all those dire complaints. In either liquid or dry form it is a perfect remedy for those terrible diseases that cause so many deaths.

Dr. Hepworth, well known as a successful pastor in New York, declared that nothing stands in the way of some ministers' success so much as the habit of tea-drinking with certain families in his parish.

WHAT WILL THE WEATHER BE TO-MORROW
Pool's Signal Service Barometer
OR STORM GLASS AND THERMOMETER COMBINED,

BEST IN THE WORLD!
OSWEGO THERMOMETER WORKS,
Every instrument warranted Perfect and Reliable.

Many thousands fully believe they or their friends are being hurried toward the grave by that terrible disease Consumption, and are being treated for that disease when they have only CATARRH in some of its many forms. We do not claim to cure Consumption, but fully believe from the results of our daily practice that we can save many who feel their case hopeless.

More Than 100,000 Die Every Year.

More than 100,000 die annually from Consumption in these United States, and a careful classification has revealed the startling fact that fully 50,000 of these cases were caused by Catarrh in the head, and had no known connection with hereditary causes. A large share of these cases might have been cured.

Danger Signals

Have you a cold in the head that does not get better? Have you an excessive secretion of mucus or matter in the nasal passages, which must either be blown from the nose, or drop back behind the palate, or hawked or snuffled backward to the throat? Are you troubled by hawking, spitting, weak and inflamed eyes, frequent soreness of the throat, ringing or roaring or other noises in the ears, more or less impairment of the hearing, loss of smell, memory impaired, dullness or dizziness of the head, dryness and heat of the nose? Have you lost all sense of smell? Have you pain in the chest, lungs or bowels? Have you a hacking cough? Have you dyspepsia? Have you liver complaint? Is your breath foul? IF SO, YOU HAVE CATARRH. Some have all these symptoms, others only a part. The leading symptom of ordinary cases of Catarrh is increased secretion of mucus of yellow or greenish colored matter. Foul breath is caused by the decomposing secretions exuded from festering ulcers far back in the head; sometimes the membrane covering the bones is eaten away, and the bones themselves gradually decay. Such cases are indeed objects of pity, as the stench from the corroding sores revels the corruption within.

As every breath drawn into the lungs must pass over and become polluted by the secretions in the nasal passages it must necessarily follow that poisoning of the whole system gradually takes place, while the morbid matter that is swallowed during sleep passes into the stomach, enfeebles digestion, and often produces dyspepsia.

Catarrh Is A Dangerous Disease,

and should not be trifled with; care should be taken to look for the first indications, and cure them promptly. If your case is a bad one, affecting the throat and Bronchial tubes, producing tickling, coughing, and an almost constant effort to clear the passages, with tough, phlegm in the glottis on getting up in the morning, which is hard to eject, and other plain [illegible] that the disease is stealing into the lungs, it should be attended to promptly and [illegible]ly.

Do Not Procrastinate.

Thousands of sufferers have applied to me for relief. Many thousands more are waiting, fearful it would be an experiment that would only end in failure. Do not trifle away your opportunity. You may be sure that Catarrh takes no backward step. Your case may be daily growing beyond the reach of human aid. The statements of others who have found Child's Catarrh Specific the only certain sure cure should have weight, and convince you of the hopefulness of your own case.

Fifteen Years Ago

Catarrh was considered an incurable disease. I had then suffered for fifteen years in a manner only known to those who have had this disease in some of its worst forms. My professional duties made exposure a necessity, and I was first attacked by a slight cold, terrible headaches, which could not be cured followed, with deafness and ringing in the ears, soreness of the throat, disgusting nasal discharges, weak, inflamed eyes, hawking, raising of vile matter, black and sometimes bloody mucus, coughing, [illegible] soreness of the lungs. The liver and stomach were polluted with the mass of matter running from the head, until dyspepsia, indigestion, and liver complaint [illegible] me a wreck and incapacitated me from my professional duties and confined me to my bed. Compelled to resign my pastorate, and feeling that my end was near, in desperation I gave up the physicians and compounded my CATARRH SPECIFIC, and wrought upon myself a wonderful cure. Now, at the age of sixty-nine, I am wholly restored, can speak for hours with no difficulty, and never have had, in the whole fifteen years, the slightest return of the disease.

EVERY PHYSICIAN who has examined my specific says it is certain, and thorough, and perfect.

T. P. CHILDS.

100,000 Catarrhal cases have applied to me for relief. Many thousands have received my Specific, and are cured. We deem it only fair that every one who wishes should have the opportunity to ascertain whether we are able to accomplish all that we claim; we add a few of the many hundreds of unsolicited certificates [illegible] sent to us by grateful patients—as well as the addresses of some [illegible] successfully treated, almost any of whom will doubtless respond to by letter, if accompanied by a stamp to pay postage. Having been cured they doubtless will be willing to let the afflicted know where they can [illegible]. We have thousands of these certificates from all classes—physicians, [illegible] lawyers, judges, merchants, bankers and business men.

My wife continues in the best of health, and has no cough. It is with great pleasure we are able to recommend so wonderful a medicine as yours has proved to us.

"If any man," says Jonathan Edwards, "could disprove the doctrines of the gospel, he should sit down and weep, to think that they were not true, for it would be the most dreadful calamity that could happen the world to have a glimpse of such truths, and then for them to melt away in the air of fiction, having no substantiality in them."

WILBOR'S COMPOUND OF PURE COD LIVER OIL AND LIME.
To Consumptives.—Wilbor's Cod-Liver Oil and Lime.—The friends of persons who have been restored from confirmed consumption by the use of this original preparation, and the grateful parties themselves, have, by recommending it and acknowledging its wonderful efficiency, given the article a vast popularity in New England. The Cod-Liver Oil is in this combination robbed of its unpleasant taste, and rendered doubly effective in being coupled with the Lime, which is itself a restorative principle, supplying nature with just the assistance required to heal and restore the diseased lungs. THE BEST REMEDY
FOR
Diseases of the Throat and Lungs.
AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.
Diseases of the pulmonary organs are so prevalent and fatal, that a safe and reliable remedy for them is invaluable to every community. AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL is such a remedy, and no other so eminently merits the confidence of the public. It is a scientific combination of the medicinal principles and curative virtues of the finest drugs, chemically united, to insure the greatest possible efficiency and uniformity of results, which enables physicians as well as invalids to use it with confidence. It is the most reliable remedy for diseases of the throat and lungs that science has produced. It strikes at the foundation of all pulmonary diseases, affording prompt and certain relief, and is adapted to patients of any age or either sex. Being very palatable, the youngest children take it without difficulty. In the treatment of ordinary Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Influenza, Clergyman's Sore Throat, Asthma, Croup, and Catarrh, the effects of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL are magical, and multitudes are annually preserved from serious illness by its timely and faithful use. It should be kept at hand in every household, for the protection it affords in sudden attacks. In Whooping-cough and Consumption there is no other remedy so efficacious, soothing, and helpful.
The marvellous cures which AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has effected all over the world are a sufficient guaranty that it will continue to produce the best results. An impartial trial will convince the most sceptical of its wonderful curative powers, as well as of its superiority over all other preparations for pulmonary complaints.
Eminent physicians in all parts of the country, knowing its composition, recommend AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL to invalids and prescribe it in their practice. The test of half a century has proved its absolute certainty to cure all pulmonary complaints not already beyond the reach of human aid.

Paillard's MUSIC BOXES ARE THE BEST.

BIG PAY

The brother that bears a grudge against his fellow will find the gates of the celestial city too narrow to take it through, and he will either have to lay it down there or remain on the outside with it.—Pacific Methodist.

"Necessity is the mother of invention." Diseases of the liver, kidneys and bowels brought forth that sovereign remedy Kidney-Wort, which is nature's normal curative for all these dire complaints. In either liquid or dry form it is a perfect remedy for these terrible diseases that cause so many deaths.

Dr. Hepworth, well known as a successful pastor in New York, declared that nothing stands in the way of some ministers' success so much as the habit of tea-drinking with certain families in his parish.

Dyspepsia, the bug-bear of epicureans, will be relieved by Brown's Iron Bitters.

The Chinese embassy denies that any hostility to American commerce exists in China.

"Buchupaiba."

New, quick, complete cure 4 days, urinary affections, smarting, frequent or difficult urination, kidney diseases. $1. at druggists. La. depot, I. L. LYONS, New Orleans, La.

"They tell me Mr. Brown has a great ear for music," said Fenderson. "Yes," replied Fogg, "I knew he had a great ear—two of them in fact; but I did not know that they were for music. I supposed they were for brushing flies off the top of his head."

SYMPTOMS OF WORMS.
The countenance is pale and leaden-colored, with occasional flushes of a circumscribed spot on one or both cheeks; the eyes become dull; the pupils dilate; an azure semicircle runs along the lower eye-lid; the nose is irritated, swells, and sometimes bleeds; a swelling of the upper lip; occasional headache, with humming or throbbing of the ears; an unusual secretion of saliva; slimy or furred tongue; breath very foul, particularly in the morning; appetite variable, sometimes voracious, with a gnawing sensation of the stomach; at others, entirely gone; fleeting pains in the stomach; occasional nausea and vomiting; violent pains throughout the abdomen; bowels irregular, at times costive; stools slimy, not unfrequently tinged with blood; belly swollen and hard; urine turbid; respiration occasionally difficult and accompanied by hiccough; cough sometimes dry and convulsive; uneasy and disturbed sleep, with grinding of the teeth; temper variable, but generally irritable.
Whenever the above symptoms are found to exist,
DR. C. McLANE'S VERMIFUGE
will certainly effect a cure.
In buying Vermifuge be sure you get the genuine DR. C. McLANE'S VERMIFUGE, manufactured by Fleming Bros., 24 Wood Street, Pittsburgh, Pa. The market is full of counterfeits. You will be right if it has the signature of Fleming Bros. and C. McLane.

A WONDERFUL and SCIENTIFIC DISCOVERY.
These Glasses are chemically treated in the process of manufacture, and possess the property of keeping your eyes in good condition, as when first you use them. They have been carefully examined and analysed by American and European oculists, who claim that the MEDICATED GLASSES have no equal, and can in some cases restore the sight if used in time, but in no case can the eye become impaired by their use for the following reasons:
1. The chemicals soften the light to the eye, completely doing away with that tiresome sensation that is usually experienced in using glasses after one or two hours' use.
2. The chemicals make the glasses hard; they retain their polish. Hence you will always see through them as bright and clear as at first.
3. The chemicals keep the glasses cold, and the result is that the optic nerves are always cool, doing away with any feverish sensation to the eye.
4. With these glasses you can read, write or sew all night, the light having no effect on the eye, with no distressing or tiresome sensation, which necessarily improves the eye.
BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS.
The MEDICATED GLASSES are all stamped on the frame H. HOUSAH, Medicated. NONE GENUINE UNLESS STAMPED.

DELIGHT OF MY SOUL.

Oh! Jesus, delight of my soul;
My Saviour, my Shepard divine,
I yield to Thy blessed control,
My body and spirit are Thine;
Thy love I can never deserve,
That bids me be happy in Thee;
My God and my King I will serve,
Whose favor is heaven to me.

How can I Thy goodness repay,
By nature so weak and defiled;
Myself I have given away;
O! call me Thy own little child;
And art Thou my [illegible] above,
Will Jesus [illegible] my heart?
O, bind me so fast [illegible] Thy love
That I [illegible] shall depart.

Missionary Concert Notes—January, [illegible].

Subject—Prayer for [illegible]: "Our Missions in the [illegible] and West.

We confine [illegible] to the general theme, "[illegible] for Missions" (the term [illegible] all missions), and would [illegible] it upon the attention [illegible] the church. We invite [illegible] to make the [illegible] the center [illegible] earnest [illegible] before [illegible] [illegible] of Carey. It is clear that this new movement of definite and united prayer for the extension of God's kingdom over "the whole habitable earth" had very much to do, if it was not the prime cause, with the formation of the Baptist Missionary Society and the sending out of Carey in 1792, which was the beginning of the great modern missionary epoch in its power and expansion (see Ezek. xxxvi:37). Does not the whole missionary activity and harvesting of to-day find its origin in the agency of prayer? Is not the answer to the prayer clear and abundant, verifying God's word, "I the Lord have spoken it, and I will do it."

It is not possible, then, to measure the efficacy of prayer for missions alone by special instances of conversion or openings for the work which may sometimes be traceable to definite prayers in the church at home or abroad, yet many such instances exist to confirm our faith. The experience of many missionaries abounds in such tokens. When Dr. Judson in his last days was listening to an account read by his wife of certain results flowing from his labors, a solemnity fell upon his face, his eyes filling with tears, and he replied to an inquiry for the cause of his emotion that he was overcome both with joy and awe, for "somehow and somewhere he seemed always to have obtained what he prayed for in this work." Lately, at the annual meeting of the American Board, Secretary Clark spoke of the Otis legacy as coming at a very dark hour, when debts grew upon the Board, the work expanded, the church failed to respond, but some prayed earnestly to God for help (Miss. Herald, November, 1882). The pentecostal prayer-meeting which marked the opening of the work in Japan will not be forgotten. Such a simultaneous answer to prayer in the progress of God's work as is recorded in Acts x finds many a distinct counterpart in modern days. See Dr. Prime's "Power of Prayer," and "Fifteen Years of Prayer" for marked instances of conversion far away at sea and in distant lands, which are demonstratably traceable to definite prayers for the object at home. Stevenson's "Prayer and [illegible]ing" has for its supplementary [illegible] "Some account of what Men [illegible] who are in Earnest." Read [illegible] how, among foreign mission[illegible] the remarkable results in the [illegible] work in India, and in [illegible] Harris' mission in Southeast [illegible] were clearly brought about [illegible] the beginning, and always, by [illegible] Harris had a mighty strug[illegible] prayer as to how the work [illegible] be opened, but received the [illegible] at midnight and sprang up, [illegible] "Forward now, in God's [illegible]." Thereafter was no more [illegible], but always prayer.

[illegible] particulars that interest us [illegible] prayer for missions are numerous and varied; some are alike [illegible] all fields. 1.—We have the [illegible] himself; his isolation [illegible] heathendom, or hardship in [illegible] life, exposure to possible [illegible], or to the ills of the [illegible], the immense difficulties he [illegible] to confront in the social [illegible] where he labors, and in care for his converts. He is always [illegible]: "Brethren, pray for us." 2.—The converts from heathenism [illegible] practical ignorance of the [illegible] life, their exposure and [illegible] and moral weakness. [illegible] mission schools, through [illegible] the foundation can be [illegible] laid and the superstructure [illegible] Christian society built [illegible]—Conversions and the pow[illegible] manifestations of the Holy [illegible]—Providential openings, [illegible] indeed, on a general [illegible] secured in a won[illegible] 6.—Reinforcements [illegible] devoted soul-seeking [illegible] 7.—Contribu[illegible] missionary treasury, [illegible] must be only in[illegible] the work for the [illegible] grows up [illegible] and va[illegible] and [illegible] go together. [illegible] these. Near[illegible] earth is open [illegible] Said an emi[illegible] in 1807, [illegible] heathe[illegible] of [illegible] with 74,500 heathen converts for a home church of about 31,000 members and 315 missionaries in the field, are secured in no other way. Be this our example. Our Methodism springs largely from the early Moravian faith. Would that there might come also to us "through their prayer,"—a grand and enduring sound of prayer for missions. Hardly were the Moravians settled under the protection of Count Zinzendorf, ere they began to plan for work among the heathen. Of the Herrnhut, the Lord's Watch, they said, "God grant that on the hill which men call the Watch Hill, a town may be reared which shall not only abide under the Lord's Watch, (under des Herrnhut,) but to the habitation of men who shall stand on the Lord's Watch, (auf des Herren Hut,) never keeping silence before him, day or night." Is. lxii, 6, 7. Col. iv, 2, i, Thess. v, 17, Eph. vi, 18. Rom. xii, 12.

[1] The Evangelical Alliance Committee have devoted one day in the Week of prayers, Saturday, January 13, to "Prayer for Missions." This act of prayer itself is here proposed as a special subject of thought for the January Concert, which will occur in many churches observing it on the above date.

From Our Mission Rooms.

A SUNDAY SCHOOL TEACHER'S MISSIONARY ZEAL.—In a certain church at the West, where too little effort had been made in the Sunday school for the missionary cause, one of the teachers urged attention to the matter. He was given charge of special exercises devoted to missions in the month of June, sent to the mission rooms for sources of information and other helps, and was so successful in the effort that the school raised over $166 for missions. Let others do likewise in like circumstances. The laborers, at home and abroad, are too few in this great harvest field.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION ON OUR MISSIONS IN THE WEST AND SOUTH.—Recent articles in the secular papers contain much information concerning the newly peopled regions of the West. For both the West and South, valuable matter will be found in the different numbers and departments of the Manual, a reperusal of which is specially suggested. See Dr. Hartzell's elaborate article on Education in the South in the April number. See also the Missionary Report for 1881 (bound copies may be had at the Mission rooms for 22 cents.) Pertinent articles may be found in our church papers, of recent months, treating chiefly of our Western Missions and Mission Annual Meetings. Christian Advocate, Aug. 17, 24 and 31 (white work in the South) Sept. 7, Oct. 5, 18, (Immigrants,) Nov. 23. Pittsburgh Christian Advocate, Oct. 12. Northern Christian Advocate, July 13 (Southern work,) Aug. 10, 13, Nov. 2. Northwestern Christian Advocate, Sept. 20, 27, Oct. 18, 25. Michigan Christian Advocate, Aug. 5, Oct. 7. Western Christian Advocate, July 19, Aug. 2, Sept. 27; Oct. 4, 18. Christian Apologist, Aug. 7, and numerous reports from the German Western Conference fields. Central Christian Advocate, July 26, Sept. 13, 27, (white work in the South,) Nov. 1. Methodist Advocate, July 5, Aug. 2, Sept. 6. ADDRESS OF THE GENERAL MISSIONARY COMMITTEE.—This address is now being sent out to each pastor in the church. The following action was taken in regard to it in the Committee:

"Resolved, That the ministers of our Church be requested to read the address to their congregations, if practicable, on the first Sunday after they shall receive it, and also to read it at the time of taking their annual collection, and that the German and Scandinavian editors be requested to publish translations thereof in their papers."

The German and Scandinavian pastors will, it is presumed, find a translation of the address thus published, which, if desired, can also be read in their congregations.

Annual Meeting of the Board of Education.

The Board of Education of the Methodist Episcopal Church held [illegible] meeting in New York on [illegible]. The members present [illegible] Simpson, the [illegible] Hinde [illegible] Hoyt [illegible] crease of receipts. Two new sources of increase were recognized as deserving special note, and giving good promise for the future. The first was that of legacies, from which $1,190 had been received; the second was that of a sale of donated property, amounting to $444 60. The sum received from payments on account of loans to students was greater than during any former year, amounting to $1,025. When to these several amounts were added that of the Children's day collections and special donations, namely, $15,341 96, the grand aggregate was reached of $18,026 56. The corresponding aggregate in 1881 was $9,256 86, and in 1880 $2,079 24. Exclusive of the interest on invested funds, the receipts of the year just closed were found to be greater by $1,755 74 than those of the eight years prior to 1881. These figures demonstrate in a striking manner the awakening and extending interest of the Church in the cause of education as represented by this Board. Scarcely less gratifying was the statement of the Corresponding Secretary's report, that more than $11,000 would be disbursed during the year 1882 in aid of not less than 250 students of both sexes attending some sixty different institutions of the church in different parts of the United States and foreign lands. The sum of $10,000 was appropriated for the same object for the year 1883, and in addition, all that may be collected on loan account and by means of special donations and subscriptions that may be made for the direct aid of students through the agency of the Board. The fixed appropriation would have been much larger but for a constitutional limitation which requires the Board to invest for income its regular receipts. By the action taken, however, it appeals strongly to those who have heretofore received aid from the Board to reimburse their loans as fast as they can, that others may be aided in turn. At the same time it invites the liberality of persons who are willing to donate money, to be immediately used, in encouraging the numerous students who at this time need help beyond the available resources of the board.

The officers of last year were re-elected, namely, Bishop M. Simpson President; O. Hoyt, Treasurer; C. A. Holmes, Recording Secretary; D. P. Kidder, Corresponding Secretary.

N. B.—Although the fiscal year closed on the date of the annual meeting, yet any Children's day collections or funds from other sources not yet paid in, if sent to the Corresponding Secretary at 805 Broadway, New York, before December 31, will be acknowledged in the printed report for 1882. The Board is anxious to give public credit to all Churches, Sunday-schools, ministers and others, who have taken part in bringing up its receipts to the present encouraging status.

Mission Facts.

How many inhabitants are there on the earth? About 1,400,000,000.

How many of these are idolaters? About 850,000,000.

How many are Mohammedans and Jews? About 170,000,000.

How many does this make who either know nothing of Jesus or are opposed to him? About 1,020,000,000, being two-thirds of the population of the earth.

Of the remaining 385,000,000, how many belong to the papal Church? About 195,000,000.

How many belong to the Greek Church? About 78,000,000.

How many belong to the Copt, Armenian and other Oriental Churches? About 7,000,000.

How many are nominally Protestants? About 100,000,000.

How many are members of Protestant churches? About 20,000,000.

How do the professed followers of Jesus compare in numbers with the others? They are about one in seventy-five.

How many Protestant Missionary Societies were there at the commencement of this century? Seven.

How many now? Over eighty.

How many Protestant missionaries were there in the year 1800? About seventy.

How many now? About 2,500 ordained European and American Missionaries, over 7,000 ordained native preachers, assisted by female missionaries, native assistants, etc., making a total of about 5,800 missionaries, and nearly 14,000 natives helpers.

How many native Protestant communicants in mission lands the first of this year? About 540,000.

How many of these were received [illegible] 1861? About 24,000.

[illegible] much was given last year [illegible] for mission work?

MR. EDITOR—This sketch contains the closing acts of quarterly conference business for 1882, which has been a year of earnest endeavor upon the part of both priest and people. The writer has devoted much time and labor to better the condition of those among whom has he gone preaching; we have withnessed many changes for good among the people. The future will reveal final results. We close the third anniversary on San Antonio District, with a consciousness that we have done what we could for the advance of the Redeemer's Kingdom among men; we have pushed far beyond what used to be the limits of the district, and followed the tide and advance of civilization as it takes its march West and Southwestward, along the long lines of extending railroads and telegraphic wire. What changes have taken place within the sixteen years intervening since we, with others, under command of Brev. Major General Edward Hatch, took our march from the western shores of the sunny waves of the gulf of Mexico, on to the high table lands, the home of the deer and antelope, and on to the long mountain ranges throwing up their frowning battlements where the red men of the forest held almost undisputed sway, now seek homes elsewhere. And a new people occupies the land; and with them a new civilization is springing into existence, causing them to exult in their ample possessions, wide-spreading verdant lands, and breathing the maiden atmosphere, that sweeps down from mountains' top, over these wide extending plains. Those people need the blessings of the Gospel, and God the Father will reign and scatter their night away. Our old soldier camps are campfires of this new civilization!

Dear Editor, I am thankful that I can attempt to do the least to establish Christ's kingdom among those far away people; they cannot come to the Gospel; it must be carried to them. We held our quarterly conference in our newly built chapel at Caero, Nov. 15th and 16th. Our second "norther" for the season was blowing, and the session was not as largely attended as anticipated. Bro. J. C. Mays, and a faithful few, met us promptly. We opened exercises by reading the 23d and 84th psalms, and part 10 of St. John, singing the 786 No. in our hymnal, etc. Bro. Mays is one of those earnest, warm hearted young men who strive to make hard places soft by labor, whose work will remain a monument and a blessing to the church and people. He has taught school in one place, his dear helpmate has taught in another; and so has met current expenses. One of the hopeful signs of the times is, noble hearted Christian young men, whose aim is to make the world better while living in it. With due regard to our old fathers, it must be acknowledged that young men sound in faith must build the waste places of Zion. The 18th and 19th found us at Victoria again among lively friends and a warm church and a wide-a-wake pastor, who dares to do his full duty in the face of whatever may obtrude. The 22d and 23d found us with Bro. A. M. Mason and his board of officials at Spring Creek; as it was the meeting could not be held at the place formerly appointed. Business was dispatched with satisfaction and benefit to all. Bro. Mason is finishing a year's labor that requires much faith and Christian fortitude. He is a growing young man and will succeed, though Satan rages and vents his spite. Dark Armydon must give way before such devoted young soldiers. Twenty-eight miles by hack brought us to Goliad were Bro. W. Goodwin, and his active board, aided us with the closing quarterly session for the year. Bro. Goodwin is the first preacher that has gone to Goliad, for many years to live in peace; and he intends so to do. He is located in the Jones' Vale and Female Institute, at the head of which stands Prof. C. P. Westbrooks, ably assisted by Mrs. L. A. Westbrooks. This institution is attracting much, but deserved attention. Bro. Westbrooks has labored most earnestly to found this institution, and has so far succeeded; while here I visited the school; on entering, one would be impressed with the good order that prevails, and the readiness with which the students recite their lessons, convinces one that thorough drill and solid work is being done. A large class was reviewing arithmetic, with the view of taking up algebra; and history, geography, and grammar, are here taught in a way to satisfy and convince the most sceptical of the ability of colored people, not only to learn well, but to impart to others what they have learned. New patented seats and desks, and a regulator, with canvass overhead, are works of improvement and characteristic of neatness. The school ended last session with 150 students; it has up to now 72, representing a goodly number from abroad. In 13 months $720 has been raised, $505 of which was raised this year by the unceasing efforts of its Professor. Young men, to the front! though we be a friend and exponent to old men.

Yours, truly,
M. HENSON.

"Scandalous Marriages."

The following clipping, from the Western Watchman, organ of the Roman Catholic Church in St. Louis, which condemns so very severely the recent marriage, by a Presbyterian minister, of Dr. Louis A. Tesson, a Romanist, to Miss Maggie Duncan, a Protestant, may serve to exhibit the spirit of the days of the thumb-screws and the Spanish Inquisition, which still wriggles in the breast of intolerant Romanism:

SCANDALOUS MARRIAGES.

A marriage in high life took place last week, the particulars of which, as published in the daily papers, made every Catholic in the city blush. A young Catholic, a scion of one of the proudest French Catholic families of the city, wedded a Protestant lady before a Presbyterian minister.

Why did the young man commit a mortal sin on his wedding day?

Why did the young man tramp on his religion, on his baptismal record and on his conscience upon his wedding day?

Why did the young man spit upon the cross and sell his manhood on his wedding day?

Why did the young man insult the living and outrage the memory of his dead kinsmen on his wedding day?

Why did he turn his back upon the altar and renounce his first communion on his wedding day.

Why did the young man sell his soul and the soul of his unborn children to the devil on his wedding day?

It was for love. The lady demanded the sacrifice and it was not in his power to refuse. She made it as a condition of the bestowal of her hand that he should unman himself, deny himself and his soul, perjure himself, falsify his baptismal record and insult his nearest and dearest friends before she would be his bride. He loved her and he submitted.

The devil supplied the argument in this process of apostasy. He said the girl had as much right to her religion as he had to his. That was not true, but even granting it, it was not against her religion to be married by a priest, while it was a violation of his religion and conscience to be married by a minister. Every Protestant in the world recognizes as valid and lawful any marriage that the state approves, and every state recognizes the marriage solemnized by a priest. She said she had a conscience as well as he. Granted, but her conscience would not be wounded of being married before a priest; while his would be violated by a marriage before a minister. Were she a member of the strictest Protestant sect in Christendom she might approach the Lord's Supper in her church without censure the day after her marriage; while the moment he did the sacrilegious deed he was barred from the sacraments and excommunicated from the church's pale. He did it for love. Accursed be the man who so loves a woman that he would sell his soul for her; deny his God for her; sacrifice home and heaven for her. Such a wedding is a covenant with hell, and a league with the devil.

The Night Schools of this city are no longer an experiment, but a most encouraging success. The four schools that have been opened are already well attended, and the number of pupils in regular attendance is between 1,200 and 1500. The ages of the pupils range from fifteen up into the fifties. In the different classes, both at the white and the colored schools, there are numbers of men who did not have the opportunity in their earlier years to attain an education. In the Jackson street colored school, grey-haired men are seated by the side of boys, and they display even more attention and earnestness. The result has been far more encouraging than the Committee on Night Schools could have expected, and this success has again brought into prominence the establishment of night schools for girls.—Christian Observer, Louisville, Ky.

The M. E. Church, South, and Prohibition in Missouri.

In the St. Louis Christian Advocate, Mr. G. W. Horn says: "Let every Methodist in Missouri and their neighbors also, know that as a church we stand pledged to the cause of temperance and to prohibition. The late sessions of the Missouri and the Southwest Missouri Conference passed emphatic resolutions on the subject. In the Southwest Missouri Conference there was not a member opposed to prohibition. A few thought it not advisable to urge that now, but all were in favor of the principle, and the resolution was adopted with emphasis. There are about 60,000 Southern Methodists in the State, and near 100,000 Methodists all told, presumably all of one sentiment on the temperance reform. Let them stand to our pledge and we shall be felt in the coming revolution."

Though Governor St. John was defeated he is not at all disheartened, with reference to the final success of the cause he so warmly and ably advocates. In a letter to the editor of the New York Witness he says:

"Though beaten I am neither dishonored, discouraged nor whipped. Of course we expected the whiskey ring to resort to all manner of corrupt means to compass my defeat. We felt that we could overcome that, but we did not anticipate the treachery that there was in the Republican ranks. Personal jealousy, coupled with a greater love for the saloon than for principle, resulted in transferring the vote of 15,000 to 18,000 who claimed to be Republicans to the Bourbon Democrats, thus resulting in my defeat. In 1856, pro-slavery Democracy defeated John C. Fremont, but we crowned Abraham Lincoln with a grand victory in 1860. John Brown was hung as a fanatic, but the principles for which he gave his life will live forever, and the soil of slavery drenched in John Brown's blood, is now free. Our soldier boys were defeated at Bull Run, but they did not throw down their guns and sneak off like cowards, but they "rallied once again, shouting the battle cry of freedom," and by their bravery, stimulated by a devotion to principle, in due time gave to the enemy its Appomattox. A thousand St. Johns may go down in the fight for prohibition, but the principle will still live, and if we but do our whole duty will oventually crown the homes of this nation with the blessings of peace, sobriety, morality and good government. Let us take no steps backward, but looking to God for His guidance, press forward, with full faith that He, in His own time and own way will give us the victory.

The comet awakens thoughts which illustrate the common apathy toward the lessons taught by matters and objects of common occurence and vision. The comet is no more wonderful or more inspiring than the stars and the sun. It is subject to laws seemingly vagarions and not fully understood. The other heavenly bodies are subject to laws apparently more uniform, and better known. But vagariousness is no more strange than uniformity. Law encircles all things. The heavens declare God's glory. Cometary wonderings overawe us, and again we are brought to a realization of the wonders of His power. Yet each blade of grass teaches His goodness and infinite wisdom as truly, and all emphasize the truth that we are here to make ready for a hereafter.—Milwaukee Christian Statesman.

Over $70,000 has been subscribed toward the payment of the debt of, and improvement on, the Cincinnati Wesleyan College. This includes the amount vouched for by the alumnæ. The first payment is being collected. It is believed that the entire amount of the debt, $80,000, can be raised so that the sale of a part of the campus will not be necessary. Several persons have already subscribed liberal sums, additional to the $70,000 already raised, for the payment of the whole debt. Dr. W. K. Brown, the president, has been untiring and remarkably successful in laboring in the interests of the college debt.

Henry M. Stanley has become thoroughly acclimated and he now enjoys excellent health in Africa. He is so tanned by the sun that he looks like an East Indian.

Dragging Men Down.

Daniel Webster once said, "If he had no ability to elevate men to the sphere of angels, he thanked God he had no desire to bring angels down to the level of humanity." Of all mortal sins the desire to drag others down to our own level is among the most deplorable. It always indicates a depraved, degraded, and almost hopeless condition of mind. There is always hope even for the greatest offenders so long as they desire to have their children and friends do better than they have, but there is little or no ground of hope for that man who, because of his own baseness, seeks to besmirch the innocent, and turn the good into evil ways. This frame of mind is as near devilish as it is possible to be in this world. The person who hates a pure heart because his own is impure is capable of almost any crime. And yet few things are more common. It is not confined to whiskey sellers, thieves, gamblers and murderers. Who has not seen so-called sharpers deliberately plotting for the downfall of others, and when it was accomplished people laughed, and said "Poor dupe, ought to have known better." Most men desire partnership in their sin. It matters but little what that sin is. It may be smoking and chewing tobacco, drinking whiskey, card playing, dancing and Sabbath-breaking, they get comfort out of the idea of company, and are never happy till they get somebody to their level and to go along with them in their work of sin. This world has no lack of agencies and influences to drag men down, and help them along in a sinful career. The Lord Jesus condemns this course of dragging men down and approves of the contrary. He calls upon his followers to "let their light so shine that men seeing their good works should glorify their Father who is in heaven."

We must Help Ourselves.

Atlanta, Georgia, has three splendid Universities devoted to the education of the colored people. These are well patronized, but they do not meet all present demands. An exchange says:

"The colored people of Georgia are struggling to establish another college for their race. They have nearly completed the payment for the necessary grounds at Atlanta."

This "struggling" and partial success of our people in Georgia, speaks to us in Louisiana, and urges upon us the duty of greater activity. Last year, our school in this State, New Orleans University, turned away over one hundred students anxious for the blessings of Christian education, all for the want of [illegible]. The school was literally [illegible]. Prompted by the pressing necessities of the situation $5,890 [illegible] subscribed at the last session of the Louisiana Conference toward the enlargement of our school facilities in this city, and for the erection of another building to be known as the Gilbert Haven School of Theology. Now will [illegible] be maintained, and shall [illegible] of this liberal subscription be forth coming? Less than [illegible] remain in which to [illegible] these pledges. Let [illegible] word is their bond see [illegible] suffer no depreciation. [illegible] avoid this, is to come [illegible] and pay 100 cents [illegible] you promised. There seems to be an impression that is almost universal in the land that there is a kind of adaptability on the part of Methodism to the colored people of the Nation. We believe that Methodism suits the negro, but no more than it suits all other classes of men. We look upon the negro as a man, nothing more nothing less; partaking of all his virtues, subject to all his vices. Like all other members of the human family, he is a creature of circumstances, capable of receiving and rejecting things and principles as to him seemeth right; he is a creature of destiny in common with all other men. His circumstances and destiny are rigidly individual, but subject to the same universal laws that are applicable to all the tribes and families of earth. If Methodism triumphs among the colored people of the South, it must be because she has more truth than any other branch of the Christian church, and affords the truest type of Christianity. To use a political phrase is more "stalwart." Just now there is great need for "stalwart" men in all departments of the church work. Men of the Laodicean type of religious character are not needed. Methodism is best served by men "who fear nothing but God."

Subscriptions for the SOUTHWESTERN are constantly coming in. It has no whitewash for bad men, nor apologies for the sin of caste.

Thanksgiving day had its origin among the Pilgrims. It is a New England idea, but it has spread over the entire nation. With the Pilgrims it was not so much a day of eating as of religious thanksgiving. In our boyhood it was one of the great days of the year. The entire family always met together under the old roof, where old and young gathered and numbered the mercies of the year. On that day there were songs of praise not only in the great congregation, but in each family, and by each individual. The people made "a joyful noise unto God." All had some ground for praise and thanksgiving. We record with pleasure the fact that services were held in Presbyterian, Methodist, Episcopalian and Roman Catholic churches in this city. They honored the occasion. Blessings on them for this religious service. All acknowledge that the present year was one of uncommon prosperity. Abroad and at home the country has peace; the crops are abundant; the interests of different sections are uniting in closer and more fraternal bonds. Let us 'make a joyful noise unto God, and sing forth the honors of His name."

Our conviction has been, and is now, quite clear upon the corrupting, fraudulent practice of collecting money for any given purpose, and then perverting it to other uses. A question bearing upon this point is submitted, by a subscriber, to the Christian Advocate. The editor's answer is so pertinent, and represents our views so very forcibly, we have given both the question and answer to our readers:

Q. 985. Our Sunday-school is formed into a Missionary Society according to Discipline. The school votes to use a part of the money so raised for the running expenses of the school. The pastor protests. Can or ought he to do anything more?

A. They have no right to use any part of the money collected by the school as a Missionary Society for the running expense, of said school, nor for any other purpose, but for the cause of Missions. The pastor should protest, and should bring the matter up in the Quarterly Conference. If they wish to raise money for the school by collection, let them take a collection at another time; or, if they wish to divide the money; special notice should be given. To collect money for Missions and give it to something else is little short of fraud.

Some few weeks ago the Superintendent of the Sabbath school of the Second Presbyterian Church in Louisville, Kentucky, said he would give to the pupil who would memorize the Gospels of Mark and John in four weeks a present of a Bible. A young lady attending school with a number of studies on her hands completed the task in the allotted time. One of our own missionaries now in China writes of scholars in the mission schools in Pekin who can repeat the entire New Testament without prompting. Perhaps it is true that all cannot thus memorize in a few weeks the word of God. But this shows what has been done, and no doubt by steadiness and perseverance most of our young people could memorize most of the word of God.

Presbyterian Fraternity.

The course of true love it is said never runs smooth. The friends of fraternity among our Presbyterian brethren find now and then in the South a Presbytery that has no hankering after union with their Northern brethren. The Christian Observer thus sums up the votes of the Southern Presbyteries:

Of the thirty-eight Presbyteries that have been heard from, nine did not deem it necessary to take any action.

Twenty-three have approved or endorsed their establishment in decided terms. Three have expressed decided disapproval of their disestablishment. Four others, including one which expressed approval, overture the next Assembly to have the correspondence by letter, rather than by delegates.

Only six, then, out of thirty-eight, can be regarded as opposed to the results secured by the late Assembly. And three of these six are in the Synod of South Carolina. Of the twenty-three who approve, one is from the Synod of South Carolina, four from the Synod of Memphis, three from the Synod of Nashville, four from Missouri, five from Kentucky, and five from Virginia. Only one of the ten Presbyteries in Virginia takes exception to the action. This is as near an approximation to unanimity as could be expected.

The Southwestern Presbyterian keeps up a constant snarl, seems to be exceedingly bitter against all fraternal relations. Read:

"The Northern papers professed to be greatly shocked by the so-called secret circular, which was no secret circular. But what are we to think of a secret resolution or mental reservation by a General Assembly?"

Evidently most of the men who are oppposed to fraternity are old and perhaps venerable warriors. They will soon pass off to heaven and fraternity will come.

The President's Message to Congress on the 4th inst. was a business-like and concise document. He pointed out the folly of continuing an excessive coinage of silver; favored the abolition of all taxes, except those on distilled spirits; recommended the readjustment of the tariff, a reduction of import duties, and an enlargement of the free list. As over seventeen millions of river and harber appropriations are unexpended, there is no need for more, and he asked that each appropriation be considered as a separate bill, or that he be empowered to veto parts of a bill. The overpaid indemnities of China and Japan should be returned to those countries. He favors two-cent letter postage, expresses a deep interest in the civilization of Indians, and the removal of illiteracy in the South by National appropriations. He takes more advanced ground in favor of civil service reform and condemns political assessments. He will heartily co-operate with the friends of Mississippi River improvement.

The Brownsville States and Bee, of Dec. 1, thus notices the presiding officer of the Tennessee conference of our church, held in that place: "Bishop Warren, of the M. E. Church delivered one of the ablest and most powerful sermons at the Methodist Church last Sunday evening, that has ever been delivered in Brownsville. His text, 'Bear ye one another's burdens and thus fulfill the law of Christ,' was handled with consumate skill and ability, and made an impression upon all present that will not soon be forgotten. In range and breadth of thought and learning, in apt and cogent illustrations, and in inimitable pathos and eloquence, it was a master-piece. We cannot here do the sermon justice by an attempted synopsis in the limited space allowed for that purpose, but wish simply to say that we were charmed with it in every respect as were the larger portion of a large and very attentive congregation,"

At the Carondelet street M. E Church South very appropriate Thanksgiving servicesss were held, several clergymen taking part in the exercises. A good brother leading in prayer, gave special thanks to God for the great Democratic victory that has swept the country. If this prayer had been offered in any Yankee Church it would have been called political, but here in New Orleans it is all of grace.

Zion's Herald speaking of the strain of work on our Bishops and ill health of some of them, says it is evident that the Board will require strengthening at the next General Conference.

A correspondent writes that several packages of U. S. Mail were picked up out of Red River recently near Alexandria, of date of last February. Probably the result of some accident.

Our Southern work must be pushed with more energy than ever before. The SOUTHWESTERN is needed more than ever.

PERSONAL.

—Rear Admiral Jas. H. Strong, retired, died at Columbia, S. C., on the 28th, from hemorrhage of the lungs.

—D. L. Moody telegraphed to this country that he is perfectly well, and reports of his nervous prostration were untrue.

—Geo. W. Cable, has been engaged to deliver a course of six lectures before "The John Hopkins University," Baltimore, Md., during the month of March next.

—Rev. S. P. Bell, of Tennessee Conference desires his correspondents to address him at Central Tennessee College, Nashville, hereafter.

—Rev. Sprague Davis, of the Central Tennessee conference, located, with a view to going west. He will remove to Burlington, Kansas. —Methodist Advocate.

—The accounts of Gen. Longstreet, marshal of the Northern district of Georgia, have been adjusted. The incapacity of clerks caused an apparent deficiency, which was subsequently removed. The General is now 70 years old.

—Gen. A. S. Herron, Congressman elect from the Sixth Louisiana district, died in Baton Rouge, of heart disease on the 28th. The Governor ordered a special election to fill the vacancy to be held Feb. 8, 1883. Gen. Herron was born in Nashville, Tenn., and was a citizen of Baton Rouge about 48 years. He served in the Confederate army during the war.

OUR SOUTHERN WORK.

ARKANSAS.

M. Lockman, Lewisville: "I found on arrival here after conference one member at Magnolia charge. Elder Sams directed me to take charge of Lewisville; and I have now both works under my care. I went down to near the Louisiana line, 27 miles from here, and commenced a protracted meeting. It resulted in 10 converts, all of whom except one joined the Baptists. We kept right on; have now 14 members, and have bought two acres of land and 3000 feet of lumber. Our white friends assisted us with liberal contributions of money. I here give their names: Henry Moore, B. P. Wheat, W. N. Strickland, J. Wade, D. Kings, W. McCans, W. H. Featherston, Mr. Bennys, J. D. Moore and G. J. Moore. If the Bishop and Elders could get about nine or ten more preachers down in this section, they could do some good. The people promise to take the church paper. On account of illness of his family, the elder was unable to hold my quarterly conference, but we expect him to come."

MISSISSIPPI.

L. Maury, Okolona: "The work in this vicinity is progressing. There have been a number of converts. We are pleased with our pastor—no better has ever been on the charge."

John Eanes, Starkville: "There were eight points on Greensboro circuit, and I visited two on one Sunday. I walked nearly all the time, and in three years missed only about six appointments."

J. Ward, Pineville: "We raised $25 in July, and $40 since, and reduced the debt to about $60. We are obliged to raise the money before Jan. 1, and will need help. We had a good revival and protracted meeting. Elder Barney visited us in September."

TEXAS.

L. H. Horn, Courtney: "The people take a great interest in our auxiliary of the Woman's Home Missionary Society."

W. McKenzie, Moscow: "The new church is up. Elder Pullam, visited us; also, Rev. S. Kelley, of Livingston. Bro. Davis, of Marshall, has sent us a good teacher for our day school. The people were glad to receive him: He opened with 30 pupils, and will have 20 more."

Henry Smith, Paris: "In the Indian Nation and at Sander's Prairie we have experienced some hard times. We expect to build a fine church at Sander's Prairie. The African church fights us in the Nation. I am in very good spirits."

J. Browley, San Marcos: "The debt of $75 has been removed. On the elder's last visit, we had raised for him $21.75; for pastor, $51.35. The young ladies gave an entertainment and raised $25.20, to purchase a suit of clothes for the pastor; also raised $10 for benevolent purposes."

I. B. Scott, Houston: "is moving on smoothly. Our whole attention is now directed to seating and lighting the new church. The new seats have come and are being set up. The building has been furnished for some months. It is our endeavor to do everything on a cash basis. The new church is said to be one of the finest in the South. Three of our members—Sisters Prudence Young, Anna Jamison, and Bro. Aaron Jefferson—for many years the sexton—have lately passed away. All died in the triumph of the faith. Brethren, pray for us."

For the SOUTHWESTERN.

Letter From Little Rock.

There is some satisfaction to a man who has been enduring the hardships concomitant with planting and building up the M. E. Church in the great Southwest, at the turn matters have taken and the visible evidences of the permanent success of our church work in this central city (Little Rock) of this vast section.

For three years Walden Seminary has been in successful operation, although without a building it could call its home, yet growing in the hearts and minds of the public. During the last eighteen months a number one brick church has gone up for our Wesley Chapel Society, into which they are to go soon.

More recently by the aid of the Church Extension board, the Centenary property has been improved so that we have four very fine store rooms, which ought to bring $200 a month with some four or five smaller upstair rooms suitable for private offices, and a fine audience room for church purposes up stairs, with the name Methodist Block in large letters upon the front of the building. This is a wise investment, the property being located as it is in the business part of the city, on Main between 4 and 5 streets. This wise planning and building up of this vast structure is due to the keen insight of Bishop Warren. But beyond this is the Little Rock University, for which has been purchased $13,000 dollars worth of real estate in a very desirable portion of the city. Something like a million of brick have been burned for the erection of buildings for this school and its branches.

The foundation for the first building has been laid of the best stone. It will square one hundred feet and is to be four stories high. The people of Little Rock have pledged near $7,500. By the untiring energy and push of Rev. Dr. Gray, the President of the school, the work has gone far enough for the laying of the corner stone. True to his farsightedness the Dr. arranged to have this work done while the Grand Lodge of Masons was in session in the city, the ceremonial services being in their charge.

Bishop Warren was secured to deliver the address for the occasion, and on the 30th ultimo—thanksgiving day—he delivered one of the most thoughtful addresses, in the Opera house, to a large body of people, that ever was heard in our city. When we meet and hear one of our Bishops we do not wonder that he was elected to that high and holy office.

The Bishop seemed to be in good condition for his difficult task, and although he knew he was a Yankee and stood before a Southern audience, many of whom had been taught to hate New England men and ideas, he nevertheless boldly declared the truth in such a clear and convincing way that a casual observer could see he was carrying the people with him. He handled Dickens, Hood, Hugo and other authors to illustrate his points like he would the readers. And many said he was the finest thinker and most effective speaker they had ever listened to. He did his work well and we shall hail with joy the day when he comes into our midst again. It has often occurred to us that our work would grow much faster and become permanent much sooner if these great and good men could come among us more often.

We missed the presence of Dr. Rust and hope when the next great occasion occurs he will be able to attend.

We are not disposed to find fault, but why the Discipline of the Church was not deposited in the corner stone, as well as other articles, such as the Hymnal or Annual Report of the Freedman's Aid Society, &c., we could not understand. But we thank God for what has been done, and are not afraid of the future influence of this school or our southern work so long as the General Conference elects such men to the episcopy as Bishop Warren. May God bless this Chief Itinerant and manifold worker, and the work to which he lays his hand.

Now for a building for Walden Seminary.

I. G. POLLARD.

Letter From Grenada.

Dear Editor:—I had a warm reception when I came here last January, notwithstanding many of our congregation had hoped for brother Cowan's return, and that they wanted him and no one else, but he, in the spirit of a noble Methodist itinerant, had, before he left for his new field of labor, satisfactorily explained our economy which caused the people to open their hearts as true Methodists and give their new pastor a fair hearing. Early in the spring I was blessed with the opportunity of receiving twelve probationers into full membership, though as is generally the case, some probationers, like the seed that "fell upon the rocky places where they had not much earth, and straightway they sprang up, because they had no deepness of earth, and when tribulation or persecution ariseth because of the word, straightway he stumbleth," but some of our faithful class leaders have been and are still assisting their pastor to care for these wandering lambs and bring them back to the fold. We have added twelve to the church; I have collected sixty-one dollars and forwarded it to Pres. Hooper, fifty eight dollars of it for Rust University. I am still hopeful of collecting the balance of my one hundred dollars promised, by conference, though the time is short. We have not been able to have services for three Sundays, though the weather is fine now. A society known as the Willing Workers, have torn down the old pulpit and are building in its stead a very graceful one, and a circle altar of which any of our churches might be proud. Although times have been hard and money unusually scarce, we might have suffered had it not been for the continual coming of bountiful pound parties. No minister's family could suffer when such Christians and especially some of our leading sisters continually look after their interest. Most of the special services such as children's day, and special prayer meetings have been observed with marked interest, and have proved beneficiary to our benevolent collections, though the collections in this direction is small as yet, but I am encouraged to think that our good people would not fall behind their reputation in this particular. Yesterday I was pained to see our Presiding Elder's little daughter, Nellie, who had fallen from the steps and broken her right arm in one or two places. Her attending physician thinks she will be able to walk in a few days. Pray for us. Yours kindly,

A. M. TROTTER,

Grenada, Miss., Dec. 1.

Dr. Fowler at New Orleans University.

The visit of Dr. Fowler to the New Orleans University recently was highly appreciated both by teachers and students. The students of the higher classes—all that the chapel will accommodate—were called together, and were addressed for nearly an hour upon the very subjects that are most vital to them; the importance of right character and of thoroughness in knowledge; that education is not so much an accomplishment as a preparation for one's life work, not so much for shew as for use, and consequently that a few things learned well are worth more than many things partially learned. He impressed upon them the fact that education is not merely the gaining of so much knowledge, but the training of the mind to accuracy and readiness of thought. In this connection he strongly recommended the study of the ancient languages, not only the Latin, but the Greek as well. He told them not to be in a hurry to finish their education, but to take time to prepare themselves fully for life's work and conflicts. Upon the subject of reading, the Doctor advised them to have very little to do with novels, since most of them are positively injurious in their tendency, and nearly or quite all of the rest are of doubtful benefit; that they all have at least this evil effect, that they produce a disrelish for solid reading. He recommended special attention to the study of history, and told them that by accustoming themselves to read it, they would at length find it more interesting than any novel. The Faculty will doubtless bear in mind this suggestion regarding the value of history in the proposed remodeling of the course of study in the University.

Dr. Fowler's remarks were so well received that by special request of the President, Dr. Dean, he resumed his address twice, after he had brought it to a termination. It is hoped that his duties will frequently bring him to our city, and whenever he comes we are sure that he will be a welcome visitor at the New Orleans University.

AUDITOR.

West Tennessee.

DEAR EDITOR—I closed my 4th round Nov. 12th, with clear success. I have preached 416 sermons, and met and lectured Sunday Schools 48 times, and to every day schools 35 times; visits and prayers among my people 1,460; and I have traveled this year on my district 7,830 miles; nearly two hundred souls have been converted through our quarterly conferences, over 400 have been converted in the district. The brethren generally have had fair success on their circuits. There has been an increased energy among the leading brethren in attendance at the quarterly meetings. Brother J. W. Pickett has improved the church at Memphis; Brother G. N. Johnson has ceiled his church; Brother J. B. Marbrey has plastered the church in Brownsville; Brother W. Dwegans has ceiled the church in Alamo, and built a new church ten miles out, and A. Burdett has built two new churches; Brother Barr has improved one and bought two lots for churches and a bell for one of his churches; Brother Dunlap has bought two lots for churches, and taken in two new points; Brother Summerhill has ceiled the church in Lawrenceburgh; Brother Moores is paying rapidly on the Mason church. The brethren generally have done good work in building and paying on old church debts. Our second district conferences were a grand success to the church. At the one at Mason 108 members were present, and a vote of 106. The conference favors the holding of two sessions each year. It voted solidly against whisky and tobacco in every form. Ours is a temperance district.

I am yours in Christ,

JESSE P. PRICE.

Letter from Okolona.

MR. EDITOR: My letter published in your paper a few weeks ago caused one local preacher of the Okolona circuit to subscribe. I hope every local preacher in the State will follow his example. This has induced me to write again. Comparing other parts of the State with this circuit and station three fourth of the local preachers exhorters, leaders and stewards do not read the Discipline or subscribe for the papers of the M. E. Church. They have a zeal of God, but not according to knowledge. They very often tell their hearers somebody has clogged Zion's wheel. Spiritually, Zion is the church of God, the discipline is the wheel or rule by which she is guided to perfection. If you do not read and study the Discipline you are clogs in Zion's wheel. The Sabbath school is an auxiliary to the moving of Zion's wheel. Her bell rings, yet the leaders and stewards are not present. They have a zeal of God, but not of knowledge. The past history of the church can be learned from books, but the present and progressive history must be learned from our church papers. Those who do not read the papers are clogs in Zion's wheel. Our beloved Presiding Elder Shumpert is determined to remove those clogs and let the earnest workers of the church take the lead.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

Frank Leslie's Sunday Magazine for January, under the editorial charge of Rev. T. De Witt Talmage, commences the New Year brilliantly; affords delightful, edifying reading. The first of a series of articles on "Denominations in the United States" treats of "Methodism: Its Charaacter and its attainments," by Rev. Dr. Curry, D. D. The editor has an interesting article, "Who was Thomas Guard?" Paul Pastnor shows "What the Monks did for Early English Literature;" other contributions are from the pens of Mrs. Jane G. Austin, O. M. Birrel, G. MacDonnald, LL. D., Edwin de Leon, etc., and consist of admirably written stories, sketches, essays, poems, etc. In the Home Pulpit is a discourse by Dr. Talmage, "The Popular Christ." Those interesting features are continued—"Personal Notes and Comments," "Editorial Comments," etc., and there is a large, instructive miscellany. Price $3 year; single numbers, 25 cents, postpaid. Address, Mrs. Frank Leslie, publisher, 53, 55, and 57 Park Place, New York.

Sunday school and day school teachers will be glad to hear of the new holiday supplies provided at the Temperence Literature Department, under the superintendence of Miss Julia Coleman, at 76 Bible House, New York. Those specially in season now are a choice assortment of new chromo cards, fitted out with well chosen mottoes, Scripture texts, and poetical quotations. The idea is a new one in this shape, though the assortment already embraces more than 200 varieties. Some are in sets, like the Longfellow set of six, which, in as many quotations, shows that poet to be a much better temperance man than he sometimes gets credit for. A price list will be sent to every applicant to facilitate orders.

Messrs L. Prang & Co., Boston, are publishing a series of Prize Christmas Cards, which, for style and artistic character and beauty of execution we have never seen excelled. We are sorry that we cannot give a clear conception of these cards. There is a depth of meaning in each. One bearing the motto "Good Tidings of Great Joy," representing a homeless mother with her children, standing under a leafless tree, with a vision of the Virgin Mother with the Babe in her arms, drew a prize of [illegible] These cards are [illegible] forms. Price from 50 cents to $1,50.

The King of the Nations, a Christmas service for 1882, by J. H. Vincent and Mrs. E. H. Thompson, is an excellent publication of the kind, issued by Phillips & Hunt, 805 Broadway, New York.

Rose Kingsley, the daughter of Canon Kingsley, contributes to the holiday Wide Awake an amusing article about the famous trio of at Everaley Rectory, Daudy, Sweep and Victor. It is illustrated by drawings of the noble fellows from water-colors by Miss Kingsley, a portrait of Canon Kingsley, and a a picture of Everaley Rectory the latter two from photographs.

Mr. George W. Cable's history of the Louisiana Creoles will be begun in the January Century, with a paper on "Who are the Creoles?" illustrated by Pennell. Dr. Eggleston's second article in his history of life in the thirteen colonies, "The Planting of New England," will be printed in the same number.

Messrs. E. G. Rideout & Co., 10 Barclay street, New York, commenced on the 9th the issue of a new boys' and girls' weekly called The Golden Argosy. The subscription price is $1.75 per year. It is a beautiful eight-page illustrated paper.

Sibley's Farmers' Almanac, for 1883, contains several prize essays on "Southern Gardening." The publishers, H. Sibley & Co., Rochester, New York, and Chicago, Ill., donated a car load of garden seed to the people of the overflowed section of Mississippi.

From the publishers, 190 Strand, London, England, we have received the Christmas number of the Graphic, with numerous chromos and artistic engravings of a cheerful description. The illustrations are painted in colors, the large plate is from a painting by Millais. Over half a million copies have been produced; one New York firm alone importing 80,000 copies.

First Twenty Hours in Music, by R. Challoner. Published by Geo. D. Newhall & Co., 50 W. Fourth street, Cincinnati, Ohio. Price 75 cents.

The book is for beginners on the piano or cabinet organ. The pupil who will follow the instructions of this little book will make the greatest proficiency, and acquire that perfection of habit that will ensure success.

Heroes and Holidays. Talks and stories about Heroes and Holidays: or Ten-Minute Sermons to Boys and Girls on the International Sunday-school Lessons of 1883. 454 pages, 12mo, Illustrated, Price Cloth $1 25; in paper, two parts, for each, 30 cents; both, 60 cents. New York: Funk & Warnalls, 10 and 12 Dey street.

Jewish Nature Worship, by J. P. MacLean, price 25 cents, has been received from the publishers, Robert Clark & Co., Cincinnati, Ohio. It treats of the worship of the reciprocal principles of nature among the ancient Hebrews.

These sermons are by well-known preachers of the United States and England. The book includes Holiday Sermons to children for New-Year's, All-Fools' Day, Palm Sunday, Easter, Pentecost and Christmas, besides Sermons on the Bible Heroes described in Joshua, Judges, Ruth, Samuel and Acts, and Sermons on Missions and Temperance. The points of this book are: 1, An Attractive Illustrated Story Book for Sunday-school libraries and for children at home. 2, A Beautiful Holiday Present for a child, a parent, a teacher, or a preacher. 3, A Homiletical Study for preachers, of the ways of preaching to children used by those who have been successful in this work. 4, A Study for Teachers on the Sunday-school Lessons of 1883, both of the matter to be taught and the method of teaching it, with abundant illustrations also. 5, A Book of Stories and Instructions for Mothers to read to their children, etc. 6, This book ought to be placed in the hands of every Sunday-school scholar.

"I began the use of your Compound Oxygen Treatment just as I was taking a bad cold; the cold passed off without settling on my lungs, or otherwise hurting me. Have had no pain or rattling in my lungs after the first weeks' treatment. SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Fourth Quarter. Lesson XII. December 17th.

After His Resurrection. (Mark xvi, 9—20.)

The last lesson left Mary Magdalene hurrying to tell the good news that Jesus was not in the grave. The poor disciples heard the good news, but they thought Mary must be mistaken. Then came two of the twelve and told the same story. Jesus had come to them as they walked to Emmaus, a little town about eight miles from Jerusalem. Still they did not believe. But at last Jesus came where all the eleven were together. Jesus talks to them, and you may be sure they catch every word. At last he gives them a good bye word, and it is your golden text: "Go ye into all the world and preach the Gospel to every creature." Then Jesus went home to heaven. This is his last command, and his disciples obeyed it. This command is for every one of us, as well as the disciples, and unless we obey it we disobey his last wish. Now let us see how little ones can obey this. They can not cross the ocean and teach the heathen. They can not go into the places where people do not love Jesus, even here at home. But they can obey, and this is the way: First, they can pray for the people who do go. Next, they can give part of their money to help send the Bible to those who ... not have it unless we send it. ... sure to remember this. Right ... in our own city are people who have no Bible, and there are many places not across the water where ... blessed Bible must go. Then ... over the ocean worship ... You must help them; so you ... people can easily help. ... to feal glad that Jesus ... work for him. Drop your ... into the missionary box ... and ask Jesus to help you ... him here at home by being ... loving little lambs. — The

DEATHS.

In Memoriam.—M. E. Church, Huntsville, Tex. Whereas, It has pleased Almighty God, in his infinite wisdom, to call from our midst our beloved fellow-member and brother, Barney Carter, while bowing in humble submission to the edict, that all must die, we can but lament the departure of our said brother.

Therefore, be it resolved, That this church has lost a useful and zealous member, and that our heartfelt sympathy is extended to his bereaved family.

Resolved, further, That the altar be draped in mourning as a token of respect for the deceased, and of our regret for his untimely taking off.

Resolved, That brother Barney Carter was always a faithful member of his church, and died in full faith.

That copies of these resolutions be forwarded to the Christian Advocate and Huntsville Item for publication.

E. J. C. Pinder, for committee.
November 15, 1882.

Brother Swift Bradford passed away, aged 80 or 90 years, in full faith in Christ. He was a member of our church.

J. W. Parks.
Jackson, Miss.

I wish to mention the death of Brother Abner James. Brother James has been a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church for many years; his sufferings were very great for several weeks, but he bore it all with perfect composure, seeming to be conscious of his death. To the last he was perfectly sane, and on last night, the 23d, he passed away in full triumph.

When you feel out of sorts, have the blues, melancholy, etc., it must be indigestion that ails you. Brown's Iron Bitters cures.

The ladies of the M. E. Church and congregation in Iola, Kansas, gave a "mush and milk" social in the church on Wednesday evening, November 22d. The occasion was profitable to the church, and very enjoyable to those in attendance.

Little Living Age for 1883.

This standard weekly magazine, now nearly forty years old, continues to afford the most convenient means of keeping informed in the best literature of the day, and abreast with the work of the most eminent writers. It gives an amount of reading unequalled by any other periodical, and is the only satisfactorily complete compilation of a current literature which embraces more and more every year the productions of the ablest writers and thinkers in all departments of literary scientific work. Hence its importance and value to American readers. It fills the place of many quarterly, monthly and weekly publications, and the reader is thus enabled, at a small expenditure of time and money, to keep pace with the best thought and literature of the time. The prospectus is worthy of the attention of all who are selecting their periodicals for the new year. Reduced clubbing rates with other periodicals are given; and to new subscribers remitting now for the year 1883, the intervening numbers are sent gratis. Littell & Co., Boston are the publishers.

Clayton McMichael, proprietor of the Philadelphia North American, has been commissioned as United States Marshal for the District of Columbia.

The Thanksgiving Issue of the Youth's Companion will be a double number enclosed in a colored cover with a full page picture of a Puritan maiden paring apples. The artistic beauty of the number shows how much is being done in these days to attract the young to reading, which instructs while it entertains. A glance through its pages is sufficient to indicate the result of the Companion's popularity, which has given it a welcome into three hundred thousand homes.

At Durango, Col., Dr. Evetzky was publicly horsewhipped by two women for slandering them, and at night he went to his office, mortally shot his partner, Dr. H. A. Clay, and then killed himself. No trouble had ever before occured between the two practitioners.

Forty Year's Experience of an Old Nurse.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup is the prescription of one of the best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and has been used for forty years with never-failing success by millions of mothers for their children. It relieves the child from pain, cures dysentery and diarrhœa, griping in the bowels, and wind-colic. By giving health to the child it rests the mother. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. 20-1y

Failing!

That is what a great many people are doing. They don't know just what is the matter, but they have a combination of pains and aches, and each month they grow worse.

The only sure remedy yet found is Brown's Iron Bitters, and this by rapid and thorough assimilation with the blood purifies and enriches it, and rich, strong blood flowing to every part of the system repairs the wasted tissues, drives out disease and gives health and strength.

This is why Brown's Iron Bitters will cure kidney and liver diseases, consumption, rheumatism, neuralgia, dyspepsia, malaria, intermittent fevers, &c.

803 S. Paca St., Baltimore.
Nov. 28, 1881.

I was a great sufferer from Dyspepsia, and for several weeks could eat nothing and was growing weaker every day. I tried Brown's Iron Bitters, and am happy to say I now have a good appetite, and am getting stronger.

Jos. McCawley.

Brown's Iron Bitters is not a drink and does not contain whiskey. It is the only preparation of Iron that causes no injurious effects. Get the genuine. Don't be imposed on with imitations.

General Grand United Order of Brothers and Sisters of Love and Charity.

On the 14th of September, in the city of New Orleans, State of Louisiana, we organized an association to be known by the name and title of the "General Grand United Order of the Brothers and Sisters of Love and Charity," of the United States and the Great Republic of Liberia, for the purpose of relieving the sick and distressed, and drying the tears of the widow and educating the orphan, and to inculcate virtue among that class to which we belong.

The following named officers were elected: Bro. Graham Bell, General Grand Worthy Superior. Bro. Thos. J. Hill, General Grand Worthy Deputy Superior. REVIVAL HYMNS.

By MARSHALL W. TAYLOR, D.D.

WITH AN INTRODUCTION

By Rev. F. S. HOYT, D.D., Editor of the Western Christian Advocate,

A remarkable and unique collection of religious songs with their accompanying weird, pathetic, ever varied and ever charming melodies, as sung for generations by the colored people of America. The few songs and melodies first introduced and sung by the "Jubilee Singers" and "Tennesseeans" were everywhere received with enthusiastic applause, and soon attained immense popularity. They are now familiar to almost every one, and have created an earnest and very general desire that every song and melody which has been popular among the negroes of the South during their days of slavery should be gathered together and published in a form and style which would give them the widest circulation and insure their preservation. This wide-felt want is now supplied in this complete and valuable collection, which comprises the best of the many variations of these songs and melodies, giving all that have seemed worthy of preservation. The author, Marshall W. Taylor, D D., who is presiding elder of the Ohio District of the Lexington Conference, is peculiarly well qualified for the preparation of a work of this kind, requiring as it does, a thorough knowledge of the subject, good judgment and much careful, painstaking labor; and the thorough and systematic manner in which the work has been completed, leaves nothing to be desired. A few of the songs will be familiar, but the great majority have never before been printed, and are now given for the first time with the original words and music. They include, therefore, very many songs entirely new which are as meritorious as those so well known, and which will probably become equally popular. The music has been carefully written, and is well adapted for quartet, chorus, and congregational singing, and is especially excellent for social evenings at home. Read the testimonials. Price 50 cents. For sale by

OUR SOUTHERN WORK.

LOUISIANA.

T. G. Montgomery, First Street, New Orleans: "The protracted meeting commenced November 9, and before the 11th we had 9 converts, and the altar was crowded by those seeking to be comforted."

Rev. H. J. Wright, pastor of Stuart Chapel and Spring Creek church in Rapides parish writes from Alexandria: "I left here with my magic lantern, to give exhibitions at a few points, hoping to realize in my round a portion, at least, of my Conference collections. At Cheneyville the receipts did not equal the expenses. At Booneville I realized only $1 90. At Holmesville, assisted by the efforts of the pastor, the large-hearted Bro. R. Anderson, who encouraged his people to assist me, I collected $5 60. In consequence of a revival that was in progress in Washington I did not exhibit there. At Opelousas I received $5 60, through the kindness of the pastor, Rev. Allen Lusan, who helped all he could. Total raised $13 90. Expenses $7 20. Net balance $6 50."

Camp: "I was sent to this circuit by Elder G. W. Barney. The Lord has blessed our labors this year. We have completed one new church and will have another one done by the last of this month. These churches are all framed and look beautiful. The French Camp Church will be 40 by 30. The lumber and ground have been paid for and I have the deed. We have had 86 accessions to the churches. The P. E. has given my work close attention with sermons and lectures. We are looking forward to a higher standard of morality and religion. I will close by saying to the brothers, we intend to do all we can for benevolent purposes, pray that we may go onward and upward in this work for the upbuilding of Christ's kingdom."

"I move," said a delegate in a Virginia convention, "that our chairman take a dose of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, he is so hoarse that I cannot understand him." That gentleman had no doubt tried this wonderful medicine.

The Minnesota M. E. Conference made a handsome and commendable advance in benevolent collections. On the entire financial exhibit, reported by the treasurer, the following are the figures: $41,902.00; last year $16,438.99; insurance $24,463.01. This increase has been notably in missions $996.63; Church Extension $3,012.63; Hamline University $12,942.48.

Don't Die in the House.

Ask druggists for "Rough on Rats." It clears out rats, mice, bedbugs, roaches, vermin, flies, ants, insects. 15c per box.

Nothing is so reliable as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for colds, coughs, in short for any and all derangements of the respiratory organs, which tend towards consumption. In all ordinary cases it is a certain cure, and it affords sure relief for asthma and consumption, even in advanced stages.

In the course of a few years the Northern Pacific Railroad will run through an avenue of shade trees hundreds of miles in length. This extensive tree planting is being done to protect the road from storms and snowdrifts. In addition to having a large gang of men at this work between Fargo and Bismark, in Dakota, the officers have distributed immense quantities of seedlings and cuttings to the farmers settled on the land grant, and offered prizes for skill in forestry.

 "A coward can be a hero at a distance; presence of danger test presence of mind." Presence of disease test the value of a curative. Kidney-Wort challenges this test always and everywhere, so far as all complaints of the bowels, liver and kidneys are concerned. It cures all nor asks any odds.

Are you getting your statistical reports ready? At the Annual Conference is neither the time or place to prepare such papers. Get them ready now.

Brain and Nerve.

Well's Health Renewer, greatest remedy on earth for impotence, leanness, sexual debility, etc. $1, at druggists. La. Depot I. L. LYONS, New Orleans, La.

Yellow fever broke out at St. Anna de Lapocatiere and at St. Pacom Dizaz, Canada, spread from bodies of persons who died in the United States from the disease and were brought home for burial.

Sir James Paget, President British Medical Association, says that 70,000 deaths are annually caused by nervous diseases in England, and that there is no more powerful and effectual nervine tonic than Liebig Co's Coca Beef Tonic, is evidenced by the emphatic testimony of the most eminent physicians—Beware of imitations under imitative names. For malaria, debility, sick headache, dyspepsia, monthly suffering and biliousness it is incomparable.

Mr. C. W. Gorringe, general agent, states that the outward business of the L. & N. road during the present month is double as great as it was last November, and there is every reason to believe the earnings of the road this season will be very large.

Nervousness, peevishness, and fretting so often connected with overworked females' lives, is rapidly relieved by Brown's Iron Bitters.

It costs the parish of Rapides more than $1000 to convict a criminal.

DR. JOHN BULL'S
FEVER and AGUE
Or CHILLS and FEVER.
AND ALL MALARIAL DISEASES.
The proprietor of this celebrated medicine justly claims for it a superiority over all remedies ever offered to the public for the SAFE, CERTAIN, SPEEDY and PERMANENT cure of Ague and Fever, or Chills and Fever, whether of short or long standing. He refers to the entire Western and Southern country to bear him testimony to the truth of the assertion that in no case whatever will it fail to cure if the directions are strictly followed and carried out. In a great many cases a single dose has been sufficient for a cure, and whole families have been cured by a single bottle, with a perfect restoration of the general health. It is, however, prudent, and in every case more certain to cure, if its use is continued in smaller doses for a week or two after the disease has been checked, more especially in difficult and long-standing cases. Usually this medicine will not require any aid to keep the bowels in good order. Should the patient, however, require a cathartic medicine, after having taken three or four doses of the Tonic, a single dose of BULL'S VEGETABLE FAMILY PILLS will be sufficient.
The genuine SMITH'S TONIC SYRUP must have DR. JOHN BULL'S private stamp on each bottle. DR. JOHN BULL only has the right to manufacture and sell the original JOHN J. SMITH'S TONIC SYRUP, of Louisville, Ky. Examine well the label on each bottle. If my private stamp is not on each bottle do not purchase, or you will be deceived.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

is a compound of the virtues of sarsaparilla, stillingia, mandrake, yellow dock, with the iodide of potash and iron, all powerful blood-making, blood-cleansing, and life-sustaining elements. It is the purest, safest, and in every way the most effectual alterative medicine known or available to the public. The sciences of medicine and chemistry have never produced so valuable a remedy, nor one so potent to cure all diseases resulting from impure blood. It cures Scrofula, and all scrofulous diseases, Erysipelas, Rose, or St. Anthony's Fire, Pimples and Face-grubs, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter, Humors, Salt Rheum, Scald-head, Ringworm, Ulcers, Sores, Rheumatism, Mercurial Disease, Neuralgia, Female Weaknesses and Irregularities, Jaundice, Affections of the Liver, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility.
By its searching and cleansing qualities it purges out the foul corruptions which contaminate the blood, and cause derangement and decay. It stimulates and enlivens the vital functions. It promotes energy and strength. It restores and preserves health. It infuses new life and vigor throughout the whole system. No sufferer from any disease which arises from impurity of the blood need despair, who will give AYER'S SARSAPARILLA a fair trial. Remember, the earlier the trial, the speedier the cure.
Its recipe has been furnished to physicians everywhere; and they, recognizing its superior qualities, administer it in their practice.
For nearly forty years AYER'S SARSAPARILLA has been widely used, and it now possesses the confidence of millions of people who have experienced benefits from its marvelous curative virtues.

Lost Friends.

[We make no charge for publishing these letters from subscribers. All others will be charged fifty cents. Pastors will please read the requests published below from their pulpits, and report any case where friends are brought together by means of letters in the SOUTHWESTERN.]

Mr. EDITOR—I wish to inquire for my sister and father, whom I left in South Carolina in 1864. They belonged to Thomas Bolding. Sister was Emily Mack. One sister was Mary Ann; another was Eve. Address me at Richmond, Texas.

WILLIAM MCNEELY.

DEAR SIR: Please insert in your paper inquiry for the following persons: Diana, Robert, William and Johnny Carthorn, colored. Direct them to correspond with Susan Briggs, Ripley, Miss., in care of Phil. Gray. Susan was brought from Richmond, Va., in 1850, by speculators. She was brought from Mr. Carthorn, and they were her brothers and sisters. Very truly, P. GRAY,
Ripley, Miss., Nov. 29, 1882.

DEAR EDITOR: I would like to find my nephew, Robert Brown, who left New Orleans, Oct. 20, 1877, for Louisville, Ky. He stopped at Plaquemines, La., and wrote me two letters, but as I was out of the city teaching school at the time, they were not answered until my return home. I wrote but did not receive a reply. I have not heard from him since, although I have traveled and made inquiries at river cities. Address me at Allen, La. D. J. PRICE.

"Time and tide wait for no man,"—but how many are amusing themselves with gathering shells and pebbles on the shore, even within the hearing of the signal bell! What wonder if such are left behind?

A LETTER FROM GERMANY.
SIEGEN, January 9, 1882.
Very esteemed sirs:
The praise your Liver Pills have called forth here is wonderful. After taking one and a half boxes of your genuine DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, I have entirely recovered from my four years' suffering. All who know me wonder how I, who, for so many years, had no appetite and could not sleep for backache, stitch in my side, and general stomach complaints, could have recovered.
An old lady in our city, who has suffered for many years from kidney disease, and the doctors had given her up, took two of your Pills and got more relief than she has from all the doctors. Yours truly,
J. VON DER BERG.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.
The genuine are never sugar-coated.
Every box has a red wax seal on the lid, with the impression: McLane's Liver Pill.
The genuine McLANE'S LIVER PILLS bear the signature of C. McLane and Fleming Bros. on the wrappers.
Insist upon having the genuine DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, prepared by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa., the market being full of imitations of the name McLane, spelled differently, but of same pronunciation.
If your storekeeper does not have the genuine DR. C. McLANE'S CELEBRATED LIVER PILLS, send us 25 cents, and we will mail you a box by mail, and a set of our advertising cards.

USE THE

A WONDERFUL and SCIENTIFIC DISCOVERY.
These Glasses are chemically treated in the process of manufacture, and possess the property of keeping your eyes in good condition, as when first you use them. They have been carefully examined and analyzed by American and European oculists, who claim that the MEDICATED GLASSES have no equal, and can in some cases restore the sight if used in time, but in no case can the eye become impaired by their use for the following reasons:
1. The chemicals soften the light to the eye, completely doing away with that tiresome sensation that is usually experienced in using glasses after one or two hours' use.
2. The chemicals make the glasses hard; they retain their polish. Hence you will always see through them as bright and clear as at first.
3. The chemicals keep the glasses cold, and the result is that the optic nerves are always cool, doing away with any feverish sensation to the eye.
4. With these glasses you can read, write or sew all night, the light having no effect on the eye, with no distressing or tiresome sensation, which necessarily improves the eye.
BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS.
The MEDICATED GLASSES are all stamped on the frame H. HOUSSAH, Medicated. NONE GENUINE UNLESS STAMPED.

A Song of Solace.

Thou sweet hand of God, that now woundest my heart,
Thou makest me smile, while thou makest me smart.
It seems as if God were at ball-play; and I,
The harder He strikes me the higher I fly.
I own it, He bruises, He pierces me sore,
But the hammer and chisel afflict me no more.
Shall I tell you the reason? it is that I see
The Sculptor will carve out an angel of me.
I shrink from no suffering, how painful so e'er,
When once I can feel that God's hand is still there;
For soft on the anvil the iron shall glow
When the smith with His hammer deals blow upon blow.
God presses me hard, but He gives patience too,
And I say to myself "'tis more than my due."
And no tune from the organ can swell on the breeze
Till the organist's fingers press down on the keys.
So come then, and welcome, the blow and the pain.
Without them no mortal to Heaven can attain,
For what can the sheaves on the barn-floor avail
Till the thresher shall beat out the chaff with his flail?
'Tis only a moment God chastens with [illegible]
[illegible] sorrow, the sunshine [illegible]
[illegible] on [illegible]
Be [illegible] then pray.

John F. [illegible] Tennessee [illegible] the poor [illegible] M. E. Church [illegible] are engaged in spreading the blessings of education and Christianity among their poor, needy, people. The next result of our Southern work may be seen in an astonishingly great number of flourishing colored churches, whose pastors, educated by our general church, intelligently and instructively preach to them the word of life, and the result is, we have thickly scattered over Mississippi, (and I suppose that the same is true of the other Southern States,) large congregations, who are comparatively well informed and intelligent and all the time improving in these respects. Connected with these congregations, are flourishing and well instructed Sabbath-schools. And these nurseries of our churches keep pace with them in prosperity. A large proportion of these congregations own their houses of worship. It is true other Methodist denominations have a foot-hold among the colored people of the South, but the number of churches founded by them is small when compared with these founded by the M. E. Church. And as to schools, the difference is overwhelmingly greater in our favor. But, in fairness, it must be admitted that the M. E. Church has done more for the poorest of the poor in the South, because she was able to do so. Moved by the head of the church to engage in this noble Christian work she established her Freedman's Aid Society, and, through this society, has expended nearly $1,000,000. Through her missionary society she has expended, in Mississippi alone, multiplied thousands in assisting her poor colored members in supporting their pastors and presiding elders; through her boards of church extension and education she has greatly assisted them in paying for their church property and in aiding young men in studying for the ministry. And it is due to my people to say that they are fully sensible of and profoundly grateful for what has thus been done for their incalculable benefit by the church of which they are a part. And they would gladly become self-sustaining more rapidly than they are now doing, but their movement in this direction is slow because of their great and painful poverty, which has been continued by frequent failures of crops, and the low price of cotton, the chief agricultural product in Mississippi and other Southern States. But notwithstanding their poverty and other drawbacks, thank God they are, through the instrumentality of the M. E. Church, all the time advancing in learning, the adorning virtues of life, and the bright paths of Christianity. But let it be remembered, it was not alone what our church has done for their good as already stated, that led such great numbers of intelligent colored people in the South to unite with her; but rather their belief that that learned, wealthy, powerful and influential church was not only clear of prejudice toward them on account of color and previous condition of servitude, but that she sympathized with them and respected them as fellow-men, and brethren in Christ; that it would never treat them scornfully, degradingly, nor in a manner calculated to foster and perpetuate an already existing prejudice toward them. And the writer knows that they were, and still are, correct in that favorable opinion of the M. E. Church. And if there is any departure from what was true of that church, in reference to the colored people, in the beginning of her [illegible] work, it is not on the part of the general church, her Bishops and general conference officers, but [illegible] the part of certain white [illegible] brethren who are in the [illegible] engaged in trying to build [illegible] churches and schools, and [illegible] think that by manifest [illegible] unwillingness to treat the [illegible] and members of [illegible] here otherwise than [illegible] by some white people [illegible] South who are [illegible] prejudiced and scorn[illegible] they will be more [illegible] successful in their [illegible] they greatly [illegible] success for two [illegible] that which [illegible] the golden [illegible] will be [illegible] to be [illegible] de-kingdom in her Southern work only by adhering to the principles, feelings and sentiments with which she commenced it. I believe that no intelligent colored members of any our churches or congregations would, for a moment, deny the right to their white brethren, if they are able to do so, to build a church without their aid; but when they, through their pastor, make the announcement that its doors are open for the admission of the people of all nations, except those of African descent, and that they are not invited nor expected to attend it—that though they might wish to visit it for the purpose of hearing the precious gospel preached by him who should be called by God to break the bread of life to perishing souls, still if their presence there would be offensive they will not go, and they will feel that they have been treated by an M. E. Church and its pastor in a manner which the general church, its Bishops and other representatives will not tolerate,-but condemn. Why did the M. E. Church and its pastor at Birmingham, Ala., announce that they would not allow colored people to even visit them, while we have in the South mixed conferences which are progressing in peace, harmony and prosperity; while, while we have in some of our institutions of learning in the South, white and colored teachers of both sexes; while we have in similar institutions in the North, established by our church, other religious denominations and states, colored as well as white students?

Union Chapel, New Orleans.

Joy at last for the faithful few that have lived to see the nice audience room finished. Many have died since this work was commenced by the Rev. George Dardis. Many prayers, tears and sorrows from the members and pastors, Rev. M. Dale, Rev. J. Vance, Rev. A. E. P. Albert. They have passed through the storm, but the calm day of joy has come to those that remain, while many have turned aside from the work. Money has been lent and lost, friends have been lost, Satan has tried his strong forces against this work, but God will sustain his church. Ten years labor was enjoyed on the 12th of November, in the presence of many of our brother ministers—Revs. Dale, Albert, Green, King, Forrest, Dean, Cushman, and many others. We collected $238. The members and friends have been giving liberally all the while, and the following names and sums are only a part of what has been subscribed in our last movement, and in conclusion with this, the trustees desire to express their thanks, first to our Church Extension and Bishops, secondly to all the friends that have aided our work:

Letter From Sweet Home.

Dear Editor:—It has been a long time since I have said anything through your dear old SOUTHWESTERN. Dear brethren, for 2 or 3 years we have been trying to have a camp-meeting at Sweet Home, and with but little or no success. We were in the midst of two camp-meetings, or I might have said, two gatherings for a camp-meeting, but failed to have any campers. So, day after day, and night after night, our beloved elder and I, with a few others, labored under a great disadvantage, caused by not having the assistance of visiting brethren and campers. The few members of Sweet Home thought they were not able to support so large a number of people as come to our pretended camp-meetings, and they expressed their thoughts by not camping. Now, brethren, this is a bad state of affairs, especially for a revival of religon. Since this was the case with us at Sweet Home, Bro. Sams, the presiding elder, and I, with the quarterly conference, devised this plan: that whereas, our people are very poor, especially in small settlements, we thought it best to have a conference camp-meeting. Also our desire is for this matter to be disposed of in our next session of the annual conference. We would like to have a question on camp-meetings, reading as follows: Who shall be the committee on camp-meeting? Then, after being appointed, this committee must meet and make out their report on the matter of camp-meetings. Now, brethren, this will be a blessing to Sweet Home, and the conference generally. Why? Because every preacher in the Little Rock Conference will become interested, and every circuit and station become a part of this great camp-meeting resort, and each will raise or devise some plan for the support of the camp-meeting. The meeting would be largely attended and well taken care of; and then such a saving of souls would follow. Brethren, do not understand me as making out a report for such committee in case there is one appointed. I only give you my idea why it would be a help for one church in the Little Rock Conference. Brethren, think over this matter, and if in your judgment you can approve this step, make up your mind what you will try and do, if possible, next year for the camp-meeting. If so we will have one. Take it at heart, pray over it, sing about it, preach about it, and then before going to bed talk about it with your friends and members.

Respectfully submitted,
W. R. DUNCAN.

Sweet Home, Ark.

For the SOUTHWESTERN.

Little Rock Conference.

BY REV. I. G. POLLARD.

Within sixty days we will meet in the fifth session of our Conference, to make our reports for the closing year, and to receive our appointments for another. But how will those reports compare with those of former years? According to last year's reports our people gave less than five cents per member for missions. Why was this? While the reports show quite a number of charges did not take a collection for the Board of Church Extension.

Is it not reasonable to suppose that men filled with the Holy Ghost, moved upon by the Holy Spirit to preach the gospel to the lost, as we claim to be, and receiving help as we do from these benevolent societies, would feel interest enough in those outside of our immediate charges to ask our people to contribute what they can for the conversion of the world? If it is true that after each pastor has faithfully presented the work and and plans of these agencies of the church to the people, and they intelligently refuse to give a cent, then the preacher thus failing should have the benefit of clearing himself of the responsibility for failing. Hence we favor a report of all the collections at the next conference, as to how they were taken, and the manner of presenting these claims by each preacher, before his character passes. It is certainly the duty of each pastor to train his people to give, as much so as to train them to pray and shout. Our discipline contains the recommendations and plans of the General Conference in these matters, besides the SOUTHWESTERN has been a faithful advocate of these interests weekly, and there can be no excuse for not making the effort and giving our people an opportunity to do what they are willing to do for the Master.

I know one brother who has collected more for missions than his assessment, and he certainly had one of the hardest fields in the conference, but he has put his committees to work and attended to the matter faithfully. Nor has he lost a cent from his own collections, for the people have a pastor who gives them an opportunity to do their part in the saving of this world. He is also building a new church; so that it is clear in this case that the people always give if the pastor gives them a chance to give. Now, suppose the bishop asks the presiding elders for a man for an important charge, where the financial interest of the charge, as well as the spiritual, is to be carefully looked after, and this brother is put there, and others are sent to a less important work, who will be to blame for his outstripping some others?

The man that loves God and his conference brethren, and tries to make peace among them, and does his duty, is usually the man who goes to the front.

The Murder of Colored Citizens.

MR. EDITOR: I am a daily subscriber to The Times-Democrat, and my heart is constantly filled with horror after having perused it, and finding therein the terrible outrages perpetrated against colored men almost every night throughout the South. Will you please read the following:

Special to the Times-Democrat.

"Bastrop, La., Dec. 8.

The usual quiet of our town was broken this morning, when it was anounced that a couple of colored men were found hanging to the limb of a tree, near Bastrop. They were incarcerated in our parish prison, two days ago, charged with shooting Mr. W. B. Curry, as telegraphed you on Wednesday. Last night the jail doors were broken down by a determined body of indignant men and the two prisoners, Tom Robinson and Bill Cephas, taken out and hung. Public opinion is in sympathy with the lynchers, and no desire to find them out is manifested. The young man Curry is in a dangerous condition, and if he recovers his face is disfigured for life.

Last Saturday a negro man named Wesley Andrews endeavored to murder a white man named McDowell, three miles from this town. The negro has been captured. The reports are that Judge Lynch, fixed his case last night. The practice of indulgent juries has aroused the people, who are determined that such outrageous crimes shall no longer go unpunished."

In the name of Israel's God, how can the editor of The Times-Democrat, here in this Christian country, and the whole Democratic press and pulpit sit quietly and read of such outrages committed against the Negro? They are simply "charged" with committing crime, and without Judge or jury are forced from jail, and hurled into eternity with not a word of forewarning. The above telegram says: "Public opinion is in sympathy with the lynchers, and no desire to find them out is manifested." Shame upon that public opinion! That's the right spirit to induce emigrants to settle in the South, is it not? "If Mr. W. B. Curry lives, his face will be disfigured for life." The souls of two men are disfigured for life. What would have been the result had those two American citizens lost their lives in England or any other foreign country? The life of a colored man is really safer in southern portions of Africa than here in his own Christian home. The telegram goes on to say, "Another colored man attempted to murder a white man, and that it has been reported that Judge Lynch has fixed his case, notice that the charge is that he "attempted" murder only, and has been hung. My Lord and Master! Where are we? In America, "The land of the free and the home of the brave? The Negro has been made a citizen, and the South prefers colored labor to that of Chinese or any other, and why are they thus treated? The Times-Democrat is fully acquainted with the sentiment of the South, and it should answer. Moreover, I have observed that in the sugar parishes of this State, the Negro does not meet with such cruelty as in the cotton parishes.

On last Wednesday morning I clipped the following from the Times-Democrat:

"Mr. Freeland, an old resident of this parish, who was tried at the fall term of the court for killing Tally, and who was returned to jail on the disagreement of the jury, was yesterday released on a $3000 bond, which was signed by some fifty persons."

Mr. Freeland resides in Morehouse parish. Quite a contrast between Mr. Freeland and the three colored men. Mr. Tally is wrapped up in the cold silent tomb, and Mr. Freeland, the murderer of Mr. Tally, is out on bond. Mr. Curry is still living, but nevertheless, two men were "charged" with only shooting him and they have been murdered without Judge or jury.

The Democratic party is responsible for the outrages perpetrated against the black American citizens of the South, and they, the Democrats, have gained a great deal at the last election, and the Republican party, will watch every move, and scrutinize every action of the Democratic party. May they rule well! They must avoid blunders, or otherwise expect an eternal overthrow. God bless the Southern pulpit, the church and press.

MRS. OCTAVIA VICTORIA ROGERS.
New Orleans, Dec. 11, 1882.

The Sunday law was enforced at New York with a strictness that surprised the residents. Street vendors of all commodities, newspapers included, were arrested, and in Brooklyn the drug stores were closed. The barber shops were shut, and those in hotels were kept busy, as outsiders who wished to be shaved, claimed to be guests. The street cars were not running, and express drivers were taken in if found violating the law. Projectors of sacred concerts fared in a similar way.

The business quarter of Kingston, Jamacia, was burned on the 1st instant. The loss is six million pounds. Hundreds are homeless. The wharves, warehouses, stores, banks and supplies are gone. Food supplies are needed. Charitable relief should be sent to W. K. Azbill, Kingston charity organization.

A great deal is said about jealousy. Some call it green-eyed, and others say these are mere figures of speech. It is called green or grizzly-eyed because it makes things look wrong. People who are jaundiced look yellow, the white of their eyes look yellow, in fact they are yellow, and everything is tinged with their own yellow sickness. They, like people who are color blind, see things and people in a false light. So people who are jealous see things in a false light. They look out upon this world with a jaundiced, jealous, color-blind eye. They see nothing good in society, or the world. All are like Johnson's famous leg of mutton, "bade as bade can be." They will believe nothing good of any person, save of course themselves. They find fault with everything done. The sight of others happy makes them unhappy. Jealousy is an awful disease, poisons the heart and spoils the man. Everything seen, heard, or done appears in a wrong light. It kills all the flowers and fruits of love in the human heart. It separates us from our friends and makes us lone as some volcanic isle. It is said that rooks and ravens kill the trees on which they build their nests. Jealousy certainly kills all love in the heart in which it enters and is allowed to reside.

Editorial Notes from West Texas.

On our way to Columbus to attend the West Texas Conference we had the pleasure of spending a day at Houston. We know of no city in the South making more rapid and what appears to be healthy progress. Large and substantial buildings are going up in all parts of the city. Real estate is moving upward every month. Houston is sure to become one of the great commercial centers of the South.

Houston Seminary, the new school established by the Freedman's Aid Society, is just closing its first term. The president, Rev. C. W. Campbell, is evidently the right man in the right place. Seventy-two students have been in regular attendance. Already the cry goes up for more room to accommodate the students. Is there not some good man who feels that he is a steward of the Lord, who can be persuaded to give twenty thousand dollars toward the erection of suitable buildings for this school? Our people are delighted with Bro. Campbell and his excellent wife. Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church is by far the handsomest church in the city, and is to be dedicated the last Sabbath in this month, without debt save the [illegible] thousand loan from the Church Extension Society. Bro. Scott, pastor, and a graduate from the Central Tennessee College, is loved and [illegible] by the people. Our people are calling louder and louder each year for an educated ministry, and those men whose chief strength is in their lungs will soon be laid upon the shelf. The people want something beside mere sound.—Brethren, read, study, think, as [illegible] will go to the Bishop a [illegible] position to have you removed, and you will begin with [illegible] to take a lower seat.

The editor of the SOUTHWESTERN, while attending the West Texas Conference, had a pleasant [illegible] with Henry Bedecker, Esq., [illegible] Colorado county. [illegible] is a German emigrant [illegible] county over thirty [illegible] he is a member of the [illegible] Episcopal church. Bishop [illegible] Hartzell, and other [illegible] have been his [illegible] this a Christian [illegible] devotions were [illegible]. Upon us, a [illegible] household be[illegible] as of an old [illegible] kindred. We can [illegible] pleasures of this [illegible] words of hatred or bit[illegible] hurled from the lips [illegible], but love, peace [illegible] prevailed.

In the country [illegible] are [illegible] farms, [illegible] are [illegible] in other days [illegible] and sold. This [illegible] of many; [illegible] a train of [illegible] have [illegible] all be[illegible]

[illegible] either in the cotton or corn crop there must follow great financial distress. This year these crops are abundant, perhaps never more so, and joy is in most all the homes of our people. Bro. Davis, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church in this city, is a man very much respected. Never was a conference more hospitably entertained.

West Texas Conference.

COLUMBUS, Texas, Dec. 7, 1882.

The tenth annual session of the West Texas Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church assembled in Columbus at the Methodist Episcopal Church, at 9 o'clock, A. M. Bishop Thomas Bowman, D.D. L. L. D., presiding.

The Conference was opened with the usual religious services, conducted by the writer.

The Conference roll was called by the secretary of the last Conference. On motion, B. F. Smith was elected secretary and H. Swan assistant.

The usual committees were ordered. Dr. Fowler, one of the corresponding secretaries of the Missionary Society, was introduced and gave a marvelous address, full of facts and figures, showing the mission work of the church.

After the Dr's speech the sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered, and the conference adjourned with the benediction.

A NORTHER.

Last evening the weather was warm and oppressive, men were on the streets of Columbus without coats, sweltering as in August; this morning there is a real Norther, cold as Greenland, men feel the need of two or three coats. To us the Norther is the great bane of Texas. More people die here of lung complaints than in New England. These sudden changes cannot be conducive to health.

Friday morning Conference met at 9 o'clock, Bishop Bowman in the chair. Religious services were conducted by Brother Carper, one of the old men of the Conference, but there is no oldness in his spirit.

PRESIDING ELDERS.

S. Gates, Presiding Elder of the Waco District was called. He made a statement respecting his district which shows it to be in a prosperous condition.

C. S. Madison, Presiding Elder of the Austin District, reported a boom on his district. There was a decided improvement in church property and collections, they were moving up.

San Antonio District was called. M. Henson, Presiding Elder, said his district had made decided improvement, that he and his brethren had given a year of hard work; and that he and his brethren had lived in harmony and God had given them prosperity.

G. W. Richardson, Presiding Elder of the Columbus District, said his district was prosperous and full of promise, he had given to it it a year of earnest work, and rejoiced to say that all through the district there were seals of his ministry. God has bestowed abundant honor upon these men. There seems to be a tender relation existing between them and their preachers. Most all of the elders passed in examination and were found blameless and faithful in official administration. Only one or two were referred to the committee on conference relation. We observed, however, that the men who went to their work and did the best they could were counted blameless.

In this Conference each preacher when his name is called arises and reports his own work, and while most of them have but little knowledge of Latin or Greek, they give good evidences of sound conversion to God, and under their ministry sinners are converted, the church built up and God glorified. They are in the regular Aptolic succession.

One brother had a circuit eighty miles long, he was poor, his people were poor, he could get no horse, but he had walked and met all of his appointments during the year. Another who had subscribed fifty dollars toward the Conference school, had what is called a poor appointment, but he had made the subscription and must raise the money, and with the assistance of his good wife (such a wife is worth having, she would be too good for some men, but not for this brother,) had raised with their own hands cotton enough to pay his subscription, and at this conference subscribed another fifty dollars toward the school.

Steadily and strongly this Conference is moving on and up. On the third day, Saturday, December 9, Conference met at half past 8, Bishop Bowman in the chair. Divine services were conducted by Bro. Mosely. The minutes of the preceding day were read and approved.

Under the question "Who are the [illegible] preachers admitted to deacons [illegible]" it was brought out that [illegible] been recommended who could not write or read. The conference however decided not to recommend any who could not read intelligently.

When the minute question, "Who are admitted into full connection?" was taken up, two young men appeared before the altar and were interrogated by the Bishop according to the usual custom, and were addressed by the Bishop in a very earnest and impressive manner, as to their work as Methodist preachers. Answering all the questions satisfactorily they were admitted into full connection.

Saturday night was the anniversary of the "Freedman's Aid and Educational Society." The house was filled to its utmost capacity. Short speeches were made by the Bishop, Bro. Henson and the writer. The speech of the Bishop was splendid, and listened to with profound attention by the members of the conference and congregation. After the speeches subscriptions were taken for the Conference school to the amount of $1,375.

Saturday, December 10th, will be held in perpetual remembrance by the people of Columbus and the members of the West Texas Conference. The day was delightful. The Sunday-school exercises at half past nine o'clock were instructive and inspiring. But the great occasion of the day was the sermon of Bishop Bowman. No synopsis of ours will do justice to it. It was a simple and yet masterly presentation of thoughts suggested by Matt. 13, 45-46, The eternal world never seemed so near nor more real. Never have we seen a congregation more in sympathy with the preacher. At the close of the sermon a class of eleven were ordained Deacons.

In the afternoon the writer exhorted and eight were ordained Elders. At seven o'clock Bro. Swan gave a sermon full of gospel thoughts and well presented.

Monday, December 11th, Conference met at nine o'clock. Religious services were conducted by Brother Winchester. Minutes of Saturday were read and approved. Various committees reported. Resolutions commending and endorsing the SOUTHWESTERN were unanimously passed. San Antonio was selected as the place for the next Conference.

After a few well chosen remarks the Bishop read the appointments as follows:

From the statistics of the West Texas Conference we gather the following facts: Probationers, 738; members, 6,480; number of churches 74; probable value $51,960; number of parsonages, 13; probable value, $4,550. Paid for the support of pastors, Presiding Elders and Bishops: Austin District, $2,582.80: Columbus District, $2,680.60; San Antonio District, $2,481.75; Waco District, $2,694.10.

Georgia Conference has increased during the past six years in membership 447, church property $10,350, and Sunday-schools have nearly doubled.

Churches and the Color Line.

The Christian Recorder, the official organ of the A. M. E. Church, is evidently growing in grace.—Read:

As no churches purely white are needed in this country, or anywhere else, so are no churches purely colored. What are needed, are churches to which penitent souls of every race and tribe and kindred may go and find God and Christ. The A. M. E. Church, if it is to continue, must be a church of this kind. The fact of its remaining distinctively colored is as obnoxious to God as is the fact of other churches remaining distinctively white. Color is nothing with God. The salvation of men, regardless of their physical makeup, everything.

These are honest words. No one believes that Jesus Christ ever established Christianity for herding French people or German people, black people or white people into folds by themselves. In every nation, of every color, those who fear God, and work righteousness are accepted with him. Why not by us? In Christ we are one.

The following is Bro. Tanner's opinion of white people:

"White people to-day are more ready and more willing, and do come to our churches more than we go to theirs. We are afraid of them, and stay away. They are not afraid of us, and come. Therefore are the churches now known as colored to have the advantage of those now known as white. Already, in scores of our churches, whites make bold to enter and occupy our best seats. Nor are they unwelcome. We treat them as brethren."

We are glad to learn that he has so good an opinion of his white brothers and sisters. No doubt "white people are more ready and more willing and do" go to so-called colored churches more willingly than colored people go to the white. Colored people do not stay away from the churches of the white people because they are afraid. When the white people attend their churches they are welcomed, invited to take the best seats, and treated as brethren. How is it when colored people go to the white churches? Are they welcomed and invited to the best seats? They may worthily wear the "honorable" or be ordained ministers of the Lord Jesus, no matter how worthy, they are either excluded, made to sit back, or go up into the gallery. It is this unchristian, unbrotherly treatment colored people frequently receive when they go to the churches of the white people that makes them so unwilling to go.

Bourbonism in Kentucky.

Rev. Marshall W. Taylor, presiding elder Lexington Distoict, Lexington Conference, writes to the Western Christian Advocate as follows: "The town council of Lexington has forbidden, by ordinance, the erection of our new church on a lot recently purchased by us for $2,150 cash, because the location is so central and contiguous to the upper class, who do not want a 'Nigger Church' near them. But unless the councilmen stand guard and tear down as fast as the mechanics can erect, it will go up, as our people are not going to be trifled with in that matter. They mean to have it distinctly understood that 'negroes have property rights which the city of Lexington is bound to respect.' Apropos to this it is most agreeably true that the 'barbarisms' practiced on colored passengers, lately, by the railways here, have been largely mitigated, and would now disappear entirely if the colored people would use a little more of the physical and animal in their protests. As neither the corporations operating nor the people traveling these lines desire a continuance of the brutal exhibitions lately common, and still so to a limited degree on the Kentucky Central road. It is the caprice of conductors and brakesmen, who act without authority, presuming on the passive endurance by their victims, which presumption is generally realized. There was lately a noble exception to this rule in the case of Rev. W. W. Locke, of Gunn's Chapel, who gave notice that he would use physical force if interfered with in entering the cars after the common manner. He is a brawny, muscular man, as courageous as he is well developed. He was not disturbed."

Boston University opened a new and elegant building, the "Jacob Sleeper Hall," on the 5th inst. It is situated midway between the City Hall and the State House, and will be occupied by the College of Liberal Arts and the School of Theology. At the dedication addresses were made by Governor Long, President Eliot of Harvard, Gen. F. A. Walker, Rev. Joseph Cook and others. Congratulatory letters were read from Mayor Green, Bishop Paddock of the Protestant Episcopal Church, Rev. James Freeman Clarke, Hon. Wendell Phillips and Mrs. Mary A. Livermore, who were unable to attend.

Alabama Conference.

The Alabama conference met at Wedowee, Nov. 30th. Bishop Andrews, presiding. The statistics, in the Methodist Advocate, show a handsome increase: probationers 783, increase 350; members 4,952, increase 680; local preachers 99; increase 21; total 5,834, total increase 1,051. The number of church houses is 108, value $27,852; parsonages 2, value $325. Raised for building churches, $1,165. Sunday schools 67; scholars, 2,843. Raised for support of ministers, aside from missionary appropriations, $2,919.36. Missionary collections, $113.50, though the treasurer received only $97.75. Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, $2.85; Church Extension, $15,75; other benevolences, $10.50. For all purposes the Conference raised $4.235.56, which is more than $1000 over the amount given to the Conference by the benevolent societies of the Church. This is an encouraging advance toward self-support.

A fine mural tablet of polished brass and black marble, has been placed in the Centre Church, New Haven, Connecticut, in memory of the late Rev. Dr. Leonard Bacon. The tablet bears the following inscription, a modest and eloquent tribute to the character and worth of this truly great and good man: "By the grace of God Leonard Bacon. A servant of Jesus Christ and of all men for His sake, here preached the Gospel for fifty-seven years. Fearing God and having no fear beside, loving righteousness and hating iniquity, friend of liberty and law, helper of Christian missions, teacher of teachers, promoter of every good work. He blessed the city and the Nation by ceaseless labors and a holy life and departed peacefully into rest December 24, 1881, leaving the world better for having lived in it."

The commencement exercises of the Peabody Normal Seminary, at Werlein Hall, on Tuesday morning 12th inst., were witnessed by a large audience. Hon. R. M. Lusher delivered the opening address, and was followed by a careful programme of suitable exercises, which was heartily applauded. On this occasion fourteen graduates received diplomas as teachers of elementary or grammar schools. Miss S. H. Burton received the silver medal. Miss Elizabeth A. Work the bronze medal. The Peabody Normal School will hereafter be a private institution; the State does not pecuniarily assist the Normal schools, and aid can no longer be obtained from the Peabody fund. We hope, however, that it may prosper, and continue to be an important agent in the better education of the people of Louisiana.

In our travels on railroads, nothing disgusts us more than to come across those fogyish persons who are ever on the hunt for "de culled people's car." Our people should quit hunting for such barbarous discriminations, which, though now gradually melting away under the sunshine of a more enlightened civilization, were a few years ago so prominent at every turn. There are not, neither should there be, any "culled people's" or any other race car. Let the Rip Van Winkles among the people quit hunting for them.

Henry McShane & Co., of Baltimore, Md., furnished the two bells for the New Orleans Cotton Exchange, and we learn from the Washington Post that the bell at the east front of the capital, rung daily during the Garfield fair came from the same firm. It represents the musical note C, weighs about 4,000 pounds, and is intended as the tenor of a memorial chime of twelve bells for the Centenary Methodist Episcopal church of Richmond, Va.

Some people are morally blind, and are incapable of forming any convictions of their own. They follow their party, whatever may be its principle or policy, right or wrong. Such people deserve little, if any, respect. Too much consideration, however, can hardly be given to men of stern moral convictions; men, who will dare every wave of unpopularity, and steadfastly abide by their convictions. The following admirable expression of sentiment, by R. P. Dick, U. S. Judge in North Carolina, points him out as a man of right and inflexible convictions.

He said: "I have followed the Republican flag through dust and heat and have supported it faithfully, but if that banner must have a barrel, or a still-house for a motto, it no longer floats over me." We say amen to such a sentiment. This nation is not to be governed by the whiskey barrel and the still-house, but by right and righteousness.

It is an old proverb, that "whom the gods mean to destroy they first make mad." Governor Foster, of Ohio, has not profited in the least by the recent election in that State. He is still joined to his idols, and advocates a tax, (which means license) on all liquor sales as the beau ideal of temperance reform. No, no, Governor; you are full fifty years behind the times. License has been tried over and over again, and in every instance has failed. This talk about driving low groggeries out of the business is all twaddle. In fact, the low groggeries are not half so seductive, and destructive, as the more genteel. Prohibition is the only remedy, and we suppose that the old political managers must either pass through the process of conviction and conversion, or be discharged.

The California Christian Advocate says the statistics of the last annual session of the Southern California Conference show that the last year has been one of great prosperity. In 1876 it had 1,257 members in full connection, 13 churches, valued at $49,600, and 9 parsonages, valued at $6,950, with an indebtedness of $9,134, leaving a net value of church property of $47,316. In 1882 its membership aggregates 2,026, an increase of more than ten per cent. per annum. This year it has thirty churces and nineteen parsonages, and only $1,370 indebtedness, leaving a net value of $100,573.50, or an increase of more than 112 per cent. About 40 per cent. of the whole six years' gain has been realized during the past year.

We call special attention to the advertisement of the New Orleans University in another column. We are informed that the attendance the present term reaches the unprecedented number of 189. The teachers are all energetic and faithful, and every scholar has all the attention necessary for a thorough understanding of the subject studied. The elocutionary classes, under the care of Prof. Clifford, are a very interesting as well as valuable feature of the college; and the lectures by Dr. Dean on travels in Europe afford much instruction. Let every parent feel the importance of giving his children a Christian education, and the number in attendance will still be larger than during the present term.

The Utah Mission Conference of the M. E. Church has church property worth $67,800. The membership is 147, probationers, 37, and 533 children are in its Sunday-schools. Rev. T. C. Iliff is Superintendent, and also pastor, at Salt Lake City. The Salt Lake Seminary is a successful institution, and the Conference is endeavoring to build up schools in other places.

The importance of Dean Stanley's work to religious literature, and his position as a historian, will be discussed, in a paper in the January number of The Century, by Frederick W. H. Myers, who will be remembered as the author of the paper on George Eliot, in the same magazine.

Our Assistant writes from central Louisiana: "Crops are reported to have yielded only one fourth through this region—causes late planting, drought and caterpillars. Brethren are working like beavers to make favorable showing at conference."

PERSONAL.

—Rev. Dr. Ridgaway reports Garrett Biblical Institute as prospering. He enjoys his work.

—Rev. D. W. Carter, missionary to Mexico, passed several days in the city waiting for the first outgoing steamer for Vera Cruz.

—Howard Alden, of the firm of Edwin Alden & Bro.'s, Newspaper Advertising Agency, Cincinnati, died Dec. 9th, at Charlottesville, Va., whither he had gone in hopes of restoring his health.

—Hon. W. B. Smith, of the parish of St. Mary, a layman of our church and a member of our last General Conference, has been appointed Deputy Naval officer at this port, vice S. Wakefield, resigned.

—W. W. Corcoran, of Washington, will next spring cause the remains of John Howard Payne, author of "Home, Sweet Home," to be exhumed in Tunis and brought across the Atlantic for interment at the national capital.

—John M. Gregory, L.L.D., one of the corresponding secretaries of the Baptist Educational Society, is in the city on a tour through the South in the interest of education. He delivered an address here under the auspices of the Times-Democrat on the subject of "Practical Education."

—Henry Z. Osborne, whom the President appointed to be receiver of public moneys at Bodie, California, was a resident of New Orleans for a number of years. His numerous friends here rejoice that Uncle Sam is to have the services of one so deserving and upright.

—As soon as the successful vote for prohibition was announced in Sumter, S. C., a large crowd of whites and blacks escorted the Rev. H. F. Chrietzberg to his home with shouts of triumph. Says the Charleston Advocate, "To our noble friend, more than to any other human agency, is this triumph to be ascribed. May the good Lord give him grace and strength for still more work and other victories in the same righteous cause."

OUR SOUTHERN WORK.

LOUISIANA.

The Ames church fair will be held in Exposition building, New Orleans, Dec. 20, 21 and 22. Fifteen thousand copies of the Ames Church Fair Messenger have been printed and are being distributed over the city, an enterprise of the pastor, Rev. J. G. Vaughan, and R. Fenno, Esq. It is well filled with the advertisements of business men.

R. Anderson, Eola: "Our fourth quarterly conference has closed. We had a pleasant time. The work moves on nicely, and the elder left a happy man. A grand fair will be given at Little Zion M. E. Church, in Holmesville, for the benefit of the said church, commencing Thursday, Dec. 21, and ending Saturday, night Dec. 23, 1881. Committee of arrangements:—Wesley Coleman, chairman; Rice Coleman, Grandison Taylor, James Keller, Daniel Ellis, Milo Williams, John Carter, Joseph McCormick, Albert Haywood, Benjamin Waddy, Henry Moore. Doors open Thursday, at 10 o'clock, A. M. Come one, come all, both white and colored. R. Anderson, pastor. Admission 10 cents—at the door.

The preacher and members of Thomson Chapel return thanks to Rev. Graham Bell, G. G. W. S. and Tabernacle for their timely visit Sunday, Dec. 10th. They wish success to attend this grand body.

Rev. T. G. Montgomery, of First Street Church, reports the raising of the benevolent collections, as follows:

Class 1, $10.65; class 2, $8,25; class 3, $3.95; class 4, $5.70; class 5, $6.40; class 6, $11.25; class 7, $5.10; class 8, $5.80; class 9, $6.25; class 10, $4.80; class 11, $3.20; class 12, $7.65. Total. $78.80.

MISSISSIPPI.

Alice Evans, Warren county: "Lynch Chapel Sunday-school, on Nov. 5th, had a nice time. Mr. Daniel Sanders gave the children a good talk. Wm. Smith is superintendent, George Evans is treasurer and I am the secretary of the school."

FOURTH QUARTER. CHRISTMAS LESSONS. December 24th.

THE KINGDOM OF PEACE. (Isaiah xi, 1-9.)

To-morrow is the day on which we celebrate the birth of Jesus. Seven hundred years before he came the prophet Isaiah wrote of him. He said Jesus should come as a branch of the house of Jesse. This came true, for Jesse was David's father, and Jesus was descended from David. Then the prophet said the Spirit of the Lord should rest upon him, and spoke of his sufferings and death. All that Isaiah wrote about him came true. He told, too, of Christ's kingdom, and our lesson calls it "The Kingdom of Peace." He said Jesus would change men's hearts so it would be as if the heart full of sin was a wolf, and the heart Jesus gives for this heart of sin was a lamb. You can understand that. A wolf eats and tears any thing it can catch. The heart full of sin is like a wolf, it only destroys. A lamb is gentle. Its eyes are mild, and no one ever heard of its eating blood. So the new heart, with sin taken away, is gentle and pure. On this day before Christmas don't you want to belong to this kingdom of peace? To-morrow the bells will ring peace on earth, so be sure to kneel down and ask Jesus to give you the pure new heart that makes you belong to his kingdom. Jesus is king and must rule all the earth, and his little friends must help build his kingdom. Every little [illegible] must help to extend it. Merry Christmas can only really [illegible] where Jesus rules in the heart.—Western.

GENERAL NEWS ITEMS.

Compulsory education has been ordered, and provided for by the City Council of Dalton, Ga.

Congressman Godlove S. Orth, of Indiana, died at Lafayette last Sunday of blood poisoning super-induced by cancer.

The Attorney-General of New York state has rendered a decision that parsonages are liable to taxation, even when erected on the same lot as the church, if owned by trustees or organizations.

The Wisconsin Senate will stand 17 Republicans, 15 Democrats, and 1 Independent; the Assembly 45 Republicans, 53 Democrats, and 2 Independents, giving the Democrats 3 majority on joint ballot over all.

A colored woman at Dallas, Tex., left her month-old babe asleep, and on her return found a large black cat on the infant's breast with its nose close to the child's face. She threw the cat out of the window, and taking up the babe found it dead. The cat had literally sucked its breath away.

Travel on the L. & N. railroad is still on the increase. One day last week 3000 passengers came to this city over that road.

Invigorating Food.

For the brain and nerves is what we need in these days of rush and worry. Parker's Ginger Tonic restores the vital energies and brings good health quicker than anything you can use.—Tribune. See other column.

Gen. Barriois, president of Guatemala, has arrived at home from his trip to Europe and the United States.

Found at Last.

An agreeable dressing for the hair, that will stop its falling, has been long sought for. Parker's Hair Balsam distinguished for its purity, fully supplies this want.

A monster petition, asking the Alabama Legislature to pass a bill appropriating monies collected from liquor licenses in Montgomery and Selma to public school purposes for both cities, is in circulation.

Beautiful skin, and fair complexion, robust health, and powers of endurance follow the use of Brown's Iron Bitters.

On Thursday Nov. 23d the colored teachers of North Carolina, met at Raleigh, the capital of the State, and organized a State Teachers' Educational Association. Teachers from various parts of the State were present at this first meeting and manifested unusual interest. The Governor and State Superintendent of Public Instruction addressed the convention and were frequently applauded.

New Life

is given by using BROWN'S IRON BITTERS. In the Winter it strengthens and warms the system; in the Spring it enriches the blood and conquers disease; in the Summer it gives tone to the nerves and digestive organs; in the Fall it enables the system to stand the shock of sudden changes.

In no way can disease be so surely prevented as by keeping the system in perfect condition. BROWN'S IRON BITTERS ensures perfect health through the changing seasons, it disarms the danger from impure water and miasmatic air, and it prevents Consumption, Kidney and Liver Disease, &c.

H. S. Berlin, Esq., of the well-known firm of H. S. Berlin & Co., Attorneys, Le Droit Building, Washington, D. C., writes, Dec. 5th, 1881:

Gentlemen: I take pleasure in stating that I have used Brown's Iron Bitters for malaria and nervous troubles, caused by overwork, with excellent results.

Beware of imitations. Ask for BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, and insist on having it. Don't be imposed on with something recommended as "just as good." The genuine is made only by the Brown Chemical Co. Baltimore, Md.

"Facts speak plainer than words." Proof:—"The Doctor told me to take a blue pill, but I didn't, for I had already been poisoned twice by mercury. The druggist told me to try Kidney Wort, and I did. It was just the thing for my biliousness and costipation, and now I am as well as ever."—A. P. Sanford. Sold in both dry and liquid form.

Messrs. Beck & Rwoley have purchased the Pensacola Journal of Progress from Mathews & Davidson.

Puny, weak, and sickly children need Brown's Iron Bitters. It will strengthen and invigorate them.

District Conference will meet at Murfreesboro, in the basement of New Church, January 17th and continue four or five days. Basement of the new church will be dedicated January 21st at 3 o'clock, assisted by Dr. Braden, Rev. B. B. Manson and others. Rev. L. P. Cushmon is expected to be with us.

Brethren please have all your benevolent committees ready to report at quarterly conference. H. W. KEY.

SOUTH NEW ORLEANS DISTRICT, LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.

To the Preachers of the South New Orleans District:

My Dear Brethren—The Conference year is fast passing, but a few weeks remain; God has given to our people an abundant harvest. In all departments of business there is great prosperity, and most of you in your work as ministers have had glorious success. Under your care the churches have advanced in spiritual life and financial strength.

Are you doing all you can to bring up increased benevolent collections. For the cause of Missions our German brethren in Texas gave this year $1.50 per member. Last year the Louisiana Conference gave six cents and a half per member. Brethren, we cannot afford to occupy this position. Let the few weeks you have between this and Conference be made good use of. If the church is not interested whose fault is it? Do your duty. Take the Discipline, work its plan, and there will be an increase in all of your benevolent collections. I hope that every preacher on the South New Orleans District, will add to the benevolent collections of last year not less than ten per cent. In West Texas our brethren are making a wonderful increase. Let us keep pace with them.

L. P. CUSHMAN.

HOLLY SPRINGS DISTRICT CONFERENCE.

The District Conference of the Holly Springs District, Mississippi, Conference, will convene in Oxford, Miss., December 27, and 28, 1882. It is expected that all the ministers, local preachers, candidates for license to preach, exhorters, district stewards and Sunday school Superintendents will be present with good reports. Following is the programme of exercises, as prepared by the committee. Let each whose name appears, be prepared for duty.

NOTICE.

The Second District Conference, for the Hot Springs District, Little Rock Conference, will convene at Sweet Home, on the Sweet Home Circuit, February 2, 1883, at 10 o'clock, A. M. Each pastor will please insist on one Sunday School Superintendent, from his respective charge, to be in attendance of the District Conference.

Rev. A. H. Gillet, our Sunday School agent, for the Southern and Western states, will be on hand, to inquire into our Sunday School work in the district.

Therefore let each pastor see that his Sunday Schools are represented.

Dear Brethren—For the sake of Christ, and for the good of our work, let each one of you raise every dollar you can, for benevolent purposes, and be prepared to make full reports.

The local preachers must bring their licenses with them for renewal.

The King of Denmark is truly a paternal monarch. Finding that during the recent severe weather the royal foot guards were suffering greatly from Colds and Coughs, this good old gentleman ordered a supply of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup for them and now the sentries are happy.

OUR SOUTHERN WORK.

MISSISSIPPI.

H. Cawthorn, Enterprise: "My work is in a prosperous condition. I have had a good revival this year; received 40 on probation, 33 full members, and there were 30 conversions. Our Sunday schools are doing well also. We have some benevolent money on hand, and I expect to fill all the blanks in the statistics at conference. The stewards have paid the presiding elder, and says they are going to pay up the pastor soon; but some how they have not done much for the SOUTHWESTERN. I shall do my best for the paper for 1883."

H. L. Kennedy, Crystal Springs: "Elder, Campbell, held our fourth conference, and preached a rousing sermon. His collection was $16.45. Trustees' report shows we are still moving on. There has been raised for the church this year the sum of $200.00. At Crystal Springs, $65.45; Little Rock, $55.10; White Oak, $80. Members and friends contributed liberally to build a new church at White Oak. We return thanks to our white brethren for the use of their church and their liberality."

P. H. Hill, Mount Pleasant Circuit: "Revivals at my four appointments resulted in 185 conversions. 126 additions. I found a membership of 110; there is now 236. Six came from the Baptists, two backsliders reclaimed. The presiding elder visited us the third time, and his presence on each occasion was reviving. The brethren and sisters of Barlow presented their pastor with a handsome fall suit."

L. J. S. Bell, Herbert: "Since my last writing we have closed two very successful meetings. The first was held at Liberty church; the result was 11 additions—some happy souls in the number. At Centre [illegible], where we were assisted by Rev. M. White, of Dalsville circuit, there were 17 additions. There have been 114 additions this year; [illegible] the Baptist church. MOTHERS READ.

GENTS:—About nine years ago I had a child two years old and almost dead. The doctor I had attending her could not tell what ailed her. I asked him if he did not think it was worms. He said no. However, this did not satisfy me, as I felt convinced in my own mind that she had. I obtained a bottle of DR. C. McLANE'S CELEBRATED VERMIFUGE (genuine). I gave her a teaspoonful in the morning and another at night, after which she passed seventy-two worms and was a well child. Since then I have never been without it in my family. The health of my children remained so good that I had neglected watching their actions until about three weeks ago, when two of them presented the same sickly appearance that Fanny did nine years ago. So I thought it must be worms, and went to work at once with a bottle of DR. C. McLANE'S VERMIFUGE between four of my children, their ages being as follows: Alice, 8 years; Charley, 4 years; Emma, 6 years; John, 9 years. Now comes the result: Alice and Emma came out all right, but Charley passed forty-five and Johnny about sixty worms. The result was so gratifying that I spent two days in showing the wonderful effect of your Vermifuge around Utica, and now have the worms on exhibition in my store.

Yours truly, JOHN PIPER.

The New York Times.

FOR 1883.

ESTABLISHED 1851.

THE TIMES will enter on its thirty-third year with the support and confidence of a steadily growing constituency and in possession of a public influence which in kind and degree is unrivaled in American journalism.

To the purification of the public service, the sweeping away of all unjust and burdensome forms of taxation, to the maintenance of a sound currency, and the enforcement of a system of strict accountability in public and corporate trusts, the efforts of THE TIMES will, in the future as in the past, be devoted. Its well-earned fame as the fearless assailant of all forms of public peculation rests on principles of its management which are beyond the reach of change. THE TIMES is the organ of no individual, of no faction or clique, and of no interest adverse to the public good. It knows no service other than that of the people.

Recognizing in all political organizations simply a means to the end of good government, THE TIMES will continue to judge all parties by their fidelity to the purpose for which they professedly exist. The elections of 1882 have very clearly demonstrated the timeliness of the warnings which THE TIMES so persistently addressed to the leaders of the Republican Party in this and other States, and have vindicated its right to speak for a large and intelligent body of public opinion. The Republicanism which THE TIMES represents was never so vigorous and aggressive as it is to-day, and with this progressive type of party opinion rests the future of reform in National, State and Municipal government.

THE TIMES will, as in the past, be distinguished as an enterprising, accurate, and carefully edited newspaper. The acknowledged excellence and fullness of its correspondence, by mail and telegraph from all parts of the world will be adequately maintained, and its facilities for collecting domestic and foreign news will be expanded to meet the increasing demand of our time.

In the sphere of literary and artistic criticism, of scientific, social, and general discussion, THE TIMES will address itself as heretofore to the appreciation of the educated and intelligent classes of the American people.

No theories subversive of the principles on which the sacredness of family ties and the existence of society alike repose will be promulgated in its columns.

THE TIMES rejects all advertisements of lotteries, of quacks and medical pretenders, and of all other agencies by which the insidious poison of vice is disseminated throughout society. It will be in the future, as in the past, a newspaper especially adapted for family reading.

THE SEMI-WEEKLY TIMES is especially fitted to meet the requirements of those who seek more ample details of current news and fuller installments of current discussion than are furnished in the weekly issue. The SEMI-WEEKLY has a large circulation abroad and among the professional and mercantile classes, outside of the large cities, at home.

THE WEEKLY TIMES, containing selected editorials on topics of national and general interest from the columns of the daily issue, as well as a concise summary of political, social, and foreign news, besides other features which recommend it to all classes of readers, is a paper admirably fitted to circulate in every portion of the United States. Its conductors will spare no effort not only to maintain its well earned supremacy, but to make its popularity still more decided.

WILBOR'S COMPOUND OF PURE COD LIVER OIL AND LIME.

Wilbor's Compound of Pure Cod-Liver Oil and Lime. The advantage of this compound over the plain oil is that the nauseating taste of the oil is entirely removed, and the whole rendered palatable. The offensive taste of the oil has long acted as a great objection to its use; but in this form the trouble is obviated. A host of certificates might be given here to testify to the excellence and success of "Wilbor's Cod Liver Oil and Lime;" but the fact that it is prescribed by the medical faculty is sufficient. For sale by A. B. Wilbor, Chemist, Boston, and by all druggists.

DR. JOHN BULL'S Smith's Tonic Syrup FOR THE CURE OF FEVER and AGUE Or CHILLS and FEVER. AND ALL MALARIAL DISEASES.

The proprietor of this celebrated medicine justly claims for it a superiority over all remedies ever offered to the public for the SAFE, CERTAIN, SPEEDY and PERMANENT cure of Ague and Fever, or Chills and Fever, whether of short or long standing. He refers to the entire Western and Southern country to bear him testimony to the truth of the assertion that in no case whatever will it fail to cure if the directions are strictly followed and carried out. In a great many cases a single dose has been sufficient for a cure, and whole families have been cured by a single bottle, with a perfect restoration of the general health. It is, however, prudent, and in every case more certain to cure, if its use is continued in smaller doses for a week or two after the disease has been checked, more especially in difficult and long-standing cases. Usually this medicine will not require any aid to keep the bowels in good order. Should the patient, however, require a cathartic medicine, after having taken three or four doses of the Tonic, a single dose of BULL'S VEGETABLE FAMILY PILLS will be sufficient.

The genuine SMITH'S TONIC SYRUP must have DR. JOHN BULL'S private stamp on each bottle. DR. JOHN BULL only has the right to manufacture and sell the original JOHN J. SMITH'S TONIC SYRUP, of Louisville, Ky. Examine well the label on each bottle. If my private stamp is not on each bottle do not purchase, or you will be deceived.

Ayer's Hair Vigor, FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

IT is a most agreeable dressing, which is at once harmless and effectual, for preserving the hair. It restores, with the gloss and freshness of youth, faded or gray, light, and red hair, to a rich brown, or deep black, as may be desired. By its use thin hair is thickened, and baldness often though not always cured. It checks falling of the hair immediately, and causes a new growth in all cases where the glands are not decayed; while to brashy, weak, or otherwise diseased hair, it imparts vitality and strength, and renders it pliable.

The VIGOR cleanses the scalp, cures and prevents the formation of dandruff; and, by its cooling, stimulating, and soothing properties, it heals most if not all of the humors and diseases peculiar to the scalp, keeping it cool, clean, and soft, under which conditions diseases of the scalp and hair are impossible.

As a Dressing for Ladies' Hair,

The VIGOR is incomparable. It is colorless, contains neither oil nor dye, and will not soil white cambric. It imparts an agreeable and lasting perfume, and as an article for the toilet it is economical and unsurpassed in its excellence.

USE THE MEDICATED TRADE MARK

A WONDERFUL And SCIENTIFIC DISCOVERY.

These Glasses are chemically treated in the process of manufacture, and possess the property of keeping your eyes in good condition, as when first you use them. They have been carefully examined by American and European oculists, who claim that the MEDICATED GLASSES have no equal, and can in some cases restore the sight if used in time, but in no case can the eye become impaired by their use for any length of time.

1. The chemicals soften the light to the eye, completely doing away with that tiresome sensation that is usually experienced in using glasses after one or two hours' use.

2. The chemicals make the glasses hard; they will retain their polish. Hence you will always see through them as bright and clear as at first.

3. The chemicals keep the glasses cold, and the result is that the optic nerves are always cool, doing away with any feverish sensation to the eye.

4. With these glasses you can read, write or sew all night, the light having no effect on the eye, with no distressing or tiresome sensation, which necessarily improves the eye.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS.

WE DON'T SELL TO PEDDLERS. Dealers Supplied Wholesale at Liberal Discount.

ALL EYES SUITED. Persons residing at a distance who may wish to procure these Spectacles can send for a circular containing description, prices, etc., and directions for insuring a perfect fit, and have them sent by mail, by addressing

WHO IS THE RICHEST MAN?

BY S. H. PALFREY.

Who is the richest? The crowd said, "He
Whose pleasure-boats sail upon every sea,
Whose villas rise upon mount and shore,
Whose gardens broider wide acres o'er,
Whose horses win at every race,
Who hires the best seats at every place—
Where show is seen or music heard,
Who buys of the rarest for bower and board,
And never stays to count the cost;
He is the richest—he spends the most."
But he squandered his all on his greed and pride,
And he was a beggar before he died.

Who is the richest? On 'Change they agreed,
"He who grudges his daily need,
Who earns the most and who spends the least;
He who wastes nothing on show or feast,
Kinsman or friend, but early and late,
O'er desk and ledger, has toiled and [illegible]
From his boyhood up, till the grey hairs now
Are growing few o'er his furrowed brow;
He should be richest—he's [illegible] the most;
He must be richest [illegible]."
But to him were [illegible]
And he was a beggar [illegible] died.

Who is the richest? [illegible]
He whose house and [illegible] are plain,
Whose coat is old, and [illegible]
To the homes of sickness, [illegible] and woe;
Who loves with his neighbor his all to share,
And, to make it more, [illegible]
All that he [illegible]
Can he be rich who [illegible]
Though, when he was [illegible]
Swarmed with small [illegible]

Flash like lightning [illegible]
With a burst of [illegible]
Of visions bright, [illegible] dim,
Thronged round him [illegible] him in.

verse with an intelligent Christian minister or active Christian worker who has traveled in the South and became acquainted with the achievements of our church in that region, who does not pronounce our work to be of God. In all great movements by church or State in behalf of humanity, the severest critics, as a rule, are those who know the least of the issues involved and are the farthest from the centres of conflict.

2. Effects of our Church Discipline. As a whole, the spirit and methods and results of our Southern work have been Christ-like and wise and glorious. This is true, viewing the work in its various parts and aspects, but in no respect perhaps, is it more strikingly manifest than in the training and development of the mass of unenlightened people committed to us under the application of the Methodist discipline. An eminent Christian worker in this region says: "There is no estimating the power of the discipline of the M. E. Church for the good of this people. Aside from the spiritual influences of the pure Gospel, there is no such beneficent power at work among the negro race in the South to-day as the Methodist Episcopal discipline. I have the best opportunity for comparative observation here. * * * The Methodist Episcopal Church is a militant body contending for the ten commandments and the glory of a pure people."

3. It has been a heroic work, with a record most worthy of remembrance. Good men and women led and inspired by the Master scarcely ever know how wisely they are building when they plan for the enlargement of His kingdom. These were noble bands of men and women who, in every Southern State, laid anew the foundations of our Methodism. They little knew what a mighty movement under God they were inaugurating. How bravely many of them fell at their posts! McDonald, of Mississippi, literally worn out in body and mind through excess of labors, fell from his horse, and when found was on his knees in prayer leaning against a tree. Some of God's faithful poor to whom he had preached carried him to their cabin where, away from home and loved ones, he fell asleep in Jesus. His last conscious act was to refuse to take an intoxicating stimulant kindly proffered in the hope that it might revive his wasting strength. Brave, scholarly, patient McDonald! The story of that one man's life given for God's poor in the South is as truly a story of martyrdom as that of any missionary's life and death in a foreign land. So of the sainted Lewis, of South Carolina, and many others. One dear girl who left a home of refinement and wealth in the North to teach the poor freedmen was sick unto death. Only words of contempt and rudeness had she heard from the lips of white faces as month by month she toiled on. A plain building had been erected, and in it on week days she taught the youth the studies suited to their wants, and on Sundays, to all who came, she read and expounded the word of life. When dying her faithful friends asked, "Shall we send your body home?" "No! no!" she replied, "bury me beside my school-house." And there, each anniversary, her grave is wet with tears of gratitude and love by those for whom she gave her life. The Church which, for any cause, [illegible] of such pure consecration [illegible] out of her memory and heart will call in vain for heaven's [illegible] to enlarge her borders.

These consecrated laborers in the [illegible] by equally noble [illegible] workers in almost every [illegible] neighborhood.—[illegible] of teachers in our [illegible], most of them poor pay, [illegible] in the midst of poverty [illegible] the great majority [illegible] upon, even in this year of our Lord, 1883, as [illegible] unworthy of so[illegible] of them [illegible] children with [illegible] only by their [illegible] the [illegible] preachers [illegible] midst of [illegible] has a book of remembrance whether His church has or not.

4. Instances of Progress in the Southwest. In 1866 Bishop Thomson organized the Mississippi Mission Conference in New Orleans to include the States of Louisiana, Mississippi and Texas. The event was regarded in that city, if noticed at all, only with derision. Four or five white men and perhaps a score of colored brethren, received their appointments and started out upon their mission in the midst of nearly 3,000,000 of people, in a territory larger than all New England, New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Iowa combined. "How absurd'!" sneered the editor of an Advocate in a sister Methodist church, and that sneer was echoed from lip to lip and from paper to paper all over the South, and some in the North caught up the refrain and said also, "How absurd!"

Now what has fourteen years brought of triumph for our Methodism in the territory covered by that Conference? Here is the record:

In New Orleans, 18 churches with over 3,000 communicants, while we lead all other churches, save the Presbyterian, in the number of Sunday-school scholars. In the State of Louisiana 114 churches, worth $230,323, nearly 11,000 members and Sunday-school scholars in proportion. In Mississippi 300 churches worth $120.165 and about 25,000 members. In Texas 208 churches worth $240,168 and over 21,000 members. To these results must be added the schools in New Orleans and La Teche, La.; at Holly Springs and Meridian, Miss.; and at Marshall, Houston and Austin, Texas, in which are nearly 1,000 students, mostly of advanced grade. And still further, it must be remembered that this territory has almost wholly supported a weekly Christian Advocate. This then is the sum. That little company of apostles sent out by Bishop Thomson in 1866, report, in fourteen years, 626 churches, all of them manned with ordained ministers, those churches, to say nothing of the parsonages, are worth $590,656 and count of communicants worshiping in them, 57,000, by whom a weekly Christian Advocate is nearly supported, and who send from their midst nearly 1,000 students into our schools of high grade.

Call up the record of any handful of God's faithful laborers among any people on any continent, and I doubt if a parallel of success can be found in the modern church. Similar comparative statements might be made of other sections in the South.

5. Some General Statistics. In fourteen years, from 1866 to 1880, the aggregate advance has been, in membership, from 87,804 to 410,899,—313,095; in church property, from $2,580,693 to $8,563,416—$6,282,723. This is an increase of more than 22,000 members each year and shows a total gain nearly as great as that of all Methodism in America up to 1827. Estimating the membership and church property on the color line, the aggregate of white members in 1880 was 212,776, of colored 197,123. The aggregate of church property owned by the whites was $6,560,287; by the colored members $2,003,129. The white members have increased (1866-1880) 144,779; the colored members, 177,123.

The Methodist Episcopal Church has one fourth as many white members in what was the slave territory as has the Methodist Episcopal Church South. The latter church has increased there in white membership in the South since 1764 not more than 53 per cent. while the former has increased there in white membership 179 per cent. Outside of Maryland and Delaware, in 1864 the M. E. Church South was the chief Methodism of the South, and in most of those other States it was the only Methodism among the whites. In that territory we had in 1864, 28,845 white members and we now have 145,379, being an increase of 404 per cent., the actual increase 116,534, being only a little less than one half the increase of the Church South in the same territory in the same time. Dr. Stevenson, of Kentucky, shows that in the States of Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky and Missouri, we have 162,004 white members. In the same states the Church South has about 218,977 which is but 56,973 in advance of us. Dr. Stevenson further says: "The increase of white membership in the sixteen years after the war [illegible] by the number of Methodists in the United States in 18[illegible] after 40 years of effort. It is equal to the number in the Valley of the Mississippi in 1827, forty-one years from the date of the first preaching there. It exceeds the number of white members in all New England to-day." These figures tell most eloquently of the mighty grace of God bestowed upon our efforts in the South, and plead most eloquently for continued prayer and continued labor.

The subject for the February concert is "What the Church at Home can do for Missions Abroad. Our Mission in Mexico."

For the SOUTHWESTERN.

The Cross, the Key to the World's History.

BY REV. L. W. ELKINS.

"God forbid that I should glory, save in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ."—Galatians 6 : 14.

It is natural to man to seek for an adequate cause for every known effect. When he beholds a magnificent temple, or walks delighted through a gallery of paintings, his mind is not satisfied with a cursory survey of these works of art; it stretches out beyond them; and through the proportions of the temple, and the expressions of the painting, he discovers the mind of a designer who projected the plan, and the creative fancy of an artist who gave life to the canvass.

So it should be with history.

The thoughtful student, not content with the naked records of events, "the battles, sieges, fortunes of the world" looks beyond these, for their hidden spring and cause, and for the purpose they are designed to serve upon the destiny of man.

Now let the historical engineer go to survey that great temple of the world, and to muse in the picture gallery of its history—let him contemplate every recorded event that has occurred during the six thousand years of man's existence, and mark every rise, revolution and fall of empire—let him behold one dynasty upon another, crumbling beneath the march of some mighty despot, sighing when all are prostrate, for othee worlds to conquer; let him witness one code of laws giving place to another, till some great truth in politics is evolved to bless mankind; let him follow in the train of mighty armies waging war for a monkish whim, and bringing back civilization and wealth to their impoverished people; let him watch the progress of hordes of barbarians, dark and terrible as the forests they leave behind them, rushing over fertile plains, and sweeping away a corrupt and enervating religion; and let him from these and from the treasured wisdom of ages learn what one force, if any, has been the centre and spring of all.

Or let him summon around him, into one grand congregation, the mighty men of the past, whose will and words are supposed to have controlled the world—let them come together, drawn by a power to which their own was subservient, and which in life they called destiny; and let them gather around the only altar on earth worthy to receive their noblest gifts. Here now, in this mighty world assembly, are conquerors of every age, and of various fortune; legislators from every clime, and with every degree of wisdom; philosophers with brows of Pagan severity, or beaming with the light of Christian benevolence; men of every character and faith; and in their midst towering high above all in moral grandeur, rises the Mount of Calvary, crowned with a rugged cross, and trembling beneath the groans of a sacrificed God—around this they bow, to this they all point, as the throne they served on earth, however blindly; for they lived and thought and acted. And thus the engineer finds that the cross is the great central fact of the world's history and its only key; that it is this which makes all other facts important and intelligible, and without which they are but inexplicable riddles or jarring contradictions.

Let the student then enter upon his task, with this key in his hand, and the spirit of truthful inquiry in his heart, and he can unlock the secrets of the buried past; he can discover the motive of the principal actors in that history, and how their acts have subserved the great controlling mover of all; he can learn how man's shortsightedness has been more than compensated by the omniscience of deity; and how the puny plans of man's device have been defeated by their own inherent weakness, or made to accomplish some higher purpose, by a power given to them by a higher hand.

Before the coming of Christ, God was engaged for a thousand years in preparing the world for that great event; and from the time when the first dark intimation of it was given, in the prophetic words, "it shall bruise thy head," the indications of a comeing Redeemer. were continually multiplying and increasing in clearness and significance, until the steady blaze of the guiding star pointed to Bethlehm's manger, and proclaimed a Savior come. And no historian has ever accounted for the institutions and events of that long period of time, or can account for them upon any other hypothesis than that they were designed by God as introductory to the advent of the Savior.

The great sacrifice of the Lamb, which was slain in the divine intention from the foundation of the world, could alone originate or give value to the sacrifices so early instituted among men, and continued until that Lamb was slain on Calvary. And while it is thus clear, that an overruling providence directed the Jewish people, and kept before their eyes in their numerous sacrifices, the continued promise of a coming Redeemer, it is also evident that the other nations of the earth were subject to the same controlling providence, and were undergoing a preparation for the reception and universal spread of Christianity. For at the Savior's advent the Roman Empire was "mistress of the world," at the zenith of its extent and power, and in this fact we cannot fail to recognize one of the important concurring events that constituted the fulness of time. The heralds of the cross could now find access to every land. I am a "Roman citizen," was his boast and his shield.

Every thing was in readiness and and prepared for the coming Savior. The learning and wisdom of the heathen world had been exhausted in fruitless search for the source of true knowledge and enduring happiness. System after system had been adopted and abandoned. In vain the stoics repudiated the charms of love, and defied the agonies of pain. In vain the Epicureans sought for it in sensual pleasures and cherished appetites; all had been tried, and all had failed. Earth yet had its sorrows that Heaven only could heal. But however manifestly everything in the history of the world, before the coming of Christ, was influenced by, and prepared the way for it, and however impossible it is for the historian properly to interpret that history, if he leaves its importance and influence out of view, yet after the sacrifice had been offered, its connection with the world's history is still more intimate and its influence upon the destinies of individuals and nations still more powerful and obvious. For though some feeble rays streamed from the anticipated cross, back even to the Garden of Eden, yet they were but the faint glimmerings of approaching morning, compared with the broad noonday blaze of the erected cross.

That historian's vain task is correspondingly increased, who, while he shuts his eyes to the influence of the cross, attempts to decipher the causes which have operated in moulding the affairs and shaping the destinies of men during the last eighteen hundred years.

The eloquent writer of the "Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire," has thus attempted to develope the causes which followed the introduction of Christianity; and this task he accomplished most learnedly, but in this essential respect, most incompetently and falsely, and he has left us a history of religion, written by an enemy to the faith; a history of the fulfillment of prophecy by a disbeliever in revelation; a history of providence by an infidel. No wonder he failed.

The wonderful success which attended those few fishermen who waged a war of extermination against all the faiths of the earth; the victories gained over the licentious philosophy of Greece, and the deepseated Paganism of Rome; all guarded as they were by the power of the mightiest Empire on earth; all these wonderful triumphs, which in three hundred years placed Christianity on the demolished throne of Paganism, and made it the sole accredited religion of the civilized world, point directly and alone to the cross of Calvary as their only solution, and efficient cause, and the eloquence of a Gibbon can never obliterate or obscure even the fact.

And it is not merely those events which may be called the triumphs of Christianity, that require the explanation furnished only by the Cross, but those events which have the least of Christianity about them, are equally inexplicable as historical facts, aside from the Cross. The history of the persecuted must involve that of the persecutor, and it was not merely the undaunted fortitude, and deathless zeal of that noble army of martyrs, that testified to the influence of the great central fact, but the instruments of torture and death, which they defied, as well as the horrid malignity which invented and applied them, bore witness to the same fact, all alike tell of a crucified one, proclaiming both the power and offense of the cross, and are equally inexplicable, except by the great events to which they all point. "The wrath of man shall praise God," and the enemies of the cross, testify to its power.

And so during the centuries which have elapsed since the knell of Paganism was sounded, in the dying words of the apostate when he cried, "Galilean thou hast conquered" the influences of the cross has even been felt upon the the institutions of society, and the destinies of men; and when the night of the dark ages settled upon the world, and Christianity, located in the unhallowed embrace of State, sank to a sleep of a thousand years, unbroken, save where, here and there a flame of pure devotion was kept alive in the clefts of the rocks, and secret places of earth; it was the torch of truth, fired at Calvary, and borne aloft by a Wickliffe and a Huss, that dispelled that darkness, and brought in again the dawn of day. It was the voice of God, in the stirring eloquence of Luther and Melancthon, that aroused the world from its slumbers and shook to its center, the dominion of Papal error. The Cross, not Luther was the soul of the Reformation.

And, so too, since that auspicious dawn, the history of the world is the history of the cross, more or less triumphant. One nation after another gradually casting off the dark mantle of superstition and idolatry, assumes by degrees the garb of truth and Christianity.

Man emerging from ignorance and checking his pursuits after imaginary and doubtful good seeks for lasting joys in an enlightened hope, and devotes his energies to the improvement of his race, and the glory of God. The spirit of forgiveness (the lesson of the cross,) supplants the spirit of revenge. The intercourse of nation with nation becomes more and more peaceful, and though the weapons of war are brought almost to perfection by the ingenuity of man, yet the advancing tide of civilization, it is to be hoped, will soon render them useless. One of the earliest influences of the fall, was to excite a quarrel of brother with brother; among the latest triumphs of the cross will be universal peace and love.

To hasten this triumph, the angel which John saw flying rapidly over the earth, having the everlasting gospel to preach to them that that dwelt therein, is now spreading his flight, and bearing to all lands the glad news of salvation through a sacrificed Savior.

"In the cross of Christ I glory,
Towering o'er the wrecks of time;
All the light of sacred story
Gathers 'round its head sublime."

The careful student of the world's history sees running through it all a line of connection, and unity of design. If a revolution takes place he discovers the workings of omnipotence, directing the great event to the good of man, and the glory of Himself; if wrong and outrage are permitted for a while to oppress mankind, he learns by this to acknowledge the receipt and to appreciate the work af the redemption. If truth prevails, and freedom is gained, he learns to number it among the triumphs of the cross.

"Bane and blessing, pain and pleasure,
By the cross are sanctified;
Peace is there, that knows no measure,
Joys that through all time abide."

In a word, he finds every event of history, whether beneficent or apparently disastrous to man, controlled in some manner by the power of the cross, and tending, more or less directly to magnify its triumphs. The light from Calvary sheds its radiance over all the world, and equally dispels the painful gloom of Eden, and the approaching night of the grave.

"Hail, holy cross! from thee we learn
The only way to heaven,
And, oh, to thee may sinners turn,
And look and be forgiven."

The creation itself was but to furnish the platform for the great work of redemption, and the tomb is but the portal to its crowning glory, and when the last event of earth shall have been recorded, and the arch-angel's trumpet shall have sounded the knell of time, in the clear light of eternity, it will be seen that all human history converging towards its God, centers at the cross.

Evanston, Ill., Dec. 14, 1882.

How the World Went Right Along.

A bear who had made himself believe that he had the worst luck of any animal in creation was crawling through the woods one day when he met a serpent, who inquired. "Which way now, my friend?" "I am going to find some spot where I can retire from the world. The world has not used me right, and in revenge I will desert it." "I wouldn't do that." "But I will. I can no longer trust anybody. I have been cheated, lied to and misused until I have no faith left. I will now retire within myself, and if any convulsion of nature takes place, the country must not blame me for it. I have borne all that one bear can be expected to put up with."

Bruin went his way until he found a lonely spot, and then he crawled into a hole and began listening for the crack of doom. It made him feel good to think that the world was turning itself bottom-side up because he had absented himself from sight and search, and he was determined not to yield until after several thousand terror-stricken people had come to him with tears in their eyes. Much to bruin's surprise, the night passed like all other nights. No one appeared during the forenoon to plead with him, and the afternoon passed wthout an earthquake or tornado. He momentarily expected the advent of a crowd to plead with him to come back to the world, and have faith and confidence; but the crowd did't show up. After a long and hungry night, bruin began to weaken. After much argument with himself, he crawled out of his den, and was sneaking through the woods when he met a hare.

"Is the world yet standing?" asked the bear. "Certainly; never more solid since I can remember." "And is any one searching for me?" "Not that I know of." "Everything goes on just the same, eh?" "Just the same." "And didn't you hear that I had lost all faith in human nature, and retired from the world?" "Never heard a word of it. Tra-la, old man, I'm off."

The bear sat down on a thistle and thought the matter over for a few minutes, and then arose and made a bee-line for his usual haunts, telling every animal he met on the way that he had been off on a fishing excursion.

Moral.—The cynic who flatters himself that he is revenging on the world by withdrawing his company forgets that he will be obliged to associate with himself.

Houston Seminary.

The following persons, members of Mt. Vernon M. E. Church, Houston, have paid subscriptions in favor of Houston Seminary as follows. Gabriel Todd, $5; Rachel Huitt, $2.65; William Mares, $2; Vander McCray, $1; Polly McCray, $1; George Feldar, $1; Mary Benehley, $1; Catherine Vanhook, $1. The Seminary has 76 students, with a good prospect for many more next term, which begins January 1. By thet time we hope to have our new desks and to be able to make all comfortable who come. We shall have more to say of the institution, its needs and its work, hereafter. C. W. CAMPBELL.

Humility.

Humility as a Christian grace consists not so much in sinking below others as below ourselves. It is opposed to all arrogance and assumption. It resembles submission, but differs from it. Submission is the respect which an inferior justly owes to a superior. But inferiors manifest no humility in submitting to their superiors. So it resembles condescension but differs also from it. Condescension consists in stooping to an inferior. Thus the Creator may condescend to a creature, the prince to a subject, the rich to the poor, the learned to the illiterate, but this is not humility. It does consist however in a true estimate of ourselves, of our unworthiyness, of our weakness, of our insufficiency and entire dependence on God for wisdom, holiness, happiness and Heaven. A view of our own unworthiness will lead us to think of the worthiness of Christ. When we feel our weakness we are made to realize the truth, there is strength in Him, and that in accomplishing life's work, our sufficiency is of Him. Humility characteristic of true greatness. This is exhibited in St. Paul's estimate of himself. In labors he was more abundant than any other apostle, but he speaks of himself as "less than the least of all saints." John Wesley having traveled, toiled, preached, written and endured more than any man of the age in which he lived, toiled on till the eighty-eighth year of his age, and said on his dying bed—

"I the chief of sinners am,
But Jesus died for me."

In the life of the Lord Jesus we see this element of true greatness in it true perfection. Read. Who being in the form of God thought it not robbery to be equal with God, but made himself of no reputation and took upon him the form of a servant, and was made in the likeness of men; and being found in fashion as a man "He humbled himself, and became obedient unto death, even the death of the cross." Referring to this trait of humility, St. Paul says: "Let this mind be in you which was also in Christ Jesus." Then elsewhere he says "if any man have not the mind of Christ he is none of His."

Texas Notes.

The Texas Conference has a few young men of more than ordinary promise. We exhort these brethren to stick to their books, read, mark and inwardly digest them. A minister cannot in this age succeed without books. He will need them and ought not to be deterred by their cost. Each year he will need to add a few volumes to his library. A carpenter cannot do without his saw, hammer, chisel, shave and plane, nor can a preacher instruct himself and his people without his books. The man who cannot or will not study ought to stop preaching and surrender his credentials. We expect to hear nothing but good of these young men. An open door is before them. With earnest work they will enter in and go up higher.

We were the guest of Rev. J. S. Whitaker and his excellent family during the session of the Texas Conference at Hempstead, and enjoyed their hospitality very much. Bro. Whitaker hates frauds and shams. He knows a humbug by intuition, is one of the most respected members of the Texas Conference, and is truly devoted to the interests of the Methodist Episcopal Church. We had for our companions two royal good men, President Davis, of Wiley University, and Professor Webb, of the same institution. These brethren have the love of God in their hearts, their religion is wholesome, fresh and free from all sour complainings. With such instructors Wiley University can but be popular and prosperous. President Davis, Professor Webb and this writer have reason to recall their home in Hempstead with pleasant memories.

The American Bible Society has no agent more efficient or more devoted to his work than Rev. W. B. Rankin, D.D., of Texas. In our recent visit to Texas we had the pleasure of meeting Dr. Rankin at the Texas and West Texas Conferences. In the course of his address to the conferences he made the statement that the agents of the society had found that one-fifth of the families of the State were without a copy of the Bible; also that the society had supplied thirty-one thousand families with the Bible. At the conference love feast at Columbus we heard him tell, out of the fullness of his heart, how the Lord Jesus saved and comforted him. Dr. Rankin is a good Presbyterian but a better Christian.

At Hempstead, Texas, we had the pleasure of meeting Rev. A. A. Johnson, A.M., editor of the Texas Methodist Advocate, and presiding elder of the Dallas District, Austin Conference. Bro. Johnson believes that the Methodist Episcopal church has a work to do in the empire State. He is a live angular Yankee, with nothing fossilized or conservative in his make up. Under his supervision, with the open door, our church has in Texas, the Dallas District will make, a wonderful increase this year. We wish our brother the greatest measure of success.

Rev. S. Hardwell is doubtless the strongest man in the Texas conference. He is also a man of real courage. A few years ago, while he was sitting in the pulpit listening to a brother minister, a man came into the church and shot the man who was preaching. Bro. Hardwell left the pulpit, went and took the murderer by the collar of his coat and the seat of his pants and threw him through the window out of the church. Bro. Hardwell is one of the fathers of the Texas Conference, but he still holds on, and no man watches more carefully the proceedings of the conference, and none preach a better gospel.

THE RIGHT WAY TO DO.

Rev. G. W. Townsend of the West Texas Conference, under date of Dec. 17, writes: "I went direct from conference to my new appointment, preached five times and obtained 23 new subscribers for the SOUTHWESTERN. I am well pleased with my work, and the people seem to love me." Of course the people will love him, and so they will any man who, like Bro. Townsend, goes direct to his work and in good heart enters upon it. The people do not like a sour, complaining minister. We predict for Bro. Townsend a year of great prosperity.

We call the attention of our readers to the books noticed in another column, published by Phillips & Hunt and Walden & Stowe. Any person desiring to purchase [illegible] books for the holidays, or [illegible] season will do well to [illegible] orders to either of these [illegible] of the books noticed [illegible] readers would [illegible] immediately. Texas Conference.

HEMPSTEAD, Tex.,
Dec. 15, 1882.

The seventeenth annual session of the Texas Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, assembled in Hempstead at the Bethlehem Church, at 9 o'clock, A. M., Bishop Thomas Bowman, D.D., presiding. The Conference opened with divine service by the Bishop followed by singing a hymn and prayer.

The secretary called the roll and nearly all the members responded to their names.

On motion, W. Wesley was elected Secretary, and by permission of the Conference he was allowed to nominate his assistants.

The following persons were nominated and elected:

C. C. Minegan, Statistical Secretary; I. B. Scott, Recording Secretary. W. H. Davis was elected Conference Treasurer. The usual committees were ordered. The time for opening and adjourning was fixed: Open at 9, A. M., and close at half past 12.

The 20th question was taken up —Have the characters of all the Preachers been examined?

W. B. Pullam, Presiding Elder of Huntsville District; reported his work. showing five or six new churches, an increase of property, members and spiritual power. His character passed.

Walter Ripetoe, Presiding Elder of Palestine District, reported the work on his district, showing it to be in a good condition. His character passed.

W. S. Molloy, Presiding Elder of the Marshall District, shining in a new suit of clothes, a present from the preachers of his district, reported his work in a healthy condition. He had enjoyed a year of great harmony with the preachers and the people. His character passed as did that of all the preachers upon the district save J. K. Loggins, who had been suspended. His case was referred to a committee of five for investigation.

The committee on religious worship made their announcements, the Doxology was sung, the benediction pronounced and the Conference adjourned.

SECOND DAY.

Friday Dec. 15.—Conference met at 9 o'clock, Bishop Bowman in the chair. Religious services were conducted by I. B. Scott. The minutes of yesterday's session were read and approved.

F. C. Moore, Presiding Elder of Navasoto District, made his report, showing that a marvelous amount of work had been performed, that the spiritual and temporal condition of the district was good. His character passed as did that of all the preachers on the District.

Rev. Dr. Rankin Agent of the American Bible Society for the State of Texas, was introduced, and gave a short but impressive address. It seemed to the Dr. that for 12,896 members of the church of Christ to give only $18.65 for the circulation of the word of God did not evince much interest in the distribution of the Scriptures.

M. H. Nichols, Presiding Elder of the Houston District, reported his district in a state of prosperity. At one or two points there had been some slight unpleasantness, a little friction, but all the great interests of the church had been moving on. His character passed.

The cases of Wesley Childs and S. Allen were referred to the Committee on Conference relation.

J. K. Loggins appeared before the Conference, acknowledged his fault and asked pardon. I need not say that his request was granted.

THIRD DAY.

Saturday, Dec. 16.—Conference met at 9 o'clock, A. M., Bishop Bowman in the chair. Religious services were conducted by W. Ripetoe. The talking division of the Conference was here in good numbers. Most of these are young men who have been in the ministry from one to five years. They are dressed well. In fact we never saw a class of ministers better dressed than most of the members of the Texas Conference. This is as it should be. The embassador of the Lord Jesus should be a gentleman, a model in society. We do not like to see a sloven in the pulpit.

The address of the Bishop to the young men received into full connection was replete with wise counsel. We never listened to one more appropriate.

CONFERENCE SABBATH.

The day was delightful. Early in the morning from all directions the people could have been seen coming into town. The Sunday-school was well attended. At eleven o'clock the Bishop preached, selecting for his text Psa. 1, 1-2. The sermon was one of great beauty, simplicity and power. At the close the deacons were ordained. In the afternoon the writer presented a few thoughts suggested by 1 Job. 1, 9 and the Elders were ordained. Woe be to the man who follows a Bishop. We have tried this three times of late and failed each time and have promised ourselves never to do it again. In the evening Bro. Woodward preached a good sermon to a large congregation.

Monday, Dec. 18.—Conference opened at 9 o'clock. Bishop Bowman in the chair. The committee on education reported and after considerable discussion, in which President Davis of Wiley University, Prof. Webb and Bishop Bowman took part, the reports were adopted.

The committee on Sunday-schools, American Bible Society and Temperance reported. Reports were adopted.

Resolutions of thanks were passed to Bishop Bowman and to the citizens of Hempstead for their hospitality. A few remarks were made by the Bishop, the appointments were read, thus closed the Seventeenth Annual Session of the Texas Conference.

Austin Conference.

The session of this Conference at San Antonio was one of special interest. The statistics show a slight decrease in membership but an increase in church property and benevolent contributions. A Methodist preacher in Texas who wishes to accomplish good work for his Master must, like him, go out after the lost. The following are the appointments for 1883:

The Color Line.

Our Assistant, in a letter to a brother minister, expostulated against the folly of separating our conferences on the "color line," in words like these: "You know that I am a colored man, just as you are. I have a vast amount of race pride. I love my race; and, like yourself, I think it the equal of any that God allows to breathe. I think that if an intelligent white Christian can preside over a colored church or district, a colored minister of equal qualifications might, and ought to, with equal propriety preside over a white church or district. This I believe as firmly as you do; and I fervently hope to see the day when our color will be no embarrassment, and when we will no more be made to feel any discrimination on account thereof, in church nor State. But, after all, is not a division on the "color line" a retrograde movement, a long step backward? We are united, and stand as equals in our general conference; on our book and other committees; in some annual and district conference; manly patience, forbearance and preparation on our part will introduce this spirit of unity and equality into all the departments of our old grand church. Separation of our annual conferences on the "color line," if persisted in, will prove in my opinion the entering wedge to a final separation in the general conference. Such a misfortune would prove disastrous to some of the most sacred interests concerned. No, my dear brother, sometimes I get just as disgusted and impatient with the unholy prejudices against our race, manifested in many instances by members of our church, as you do: but I think we should heed the united voice of reason, interest, and our tried and devoted friends, and stay together in our annual conferences. Reason, expose, abuse, do and say everything against the unreasonable prejudice that seeks to alienate us from our best friends, friends that represent the healthy head and heart of the Methodist Episcopal Church, that church which is to-day doing more for the elevation and salvation of our people than any other agency in this country; but divide on account of this prejudice, never. Contend for equality; show backbone, grit and grace, but let us stay together and fight it out. Kill out this prejudice; run away from it never! This whole "color line" separation matter from beginning to end, is a weakness in favor of race prejudice. Race prejudice conceived and gave it birth in the General Conference of 1876. We ought not to rest until the General Conference of 1884 or some future one kills it out, and buries it beyond the faintest hope of a future resurrection."

It is right to have the men who represent the great interests of the church make, as far as possible, their annual visit to all the conferences. We know that it takes time and money, but it is time and money well spent, and it will bring back to the church a grand harvest. We were more thankful than we can tell when we met Dr. Fowler, one of our Missionary secretaries, at the Tennessee Conference, and we were only sorry when he informed us that he could not visit the Louisiana Conference. Dr Fowler has a wonderful faculty for stumbling upon facts and figures, and he knows how to use them, in presenting the Missionary cause to the conferences. When he stated to the Tennessee Conference that since 1866 they had received from the Missionary Society $167,788, and from the Church Extension Society $45,981, to say nothing of what the Freedman's Aid Society had done, and that they had contributed for all benevolent causes only $12,008, the white conference was astounded. They saw the contrast as they had never seen it before, and each man resolved to do more and better for the coming year.

C. C. Nash, the colored postmaster of Washington, La., was formerly member of Congress from this State. Recently a crowd gathered in front of the Washingtan postoffice and stamped, yelled, whistled, sung and made various insulting remarks about Nash. The postmaster requested the crowd to behave themselves, but this only intensified matters, and they asked him to step out from behind Uncle Sam's protection counter, and they would beat his head into a jelly, etc. Hands were placed in hip pockets, and only the reasoning of older heads caused the restoration of order, and probably prevented bloodshed. Our informant attributes this exhibition of hostility to Nash to current race prejudices. It is hoped the wise counselors of Washington will continue the suppression of outbursts of this kind, and make a reasonable opposition if any be required, on other grounds than the one mentioned.

PERSONAL.

—Rear Admiral Jas. P. Schenck retired, is dead.

—On Sunday, Dec. 17, the poet Whittier was 75 years of age. He is still vigorous in mind and body.

—Oliver Wendell Holmes Jr., has been appointed a Justice of the Supreme Bench of Massachusetts.

—Rev. S. Duncan, presiding elder, Shreveport district, came to enjoy the holidays and reports vigorous work and encouraging progress on his district.

OUR SOUTHERN WORK.

Ames Church fair, held last week was a decided success, and realized $100 profit to the managers. They are thankful to the general public for their generous patronage.

H. Johnson, Pineville: "At a union meeting Revs. S. E. H. Morant, H. J. Wright and other ministers were present. Collections $27 85. Six stepped forward and made our hearts rejoice at the Savior's influence."

D. J. Price, Allen, "I expect to start for New Orleans University to study for the ministry in January. I am determined to obey God's call. Elder Duncan held fourth quarterly conference Oct. 28th. We had a glorious time. After a three weeks' rally we had seven converts. We were assisted by Bros. Abbott, Hanson and Spear. Bro. Duncan preached a fine sermon, We are getting our church out of debt. A supper realized $60 to pay an old indebtedness."

Wm. Smith, Donaldsonville: "On the afternoon of the 2d 110 partook of the sacrament, one was converted and three received on probation. We are not discouraged."

Letter from Kosciusko.

Dear Editor:—We are hard at work, and have been all the year. Last year we asked for aid to build a house of worship, and received several promises; but promises would not build a church. With $200 in hand, we appealed to the Conference Board at Holly Springs and through it to the parent Board at Philadelphia. We waited in prayer. Thank God, the dear mother who has built or aided a church a day for ten months, and 84 over, heard and answered with a donation of $200. Many hearts were made glad (and others sad), and prayer went up to God for having put it into the hearts of our Northern brethren to help us poor people down here in the South. Since 1881 we have preached in town most anywhere we could, sometimes in the valley, sometimes on the hillside, and sometimes not at all. The elder of A. M. E. Zion church allowed us the privilege of preaching in his church in town, but some of the members don't like it, and it is occasionally closed, and a constant effort made to capture our members. Out of town there are two preaching places. We received 58 members, 40 conversions, of whom 35 were Sunday school scholars.

We are looking for a better day in town. We will have a church on our own land. November 1 the first stick of timber was put on the ground. It will soon be covered, the flooring is about laid, and the weather-boarding is almost finished. The foundation was laid on the 9th, work commenced on the 14th. Our church stands overlooking the town, 30x50 and 15 feet in walls raised. It will be ready December 16, for the quarterly conference. When finished it will be as good as any in town. I join the workmen with hammer and nails every day.

The following is the way we have been raising money. The Sunday-school at this place, led on by Miss Mattie Nevils, gave an entertainment, and made $15. Miss Emma Mirt gave an entertainment, and made $5. Supper given by sister Lizzie Doty, Jane Kimbrough, Sarah Thomas and Ewing Pool raised $16.90. A supper given by sisters Jane Kimbrough, Elizabeth Jones, Lou Doardel, Emily Pool and Jane Simpson, raised $13.90. A supper by sisters Ann Smith Martha Irving, Alice Clements and Winnie Nevils, raised $19.25; and a supper by sisters Lizzie Doty, Jane Kimbrough, Lou Doardel, Dina McAfee and Winnie Nevils raised $13.15. Paid on subscriptions: K. A. Cook, 50c; Emily Pool, $2; Aaron Harvey, $2.25; Lizzie Doty, $4; H. Huffman, $3; J. Hibbitt, $5; Millie Moore, 50c; Martha Irving, $2.50; W. West, $1.80; A. Smith, $2.50; A. Frazier, $5; Jane Kimbrough, $1.75; Tera Jenning, $1; Awarda Huffman, $2.50; W. Kimbrough, $2.15; Harriet Simpson, 50c; Jim Sims, $2.25; G. W. McBerney, $5; Charity Hudson, $2; William Miller, 50c; Martha Harvey, $2.50; Mahulda Hardy, 50c; Lou Wells, $1; Charlotte Taylor, $1.50; Easter Clark, 50c; A. Hines, $1; Jack Prestly, $1; Roling Hayely, $1.50; Elizabeth Jones, $2; Cherry Chorn, $1; P. A. Wells, 5c; Alice Clements, $5; Hester McBerney, $5; Lizzie Frazier, $2; Emma Newell, 50c; W. Hollingsworth, 50c; D. B. Taylor, 75c; L. Simpson, 50c, I. Coulter, $1; Susan Coulter, 59c; Dinah McAfee, 65c; Ann Smith, 50c; Aaron Newell, 50c; Isaac Prestly, $1; Jane Hibbitt, $2; E. D. West, 50c; George Manson, $1; F. W. Alexander, 50c; Phillis Gaston, 50c; and Harriet Serens, $1. And the following persons gave us hauling of lumber: Roling Hayely, one day; Jack Prestly, one day; George Monson, one day; G. W. Adams, one day; Isaac Coulter, one day and a half; Jim McMiller, one day; Jim Edward, half day; Sam Rimmer, one day; Frank Rimmer, one day; J. W. Cook, two days; T. B. Flanagan, half day; Mr. Gildard and Silis, one day and half; Thomas Garen, half a day; Amos Warren, half a day; L. Simpson, half day, and H. Huffman, one day, which is about $37. Messrs. Alex. and George Thompson, the Millers, and contractors gave us $25 in hauling and $20 in lumber. We will owe the workmen some, which we want to pay as soon as we can. Now there are many who promised to help us when we started. We have surely started, for you may see the building from almost any part of the town. Help us in kind words, in money and in prayer. In the above named ways come over and help us. Now, I would say that the branch railroad is to go through from here to Aberdeen by November 13, 1883, so you see when you pass through you may stop over and go out to church; then we will join with you in singing the doxology. Very respectfully,

J. M. NEVILS.

Kosciusko, Miss., Nov. 27.

A Visit.

Brother Graham Bell, General Grand Worthy Superior of the General Grand United Order of Sons and Daughters of Charity, with a large number of the subordinate tabernacles of the same order, visited the Sixth street Methodist Episcopal Church in this city, Sabbath, Dec. 17th, and made all our hearts glad with their presence, kind words and deeds. We shall be pleased to welcome them again to our Church. They left us a donation of $5.25.

SUNDAY SCHOOL.

FOURTH QUARTER. REVIEW. December 31, 1882.

To-day is review, the last in the year, and may be some remember remember all the twelve lessons, and some have forgotten them. First, we must remember Mary, and how she loved Jesus. She saved her money to give him a gift, and so brought the precious ointment. Love always gives the best it has. Then Christ eats the passover with his disciples, and tells them one of them will betray him to death. After this came the Lord's supper, and you learned why we keep it now. Then the agony in the garden, when an angel came to help him. As soon as that sorrow was over came Judas, and Jesus was betrayed and taken. You all remember how they dragged Jesus before the council, then to Pilate, then mocked and crucified him. His death on the cross you can not forget. From nine in the morning until three in the afternoon Jesus hung there, because he loved us so. Then he died. He did it for you. Could you forget it? They buried Jesus in Joseph's own grave or vault. He was a rich man, and one of the council.

Jesus said he would rise again, and on the third day the grave was empty. Jesus had left the grave and showed himself alive, first to Mary Magdalene, then to others, and at last to all the twelve, and told them his goodbye. It was to go and preach the gospel to every creature. The last lesson was about the kingdom of peace. It told us how Jesus brings peace and casts out sin. Sin destroys. Jesus saves. Ask him to forgive all your sins of this year and keep you near him all the new year, coming to-morrow.—Western.

A Clergyman's Sore Throat.

This disease which has, during the past twenty or thirty years abridged or entirely ruined the ministerial usefulness of so many clergymen, has rarely found successful treatment under any of the old systems of medicine. The following from Rev. J. H Pradt, of Madison, Wisconsin (late Assistant State Superintendent of Wisconsin), shows how promptly, in his case, this disease yielded to the action of Compound Oxygen. He says: "I had been troubled many years with 'Clergyman's Sore Throat; and after a severe attack of influenza, the upper part of the lungs was left very tender and irritable and I was obliged to desist entirely from using my voice in public service. After a two months' trial of the Compound Oxygen, I found myself, to my surprise and gratification, able to go through full services again, entirely without any trouble, but with little fatigue. Three months' use of the remedy restored my voice and lungs completely, and greatly improved my general health. I feel it my duty, therefore, to bear testimony to its good effects. I have waited for time to test the permanence of the benefits received, and can say that during the past winter I have been entirely free from colds, and in better general health than for many years; am 65 years of age." Treatise on Compound Oxygen, its nature, action, and results, with report of cases and full information sent free. DRS. STARKEY & PALEN, 1109 and 1111 Girard Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

The North American Review for January opens with a symposium in which three of the most prominent advocates in this country of the "Revision of Church Creeds," namely Rev. Dr. Newman Smythe, Rev. Henry Ward Beecher and Rev. Dr. Lyman Abbott, set forth the grounds upon which such revision is deemed necessary as a defense of revealed religion against the encroachments of skepticism, and as [illegible] adjustment of the relations between faith and science. "University Education for Women," now being warmly agitated here and in England, is discussed by Prof. W. Le Conte Stevens, who, though he zealously advocates the measure, commands the attention and respect of its opponents by the eminent fairness with which he states the adverse arguments. Prof. Isaac L. Rice gives a "Definition of Liberty," deduced from a profoundly philosophical study of the phases of political evolution, from the earliest Anglo-Saxon times to the present day. "American English," by Gilbert M. Tucker, is a spirited defense of our cis-Atlantic fashion of English speech against the aspersions of sundry British critics. The Rev. Dr. H. W. Thomas writes an article that can hardly fail to strike a sympathetic chord in many a mind, on "The Responsibilities of Progressive Thinkers." A Knabe in the White House.

(From the Baltimore American.)

There was seen yesterday at Messrs. Knabe & Co's factory a magnificent concert grand, just finished by them for the presidential mansion. President Arthur, who is a thorough connoisseur of music, in selecting a piano for the White House decided in favor of the Knabe Piano as his preference, and ordered accordingly the instrument referred to. It is a concert grand of beautiful finish in a richly carved rosewood case, and of superb tone and action,—an instrument worthy in every respect of the place it is to occupy. It was shipped to its destination yesterday.

Patterson Organs.

Everybody in need of a beautiful Organ is referred to the new advertsment of James T. Patterson, the manufacturer, Bridgeport, Conn., which appears in this issue. Rev. J. Werner, South Holland, Cook Co., Ill., writes: "About fifteen months ago I received in the best of orde r an Organ from your factory. It answered the description well, and I am fully satisfied with it. Every one of my friends like it, and we find it cheap in comparison with instruments from other factories."

Plantation Melodies

—AND—

REVIVAL HYMNS.

By MARSHALL W. TAYLOR, D.D.

WITH AN INTRODUCTION

By Rev. F. S. HOYT, D.D., Editor of the Western Christian Advocate.

A remarkable and unique collection of religious songs with their accompanying weird, pathetic, ever varied and charming melodies, as sung for generations by the colored people of America. The few songs and melodies first introduced and sung by the "Jubilee Singers" and "Tennesseeans" were every where received with enthusiastic applause, and soon attained immense popularity. They are now familiar to almost every one, and have created an earnest and very general desire that every song and melody which has been popular among the negroes of the South during their days of slavery should be gathered together and published in a form and style which would give them the widest circulation and insure their preservation. This wide-felt want is now supplied in this complete and valuable collection, which comprises the best of the many variations of these songs and melodies, giving all that have seemed worthy of preservation. The author, Marshall W. Taylor, D. D., who is presiding elder of the Ohio District of the Lexington Conference, is peculiarly well qualified for the preparation of a work of this kind, requiring as it does, a thorough knowledge of the subject, good judgment and much careful, painstaking labor; and the thorough and systematic manner in which the work has been completed, leaves nothing to be desired. A few of the songs will be familiar, but the great majority have never before been printed, and are now given for the first time with the original words and music. They include, therefore, very many songs entirely new which are as meritorious as those so well known, and which will probably become equally popular. The music has been carefully written, and is well adapted for quartet, chorus, and congregational signing, and is especially excellent for social evenings at home. Read the few following testimonials:

"These songs ought to be saved and they ought to be sung."—Bishop I. W. Wiley.

"Should think that the book would sell by thousands, and that it would do good."—Dr. J. M. Buckley.

"It is grand. I like it."—Dr. R. S. Rust.

"We take pleasure in giving to this timely publication our hearty commendation."—Dr. F. S. Hoyt.

"It is just the thing—the gold saved from the dross."—Dr. Jacob Krehbiel.

"I most heartily commend it as brimful of the plaintive, quaint melody and song spirit, or which our race is so truly celebrated."—Rev. Daniel Jones.

LIQUID PEARL stands high as a cosmetic. Neither persistent competition nor unscrupulous imitation, it is said, can shake the confidence of all classes of ladies in its favor. Testimonials in support of its claims to pre-eminence are on file in the office of its projectors by thousands, and the number increasing daily. In this day of injurious preparations for internal and external use one cannot be too guarded, but in purchasing Liquid Pearl the utmost confidence may be felt, so says a contemporary, in its entire harmlessness to the most delicate skin.—New York Home Journal.

District Conference will meet at Murfreesboro, in the basement of New Church, January 17th and continue four or five days. Basement of the new church will be dedicated January 21st at 3 o'clock, assisted by Dr. Braden, Rev. B. B. Manson and others. Rev. L. P. Cushmon is expected to be with us.

Brethren please have all your benevolent committees ready to report at quarterly conference.

H. W. KEY.

SOUTH NEW ORLEANS DISTRICT, LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.

To the Preachers of the South New Orleans District:

My Dear Brethren—The Conference year is fast passing, but a few weeks remain; God has given to our people an abundant harvest. In all departments of business there is great prosperity, and most of you in your work as ministers have had glorious success. Under your care the churches have advanced in spiritual life and financial strength.

Are you doing all you can to bring up increased benevolent collections. For the cause of Missions our German brethren in Texas gave this year $1.59 per member. Last year the Louisiana Conference gave six cents and a half per member. Brethren, we cannot afford to occupy this position. Let the few weeks you have between this and Conference be made good use of. If the church is not interested whose fault is it? Do your duty. Take the Discipline, work its plan, and there will be an increase in all of your benevolent collections. I hope that every preacher on the South New Orleans District will add to the benevolent collections of last year not less than ten per cent. In West Texas our brethren are making a wonderful increase. Let us keep pace with them.

The New York Times.

ESTABLISHED 1851.

THE TIMES will enter on its thirty-third year with the support and confidence of a steadily growing constituency and in possession of a public influence which in kind and degree is unrivaled in American journalism.

To the purification of the public service, the sweeping away of all unjust and burdensome forms of taxation, to the maintenance of a sound currency, and the enforcement of a system of strict accountability in public and corporate trusts, the efforts of THE TIMES will, in the future as in the past, be devoted. Its well-earned fame as the fearless assailant of all forms of public peculation rests on principles of its management which are beyond the reach of change. THE TIMES is the organ of no individual, of no faction or clique, and of no interest adverse to the public good. It knows no service other than that of the people.

Recognizing in all political organizations simply a means to the end of good government, THE TIMES will continue to judge all parties by their fidelity to the purpose for which they professedly exist. The elections of 1882 have very clearly demonstrated the timeliness of the warnings which THE TIMES so persistently addressed to the leaders of the Republican Party in this and other States, and have vindicated its right to speak for a large and intelligent body of public opinion. The Republicanism which THE TIMES represents was never so vigorous and aggressive as it is to-day, and with this progressive type of party opinion rests the future of reform in National, State and Municipal government.

THE TIMES will, as in the past, be distinguished as an enterprising, accurate, and carefully edited newspaper. The acknowledged excellence and fullness of its correspondence, by mail and telegraph from all parts of the world will be adequately maintained, and its facilities for collecting domestic and foreign news will be expanded to meet the increasing demand of our time.

In the sphere of literary and artistic criticism, of scientific, social, and general discussion, THE TIMES will address itself [illegible]

[We make no charge for publishing these letters from subscribers. All others will be charged fifty cents. Pastors will please read the requests published below from their pulpits, and report any case where friends are brought together by means of letters in the SOUTHWESTERN.]

Dear Editor:—I desire to inquire for my sisters and brothers whom I left in Bedford, Kentucky. We belong to Mr. Lindsey Bains. Brothers were John, Wash, Jim and Dudley; sisters were, Mary, Francis, Mealia and Harriet. I was the youngest of all. After the death of the old man Susan Bain married and became Susan Harper, she was the eldest. Elizabeth married Jim Wheeler and went to Crystal Springs, Kentucky. Sister Harriet belonged to her. The old lady carried us all to Galveston. I married. My addres is now, care of Wesley M. E. Church, New Orleans, La.

AGNES HARDEN.

The irrepressible Senator Brown, of Georgia, made another speech Thursday on the civil-service bill. He told his fellow Democrats of that body they were making themselves disliked by their own party, and imperiling the success of the Democracy. He flatly told them that the good old Democratic doctrine, "To the victers belong the spoils," is as true and applicable now as it ever was, and the workers would not work if the incentive of office were not held out to them. It will be remembered that Brown was one of the first to be reconstructed, and that in the Chicago convention, which nominated Gen. Grant, in 1868, he appeared as a delegate, only going back to the Democracy when enough disfranchised Georgians were restored to citizenship to give that party the ascendancy in the State. He evidently judges others by himself.—Inter-Ocean.

Gov. Foster deplores the defeat of the Republican party in Ohio, upon the temperance issue, but he is not at all discouraged. This is the way he expresses himself upon the subject: "I propose to prevail upon the members of the Republican party to consider this question, which transcends all others—tariffs, civil service, sound currency, river and harbor improvements, taxation, anti-monopoly, etc., and what is the right thing to do the party will do it, although every farmer, manufacturer, merchant, gin-mill keeper, corner-grocery, whiskey-drinker and beer-guzzler in the whole country shall abandon the party and go over to the Democracy."
